A short intermission gave former students who were present an opportunity to meet Mr. Steele and also to greet old-time classmates.

Before the programme closed a pleasant surprise was sprung on the capable and energetic Secretary, Mr. Ross McPherson, who was presented by the Committee with a solid gold locket as a small recognition of his invaluable work. The presentation was made by Dr. Campbell.

The gathering was brought to a close shortly before midnight, after all present had joined heartily in singing the National Anthem, followed by Auld Lang Syne.

NOTES.

A well-merited recognition of the life-work of a devoted teacher.

More than 2000 students have graduated from the High School during Mr. Steele's principalship.

There were two members of Mr. Steele's first class in Orangeville present at the Presentation. They were Mr. Alexander Chambers, of Arthur, and Dr. A. J. Hunter, of Orangeville.

To the early students the gathering brought a tinge of sadness, as each of them realized how few of the members of his or her particular class were present.

During the evening the Chairman read congratulatory telegrams and letters from a number of former students, who found it impossible to attend.

"One of your old worries," was the way Dr. E. H. Henry, of Leamington, described himself in a congratulatory telegram to Principal Steele.

Mr. Wm. Hawkins, a former Alton boy, now Principal of Winnipeg Business College, conveyed his regards and good wishes in a neatly worded letter.

One of the letters read by the Chairman was from Judge Harvey, of Edmonton, one of Mr. Steele's first pupils. Horace Harvey, as he was then called, studied under Mr. Steele in Aylmer and subsequently followed him to Orangeville.

Among those who were present from outside points were :—D. A. McCarten, E. J. Halbert, F. W. Robinson, Norman S. Robertson and Misses Marie Fenton, Muriel Steele and Ida Leighton, Toronto; Miss Evelyn Thomas, Alton; Miss Nellie Higginson, Mono Road; Alexander Chambers, Arthur; Laban Boggs, Marsville; W. A. Wansbrough, Bowling Green; S. J. Phillips, Shrigley; Calvin W. Lewis, Mono Mills; Archie Russell, Hillsburg; Elgin Stubbs, Caledon; Miss Gertrude Welwood, Miss Hannah Jaffary, Macville, and R. W. E. McFadden, Markdale.

NEARLY DIED OF STONE IN THE BLADDER

GIN PILLS SAVED HIM

313 JAMES ST., HAMILTON, ONT.

Five years ago, I was taken down with what the doctors called Inflammation of The Bladder—intense pains in back and loins, and difficulty in urinating, and the attacks, which became more frequent, amounted to unbearable agony. I became so weak that I could not walk across the floor.

My wife read in the papers about GIN PILLS and sent for a box. From the very first, I felt that GIN PILLS were doing me good. The pain was relieved at once and the attacks were less frequent.

In six weeks, the Stone in the Bladder came away. When I recall how I suffered and how now I am healthy and able to work, I cannot express myself strongly enough when I speak of what GIN PILLS have done for me." JOHN HERMAN, 45

GIN PILLS are sold at 50c a box—6 for $2.50. Sent on receipt of price if your dealer does not handle them. Sample box free if you write us, mentioning this paper. Money back, if GIN PILLS do not give full satisfaction. National Drug and Chemical Co., Dept. A. Toronto.

THE FIRST SETTLERS.

Melancthon Gravel Road Was Chopped About 1848.

Editor of The Banner.

Dear Sir,—The Banner of last week contained an interesting account of the pioneer days of Melancthon, written by the facile pen of Mr. W. L. Smith, editor of the Toronto Weekly Sun. The Shelburne Free Press also recently published brief accounts of the early days in this northern township, but both the Banner and the Free Press are somewhat mistaken. The Banner said something about someone drawing hay to Shelburne, and getting stuck in the mud and remaining there all night. As a matter of fact, where Shelburne stands was an unbroken wilderness at that time, and there was no hay market there until about 20 years afterwards. The late Wm. Jelly built the first Mansion House on the present site about the year 1864, and this was the first business place of the now progressive town of Shelburne.

Last week a Free Press correspondent published the names of those, who are supposed to be the first settlers, namely :—Lewis Gant, Thos. Doyle, Robt. Atkinson, David Biggar, Wm. Gant, Michael Shoaff, John Johnston, Darley Curran, and John Hodgins. Now, the earliest of these men came in about 1851, and the others not until three or four years afterwards. The "Toronto Line," now the Gravel Road, was chopped out in '47 or '48, and the men who were engaged on that contract were the first settlers, among whom were Mr. Atcheson, Andrew Darrah (the latter took up and settled the hill where the Gravel Road Church now stands), Jas. Watson, first clerk of Melancthon, and others who settled about Dundalk were the McDowell, Connor and McAuley families. These were really the first settlers. James Beachell came shortly afterwards, and opened the first Post Office in Atcheson's Hotel, which stood on what was known as Beachell's Hill.

A GOOD MEDICINE FOR THE SPRING.

Do Not Use Harsh Purgatives —A Tonic is All You Need.

Not exactly sick—but not feeling quite well. That's the way most people feel in the spring. Easily tired, appetite fickle, sometimes headaches and a feeling of depression. Pimples or eruptions may appear on the skin, or there may be twinges of rheumatism or neuralgia. Any of these indicate that the blood is out of order; that the indoor life of winter has left its mark upon you and may easily develop into more serious trouble.

Don't dose yourself with purgatives as so many people do in the hope that you can put your blood right. Purgatives gallop through the system and weaken instead of giving strength. Any doctor will tell you this is true. What you need in the spring is a tonic that will make new blood and build up the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the only medicine that can do this speedily, safely and surely. Every dose of this medicine helps to make new blood, which clears the skin, strengthens the appetite, and makes tired, depressed men, women and children bright, active and strong. Mr. B. Martin, Deux Rivieres, Que., says: "About a year ago I was all run down. I was pale, weak, and had but little appetite. I also suffered from a severe pain in the back, and though I tried several medicines nothing helped me until I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and these soon fully restored my health. I can strongly recommend these pills to every weak person."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Delegates Meet and Form New Lacrosse Body.

Blaney McGuire, of Orangeville, Elected President.

Between thirty and forty delegates attended the first annual meeting of the Ontario Lacrosse Association in the Empress Hotel in Toronto on Thursday evening. The new Association is strictly amateur and the men who are responsible for its formation are lovers and players of the national game, who have become disgusted with the semi-professionalism and underhand methods that are the dominating forces in the Canadian Lacrosse Association.

After some preliminary work Mr. Thos. Mackle, of Brampton, took the chair and a number of proposed amendments to the constitution were fully discussed.

It was decided to issue time checks for penalized players. The idea of this move is that when a player is sent to the penalty timer, say for ten minutes, he very often assures the official that five minutes was his sentence, thus saving his team five minutes. If a player hands in a wrong check his time is automatically doubled.

The new association will not stand for any Sunday lacrosse, either at home or abroad. Any player participating in a Sunday game will be expelled from the league.

The new Association has adopted a residence rule; one that should help to boost the game. The constitution was amended so as to make May the first the last date of change of residence, instead of Jan. 1st. Many cases were cited of men changing their place of residence who were unable to participate in the game for that season.

"A player may play with the nearest town having a team." This rule went through the convention with a swing. It was the unanimous opinion that every player should be given a chance to get into the game. In other associations the idea was apparently to kill off all players who were unfortunate enough to be living in a town where there was no team. The O. L. A. amateur rule is an efficient check on professionalism.

The field captain nuisance came in for some attention and a very fair bit of legislation was placed on the books to their credit. In future lines will be drawn the length of the field ten yards from the goal posts on either side. The field captain who steps inside that line will view the struggle from the side lines for the succeeding ten minutes. The field captain has a way of interfering with the players. If kept off the centre of the field, much of this interference will be obviated without affecting the directing of his forces.

Officers were elected as follows :—

Hon. President—John Ross Robertson, Toronto.

President—Blaney McGuire, Orangeville.

FIRE INSURANCE

Companies Entertain Their Agents to Luncheon at the Queen's.

Speakers Show that Officers and Policy Holders Have Mutual Interest in Stability of Their Companies.

A pleasant and interesting gathering took place in the Queen's Hotel here yesterday, when the officers of the Equity, Metropolitan and Independent Fire Insurance Companies entertained to luncheon the local agents of these Companies in this District, representatives of the municipality and members of the local Press. Orangeville district comprises a large section of northwestern Ontario so that there were a number of agents present from outside points. The chair was occupied by Mr. Chas. C. Van Norman, Vice-President of the Equity Company, and the Vice-Chair by Mr. W. Greenwood Brown, General Manager of the three Companies.

After ample justice had been done to the excellent menu provided by Mine Host Wettlaufer, the chairman, in a neat speech, explained that the object of the gathering was threefold—(1) Social intercourse, (2) to give local agents an opportunity to meet and become acquainted, and (3) to discuss the subject of fire insurance in its broad and general sense. This, said Mr. Van Norman, was the seventh gathering of the kind that these Companies had held. Meetings of this character enabled the Companies to get in touch with their agents and also get acquainted with the people and places where they did business. The question of fire insurance was, he said, a broad one. Policyholders were just as much interested as the officers in the wise and prudent administration of the affairs of the insurance companies. The Companies which he represented were purely Canadian, supported by Canadian capital and therefore deserving of the support of Canadians. It was their policy to exercise great care and caution in accepting risks, thereby safeguarding those who insure as well as the interests of the Companies themselves.

Mayor Riddell addressed the gathering briefly, extending a hearty welcome and the freedom of the town to the representatives of the insurance companies and their agents. His Worship spoke convincingly of Orangeville's fine situation and many natural advantages and imparted some interesting information respecting the town waterworks system and fire protection equipment.

Mr. W. Greenwood Brown averred that he was at loss to understand how Orangeville obtained its name and expressed his opinion that the Mayor was perfectly safe in extending the freedom of the town owing to the existence of local option. Mr. Brown dealt at some length with the origin of the fire insurance idea and its subsequent development. He impressed upon his hearers the importance of securing good risks, not only from the standpoint of the companies themselves but in the interests of the policy holders. The insurance fund ought to be considered sacred and should be jealously guarded in the interests of those who were so unfortunate as to meet with fire losses, as well as those policy holders who had the good fortune to escape this disastrous visitation. They were all shareholders in the Company and as such had a mutual interest in maintaining its stability and general well-being.

Mr. Wm. M. Gray, the travelling representative of the three Companies, said that he was exceedingly pleased to have the opportunity of meeting the different agents in this district. Speaking of fire losses he stated that the heaviest losses had occurred in Orangeville district, the amount paid out in losses having been slightly in excess of the total of the premiums paid in. The heaviest losses had occurred in Inglewood, Grand Valley and Shelburne.

Dr. G. H. Campbell, Deputy-Reeve of Orangeville, spoke briefly as did a number of the local agents. The latter expressed their appreciation of the action of the Companies in affording this opportunity to enjoy a pleasant social hour and at the same time hear a subject in which they were vitally interested discussed by men who made a careful study of the fire insurance problem in its broad and general aspect. The district representatives seemed also to entertain the opinion that the meeting would be productive of increased zeal and renewed energy in the work of getting new business.

Among those present were :—Messrs Geo. Wilkins, Orangeville; D. T. Small, Arthur; Peter McGregor, Dundalk, (35 years in insurance business); E. W. Brown, Woodbridge; J. Brethour, Wroxeter; Wm. Peterkin, Arthur; M. G. Varcoe, Grand Valley; Town Engineer Chas. King; V. A. Statia, The Post; and B. McGuire, The Banner.

THE BODY FOUND.

Remains of Annie Milloy Recovered From Toronto Bay.

The body of Miss Annie Milloy, who mysteriously disappeared from her home in Toronto last autumn, was found in Toronto Bay last week. The remains were noticed by Mait Aykroyd floating in the York St. slip about 3.15 o'clock on Thursday afternoon. The body was recovered and conveyed to the morgue, where it was identified by John Downey, 1036 Shaw St., a brother-in-law. The body was in an advanced stage of decomposition and the hair had completely fallen from the scalp. The girl was fully dressed.

Prior to her disappearance, Miss Milloy, who was 25 years of age, was employed as a domestic at the home of Mr. A. Nightingale, 490 Euclid Ave. She left her home on the afternoon of November 29th, and was neither seen nor heard of again until Thursday afternoon. She had not been in very good health and it is now thought she ended her life during a spell of despondency.

The unfortunate girl was a daughter of the late Arch. Milloy, of East Garafraxa. She has a number of relatives in Erin and Garafraxa.

The funeral was held from the C. P. R. station at Hillsburg, to Huxley's cemetery, 7th line, Erin, on Monday.

GOLDEN SASKATCHEWAN.

Railroad competition in Saskatchewan is focusing attention closely enough to make that Province the point of homesteaders in 1911, rather than other parts of the Canadian West. Both the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian Northern, those great transcontinental rivals, are hastening to establish themselves firmly in the so-called Last Mountain Valley district, where most of Saskatchewan's record crop was produced last year. All Saskatchewan is enjoying the benefits resulting from that notable achievement, and it is regarded as highly probable that from now on the tide of colonization will be diverted from Alberta, Manitoba and other portions of the West to this newer Province that is so rich in natural fertility and productiveness.

Last year one-third of the new mileage constructed by the Canadian Pacific Railway system was within the confines of the Last Mountain Valley, and this year the Canadian Northern, it has been decided, will build north from Craven still farther east than the C. P. R. line north from Regina. The Canadian Northern was first to enter the district, and its main line from Regina to Prince Albert caused the region to be colonized. The fact that Saskatchewan produced a large part, 60,000,000 bushels, of the crop of Western Canada last year, owing to the drought farther West, and that the largest yield came from the last Mountain Valley, has made that district now the centre of interest and of a race of railways the like of which has not been equalled even in the dramatic railway building of the Western Provinces.

The new proposed mileage makes the railway map of the region like a huge hand about seventy miles long and fifty wide with the radiating lines the fingers, and the thumb near Southey, where the proposed Canadian Northern new line will cross in almost a direct line northward. The greatest influx of settlers is promised in the vicinity of Southey, consequently the rivalry during the year will be to occupy the region roundabout.

Land that sells for $20 an acre in the Last Mountain Valley is yielding 40 bushels of wheat per acre, a fact that a majority of the farmers have paid for their farms with the first crop of wheat, while others who lack the essentials of good management are able to pay out in from two to three years. Though provided with an ample rainfall, the Last Mountain Valley is a land of sunshine where health abounds—a climate that builds vitality. Pulmonary diseases or epidemics of any kind are unknown here.

The Wm. Pearson Co., Ltd., have compiled a complete and delightful library of Canada land literature. Anyone who is interested in knowing anything about Last Mountain Valley, Saskatchewan, and its fertile farming lands and the low prices and easy terms on which the land can be secured, may get these authentic books FREE by writing to the Wm. CENSUS COMMISSIONER'S ALLOWANCE.

The table of rates and allowances for census commissioners and enumerators, as approved by Order in Council of March 28th, 1911, has just been announced as follows:—

For correspondence with departmental and staff officers, personal studies, instructions of enumerators, examination and correction of enumerators' reports and accounts and making up returns for transmission to the Minister of Agriculture, according to the book of instructions, the commissioner of each census district, Yukon excepted, will be entitled to payment at a rate of one cent per name for each person enumerated in the population schedule.

Each of the Commissioners will also receive a fixed additional amount. In the case of Dufferin County this is fixed at $125. The population of Dufferin is about 23,600, so that readers who wish can easily figure for themselves about what the Commissioner's position is worth.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

The Ontario Government has decided to appoint four additional district representatives of the Department of Agriculture at Newmarket for the County of York, Orangeville for the County of Dufferin, Dutton for the County of Elgin, and at some point for the County of Grey. One of the duties assigned to these representatives is to lecture and give practical demonstrations on agricultural subjects to farmers in the county. The decision to station one of these representatives at Orangeville means that the Government has decided to establish the Agricultural Department in connection with the High School here. The School Board has already made the necessary addition to the High School building, and secured an option on the land required to comply with the statute. The organization of this Department should prove a stimulus to agricultural education in this County. The High School Board and Mr. C. E. McKeown, the member for Dufferin, are to be congratulated on the success that has attended their efforts to induce the Government to establish the Department here.

THE DUTHIE DISAPPEARANCE.

No Trace of Missing Hillsburg Bank Manager.

Diligent search has so far failed to furnish any clue to the whereabouts or possible fate of Mr. Walter Duthie, Manager of the Union Bank in Hillsburg, whose mysterious disappearance about two weeks ago is noted elsewhere in this issue. It is now stated that Duthie was short in his accounts. It is alleged that notes representing loans of close upon $10,000 are missing from the bank vault. Duthie, according to current reports, had been losing heavily in mining speculation. The Beaver says that bucking the stock market on the margin game is alleged to have put the missing Manager wrong with the bank quite a time ago, and since that time things have gone from bad to worse, until he had despaired of covering up his operations any longer and took refuge in flight. It is said that his operations were carried on by making entries as for money lent on notes, which were not genuine and thus keeping his books straight. These notes are not likely to turn up as he is believed to have destroyed them before leaving town.

The fact that all his photographs around his home disappeared with him is taken to indicate that he had carefully laid his plans for successfully getting away.

The family and their household goods have left Hillsburg for Smith's Falls, Mrs. Duthie's former home.

—Police Constable Oliver Byrne, of the Toronto Force, has been promoted to the rank of Sergeant. Sergeant Byrne is a former Mono boy.

STODDART ACQUITTED.

Crown Had a Weak Case Against Former Grand Valley Undertaker.

Robt. Boyle Gave Accused an Interesting Certificate of Character.

At the Orangeville Assizes last November the Grand Jury brought in a true bill against Wm. G. Stoddart, of Cornwall, formerly of Grand Valley, on a charge of shop breaking and theft. The accused, who was formerly in the undertaking and furniture business in Grand Valley, was charged with entering the premises of one Robert Boyle on or about October 1st, 1909, and removing therefrom several overcoats, rugs, whips and other articles, valued at $200. Stoddart's trial took place at the Spring Assizes here this week and resulted in the acquittal of the accused.

The Crown's case was very weak. William Holmes, who confessed that he had taken part in the burglary, and whose evidence created a great sensation at the preliminary investigation nearly a year ago, left Grand Valley shortly after he made his confession. Apparently the Crown has not been able to locate him in the nine months that have since elapsed. At any rate he was not present at the trial this week. A medical student, named Jupp, who was another important witness, was also absent and the local Crown officers profess entire ignorance respecting his present whereabouts. With these men out of the way, Robert Boyle, from whose place it is said the goods were stolen, and James Fuller, a former clerk in his store, were about the only witnesses whose evidence could throw much light on the affair. Boyle made a poor impression in the witness box. He was naturally unable, owing to the absence of any private mark, to identify any of the harness, bridles, rugs or whips that were found in Stoddart's possession in Cornwall. All he could swear was that they were similar to the articles taken from his place of business. He did positively identify one of the furlined overcoats, but there was no evidence to show that this particular article had ever been in Stoddart's possession. He also identified a suit case which he had found in Holmes' possession. This caused him to have Holmes arrested, and it was upon the latter's evidence that proceedings were instituted against Stoddart.

Under cross-examination Boyle stated that he had always held a high opinion of Stoddart, and that he was about the last man in Grand Valley witness would have suspected of breaking into his store. The witness was confronted with a letter, which turned out to be a certificate of character that he had given to Stoddart shortly after the preliminary hearing last summer. The letter read:—

Grand Valley, June 21st.

Mr. Wm. Stoddart.

Dear Sir,—I am glad to say that after looking carefully into the facts respecting the theft of goods out of my store, I have come to the conclusion that you were not concerned in the affair, and I write you this all the more cheerfully, because I have always known you as a person of estimable reputation.

Yours Truly,
ROBERT BOYLE.

To Mr. Drew, the Crown Prosecutor, Boyle admitted signing the letter, but said he did not write it. When asked who had written it he replied that he did not know the man. He was a stranger whom he met in Toronto—at the Iroquois hotel he thought—and with whom he got into conversation about the case. His chance acquaintance suggested that such a letter would be no more than fair to Stoddart. Witness assented, and signed the letter, which the obliging stranger drafted.

James Fuller, High Constable Hughes and Robert Smythe were the other Crown witnesses. The defence called A. J. H. Eckhardt, of Toronto; Thos. H. Densmore, Chas. Dillon, Wm. McClelland, Austin Richardson, and Stoddart himself. Much of the defence evidence related to the good reputation the accused had always borne.

The trial commenced at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and closed about noon on Wednesday. Mr. J. J. Drew, K.C., of Guelph, the Crown Prosecutor, conducted the case for the Crown.

The accused was ably defended by R. A. Pringle, K.C., of Cornwall, and A. A. Hughson, of Orangeville. Mr. Pringle's address to the jury is said to have been one of the most masterly efforts heard in the Orangeville court room for many years.

The members of the jury were Herbert Waines, John Henry and G. D. Ledlow, Mono; Andrew Keys, Wm. Jelly, Alex. Patterson and Thos. Menary, Amaranth; John Armstrong, Mulmur; D. J. Reaburn, Shelburne; Elmer Still (foreman), David Sanderson and John Patterson, Orangeville.

The jury retired just before the noon adjournment on Wednesday and returned with their verdict, "Not Guilty" immediately after the Court resumed.

CHILD BURNED TO DEATH.

Heart-Rending Fatality in Home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Carson.

Alone in the house with no one within earshot of her agonized, pitiful screams, Sadie, the four-year-old daughter and only child of Mr. and Mrs. William Carson, Jackson, was frightfully and fatally burned on Friday afternoon of last week. The circumstances surrounding the tragedy were particularly distressing. Mrs. Carson had gone to the barn about four o'clock in the afternoon, leaving the little one alone in the house. As Mrs. Carson was returning to the house a short time later, she heard screams, and wondering what could have befallen her child, rushed into the house where a terrible spectacle met her affrighted eyes. Little Sadie screaming with agony, was tearing away the remnants of her burned clothing from her blistered and bleeding body, with little torn bleeding hands. Scattered all about the room were fragments of charred clothing, while on the window panes were pieces of flesh, which had adhered to the glass as the suffering child had attempted in vain to get through the window. The distracted mother at once did what she could to relieve the poor little sufferer, and Dr. Williams, of Allenford, was at once summoned. The child was removed to the Owen Sound General and Marine Hospital the same evening, but the burns were so severe that the tortured little body could not withstand the shock and pain, and death took place about one o'clock Saturday morning. The funeral took place Monday afternoon to Tara Cemetery, being attended by a large concourse of friends and neighbors. The sympathy of the entire community is with Mr. and Mrs. Carson in their distressing bereavement. The manner in which the child's clothing took fire is uncertain as no matches were burnt, which leaves it almost certain that the little girl must have been playing near the stove and a spark or coal had set fire to her clothing.—Owen Sound Times.

MAKE THIS TEST.

How To Tell If Your Hair Is Diseased.

Even if you have a luxuriant head of hair you may want to know whether it is in a healthy condition or not. 98 per cent. of the people need a hair tonic.

Pull a hair out of your head; if the bulb at the end of the root is white and shrunken, it proves that the hair is diseased, and requires prompt treatment if its loss would be avoided. If the bulb is pink and full, the hair is healthy.

We want every one whose hair requires treatment to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We promise that it shall not cost anything if it does not give satisfactory results. It is designed to overcome dandruff, relieve scalp irritation, to stimulate the hair roots, tighten the hair already in the head, grow hair and cure baldness.

It is because of what Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has done and our sincere faith in its goodness that we want you to try it at our risk. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. T. F. & T. J. Brown, Orangeville.

Thinking of Building a Silo ? Better Build it of Concrete

THE construction of a Silo affords an excellent example of what the farmer can do with Concrete—and of the superiority of Concrete over all other material for various structural work about the farm.

The usual wooden silo, besides being expensive, is far from satisfactory. In the first place, it does not endure; and, more important still—being far from weather-proof—its contents become water-logged—producing an unsanitary condition.

A Silo built of Concrete, on the other hand, is practically everlasting—it is proof against heat, cold and moisture—and it has the merit of comparative economy.

This economy feature is further explained in our free book—"What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete."—which tells how to mix and use Concrete for the making of silos and other buildings on the farm.

Psoriasis All Over Body

Most dreaded of skin diseases was cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment

Psoriasis is a sort of chronic eczema. The itching it causes is almost beyond human endurance, and it is usually considered incurable. But this case proves that Dr. Chase's Ointment is a cure, in spite of the doctor's prediction.

Mrs. Nettie Massey, Conspean, Ont., writes,—"For five years I suffered with what three doctors called psoriasis. They could not help me and one of them told me if any one offered to guarantee a cure for $50.00 to keep my money as I could not be cured. The disease spread all over me, even on my face and head, and the itching and burning was hard to bear. I used eight boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and I am glad to say I am entirely cured, not a sign of a sore to be seen. I can hardly praise this ointment enough."

RURAL DEPOPULATION.

A blue book of municipal statistics, being part three of the annual report of the Bureau of Industries for Ontario for the year 1909, has just been issued by the Department of Agriculture. To the very complete and interesting statistics of population, taxation and the like for the year, has been added a table of the assessed population of all municipalities for each year from 1890 to 1909. It appears that during these nineteen years, in forty-five counties embracing the most of what may be called old Ontario, the assessed rural population decreased by one hundred and sixteen thousand eight hundred and fifty-two. In sixteen counties, for the most part in New Ontario, there were increases aggregating thirty-eight thousand nine hundred and sixteen. These counties include the new settlements and generally the non-farming, lumbering, mining and railway population of the north. The only old counties showing increases were Lincoln, Essex, Russell, Renfrew, Welland and Wentworth. Account is not taken of York because of the great urban overflow into the townships adjacent to Toronto. We repeat that these figures do not include the unassessed population for whose numbers and movements we must await the approaching census.

It is to be noted that 116,852 is not the measure of the exodus of the assessed rural population, which is only to be found by adding to this sum the natural increase of the assessed rural population and the immigrants who have come into rural Ontario during these nineteen years.

Considering this blue book with municipal Bulletin No. 4, which gives the assessed population for 1910, there seems to be no warrant for Sir Edmund Walker's statement that the exodus has ceased or for Mr. Duff's statement that the population of rural Ontario increased by 2,599 in 1909. On the contrary, the exodus is greater than ever. In 1910 there were in forty counties rural decreases of about nineteen thousand, while in nine counties there were increases of four thousand five hundred, of which fully three thousand were in the mining district of Nipissing. The facts would seem to be worse even than these figures indicate, because, although York is excluded, there are many cases where the urban population of growing factory towns overflows into the townships and is counted as rural.—The Weekly Sun.

SHE LEARNED FROM HER LITTLE GIRL.

Dame Bouchard Found Relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

They Cured Her Daughter's Kidney Disease and She Tried Them Herself, with the Result That Her Backache and Heart Trouble Are Gone.

Jonquieres, Chicoutimi Co., Que., April 17, (Special.)—Encouraged to use Dodd's Kidney Pills by the fact that they completely cured her little girl of kidney disease, Dame Joseph Bouchard, of this village, is satisfied she has at last found permanent relief from the heart trouble and backache that have troubled her for so long.

"Yes," Dame Bouchard says, in an interview, "I am happy to tell you Dodd's Kidney Pills have made me well. They completely cured my little girl, twelve years old, of kidney disease, so I made up my mind to try them for my backache and heart trouble. I have taken twelve boxes and feel sure that they will completely cure me."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are doing a great work in this neighborhood. They have yet to find a case of kidney disease they cannot cure. Whether the disease takes the form of Backache, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Urinary Trouble or Bright's Disease, it is all the same to Dodd's Kidney Pills. They always cure it.

This year the Entrance Examinations will be held on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, June 26th, 27th, and 28th, commencing at 1.15 p.m. This is a change from previous years and allows the High School to complete the week which was formerly broken by the examination. The Examination of Entrance to Model Schools will be held on the same dates, as instructions have been issued to that effect.

INSTINCTIVE ACTION CALLED FOR IN FLYING.

To every man who flies there comes the moment when a hair's breadth one way or the other means life or death. To some these moments come more frequently than to others; to those who are constantly pushing their machines to the utmost in the rivalry for public approval they are of almost daily occurrence. But to every man who flies they come sooner or later.

"I know of nothing in human experience," says J. Armstrong Drexel, a successful aviator, writing in the New York Sun, "which can leave so indelible an impression in so short a space of time. With the aeroplane as it is built to-day these critical moments are really only the infinitesimal fraction of a moment. The danger is reached and in a flash it is passed, safely or otherwise. There is no time for thinking. Everything must be done by instinct.

"True, we do make voluntary and logical movements when we get into these scrapes, but I believe that these movements are always made too late to do any real good and that the first instinctive motion, without reason and without thought, is what decides the outcome of the moment."

Mr. Drexel tells of a narrow escape he had while flying at Southampton, England.

"I was," he says, "flying low with the Bleriot XI., with the antiquated type of wings. I started to circle the place in wide, easy curves, without any definite object in view. I found the machine was banking well at the turns and I became curious to see just how small a loop I could make with her, so I gradually narrowed the circle in which I was flying. Closer and closer to the centre I came, and the Bleriot did all I could have expected of her. There seemed no limit to her possibilities, and I was turning the machine in her own length or even shorter. I was paying not the slightest attention to the angle at which I was flying; all my thoughts were in the little circles I was cutting though the air, when suddenly I felt myself slipping on my seat and I realized in a flash that my planes were dangerously near the perpendicular.

"There was no time to think. One instant more and she would have lost her balance and come crashing down sideways to the ground 150 feet below.

"Instinctively I threw my weight to the high side. My hand at once touched the bottom of the framework, a circumstance that will give some idea of my great angle. I took my feet from the steering lever, braced the left one against the side of the framework, shoved the steering post over with my knees to warp the left wing and help to right her, and then I closed my eyes and waited for things to happen. Fortunately for me, I had done the right things just in the nick of time. An infinitesimal fraction of a second later it would have been useless, for I am convinced that I caught the machine just as she was passing the critical angle, after which there would have been nothing to support her in the air and I should have gone crashing downward."

Peruna Secrets You Should Know

Golden Seal, the root of the above plant, is a very useful medicine. Many people gather it in our rich woodlands during the summer. Few people know how valuable it is in dyspepsia, catarrh, and as a general tonic.

Many thousand pounds of this root are used each year in the famous catarrh remedy, Peruna. This fact explains why everybody uses Peruna for catarrh.

TWO HOLIDAYS IN JUNE.

An Ottawa despatch of Tuesday, says: June 3, the birth of his Majesty King George, and June 22, Coronation Day, will be proclaimed as statutory or legal holidays in Canada. Some time ago his Majesty instructed through the Colonial Office, that he would prefer to have his birthday celebrated on the actual anniversary of his birth, instead of adhering to the precedent set by the late Sovereign, King Edward, whose birthday was officially celebrated on Victoria Day, instead of on November 9th. Good Friday, Easter Monday, Victoria Day and Dominion Day are now statutory holidays, and with June 3rd added as a fixed holiday from now on and Coronation Day making an extra holiday this year, the Dominion will be well served with public holidays during the coming eleven weeks.

Acton has had a remarkable immunity from deaths during the past five months. The death of Mrs. Edward Nicklin on Good Friday was the first death which has occurred in the town since the 15th November, 1910, with the exception of the lamentable passing away of Herbie Gamble, at the time of the coasting accident in January. The Free Press says the residents have no recollec- of mortality and especially during the winter months.

NERVOUS DISEASES IN THE SPRING.

Can be Removed by Toning Up the Blood, Thus Strengthening The Nerves.

Nervous diseases are more common and more serious in the spring than at any other time of the year. This is the opinion of the best medical authorities after long observation. Vital changes in the system after long winter months may cause much more than "spring weakness," and the familiar weariness and achings. Official records prove that in April and May neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy and various forms of nerve disturbances are at their worst, especially among those who have not reached middle life.

The antiquated custom of taking purgatives in the spring is useless, for the system really needs strengthening while purgatives make you weaker. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have a special action on the blood and nervous system, for they give strength and have cured not only many forms of nervous disorders, but also other spring troubles, such as headaches, weakness in the limbs, loss of appetite, trembling of the hands, as well as unsightly pimples and skin troubles. They do this because they actually make new, rich, red blood, which means a return to perfect health.

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Good Defence Against the White Plague

No one can afford to lessen their producing power to-day, and to have power you must have good machinery.

The human body is the greatest machine ever produced—the most wonderful mechanism in the world.

It is sheer economic waste not to keep your body in the best condition.

There is no valid excuse for allowing the tissues to become attacked by the white plague. You need your health and Canada needs you.

Insure against it by building up your reserve forces and bodily defences.

HE BANNER

THE BANNER, APRIL 27, 1911.

AN IMPORTANT APPOINTMENT.

The Supreme Court of the Independent Order of Foresters has named Mr. Jno. T. Scott, of Caledon East, Past High Chief Ranger of the High Court of Central Ontario, a member of the Visiting Committee to visit the Tuberculosis Sanitarium that the Order has founded in New York State. The Sanitarium occupies an ideal situation on a beautiful lake in the Adirondack Mountains. The I. O. F. has inaugurated a very active campaign against tuberculosis as it affects the members of that great Society, and has done it without any direct cost to the members of the Order. One result of this campaign is the splendid Sanitarium in the Adirondacks, to which any member of the Order, who is afflicted with tuberculosis in its early stages can go and be restored to health without any expense whatever. After inspecting the Institution the Committee will report progress to the Supreme Court, which is meeting in the Temple Building in the city of Toronto next week. Mr. Scott's appointment to this important Committee shows the high opinion in which he is held by the High Court.

THREE HANDSOME PRIZES.

Readers of The Banner, in Peel County especially, will be interested in an announcement that appears in the Farmer's Advocate for April 20th. In order to promote the beautifying of rural homesteads, James Pearson, K.C., of Toronto, who has become the owner of a farm on the Credit River, Caledon Twp., where he intends to make his home, offers three handsome prizes, namely, $30, $20, and $10, for the three best laid-out and kept flower gardens in the County of Peel; the word "farmer": to mean a farmer of not less than 50 acres, and a subscriber to the Farmer's Advocate; taste in arrangement, selection and care, to count in preference to extent.

There will be no other conditions or charges and the awards will be made by three judges some time during the season. The applications of intending competitors should be sent to the Farmer's Advocate, London, Ont., as soon as possible, giving name, P. O. address, township, lot and concession.

Like many other men of enterprise and means, Mr. Pearson has caught the contagion of country life, and his generous proposal is surely most commendable and should meet with a very hearty response in this splendid old county, and be an incentive to public-spirited men elsewhere to go and do likewise.

ROOFING GUARANTEES

When a maker guarantees his roofing, it merely means that he puts his claims for it in writing, and if there is any dispute afterwards, there are thousands of ways in which the maker can evade responsibility if he chooses.

The makers of Congo Roofing, however, have devised an interesting plan which gives the buyer absolute protection. With each roll of roofing is furnished a Surety Bond issued by the National Surety Company, of New York, guaranteeing the faithful performance of the guarantee by the manufacturers. This gives to any possible complainant a Court of Appeals to which he can go, over the head of the manufacturer. In fact, this guarantee bond so pledges that if the manufacturers of Congo Roofing should go bankrupt or close out their business, the Surety Company would still continue to guarantee the reliability and satisfaction of Congo Roofing. The guarantee on the two or three ply is for 10 years.

A copy of the Guarantee can be obtained by addressing S. A. McCartney, Orangeville, Ont.

The order for the china for the Chatean Laurier, the new Grand Trunk hotel at Ottawa, has been awarded to the Theodore Haviland Company, of Limoges, France. This china is of a very handsome and unique pattern, and will be the best that can be turned out by this well known Company, and includes regular service, banquet service, ball room or tea service and a de luxe set for use in the Royal Suite.

CANNOT FAIL TO INTEREST WOMEN.

Alberta Lady Tells of Her Cure by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Was Weak, Nervous, Run-Down and Suffering From Rheumatism — Dodd's Kidney Pills Made Her a New Person.

Beaumont, Alta., April 24 (Special.)—Women, who are nervous, run down and suffering from Rheumatism, cannot fail to be interested in the case of Miss Gertrude E. Revome of this place. She was exactly in that condition. To-day she is as she puts it herself "a new person." Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her. Here is her statement given for publication:

"My Kidney Disease started from a cold two years ago. Rheumatism set in, and I was weak and nervous, and in a run down condition. I was attended by a doctor who did not appear to understand my case. Three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills made a new person of me."

Is not Miss Revome's condition an exact description of nine-tenths of the ailing women of Canada? The doctor did not understand her case. It was simple enough. It was Kidney Trouble. And Kidney Disease is one great cause of women's troubles. Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure it.

FORESTERS' NIGHT

Officers & Members of Court Equity Entertain Large Audience with a Delightful Concert.

Impressive Address by Supt. Geo. A. Mitchell on Subject of Fraternity.

Citizens of Orangeville to the number of four hundred or upwards were pleasantly entertained by the officers and members of Court Equity, No. 112, Independent Order of Foresters, on Tuesday night. The entertainment took the form of a free concert in the Town Hall, which was filled almost to the capacity limit. An excellent musical programme was furnished by three Toronto artists in the persons of Miss Maud Bigwood, soprano; Miss Lillian Dillon, contralto and piano soloist, and Mr. Harvey Lloyd, comedian. Mr. Lloyd, who is not unknown to the people of Orangeville, was in capital form and his selections convulsed his hearers with laughter. He was rapturously encored after every appearance and was very generous with his responses. One of his best numbers was a witty caricature of the new harem skirt. A patriotic song and a stirring I. O. F. campaign song were also particularly good. Miss Bigwood, a winsome young lady with a captivating manner and a sweet soprano voice, charmed her hearers with her songs and was also delightedly encored. Miss Dillon, who proved herself an accomplished pianiste and accompanist, was also heard with pleasure in a couple of contralto solos. Piano duets by the two ladies and Miss Dillon and Mr. Lloyd added to the variety and charm of the programme.

Col. J. A. V. Preston, Past High Chief Ranger of the High Court of Central Ontario, presided and with him on the platform were Mr. Geo. A. Mitchell, Superintendent of Field Work and Mr. J. H. Ramesbottom, organizer for the Order.

In a short introductory address Col. Preston stated that no fraternal insurance order was more stable or better entitled to the confidence of the people of Canada than the Independent Order of Foresters. He emphasized the international character of the Order, pointing out that this gave it advantages that the purely Canadian Orders could not possess, but pointed out that at the same time the head offices of the Order were situated in Canada. The Order was founded under a special charter from the Dominion Parliament, and there was, therefore, not the slightest possibility that its administrative offices and staff would ever be removed from this country. The Order was making rapid progress everywhere, but there was no place in the world that could equal the progress shown within the jurisdiction of the High Court of Central Ontario. Since last annual meeting in Port Hope the membership in Central Ontario had increased by 3,000. This rapid increase Col. Preston attributed largely to the zeal and energy of Field Superintendent Mitchell.

Mr. Mitchell, who was the chief speaker of the evening, gave a very convincing address on the subject of fraternity. The speaker, who is evidently not only an enthusiastic Forester, but a man endowed with more than the usual amount of energy and natural ability, was unsparing in his denunciation of the indifferent members of the fraternal societies. "Hypocrites" was what he designated the men who so far forgot their obligation that they failed to darken the door of the lodge room oftener than perhaps once in a twelvemonth. He expressed the belief that the calling of the man engaged in fraternal work was equal to that of the man behind the pulpit. The former preached the gospel of fraternity, which meant learning to love our neighbors as ourselves. He did not know any more effectual means of winning men to God than by instilling the belief and practice of brotherly love. Ministers of the gospel would find it much easier to reach the man who had grasped this great principle and made provision for those dependent upon him for support, than the man who had neither made such provision nor recognized its need. Mr. Mitchell deplored the spirit of commercialism in the fraternal field. Too many members of the fraternal insurance societies looked upon the insurance question from a purely business standpoint and missed entirely the benefit of the fraternal and brotherly spirit. The fraternal orders were all doing a great work in the way of educating people to the importance of making provision for the support of their wives and families. The only provision that a great many men were able to make was through fraternal insurance. The young man who would not safeguard the girl he loved from possible want and privation in the event of his death, was not worthy of her hand. There was no excuse for any man in the enjoyment of ordinary health and strength failing to provide his wife with this protection. Every man could afford to carry some insurance, and if he neglected to do so he simply failed in his duty to his wife and children. Mr. Mitchell gave several instances to show the true fraternal spirit of the Independent Order of Foresters and also the dire results that sometimes follow when the husbands fails to take out any insurance.

The Independent Order of Foresters, the speaker described as the strongest fraternal insurance society in the world to-day. It had a membership of 240,000 and a reserve fund of $75 for every member. The Order was growing by leaps and bounds. There was no other Society that went to the expense of holding public meetings for the purpose of educating the people to the importance of fraternity and fraternal insurance. Education along these lines was badly needed, although as a rule people have very little sympathy with the man who will not make provision for his wife and family. During the 32 years of its existence the I. O. F. had distributed $32,000,000 among the widows and orphans of its members. It had a reserve fund of over $17,000,000. Where was there another Society which could point to such a noble record. The Order had proved itself a veritable blessing from God in thousands of homes. But the I. O. F. was more than a merely fraternal insurance Society. It made provision which ensured its members against want during their old age. When a member reached the age of 70 years he ceased to pay any premiums and if he wished had the privilege of drawing an annuity equivalent to one-tenth of the amount of his policy for the next ten years. In other fraternal societies the applicant was invited to come in and pay until he died. There was also the Home at Oakville, where the Order had made provision for the care of the orphaned children of its members. Children were kept here until they were 16 years of age, carefully reared and educated and given domestic training in the case of the girls and manual and mechanical training in the case of boys. 64 children were being cared for there at the present time. Through the medium of the Order's employment bureau in Toronto, the Society was able to keep in touch with these children after they left the Home until they were 21 years of age. Through this Bureau over 425 members of the Order were found employment last year. Where mothers, whose insurance did not provide sufficient means to rear and educate their children, preferred to keep the little ones at home, the Order would supplement the family's income by an allowance of $5 per month for each child, until it reached the age of 16 years.

As another evidence of the splendid fraternal work the Order is doing, Mr. Mitchell instanced the erection of a Tuberculosis Sanitarium in New York State. 400 acres of land had been purchased beautifully situated in the Adirondack Mountains. Here the Order had erected a Sanitarium and equipped it with every modern comfort and appliance for the successful treatment of tuberculosis patients. Members of the Order who contract this dread disease may go here while in the earlier stages and be treated entirely free of cost. There were 39 patients in this Sanitarium at present, and three or four persons had already been sent to their homes fully cured. Another Sanitarium is in course of erection in California and one would probably be built in Ontario in the near future. There was no other Order in the world that was doing this class of work for its membership.

Foresters, Mr. Mitchell explained, enjoyed the regular benefits of the Order and those special privileges that were peculiarly their own, for a reasonable rate of insurance. Yet this rate, while reasonable, was one that courted and would stand the most searching investigation. There were cheaper insurance societies, but that man that put on cheap insurance received protection that was not safe.

Mr. Mitchell closed his address with a ringing appeal for the wider spread of the spirit and principles of fraternity, so well exemplified in the glorious record of Independent Forestry and the great and growing work the Order is doing in the world today.

Mr. J. H. Ramesbottom, who was introduced to the audience shortly before the close of the programme, stated that he did not intend to speak at any length. He would prefer to meet those interested in fraternal insurance in the quiet of their own homes and reason with them on this matter of the adequate protection that the I. O. F. affords its members.

The meeting was brought to a close shortly after eleven o'clock by singing the National Anthem.

DWELLING DESTROYED.

Mr. R. J. Wallace's dwelling house on lot 13, 2nd line, Amaranth, was destroyed by fire about 10 o'clock on Tuesday forenoon. Most of the contents were also consumed. The building, which was a log structure, was uninsured and Mr. Wallace will therefore lose heavily. The fire started from the stove pipes.

WHO IS JIM SPEERS?

Chief Ewing held up a consignment of twelve cases of ale and eight or ten kegs of lager at the C. P. R. station on Friday morning. The liquor was from D. Kuntz & Son, of Waterloo, and most of it was consigned to James Speers, Orangeville. There is no person of that name living in or close to Orangeville, and it is believed that the name is an assumed one. Chief Ewing suspects that the liquor was intended for a Broadway man. Samples have been forwarded to Toronto for analysis and the Chief is awaiting instructions before taking any further steps.

ROSEMONT.

I was grieved, Mr. Editor, to see a statement from Buster No. 2 in last week's issue of The Banner. I did not think we had writers of such low calibre in this locality. Their Christian faith they have sunk to the lowest depths. What a bright ornament they would be to church and society at large if they would only publish their names and let the people know who they are. If Captain McLaren's word and mine count for nothing, and if we have done anything wrong, why should not Buster make his statements over his own signature. The fact that he has not chosen to do this should show your readers what a slender thread he hangs by. He shouts, "Roll called; only eight men wanted." The monkey doesn't seem to know anything about discipline, and even less about Christian character. One cannot help pitying this poor scribbler, whose mind is so poisoned and intellect so dwarfed that he would like to bring everybody down on a level with himself. He reminds me of that noble little animal, which can be scented long before he is seen, known as the skunk, and which nobody is particularly anxious to associate with. Does he imagine that any person is going to take any stock in his writing. There is a verse in the Bible which reads: "The harlot, she wipeth her mouth and saith I have done no harm." I am well aware of the reputations of some men, who think that they know all about the transactions of 1885. I know that their own reputations, where truth stands, do not count for much. I ask Banner readers to glance back over Buster's past and learn for themselves. There was a subscription taken up in Rosemont for the boys in the West at the time of the Rebellion. I wonder if Buster was loyal enough to give anything then, as I failed to see his name on the paper. Let me say right here that I know who Buster No. 1 is. The family resides in Rosemont at present. I will say nothing about him at present, as I have something better up my sleeve for him. The only remark I wish to make is this: I remember when a very near friend of his went to Ireland to spend a honeymoon 35 years ago. This I will fully explain along with other very important topics in my next letter. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the use of your space, I am,

Yours respectfully,
J. W. A.

We would ask your forgiveness for the many times we have grieved you by inattentiveness or otherwise, and on this occasion we ask that you accept this ebony set and jewel case as a small token of the esteem we shall ever bear toward you, both as our teacher and friend. We shall hope that success will follow your efforts during the years to come.

LAUREL.

The weather continues cold and indications are that the season will be very late. Many of the farmers are only commencing to plough and very little seeding will be done hereabouts before May 1st.

Our little burg continues to flourish. Mrs. Jelly has made the latest improvement, in the form of a new kitchen to replace the one that she had pulled downe some time ago. The new addition is a neat frame structure and will make quite an improvement to the appearance of her dwelling.

Mr. Geo. E. Gordon has erected an implement house and expects to commence operations on his new dwelling shortly. The latter will be quite an improvement to the appearance of our town.

This week it is our sad duty to chronicle the death of one of our oldest and most respected citizens in the person of Mr. William Hughes, who passed away on Saturday morning last after a severe illness of nine or ten weeks' duration. The late Mr. Hughes, who was in his 73rd year, had been a resident of Laurel for the last 48 years. He was well liked and greatly respected by all who knew him. There are few men in Amaranth so widely and so favorably known throughout the length and breadth of the township. In his earlier days Mr. Hughes followed the avocation of builder and contractor, and in the course of his business was brought into intimate touch with a great many people. By those with whom he had business dealings he was always spoken of as an honest man, who did his work well and fulfilled any agreement he made to the very letter. Of late years he had confined his activities to carpenter work in the shop, leaving the contract work to his oldest son, Herbert, who does a very extensive business in this line. Deceased had been a consistent and active member of the Presbyterian Church in this place for many years. In his death the Church has lost a true friend, but its loss and the loss of those who are left to mourn is his eternal gain. The deceased was also a staunch Orangeman and was one of the oldest members of L. O. L. No. 330. The funeral, which was very largely attended, was held from his late residence to Laurel cemetery on Monday afternoon. The members of Laurel L.O.L. and a number of visiting brethren marched in a body from their hall to the house, where a very impressive funeral service was conducted by Rev. J. R. Bell, pastor of the Presbyterian Church. After the service the members of the Order headed the long procession from the house to the grave. After the church burial service, which was read by Rev. J.R. Bell, the brethren circled the grave and the impressive burial ritual of the Orange Order was read by the Worshipful Master, John Bryan, and the Chaplain, Rev. J. R. Bell. A large number of beautiful floral offerings testified to the love and esteem in which the departed man was held. The late Mr. Hughes was a widower, his wife having died about three years ago. He is survived by two sons, Mr. Herbert Hughes, Treasurer of the Township of Amaranth, and Mr. J. A. Hughes, Postmaster and General Merchant at Laurel, and two daughters, Mrs. John Groskurth, of Waldemar, and Miss Maud at home. There are also three brothers, Messrs. Robert Hughes, of Collingwood, and Henry and Joseph Hughes, of Toronto. The sorrowing family and relatives have the sympathy of the entire neighborhood in their great loss. The pallbearers, all old friends of the deceased, were Messrs. Robt. Hamilton, Wm. Johnston, John Greason, Sr., John Johnston, George Bidwell and Alex. Ewing.

Mr. S. J. Brown, whose protracted illness has been referred to in these columns on farmer occasions, was sufficiently recovered to be able to attend the funeral of his oldtime friend, Mr. Wm. Hughes, on Monday.

Mrs. T. Johnston, who has been very ill for the last two weeks, is improving again and is able to sit up for a short time each day.

Miss Aggie Peterson, Shelburne, and Miss Jemima Ewing, Coleridge, spent Easter with Miss Ella Ewing.

BLACK'S CORNERS.

Once more the shadow of the Angel of Death has fallen upon our community. On Thursday afternoon, April 13th, Edith J. Rintoul, youngest daughter of Mr. Alex. Rintoul, passed peacefully away after a few days' illness. Deceased was twelve years of age, and was of a bright, sunny disposition. She will be greatly missed in the home and also by her school mates and friends. The bereaved family have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community in their trouble.

A little tender form we lay
Beneath the sod;
The grass now grows along the way,
That once it trod,
Brothers and sisters still are there,
But the fireside has a vacant chair—
All, all now left of one so fair,
A memory dear, we all can share.

The grass will spring all fresh and green,
Upon that mound,
And Edith will be no more seen
Skipping around;
No, never will that loved one share
The toil of earth, the joy, the care,
All, all now left of one so fair,
A memory dear, we all can share.

But where is she for whom we weep,
Our little one?
In Jesus' arms she's safe asleep—
Her day is done;
She needs no more her Father's care,
Nor yet doth need a mother's prayer,
All, all now left of one so fair,
A memory dear, we all can share.

SERVICES APPRECIATED.

Miss Maggie Galbraith, who has been in the employ of Mr. Jos. J. Kelly, as stenographer and bookkeeper for the past eight years, resigned her position recently and will leave Orangeville for the West shortly. Mr. Kelly thought very highly of Miss Galbraith's office work and yesterday showed his appreciation by presenting her with a beautiful gold locket and chain, the former suitably inscribed, a box of monogram stationery and the following explanatory note:—

Dear Miss Galbraith,—As you have been in my employment as stenographer and bookkeeper since March 1903 and are now leaving town, I wish to express to you my appreciation of and gratitude for the faithful service you have rendered me. I ask you to accept the accompanying gift as a slight token of my regard for your value to me, and my best wishes, be assured, will accompany you in your career through life.

Sincerely yours,
Jos. J. Kelly.

A PRESENTATION.

Friday night Miss Annie Park, one of the teachers in St. Andrew's S. S., entertained a number of the younger scholars at her home on Zina St. During the evening the members of Miss Parks' Class presented one of their number, Miss Madeline McKenney, who will leave shortly for Vancouver, with a gold signet ring and the following address:—

To Miss Madeline McKenney.

Dear Madeline,—We, the teacher and members of the class in St. Andrew's Sunday School to which you belong, are very sorry for you in your bereavement. And, now, as we have learned you are about to leave Orangeville, St. Andrew's and us, and go to live in the City of Vancouver, we feel that we are sustaining a loss. We have been schoolmates, have played together and we all love you. It grieves us to think you are going away so unexpectedly and, then, so far. We shall always think of you in your western home and among new acquaintances, and we ask you to accept this friendship ring as a slight token of our esteem for you and that it may keep you in remembrance of us and the happy days we have spent together.

Orangeville, April 21st, 1911.

Miss Frarey Dodds read the address and Miss Alberta Kearns made the presentation. A very pleasant evening was spent by the merry assemblage, Miss Park proving a most genial hostess. Miss McKenney's departure, we understand, will make the first break in the class for four years.

S. S. ANNIVERSARY.

Sunday School Anniversary services will be held in the Methodist Church on Sunday, followed by an anniversary entertainment on Monday evening. At the latter the children, who are being trained under the direction of Miss Doty, will present an interesting programme of marches, choruses, tableaux, etc. They will also participate in a special service of song on Sunday. Rev. J.A.Doyle, S. S. Field Secretary, will occupy the pulpit at the Sunday services.

A MONO ROAD FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late Mr. Thomas Sparrow, of Mono Road, took place on Wednesday afternoon of last week. The remains were taken from his late residence to Caesar's Church, where an impressive service was held, conducted by Rev. J. A. Petch, present pastor, and Revs. Jones, of Mono Road and Matheson, of Caledon East, after which the funeral cortege, which was a very large one, wended its way to Providence Cemetery where interment took place. Deceased was about 60 years of age, a life long resident of this vicinity and much respected in the community. He was a director of the Peel Insurance Co. and his brother directors sent a beautiful wreath as a token of their sorrow for his loss. He leaves a widow and two sons, the elder being in the Bank, the younger at home on the farm.—Bolton Enterprise.

Deceased was a brother of Mrs. W. T. Hubbard, West Broadway. Mrs. Hubbard attended the funeral.

BOWLING CLUB RE-ORGANIZES.

The annual meeting of the Orangeville Lawn Bowling Club was held in the Public Library Auditorium on Friday night. About thirty of the members were in attendance. Dr. W. H. Bowles, the retiring President, occupied the chair. The report of the Treasurer, Mr. A. A. Hughson, showed the finances of the Club to be in excellent shape. Owing to the extensive improvements made on the grounds last season, the current account was overdrawn to the amount of $18.22. There is, however, a balance of $85.29 to the credit of the capital account and a further balance of $3 55 on the tournament account. The Secretary's report showed a fully paid membership of 53, which is likely to be materially increased this season. Officers and Committees were elected as follows:

Hon. President—Dr. W. H. Bowles.
President—A. L. C. Kirkwood.
Vice President—Geo. Robb.
Secretary—A. D. McKitrick.
Asst. Secretary—Geo. E. Brown.
Treasurer—A. A. Hughson.
Executive—The Officers and Messrs W. M. Green, Geo. Beswick and Dr. Carson.
Auditors—Messrs W. G. Hyland and W. H. Lugsdin.
Grounds Committee—Messrs A. Hill, R. H. Robinson, W. E. Rogers and Alex. Johnston.
Entertainment Committee—Messrs E. C. Clark, C. R. McKeown and Dr. Hunter.

The Grounds Committee has re-engaged "Major" Field as caretaker. Mr. Field has few equals in this line and so long as the Club retains his services the players are assured a first-class green.

The matter of fixing dates for the annual Tournament was left in the hands of the Executive. At a meeting on Tuesday night the latter selected Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, August 1, 2, and 3 for the Tourney.

MISS MARY FOSTER.

The sympathy of their many friends and neighbors is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Foster, 1st line, east, Mono, and the members of their family, in the irreparable loss they have suffered through the death of their daughter, Miss Mary. Miss Foster, who had been in poor health for some weeks, was obliged to give up her situation in Toronto and come home shortly before the Easter vacation. She was very ill when she arrived and her physicians decided upon an operation last Friday to remove some matter that had gathered about one of her lungs. The operation was successfully performed notwithstanding her condition of extreme weakness, but she succumbed quite suddenly and unexpectedly a few hours afterwards. Miss Foster, who was in her 31st year, attended High School in Orangeville some years ago, afterwards teaching school for several years and then taking a Business College course in Toronto. Prior to her last illness she had been in the employ of the Toronto firm of Foster, Deck & Co., as bookkeeper and stenographer. There was a large attendance and every evidence of profound sympathy at the funeral, which was held to the Forest Lawn cemetery on Sunday afternoon. Among the beautiful floral tributes were wreaths from Mr. and Mrs. D. Henderson, Cheltenham; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Delaney, Orangeville, and Mr. Whebble. Rev. W. M. Morris, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, conducted the services at the house and grave. Besides her parents, the late Miss Foster is survived by two brothers, Samuel and W. J. Foster, of Mono, and three sisters, Mrs. Henderson, Cheltenham, Mrs. Delaney, Orangeville, and Angellina at home.

—Miss Elizabeth Dodds and Mr. G. L. Shipley, of Falkirk, Ont., were married at the home of the bride's father, Mr. Geo. Dodds, Primrose, on Wednesday afternoon, April 19th, Rev. Dr. McKenzie, of Shelburne, officiating.

BEFORE TREATMENT

AFTER TREATMENT

Peter E. Summers relates his experience: "I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, but received little benefit. I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the NEW METHOD TREATMENT and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and continue to do so.

MONTREAL PLANS NEW WATERFRONT.

Vast Improvement to Include Solid Wall of Huge Terminals—Expenditure of $10,000,000 Projected to Increase Canadian Commerce—Mexican Turmoils Affect Dominion — Harem Skirt Puzzles Police—Vice Commission to Repress Social Evil —Raising Money on Death.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Montreal, April 19th.—Plans are now under way and are likely soon to be adopted which provide virtually for the remaking of Montreal, as a port. Commissions composed of engineers and harbour officials have been studying for a long time the problem of providing for the more efficient and economical handling of the tremendous commerce which centres in this city and which has made it one of the finest ports in the world. This investigation has resulted this week in the submission of two reports. While these differ in details they are alike in essential particulars and both provide for the practical rebuilding of the entire waterfront. The plan generally favored provides for the replacing of the antiquated surface tracks over which freight is now hauled along the river front by an elevated road to be devoted exclusively to the handling of freight and to have spurs connecting with all piers. Back of the road is to rise a solid row if giant warehouses, connected with the railway at the second story level. By this means communication between any part of the waterfront and every other part will be direct and convenient and it is estimated that the cost of hauling freight will be reduced forty per cent. The great system of giant terminals will make a striking change in the appearance of the city and it is expected that the cost of the improvements contemplated will be $10,000,000 or more, most of which, however, will be expended by private capital in the construction of the terminal warehouses.

Whether the much-talked of harem skirt is to become the leading feature in the city's summer feminine costumes remains to be seen. Meantime it is likely to become a political issue, the subject of police rules, traffic regulations and a cause of excitement in many other ways. Already several minor officials have been called upon to declare their attitude regarding this form of dress. Its appearance on the street is sufficient to collect a crowd of proportions great enough to block all traffic and the problem has arisen as to how the matter shall be handled. One member of the police force when called to explain why we had not arrested the wearer of the harem skirt who had attracted such a crowd as to block temporarily the passage of fire engines answered that he did not know that it was a misdemeanor to appear in such a costume and that he would rather lose his job than be seen making such an arrest anyhow. Father Knickerbocker may or may not be forced to make various harem skirt regulations, but they will have little effect either way. Whether or not they are to be generally worn is a matter which will be decided not by law but by feminine decision.

Word that the Mexican Government has at last decided to resort to active measures for the suppression of the Rebel forces is received with rejoicing here, for Canada is more than incidentally interested in the welfare of the litule Republic. Large amounts of Canadian money have been invested in Mexico of late years and have always brought large returns. Some people lately may have been worrying about having their money invested in a country where there is internal strife, but their fears, for the most part, seem to be groundless, for nothing short of a national calamity could affect their assets. The Mexican Mahogany & Rubber Corporation, Limited, one of the largest organizations of its kind on this continent, which is almost entirely owned by Canadians, and who own and are operating extensive areas of some 440 square miles of mahogany, rubber and chicle limits in the southern part of Mexico have been closely in touch with the situation all during the recent disturbances and at no time have they felt any anxiety, situated as they are some hundreds of miles from the seat of the trouble, and even in the event of the revolutionists gaining access to their property no harm could result. The mahogany, standing green as it does, will not burn, (a danger that is always foremost in Canadian timber ventures) and the business of the company has gone on oblivious to any disturbances. Amongst the Canadians who are interested in it are Mr. James Playfair, of the Inland Lines Limited; Mr. Chas. E. Read, Director of Riordan Paper Mills; Mr. W. Grant, Morden, Hon. C. J. Doherty, M.P. for St. Anne's, Rodolphe Forget, M.P., Mr. Frank Carrell, Quebec, and Mr. T. P. Birchall, of the Canadian Securities Corporation, Limited.

As a result of the too flourishing and prosperous condition of the ever moving and slippery population of the "red light" district, and the acknowledged inability of the police department to clean up and put the cover on, a Vice Commission with a salary, the first of its kind on this continent, has practically been decided upon by the Board of Control. The little work that has ever been done towards improving Montreal's morals has been undertaken by charitable and philanthropic societies, and, once in a long while the Provincial Government has taken a hand by appointing a judge a Royal Commissioner to run a fine tooth comb through the police department and make a number of suggestions for purifying the atmosphere which have been never carried out. The city has a Morality squad which is supposed to know everything that goes on after dark, but the sporty people have no better joke or pastime than fooling these worthies who have never made a really large raid in the years of their existence. The Vice Commission will attack the social evil from a scientific standpoint and see what can be done to clean up the city.

Facts About Motherhood

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at the time of child-birth, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when the strain is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

It isn't as though the experience came upon them unawares. They have ample time in which to prepare, but they, for the most part, trust to chance and pay the penalty.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy, and strong.

Any woman who would like special advice in regard to this matter is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. Her letter will be held in strict confidence.

Cod Liver Oil With the Oil Taken Out

A Triumph for Chemical Science and Pharmaceutical Skill

Oil from the liver of the cod-fish has been used as a preventative of disease and a restorative for ages.

For a long time it has been the general opinion that the medicinal value of Cod Liver Oil was the greasy, oily part itself —its only drawback being the unpalatable, fishy taste of the oil.

From the first experts have been trying to find means to make it more palatable. They used to "cut" it with whiskey—take it in wine—flavor it with lemon juice—anything to get away from that abominable fishy taste and smell.

Lots of people still take it in Emulsion form, which is nothing more than "churned" oil—broken up—but still greasy, oily and a strain on the digestion.

Doctors used to think it was the oil itself that built up the system—they were slow to find out that the oil was a distinct drawback to the medicinal principles contained in it.

Crude oil is quite indigestible, and will, in time, put the strongest stomach out of order.

A way has now been discovered to do away with the grease and the smell, and yet retain all the medicinal properties of the liver. This is done by removing the fresh oil from the new livers. The liver pulp is then reduced to the form of an extract like beef extract.

Nyal's Cod Liver Compound is simply this liver extract combined with an extract of malt and healing wild cherry. It also contains the true hypophosphites.

This combination makes Nyal's Cod Liver Compound a delicious tonic—builds up the system, and makes you strong.

Take it when you feel yourself losing your grip. It's a pleasure to take—even the children like it.

Grand Valley Spring Horse Show Was a Grand Success.

List of Exhibitors Who Carried Off the Prizes.

A real taste of genuine spring weather Tuesday morning brightened the faces of the officials of the Agricultural Society, for it gave an assurance of success to the spring horse fair. That the people generally appreciated the change after the long siege of cold weather, was quite noticeable in the big turnout from a long distance.

But people were not prime center of interest, rather, the horse. And there was a noble exhibit. Apart from the Clydesdales, the centres in the entire classes were very few. But if the horses were not plentiful the quality was strictly in evidence. The competition in the yearling and two-year-old heavy draft classes brought out a superb lot of animals, as fine as may be seen at larger shows. Mr. Dundas, of Peterboro, the judge, found no little difficulty in making decisions, but on the whole they were well received.

ROSEMONT.

(Intended for last week.)

Mr. Editor, some time has passed since my last appearing in Press, which caused many to conceive that I had vacated the vicinity. I wish to state that I had been suffering from a severe attack of la grippe, afterwards contracting bronchitis, which is somewhat prevalent in the East. Now that I am convalescent, I will be able to continue my narrative. I spent many pleasant evenings at Mr. Robt. Shaw's, conversing on the nature of the honey-insect, as I firmly believe that Mr. Shaw has the subject down to a science. Feeling assured from the information he imparted that I could master it, I purchased a few colonies from him, which I will take West with my other effects. Having received an invitation to W. J's. social gathering as I stated in my last issue, Robert Hamilton wished me to accompany his party there. I accepted, and when we were about to make our egress, Mr. Shaw, who had been scanning the blue dome, predicted a disturbance in the canopy, and warned us to equip ourselves for the impending storm, which we did. Upon reaching W. J's. abode, we found a goodly number had arrived before us and were participating in the various amusements. I first began to animat my benumbed figures, then commingling with the happy concourse I found many familiar faces, among whom was W. G. Newton, whose insatiable desire for game was almost inducing him to go West. He related his large practice at the range, but that he had not, as yet, secured the bird which he desired for his cage. I consoled him that I too was in the state of celibacy, and urged him not to be weary in well-doing. Our confab was here interrupted by inquiries from Cyril Bright, regarding the labor question, and demand for tradesmen in the West. I informed him that there was greater demand than ever for mechanics, to which he replied that he had heard from Wasterners about the great boom in blacksmithing, and had resolved to master the smithing this summer. I reassured him that he was making a wise choice, as so many steel points being in use required laying and sharpening frequently. The euchre games being in progress. I took advantage of the opportunity to have one with the host, during which time we became involved in conversation, and discussed many past episodes, with which were associated many pleasing reminiscences, to some of which I have already referred. As the small hours of the morning were advancing, the assembly began to disperse, all speaking in glowing terms of the pleasant evening afforded them, and soon our happy throng were wending their ways to their destinations. We had not gone far, when Fred. Mc. exclaimed, "Do not forget, Buster, to call and see us, but come early as I might not be at home after dark." I replied in the affirmative, and said likely I would be along next week. Presently we were at our abode, and the stars having vanished from the spacious firmament and everybody's sun begun to cast its beams along the horizon, we decided we would just prepare for the day's proceedings. Mr. Shaw's presence now entered our apartment, and desired to know the nature of the performance. We replied to his inquisitions, stating also that we were glad we had not been negligent of his caution regarding the storm. You certainly have missed your avocation, as you are adapted for a naturalist and a meteorologist. Having now been here for a fortnight, during my period of indisposition, I thought that I would resume my journey to Mr. Sam. Lee's. A few paces brought me to Little York, where I first called on my honorable friend, Mr. Sam. Lee, Sr., whose attention was attracted by the barking of his dog, which was soon lulled by my venerable friend, who then addressed me in his customary manner, exclaiming, "Indeed, indeed, the rapid flight of time is not indicated in your visage." I informed him that if it had not been for my previous depression, I would enjoy the robustness which I did when we had the good old prayer meetings in Thompson's church. By this time the air was vibrating with the sound of the numerous dinner bells in the vicinity, and my friend then led the way to the dining room, where we enjoyed dinner with the other members of the household. After dinner the junior man showed me numerous skins which he had procured. Delighted with the fine specimens he displayed, I stated that he must be a dexterous trapper to get so many.

A man left his umbrella in the stand in a hotel recently with a card bearing the following inscription attached to it: "This umbrella belongs to a man who can deal a blow of 250 pounds' weight. Most Canadians Have Catarrh

Our Changeable Climate is Responsible.

Where the atmosphere is damp, with sudden changes in temperature, almost everybody has Catarrh, in some form or other. The ordinary cold in the head inflames and weakens the membranes lining the nose and throat, and starts a discharge. The next cold is more easily caught, and soon the patient is never quite free of it.

As Catarrh develops the discharge increases—drops into the throat, especially at night—and takes on an offensive odor. Besides being exceedingly disagreeable, there is great danger of the disease extending to the lungs, stomach, or bowels.

Though it is very difficult to cure, Father Morrisey devised a combined internal and external treatment that has cured thousands. The Tablets tone up and invigorate the system, and assist Nature in throwing off the disease, while the salve, applied up the nostrils, clears out the discharge and heals the membranes. PROCRASTINATION

The wisdom of prompt action was lately demonstrated in rather a pathetic way. Two sisters had listened to an address directing attention to the Canadian Government Annuities system as an opportunity for safe investment to people of small means, and with the result that both resolved to take advantage of it immediately. Each had the sum of $2,000 invested in the stock of a certain Bank. The younger sister, aged 65, did not delay, but at once sold her stock and made the purchase, and is now in receipt of an income of over $50 quarterly, the first instalment of which was paid to her three months after the purchase had been made. This gives her for life an income equal to 10 per cent. on the amount invested. The elder sister intended to follow her example, but unfortunately, on the advice of Mr. Knowall, put off doing so until it was too late. The Bank failed and her savings of a lifetime were swept away as in the twinkling of an eye. But not only was her $2,000 lost, but she became indebted to the Bank under the double liability clause in the sum of $2,000. Had she invested the amount as did her sister in the purchase of an Annuity she would have had an income no matter how long she lived of $225 a year.

Further information may be obtained on application to your Postmaster, or to the Superintendent of Government Annuities, Ottawa, to whom all letters go free of charge.

HOW TO LIVE LONG.

With healthy kidneys, one has a good chance to live long, but weak kidneys afflict old age with great discomforts. The back becomes bent and lame, rheumatism is chronic, eyesight fails and too frequent or involuntary passages of the urine cause embarrassment by day and loss of sleep at night.

Booth's Kidney Pills

Booth's Kidney Pills bring new strength to old backs and quick relief to weakened kidneys. They banish backache and rheumatic pain, regulate the bladder and urine.

Booth's Kidney Pills are for sick kidneys in old or young and are guaranteed by the proprietors, The R. T. Booth Co., Ltd., Fort Erie, Ont. Sold everywhere 50c. box. Free trial sent on request.

At the Holstein horse show a young man named McMeekin, of Durham, who was in charge of a stallion belonging to Mr. Walpole, of Durham, was attacked by the animal, and was severely bitten about the legs. Only for the interference of Mr. Alex. Ross, of Yeovil, with a club, the groom would probably have been killed.

Few medicines are of any benefit for rheumatism, but Mr. Sanders tells plainly what Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine did for it. THE CONTROL OF BOVINE TUBERCULOSIS.

The issue of the Report of the International Commission on the Control of Bovine Tuberculosis is of significant interest at the present time particularly in view of the active public demand for some definite and authoritative pronouncement in consideration of the whole situation as regards Bovine Tuberculosis in its relation to the welfare of the Live Stock Industry and to its influence on public health. The economic importance of the subject has occasioned a very great deal of discussion in scientific and agricultural circles and has led to the adoption by various legislative and municipal bodies of measures for the suppression and eradication of this great scourge of domesticated animals and for the protection of the people against infection through the consumption of diseased meat or polluted milk. It has long been felt, however, that for the North American Continent a really efficient and satisfactory programme could only be arranged and undertaken with any prospect of uniform and permanent success through concerted action on the part of the governments of both the United States and Canada and only also when the legislation enacted or policy adopted was in substantial agreement with the expressed views of representative authorities of both countries.

The Report referred to embodies the deliberate conclusions of just such an official and representative delegation and both farmers and the the public generally are to be congratulated in having now placed before them in most concise and readable form a statement containing an epitome of the researches of the Commission and of the recommendations which it has at length determined to make. The decisions which have been reached are eminently conservative in their nature and for this reason, if for no other, they will exercise a much stronger appeal than would otherwise be possible, particularly in the case of those who may for any reason be prejudiced against legislative interference. The prevalence of the disease and the consequent loss to the breeders, as well as the now acknowledged danger to public health are not minimized, but gravely acknowledged and seriously considered. In the recommendations which have been made, however, due regard has been given to the great practical difficulties which must of necessity be encountered in the conscientious carrying out of any policy likely to be of use in combating the malady.

Compulsory slaughter of infected animals is not advocated, though the destruction of those showing clinical symptoms of the disease is advised. Compulsory testing even is not insisted on, except in herds where the disease is known to exist, though the usefulness of tuberculin, as a reliable diagnostic agent, when properly administered, is confidently affirmed. The Commission bases its great hope of ultimate success in accomplishing the intention of whatever legislation may be enacted on the co-operation of the breeders of live stock in the policy of rearing healthy herds by protecting the young from contagion of any sort. A sufficient explanation is given of the methods advocated, and in order to safeguard the interests of those now possessing clean herds and of those making an honest effort to establish such herds, stringent precautionary measures are recommended regarding the shipment, sale and interchange of stock. The policy as presented is every way reasonable and cannot but commend itself to any fair thinking man.

It is unnecessary to enter into a further discussion of the details of the Report of the Commission, as a copy may be easily obtained by any reader. The fact that this report is likely to form the basis of a new policy shortly to be adopted by the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa should give its contents a special interest for Canadian owners of cattle and swine. The time is evidently ripe for such a departure and the Minister's hands will no doubt be strengthened by the steadily growing sentiment on the part of the public in favor of such action. In the meantime and until a definite policy is announced, a careful study of this publication should be made by every farmer and breeder in the country. Whether or not it may be to his advantage to lay his plans forthwith, in accordance with the proposed scheme as therein outlined, will remain for him to decide, but the information which the report contains is of immediate practical value and should not be neglected. It may be obtained by addressing the Veterinary Director General, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, Ont.

THE CURSE OF THE NATION IS CONSTIPATION

"Fruit-a-tives" Alone Cures This Disease

A famous scientist states that Constipation, or non-action of the bowels, causes more deaths than all other diseases combined. Constipation inflames the Kidneys, ruins digestion, is the foundation of Rheumatism, poisons the blood, causes Headaches, Neuralgia, Nervousness and Insomnia.

Constipation is caused by a weak or sluggish liver. Bile, the only purgative of the body, is secreted by the liver, which in turn should pour out into the intestines sufficient bile to move the bowels. Unless the liver is active, there cannot be enough bile to move the bowels regularly, and Constipation is the result.

"Fruit-a-tives", the famous fruit medicine, will always cure Constipation because it acts directly on the liver—relieves the congestion—increases the quantity of bile—and strengthens the bowel muscles.

IN THREE ACCIDENTS.

It would seem that Zam-Buk, the famous healing balm we hear so highly spoken of everywhere, is particularly useful in the family circle. A report sent by Mrs. E. Davey, 786 Ellice Ave., Winnipeg, will illustrate this. She says: "My little boy, of three, while playing, fell from a high verandah to the ground, cutting his forehead badly. Instead of calling a doctor who would undoubtedly have put in a number of stitches, I bathed the wound well, and applied Zam-Buk. The little fellow, although suffering keenly, soon had relief from his pain. In the course of three weeks by applying Zam-Buk daily, the wound was nicely healed.

"Since then I have also used Zam-Buk for a boil which came on my cheek, and which proved very painful and looked unsightly. Zam-Buk soon drew the boil to a head and it then quickly banished it.

"Another time my baby was scalded on her left thigh and calf of leg with boiling water. Directly it was done I thought to use Zam-Buk, and spreading some on lint I wrapped up the baby's limb. Next morning she rested much easier and I applied a fresh bandage with Zam-Buk. I kept this treatment up daily, and was rewarded by seeing a great improvement each time I dressed the wound. In a very short space of time the scalds were all nicely healed.

"I cannot recommend this wonderful healing preparation too highly for family use, and I have such great faith in its healing powers that my house is never without a box."

For all skin injuries and diseases, piles, eczema, salt rheum and face sores, Zam-Buk is absolutely unequalled. 50c. box all druggists and stores, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Try Zam-Buk Soap too! Only 25c. tablet.

THE GOLDEN

"The Land That Pays for Itself in a Single Season."—Prof. Thomas Shaw.

Want to quit paying rent and have a fine farm of your own? Come to Saskatchewan! Want a farm so fertile that the first crop pays for your land? Come to Saskatchewan! Want pleasant, congenial work that pays generous rewards? Come to Saskatchewan!

Want to live where health, not sickness, is "catching"? Come to Saskatchewan! Want a home surrounded by good neighbors, schools, churches and railroads? Come to Saskatchewan! Want to get out of a rut, to make a new start, to live where conditions are with you, not against you; want a fair chance to make money—as good a chance as your dad had when Ontario was "out West"? Come to Saskatchewan!

$20 Farms Grow 40 Bushels of Wheat per Acre!

To the average man this would seem impossible, but it is done by farmers in the LAST MOUNTAIN VALLEY, in Golden Saskatchewan, and they don't work nearly so hard as their less fortunate friends who stayed "at home." The average crop in this fertile valley is about 30 bushels per acre. The first year's crop clears the land! There are yet thousands of acres in this wonderful valley—as rich as any soil in the world—that have never been put under cultivation. They await but the touch of the plough to bring forth immense harvests of golden grain.

Golden Saskatchewan!

Though provided with ample rainfall, the Last Mountain Valley is a land of almost continuous sunshine, where health abounds—a climate that builds vitality. Pulmonary diseases or epidemics of any kind are unknown here.

Railroads Galore!

You don't need to live "forty miles from nowhere," either, or "next door to civilization." You are "inside" of civilization. Seven great railroads already serve this district. More railroad building is going on here than in any other part of Canada. In 1910 one-third of the Canadian Pacific's construction was here. The Canadian Northern is now building another road into the heart of the Last Mountain Valley.

400,000 Homeseekers Coming!

Last year 300,000 homeseekers came to Western Canada. The present year, according to immigration authorities, will see 400,000 people settled on the land, and making homes for themselves and their families. Western Canada will soon be as densely populated as the best agricultural sections of Ontario. Land prices are going up every day. Those who buy now will get the benefit of the advance.

Our Prices Lowest—Our Terms Most Liberal!

We have over 175,000 acres of the finest unbroken wheat land in the world, near towns and on railroads in the Last Mountain Valley. We have a list of land bargains such as were never before known. Our prices are absolutely the lowest, and we sell on small, easy payments. No other colonization company can hope to meet these terms and prices, because none can buy land now in such enormous tracts.

Always Delivers the Goods!

Our belief in the Last Mountain Valley is not a "make-belief." We believe in the Last Mountain Valley because we know it. We know it when it was a grassy wilderness, when there was hardly a bushel of wheat grown within its whole area. We have watched it year by year for eight years, until now it has become widely known in Eastern Canada, England and the United States as the best wheat-growing district in America.

NO LICENSES IN BRAMPTON.

Liquor Men in Peel Capital Get a Hard Throw-Down.

Hon. Mr. Hanna Declines to Depart From Department's Usual Policy.

The annual meeting of the Commissioners for the granting of licenses was held at the Court House yesterday.

Twelve applications were received, one from Toronto Gore, two from Streetsville, five from Toronto township and four from Brampton.

All the licenses issued last year were renewed, the only exception being at Port Credit, where the present proprietor of the Wilbur House was given two months to sell out. The license will be continued to the house.

A deputation fifteen strong headed by Mr. Lynd and Mr. A. Block, was heard re. the Port Credit license. They protested strongly against the manner in which the house is conducted, and asked that no license be granted in the village.

A good deal of interest was taken in the probable outcome of the applications for licenses in Brampton. In 1910 local option was carried here by the necessary three-fifths majority, the vote being; for local option, 516; against local option, 331. The by-law was attacked in the courts by Mr. Robson, of the Royal Hotel, and quashed on a technicality. In January last a second by-law was submitted, the vote being: for local option 491, against 376, or about 29 less than the required three-fifths.

Some confusion has been created because of the action of the Town Council in submitting the by-law a second time within a year of the taking of the first vote. Sub-section 3 and 4 of Sec. 141 of the Liquor License Act provides for the submission of Local Option By-laws and sets forth that a vote shall be taken once in three years. If the by-law is carried it remains in force for three years. If it is defeated another vote cannot be taken for three years.

Section 143a provides for a situation such as that which has arisen in Brampton. That is, the quashing of the by-law in the courts. The section contains the following:

143a. Where a by-law submitted to the electors under the provision of sub-section 1 of Sec. 141 of this act is declared by the Clerk or other Returning Officer to have received the assent of three-fifths of the electors voting thereon, and is after such declaration quashed or set aside, or held to be illegal * * *

* No tavern or shop license shall be issued in the Municipality in which the by-law was submitted after the date of such submission and until the first day of May, in the year in which the repealing by-law might have been submitted to the electors had the first mentioned by-law been declared valid, WITHOUT THE WRITTEN CONSENT OF THE MINISTER FIRST HAD AND OBTAINED."

This clause has been in the Act since 1908. In that time local option by-laws have been quashed in 8 different municipalities and in no case has the Minister given his consent to the issue of a license.

A temperance deputation waited upon Mr. Hanna in March and urged that the policy be not changed in relation to Brampton. They were told in effect that there would be no interference. Subsequently the solicitor of the Licensed Victuallers Association and the solicitor representing applicants for licenses in Brampton waited upon the Provincial Secretary. They also, we understand, were informed that the Minister would not interfere. In response to a letter from the License Commissioners the following reply was sent out by the Department:—

Toronto, April 18th, 1911.

Dear Sir,—Referring to the applications for the issue of tavern licenses in the Town of Brampton and the provisions of the law applicable thereto, whereby it is necessary to obtain the consent of the Minister before such licenses can be issued, I may say for your information that the Honorable the Provincial Secretary has no intention of departing from his usual practice in such cases, and he therefore cannot grant such consent.

Your obedient servant,
E. SAUNDERS,
Chief Officer.

The question is asked, "Why was the second vote taken?" This can only be answered by those responsible for it. They had the advice of Mr. Haverson and of the local solicitor. The law is plainly set forth in the statutes. They also had before them the policy pursued by the Government in the township of Howick, in Saltfleet, in Escott and elsewhere, where the local option by-law was quashed and where license was in every case refused. It appears that no application was made to the Minister for his consent in writing before the vote was taken in Brampton, either by the solicitor or other representatives, nor by any person on behalf of the Council of Brampton. The government and legislature enact the law. But surely they cannot be held responsible if persons fall into error or are misled by indifferent or incapable guides.

The fact that the solicitors for the Licensed Victuallers Association and for those making application for licenses here waited upon the government three months after the vote was taken, and asked that the consent of the Provincial Secretary be given to the commissioners to issue licenses, shows conclusively that they were very well aware of the provisions of the act and also that the second vote determined nothing and therefore should never have been taken.—The Conservator.

JOHN COONEY.

In the death of John Cooney, which occurred at his home at Brampton on Thursday last, one of the best known and most generally respected men of the County of Peel passed away from the scenes in which he had spent his 71 years of life. Engaged in farming as a young man, he became the agent of the Peel Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co., in which he did good and faithful service for more than 30 years. He was also secretary of the County Agricultural Society, and helped very much in making Brampton Fair the success it has been in recent years. He took an active interest in Sunday School work and was Secretary of the Brampton and Chinguacousy S. S. Association for a quarter of a century. A member of the Methodist Church, filled with an earnest desire to live the life of a Christian, he did his duty as he understood it and had the confidence of a very large percentage of the people of this and neighboring counties. His wife died several years ago. He leaves one brother, a sister, Mrs. Horde, having passed away this winter. The funeral on Saturday morning was largely attended, the service being conducted by Dr. Long, pastor of Grace Church, and Rev. C. A. Simpson.—The Conservator.

The deceased was a brother of Mr. E. B. Cooney, of Laurel. Mr. and Mrs. Cooney were with him during his last illness.

—While leading a cow from his stables the other day, Mr. R. D. Nodwell, of Hillsburg, got tangled in the rope, was thrown to the ground and almost strangled before he got free.

Tells Others His Secret

Wants them to know how he was cured of itching, protruding piles by DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

Doctors usually recommend the knife as the only cure for piles. They overlook the risk, the expense and the suffering of mind and body entailed in a surgical operation.

Dr. Chase's Ointment will bring relief quickly and will cure thoroughly if you will but persist.

Mr. A. Honingnon, 52 Bronsdon Place, Montreal, Que., writes:—"I cannot help praising Dr. Chase's Ointment as I suffered many years with itching and protruding piles, and was cured by this ointment. I became tired of the efforts of the best specialists to cure me, and hearing of Dr. Chase's Ointment just as I had of hundreds of other medicines began its use. But oh, great joy, at the very start the sharp pains left me and I was gradually cured. I hope that every sufferer will follow my example with the same success."

Every form of piles or hemorrhoids is cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment. 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

DEATH OF JOHN BYRNE.

Hillsburg Loses One Of Its Oldest Citizens.

Was Widely Known As a Successful Carriage Builder.

Last Wednesday morning Mr. John Byrne, Sr., passed away in this village at the age of seventy-nine years. With the passing of Mr. Byrne one of the few remaining links connecting the present with the pioneers who cleared the land and made the farms in this Township has been removed. He probably was better known to more people up through the Townships of Garafraxa, Luther, Amaranth and Proton than many who are considered prominent now.

A couple of weeks ago Mr. Byrne contracted la grippe which developed complications and resulted in his death.

The funeral took place Friday afternoon to Huxley's Cemetery and was attended by a large concourse of people, many being from the surrounding townships. Rev. G. A. Rix, of St. Mark's Church, Orangeville, conducted the services.

Mr. Byrne was a life long member of the Church of England, and in politics a Conservative, and admirer of the late Sir John A. Macdonald.

Mr. Byrne was an Irishman of the old stock and first saw the light of day in the Vale of Avoca, made famous in song by Thomas Moore, about thirty miles from the city of Dublin, in the County of Wicklow. He left Dublin when about twenty-one years of age to seek fortune in this new world, taking passage on a sailing vessel for New York, which port the ship was some three months in making in comparison to the present five day trip. After working a short time in New York he found his way to Georgetown where he found employment in the Mackenzie Foundry, coming to this village in the mouth of May, 1853. In that year he founded the business which still bears the family name.

On January 24th, 1855, he married Rachel Watson, daughter of the late Thomas Watson, of Reading, the ceremony being performed by Rev. F. Tremain, who is now living at Mimico, but at that time journeyed through the bush from Milton to Reading to be present. The issue of this marriage was two sons, William J. and John, who still carry on the business here.

The first shop occupied by Mr. Byrne was a long one near where the Credit crosses Main street in this village. While working there he boarded at Nazareth Hill's tavern, which then stood where Mr. G. A. Lacey's residence now stands, and which was afterwards burned.

In those days coal was hard to get and very expensive to bring so far in the bush and a substitute was found in charcoal. Mr. Byrne used to make his own charcoal, cutting the trees and making it himself, his pits being situated about where George street now runs north of the pond. Just at that time he came nearly leaving here. He had been out working hard fixing up and covering his logs with earth for a burning of charcoal, and shortly after he had completed his labors a violent rain storm came up which threatened to spoil all his hard work, and if it did he decided to leave here. On examination in the morning it was found that no harm had been done, and on the turning of this little point decided his whole life. It must have been an omen of success. From this time on his business prospered, and thirty years ago nine-tenths of the wagons, sleighs, and plows used in a wide section of country hereabouts, bore the name of John Byrne as the maker. His material was good and his work was honest. He knew no union hours; he was always ready to work when work offered whether before or after hours if it was any accommodation to his customers to have it. It is related that one night that he was called by some threshers to shoe their horses after midnight, when he cheerfully got up and worked away until daylight.

Mr. Byrne had amassed considerable wealth in his long business career and in 1887 retired to enjoy a well-earned rest. He built for himself a handsome residence in town and took great pleasure in the cultivation of flowers of which he was exceedingly fond, and he had them in profusion about his place.—Hillsburg Beaver.

IN MEMORIAM.

Lines in memory of Florence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moffatt, of Caledon, who died April 13th, 1911:—

While affliction's surge is o'er you,
Look beyond the dark'ning wave,
See a brighter scene before you;
Hail the triumph o'er the grave.

Though your darling Florence is taken
From your bosom to the grave,
Soon the sleeping dust will waken,
And her spirit will return.

Yes, again you will behold her,
Fairer than the morning ray,
In your arms you will enfold her,
When all tears are wiped away.

A Friend.

JUDGMENT FOR PLAINTIFFS.

John W. McClellan's Estate Entitled to $2750 Paid Into Court by Sterling Bank.

Chancellor Sir John Boyd has given judgment in the Alton case of McClellan vs. McClellan, which was tried at the Spring Assizes here last week. The Chancellor finds that the executors of the estate of the late John W. McClellan are entitled to the sum of $2750, which the Sterling Bank obtained leave to pay into Court. This sum, our readers will remember, represented the amount of a cheque which the defendant, Joseph Albert McClellan, obtained from John W. McClellan, a few days prior to the latter's death and afterwards deposited to his own account in the Sterling Bank at Alton. The judgment, we understand, is very lengthy, filling no less than fifteen type-written sheets of paper. The following report appeared in Tuesday's dailies :—

McClellan vs. McClellan.—The action by executors of deceased testator for a declaration that certain cheques amounting to $2,750, alleged to have been made by John William McClellan just prior to his death in favor of his brother Joseph Albert McClellan are void and should be ordered to be delivered up and cancelled, and that the moneys form part of estate of deceased. Judgment :- This is a case of unique cast and of unwonted difficulty. The immediate origin of the litigation is to be traced to an error made by the Sterling Bank, who are not parties on the record, out of which complications have arisen that may not be ended by this suit. Let judgment be entered declaring plaintiffs entitled to the $2750 paid into court by the Sterling Bank in the case of McClellan vs. Sterling Bank, together with interest thereon, and ordering defendant to pay to the plaintiff $215 and interest from November 24th, 1910, to be dealt with as part of the assets of deceased. Defendant to pay plaintiff one-half the costs of the action, exclusive of costs of expert witnesses. Plaintiff's costs or such part thereof as are not recovered from defendant to be paid out of testator's estate.

Mr. Geo. Robb acted as solicitor for the plaintiffs, and Mr. C. R. McKeown for the defendant.

Dr. Norton, of Toronto, Superintendent of Missions, will be present and deliver an appropriate address. Mr. Percy Harding and Mr. E. A. Warren will contribute solos. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend the meeting. Programme will begin at 8 o'clock.

DOWLING—IRVINE.

A very pretty wedding took place in St. Mark's Church, Orangeville, at 3 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, April 20th, when Miss Ethel Maude, second daughter of Mr. Robert Irvine, First Avenue, was united in marriage to Rev. Frederick S. Dowling, B.A., son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Dowling, of Brantford, and pastor of the Church of the Redeemer in Deseronto. The church, which was prettily decorated with Easter lillies, was comfortably filled by the invited guests, and numerous friends of the young couple, who had gathered to witness the ceremony. The marriage service was performed by Rev. G. A. Rix, rector of the Church. The bride who was escorted to the altar by her father, was daintily gowned in ivory liberty satin and carried violets and lillies of the valley. Her bridesmaid, Miss Stella Campbell, of Caledonia, was dressed in mauve and carried a bouquet of cream roses. The groom was supported by Rev. H. M. Paulin, of Woodstock, one of his intimate college friends. Miss Helen Irvine, the little niece of the bride, made a dainty flower girl, dressed in white organdie. The ushers were Rev. H. R. Pickup, of Toronto, Rev. J. B. Paulin, of Hamilton, and Mr. R. N. Irvine, of Toronto. Miss Helen Hewitt, organist of St. Mark's Church, played the wedding march. During the signing of the register the church choir rendered appropriate music. After the marriage service a reception was held at the bride's home. After dejeuner, the newly wedded couple were driven to the C.P.R. depot, whence they left on the evening train for western points, the bride wearing a becoming travelling costume of King's blue cloth with hat to match. After their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Dowling will take up their residence in the Manse in Deseronto. The bride, who was one of our popular and charming young ladies, and a gifted vocalist as well, received a large number of handsome wedding gifts. Among them was a beautiful silver tea service from the congregation of St. Mark's Church, where she will be greatly missed as a faithful church worker and a valued member of the choir. The Banner joins the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Dowling in tendering its hearty congratulations.

THE ROPE BROKE.

While Mr. Geo. E. Reid and a number of men were hoisting a piano to the Oddfellows Hall in the third story of the Jackson Block, one of the ropes broke just as the instrument reached the level of the window. Fortunately the other rope stood the extra strain and the piano was landed safely without any further mishap. Had the instrument fallen to the sidewalk it would have meant a bad smash and possibly the loss of life.

LADIES' AID CONCERT.

Miss Katherine Borland, Scottish reader and impersonator, Messrs. S. R. Frost and E. A. Warren, vocalists, and Miss Henrietta Wallace, pianiste and accompanist, were the artists at an enjoyable concert given in St. Andrew's Church, Monday night, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society. The audience was quite appreciative, but unfortunately not so large as those interested had hoped for. Rev. W. M. Morris occupied the chair.

CLARKE—LATTER.

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday, April 19, at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Rachel Latter, 774 Palmerston Ave., Toronto, when her daughter, Maud Alvany, was united in marriage to Mr. Dolphia Clark, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Clarke, of Orangeville, by the Rev. Chas. M. Marshall, of Epworth Methodist Church, Toronto. Miss Myrtle Petrie played the wedding march, while the bride entered the parlor with her brother. The bride was prettily gowned in a white embroidery dress with white tulle veil and lilies of the valley and carried a shower of white bridal roses. Miss Jessie Petrie was bridesmaid, and dressed in white embroidery and carried pink carnations. Mr. Albert Clarke, brother of the groom, was best man. The bride's going away dress was pearl grey with hat to match. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome watch chain, to the bridesmaid a gold bracelet, and a stick pin to the best man.

The happy couple took the 8 a.m. train for a short honeymoon to Orangeville, afterwards returning to Toronto, and left on Tuesday, April 25th, for their future home in Edmonton.

A GOOD MEDICINE FOR THE BABY.

Baby's Own Tablets is the one medicine that can be given little ones with the firm knowledge that nothing but good will result. The Tablets are sold under the guarantee of a government analyst to contain no opiate nor any other drug which will harm the youngest child—they cannot possibly do harm; they always do good, and once a mother has used them she will never again give her little ones castor oil or the "soothing" stuffs which simply drug baby into temporary relief and in the end do harm. Mrs. Philias Paradis, Frampton, Que., writes: "Send me two more boxes of Baby's Own Tablets. I have used them for constipation, and have always found them very good. My baby is certainly progressing under the Tablets." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MERIT RECOGNIZED.

Orangeville is losing a popular young lady in the person of Miss M. Galbraith, stenographer in the office of Mr. Jos. J. Kelly, who has resigned her position and is leaving town this week for the West. On Thursday evening, April 14th, the choir of St. Mark's Church, of which she has been a valued member, in conjunction with the Sunday School, in which her services as teacher have been greatly appreciated, met and made her the recipient of a handsome seal chatelaine bag, accompanied by the following address :—

Orangeville, April 13th, 1911.

Miss Maggie Galbraith,
Orangeville, Ont.

Dear Miss Galbraith,—The members of the Choir and of the Sunday School of St. Mark's Church have learned with deep regret of your intention to leave Orangeville. For a number of years you have been a faithful member of both organizations and have rendered invaluable service to the congregation and church. Your time and talents have always been cheerfully devoted to the service of The Master, and St. Mark's Church owes you more than we can hope to repay. We feel, however, that we cannot let you go without some tangible mark of our appreciation. We ask you, therefore, to accept this small token of our love and esteem, not by way of reward for the services you have rendered, but as some evidence that they have been appreciated, and as a souvenir of Orangeville, and the many happy hours spent in the Choir and Sunday School of St. Mark's Church. May happiness and prosperity attend you wherever you go. May the Lord bless you and keep you. May the Lord lift up the light of His countenance upon you and give you that peace which passeth all understanding.

Signed on behalf of the Choir and Sunday School of St. Mark's Church.

J. A. V. Preston,
Thos. Wilson.

THE CANADIAN GOVERNMENT ANNUITIES ACT.

The object of the Act is to promote habits of thrift, and to provide all persons, male or female, domiciled in Canada with a safe and sure plan of making provision for old age at the lowest possible cost. Deposit from time to time in any Money Order Office such sums as you can spare, for which purpose the Postmaster will supply you with a pass book; or you may, if you prefer, remit these amounts direct to the Annuities Department, in any manner that may best suit your convenience. (If by cheque or Money Order, this should be drawn to the order of the Receiver General). Upon your deposits 3 per cent. compound interest will be allowed, and at the age of 55 (which is the earliest age at which an Annuity can begin) or at any later age desired, and of course the longer deferred the larger will be your income, such Annuity will be paid to you in quarterly instalments so long as you live. A definite amount of Annuity may be secured if specific sums are regularly paid. Should you die before the Annuity is due, all payments made will be returned to your legal representatives with 3 per cent. compound interest; though the same payments will secure for you a larger Annuity if you do not wish to provide for this return.

If you have an amount at your credit in the Post Office Savings Bank, you may have this amount, or such portion of it as you may desire, transferred to the Annuities Department for, or on account of the purchase of an Annuity.

The minimum Annuity which may be purchased is $50., and the maximum $600. The earliest age at which the purchase may be begun is 5, but it may begin at any age thereafter. To each purchaser a contract or policy is issued, and a provident feature of the System is that there are no penalties or forfeitures. If payments should for any reason cease, they may be renewed at any time; and if arrears are not made up the only effect will be that a smaller Annuity will be secured.

A person over the age of 55 may buy an Immediate Annuity; and a Last Survivor Annuity, Immediate or Deferred, may be purchased by any two persons by a single payment.

By paying a little higher rate, all Annuities may be guaranteed for a number of years certain.

About 1,800 persons have availed themselves of the Act, and over $890,000 have been paid into the fund. Every class of the community may be said to be purchasing. Twelve lecturers or agents are employed to present the features of the System to the public from the platform and otherwise; and an office staff of eighteen is already necessary to handle the work. You bear no share of this cost, but every cent you pay in is placed at your credit for the purchase of your Annuity.

If you desire any further information on the subject this will be supplied you by the Superintendent of Canadian Government Annuities, Ottawa, to whom all letters go free of postage. Literature may be obtained at the Post Office.

Do You Realize the Advantages of Concrete?

THE rising price of lumber has compelled the farmer to look for a suitable substitute.

Concrete, because of its cheapness, durability and the readiness with which it can be used for every farm purpose, has proven itself to be cheaper than lumber and far more durable. Our Free Book—shows the farmer how he can do his own work without the aid of skilled mechanics. It demonstrates the economy of Concrete construction as compared with lumber, brick or stone.

This Book Tells How Concrete Aids Farmers.

It shows how Concrete can be used to advantage on the farm in the construction of almost every practical utility.

Send for this book to-day. You'll find it intensely interesting, even if you don't intend to build for a while. It contains much useful information that will put you in the way of saving money. MAIL ORDER FAKES.

There has of recent years arisen an agitation in the United States looking to the protection of people in the smaller towns, and in the rural districts from what are known as mail order sharks. The schemes of some of those firms were so plausible and so far-reaching that the Legislatures of several States have found it necessary to pass laws curbing the things as far as possible. Under the United States system of Government, it is difficult to bring unprincipled firms to task if they are doing business from another State, and as the loss to any one individual is not sufficient to justify him in incurring the expense of protracted law suits, and no one was deeply enough interested to organize the victims with a view to co-operative action, the matter went from bad to worse.

Now, however, the Federal Government at Washington has taken a hand in the matter, and accomplished considerable good by prohibiting these firms from using the United States mails to forward their nefarious schemes. It was found that a large number of so-called magazines were merely organs for these mail order houses. They would offer a somewhat pretentious monthly paper at an absurdly low subscription price, not sufficient to pay for the ink, to say nothing of the paper on which they were printed, or the cost of compilation or postage. One monthly offered a three years' subscription for twenty-five cents.

It is not assumed that all mail order houses are positive frauds. In many cases they do send the material paid for; but even in those cases experienced buyers found that the prices paid were too high for the quality of merchandise furnished. The point is that a paternal government found it necessary to protect the people against themselves, and to show that it did not pay to patronize mail order houses.

Things have not reached such a condition in Canada yet, but there is ample evidence that there is a tendency in the same direction. If we would profit by the mistakes of our neighbors, we will confine our purchases to our immediate vicinity, and deal with people who are not only perfectly responsible financially, but who are right at our doors. Experience has shown this to be the wisest policy. If there is any mistake, the local merchant finds to his own interest, for the sake of future business, to satisfy his customer; but the mail order house knows that no person will go to the expense of taking a small matter into the courts, and trust to their flamboyant advertisement to keep their business up to a high point.

Every one knows that it must cost such firms more to do business. Some one must pay for the catalogues and postage and the express charges they offer to pay if you buy a certain amount. People should realize that they are the ones who pay for all these things, and that the effort to get something for nothing always results in getting nothing for something. You may depend upon it that that if an article is worth anything, the merchant in Orangeville either has it or will get it for you and will charge only a fair price for it. He knows values and can be depended upon to get you your money's worth in every transaction.

Buy at Home. It will save many disappointments and will make you a more valuable citizen of Orangeville.

WEDDING AT KIMBERLEY.

Rock View residence, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Fawcett, Kimberley, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, April 12th, when their only daughter, Maud, was united in the holy bonds of wedlock, to Mr. Jas. Edman Corbett, one of Proton township's most popular and prosperous agriculturists, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Corbett, of Proton Station. At high noon, to the strains of the Mendelssohn's wedding march, beautifully rendered by Mrs. A. E. Myles, the bridal party entered the drawing room, the bride leaning on the arm of her father, and stood under an arch of evergreens, handsomely decorated with pink and white roses, while the bride's pastor, Rev. Mr. Otton, tied the nuptial knot in the presence of some eighty guests, friends and neighbors of the contracting parties. The bride looked very beautiful in a handsome gown of deep cream tanoline silk, trimmed in fancy silk net and gold, and carried a bouquet of cream roses. The flower girl, little Miss Hazel Fawcett, of Collingwood, niece of the bride, looked very pretty in a handsome gown of pale blue silk and carried a bouquet of white and pink carnations. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold bracelet beautifully engraved, and to the flower girl a handsome gold locket. After the usual congratulations the bridal party, accompanied by the guests, repaired to the dining room where a dainty dinner was served. At four o'clock, amid showers of rice and confetti, the happy young couple left for Collingwood and other points, after which they will take up farming near Dundalk and will be at home with their friends after May 1st. The bride's going away costume was a very fine bright tan serge, with hat to match. Among the many beautiful gifts to the bride was a handsome morocco bound hymn book from the Methodist Church choir, of which she was a member; a beautiful Oxford teacher's Bible from the Sunday School, of which she was organist; and a handsome linen shower from a number of her girl friends. Miss Fawcett was one of Kimberley's most popular young ladies and will be much missed, especially in social circles. The many friends of the bride and groom wish them a long and prosperous voyage through life.

Those who attended from a distance: Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Corbett, Mr. Herb. J. Corbett, Miss Victoria Corbett and Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Lockhart, all of Proton Station; Miss Marion McKee, Dundalk; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Down, of Maxwell; Messrs. Herbert and Simon Fawcett and Arthur Court, Jr., of Collingwood; Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Fawcett, of Clarksburg, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Fawcett and daughter, Miss Gertrude; Mr. and Mrs. J. Albert Saul, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Proctor, of Heathcote; Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Hall, of Rocklyn.—The Flesherton Advance.

In Dread of Something

You can scarcely tell what—It may be Hysteria, Insanity, Nervous Collapse.

You can only throw off this depression when the nerve cells are restored to health by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Your digestive system has failed to supply proper nourishment to the nerves, and you are compelled to seek aid from other sources.

It will take a patient and persistent treatment, but there is no way by which you can so certainly restore health and vigor as by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

The best time to restore the nervous system is long before such a critical condition is reached. Such symptoms as sleeplessness, headaches, nervous indigestion, muscular weakness, loss of energy, failure of memory and power of concentration, irritability and discouragement tell of a failure of the nervous system and warn you of the approach of serious trouble.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50; all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

There are counterfeit bills of the Bank of Montreal of the denomination of $5 somewhere in circulation to the amount of $5000. Notice to this effect has been sent out by the Bank to the principal commercial establishments. It would appear from the warning that the counterfeits are of the series No. 229, 707.

Building operations have commenced in Grand Valley according to the Star & Vidette. Contractor Dixon has quite a quantity of brick on the ground for the new school. George Sime is preparing for the foundation of a house for W. L. Craig, on the lot opposite the school. Wm. McIntyre is clearing the debris of the fire off his corner lot on Main St., on which he is putting up a new block, and Chas. Stuckey has material on the ground for A. McPherson's house on the McDonald survey.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Quarry, of East Garafraxa, are having more than their share of sorrow and trouble these days. About a fortnight ago one or two of their children were taken with what seemed to be tonsilitis but which developed into scarlet fever. Within a few days three of their children died, and at the time of writing the youngest one had suffered a relapse and its recovery seemed doubtful. What adds to the pathos of the calamity lies in the fact that Mrs. Quary was unable to remain in the house but occupied a vacant house near by. Her sorrow and suffering at seeing her dear ones carried out and laid away and unable to do anything, or even take a farewell look certainly must have been of the deepest kind.—Star & Vidette.

Banish Pimples and Eruptions

In the Spring Most People Need A Tonic Remedy.

If you want the best of health and new strength in the spring you must build up your blood with a tonic medicine. Following the long, indoor winter months most people feel depressed and easily tired. This means that the blood is impure and watery. It is this state of the blood that causes pimples and unsightly eruptions. To this same condition is due attacks of rheumatism and lumbago; the sharp, stabbing pains of sciatica and neuralgia; poor appetite, frequent headaches and a desire to avoid exertion. You cannot cure these troubles by the use of purgative medicines—you need a tonic; and a tonic only, and among all medicines there is none can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for their tonic, life-giving, nerve-restoring powers. Every dose of this medicine makes new, rich blood which drives out impurities, stimulates every organ and brings a feeling of new health and energy to weak, tired out, ailing men, women and children. If you are feeling out of sorts give this medicine a trial and see how quickly it will restore the appetite, revive drooping spirits and fill your veins with new, health-giving blood.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all dealers in medicine or will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The train started backing suddenly and Clark, in attempting to get on board, fell under the wheels. A section man found the body in the morning. The deceased in Wellington County.

Imperfect Kidney Action Causes Rheumatism

Rheumatism with its kindred ailments—Lumbago, Wry Neck, Neuralgia, etc., usually results from lodgments of uric acid in the joints and muscles.

Now the chief function of the kidneys is to properly filter this poison from the blood.

Only when they fail to do this is Rheumatism probable.

Kidney weakness starts in various ways. A sudden chill, after perspiring freely, sometimes settles in the kidneys—or an unusual strain may cause it.

Poisons which should be filtered out of the system are pumped back into the blood, causing Uric Acid, the real cause of Rheumatism, Lumbago, Wry Neck, Neuralgia, etc.

In the early stages Nyal's Stone Root Compound will stop it.

Will start your kidneys working properly so that the Uric Acid is reabsorbed and eliminated.

Away goes your Rheumatism with it.

Perhaps these early warning twinges have passed unheeded, and your Rheumatism has become deep seated.

Muscles all snarled up in knots as it were.

Then you'll need Nyal's Rheumatic Cure.

Ask your own druggist about these remedies.

His opinion is worth while.

W. A. Boos Awarded Contract for Concrete Bridge on West Broadway.

The Town Council held a rather lengthy session on Monday evening. Considerable time was spent considering an application from the Superior Portland Cement Co. for leave to make an outlet along the 30 sideroad for waste water from their plant. Police Magistrate Pattullo and Mr. Geo. McIntyre addressed the Council in support of the application. Mr. Emmanuel Bell, who owns the adjoining property, was also heard. Mr. Bell was willing that the Council should grant the privilege, but only on the express understanding that his interests should be protected. The matter was eventually referred to the Town Solicitor and a special committee consisting of the Reeve, Deputy-Reeve and Couns. Hill and Gordon.

Mr. C. B. Wheelock addressed the Council at some length respecting the scheme to create an artificial lake in the Credit River Valley east of the town. Mr. Wheelock, who had taken levels, etc., does not think the scheme practicable, owing to insufficient fall. Where a fall of 10 or 12 feet would be required to make a fair sized lake, the actual fall was found to be only 4 feet. Dredging is a possible means of overcoming the difficulty, but the heavy cost is practically prohibitive.

The tenders for the new cement bridge on West Broadway, this side the "skew" crossing, were considered. Three tenders were submitted as follows :—

W. A. Boos, Orangeville—Concrete per cu. yd., $8.00; steel reinforcing, $40; 2 in. gas pipe railing, $26.00.

D. W. Gray, Orangeville—Concrete per cu. yd., $9.00; steel reinforcing, $40; railing $1.00 per foot.

J. Langdon, Arthur—Concrete per cu. yd., $8.40; steel reinforcing, $25; railing, $23.00.

The Engineer estimates that 31 cubic yards of concrete will be required for the culvert. The contract was awarded to Mr. Boos.

Payment of the following accounts was authorized :—Municipal World, 50c.; Wm. Gurd & Co., $3.50; Grand & Toy, $3; Dufferin Post, $40; Canadian Consolidated Rubber Co., $102.37; Dufferin Light & Power Co., $129.29; Adamson Hardware Co., $23.83; Gillespie Bros., $11.30; S. A. McCartney, $23.60; Bell Telephone Co., $10.00; James Grahame, $21.00; M. H. Denton, $22.50; Thos. Camobell, $2.85; George King, $3; John Gough, $10.80; George King, $17.10; Alex. Conley, $33.30; W. T. Nicholson, $7.40.

The Chairman of the Property Committee was instructed to ascertain whether the Dufferin Agricultural Society would bear a share of cost of planting shade trees along Second St. north of Fourth Ave., or do its part of the planting on its own responsibility.

Arrangements were made for the resumption of the weekly cash market, that proved such a success last Autumn. The market will be held on Monday of each week, the opening market to be on Monday next, May 8th.

Council decided to make an effort to secure another site for the town pound. If the Property Committee, which has the matter in hand, is successful, the fences enclosing the present pound will be removed, the grounds cleaned up and made a part of Alexandra Park.

The Property Committee was instructed to have the band stand on Alexandra Park repainted.

Arrangements have been made to have Mrs. Claxton, an old resident of the East Ward, placed in the Hospital for Incurables in Toronto. The old lady has a little property and the hospital authorities are willing to keep her as long as she lives, provided she bequeaths her property to the institution. Should she desire to leave at any time, the Hospital will charge at the rate of $5 a week for her maintenance.

LEAVING ORANGEVILLE.

Orangeville will lose a useful and public-spirited citizen in a few weeks in the person of Mr. A. L. C. Kirkwood, Manager of the local branch of the Sterling Bank. Some weeks ago when it was first rumored that the Bank had decided to place Mr. Kirkwood in charge of one of its Toronto branches, local business men got up a largely signed petition asking that he be allowed to remain in Orangeville. In answer to this we understand that Mayor Riddell has received a letter from the General Manager stating that Mr. Kirkwood's promotion has been finally arranged, and adding that the Bank would send one of its best men to Orangeville in his stead. The Banner understands that the transfer will take place in June. Mr. Kirkwood's departure will be a distinct loss to Orangeville, as he fills a large place in athletic and social circles as well as the business life of the town. While citizens of all classes rejoice in his preferment, the regret felt over his approaching departure is just as general.

WILL ROB RIVER TO EXTEND CITY.

Plan under Consideration to make Montreal Island a Mile Longer by Filling in Waterfront—Would Add Million Dollars Worth of Land and Give More Space for Docking Ships—Contraband Discovered at St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary—City Pays Large May Day Bill—Explosive Socks Civilization's Latest Danger—Fortune Made From Puzzles.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Montreal, May 1st.—With the problem of accommodating a population of one million five years hence staring her in the face, Montreal is planning to rob Father Neptume of nearly a square mile of territory in an effort to provide additional room. As in the case of many smaller cities the plan in question simply proposes reclamation. In this case the reclamation will be from the river involving an amount of land which will be worth something like a million dollars. The idea originated with an engineer who has acted in a consulting capacity in the erection of some of the largest buildings in the city, and has made a specialty of foundation and caisson work. His idea, in brief, is to lengthen the island of Montreal by the erection of sea walls, behind which the space could be filled in by pumping sand from the channel. Chimerical as the scheme may sound at first hearing there appears to be no reason why it should not be carried out, since the value of the made land will far exceed the cost of its creation. Of course until borings and surveys have been made it is impossible to more than roughly estimate the cost of such an undertaking, but it is believed that it would not only pay for itself, but would leave a handsome profit besides.

It is well over a year now since Johnny Woods, an expert second storey man and false key burglar, stepped out to freedom and announced that all was not as it should be behind the walls of St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary where he had been confined for the five years previous for robbing the home of ex-Mayor Ekers, whilst His Worship and family were abroad. Johnny is a smooth, well-educated young Englishman, and he tells a good story. The newspapers took him up and he became famous in a night. Briefly he charged that cocaine, rum, dope of any kind and pipes to smoke it with, dainties, tobacco, even knives and razors, were bartered and exchanged within the walls of the "pen" as freely as they would be outside. Coin of the realm was the standard of trade, although, if short, an ordinary plug of tobacco cut into ten slices, stood for fifty cents. From outside appearances Johnny's tales did not ruffle one whit the equanimity of the prison officials, the inspectors nor the Department of Justice, but it has been learned since that, almost as soon as he had spoken, a searching investigation was ordered through the Dominion Police. Now it turns out, matters are even worse than Johnny pictured them. One guard had the audacity to enter into partnership with a convict to run a barroom. The guard smuggled in the fire water by the "underground route" and the prisoner peddled it, his place of business being a well concealed cave in the huge coal pile standing in a corner of the walled yard. A hospital orderly sold cocaine and morphine from the hospital stores. A cook, when discharged after his time was up, walked out with seven hundred dollars in his pocket although he had not a cent when he was sentenced, all of it made by selling dainties and extra rations to the wealthier inmates. Several guards have already been suspended and a general shake-up and reorganization is being brought about behind those high grey walls.

Cheques totalling $913,373.51 are being sent out from the City Hall as a cheerful May Day present from the city to its various creditors. The whole sum comprises Montreal's half yearly payment of interest on the various civic loans, including interest on the loans of the several municipalities which were last year annexed to the city. Nearly two millions of dollars are expended each year in this way. The sum of £94,509, 18s., 4d. goes to the bank of Montreal in London; £19,204, 2s., 3d. goes to the National Bank of Scotland in London, and £46, 0s., 6d. goes to the Bank of Scotland in Edinburgh.

The foregoing amounts are equivalent to $553,632.25 in Canadian currency, and the balance of the interest is made up as follows :—Coupons payable in New York, $66,495.50, coupons payable in Montreal $118,103.48, registered stock dividends payable in Montreal, $94,116.28; Catholic School Commission coupons $11,000.

That various citizens throughout the country may be the unsuspecting wearers of gun cotton neckties and explosive socks liable to blow up at any moment, is the startling possibility just brought to light here. Nor is the feminine sex immune from the danger since petticoats may likewise be articles of destruction. This unsuspected condition of affairs has been discovered through a local protest recently filed against the manufacture of artificial silk from cellulose, in which it appears that there is a possibility that almost any article of wearing apparel made to imitate real silk may actually be explosive. There are several processes it appears according to the protest by which artificial silk is produced from cellulose. One process employs nitro-cellulose which is really nothing more than soluble gun cotton. From it the threads to be used in manufacture are drawn in ether or alcohol. After the thread has been drawn and is ready for wearing it is supposed to be denitrated. If it is, it is entirely safe. If it is not, it may be exceedingly dangerous, for it then remains nothing less than gun cotton, spun into a fabric. So in the future it may be worth while to refrain from stamping the "near silk" clad foot or yanking viciously at the cravat of the same material, even though no casualties from explosive garments have yet been reported.

A YOUNG SMOKER.

Edward Herbert, of Windsor, Nova Scotia Is Attracting Attention.

By what curious freak of Nature is a youngster of three able to smoke big, fat, black cigars and enjoy them as much as if he were eating delicious chocolate? That is the question which is puzzling Canadian doctors just now in regard to Edward Herbert, the three-year-old son of a Canadian fisherman who lives near Windsor, Nova Scotia.

"Young Ted is a 'corker,'" says his father. "He started his smoking habits twelve months ago by taking a pull on the sly at my pipe, and he seemed to enjoy it, too, although I smoke plug tobacco of the strongest kind. Didn't it trouble his 'Little Mary'? Not a bit, and, although we tried to break him of the habit by punishing him, he would have his smoke if he could get half a chance. And when his mother took him with her to the hotel where she worked, he would purloin any pipes he saw lying about, take them into a dark corner, and smoke them.

"We made a final effort to cure him by giving him a big black cigar, but, bless your heart, it didn't make the slightest difference, so we have given up trying to cure him as a bad job. Now we let him have a cigar when he wants one, and it is really a comical sight to see him sitting in an arm-chair with his arms crossed and a big weed crowding in his mouth, pulling at it for all he is worth and listening to the conversation."

Edward is only a baby in size, thought, and action, but to him a big black cigar has more attractions than a gaudy red cart. He will lay aside his toys at any time of the day to smoke, and the strength of that smoke has no terrors for that infantile stomach. Color and shape cut a figure, however, as Edward is partial to cigars with a bright-colored band.

The doctors say that the cigars Edward smokes are strong enough to upset a full-grown man, but they don't seem to trouble Edward, who is very much alive and kicking, and whose greatest punishment is to have his cigar taken away from him when he has been naughty.—London Tit-Bits.

Feeding the Railway Builders.

Some little idea of the task which confronts the builders of the Grand Trunk Pacific can be gathered from the fact that to keep the army of workmen supplied with fresh meat, the meat contractors have been sending in cattle from Ashcroft during the past summer and autumn in large droves. The biggest of them contained 2,000 head, and it took fifty days to drive these cattle from Ashcroft to Hazelton—six hundred miles. Railway contractors generally reckon on an average of two pounds of fresh meat per man per day. There were over 9,000 men to be fed on the Prince Rupert end, and about 3,000 on the Edmonton end of the line.

Last season it was a toss-up whether Norman Harshaw, of the Torontos, or Joe Cattarnich, of the Nationals, was the best point player in the N. L. U. This year Joe has been promoted. He's a full-fledged manager now, and he don't care who knows it. And it may just happen that he'll be so full of managerial duties that he won't have time to take his full share of the play. In which case the auburn-haired boy from Orangeville will be it as far as point-playing goes.—Evening Telegram.

PRIMROSE.

Pat's on the road again! Not having a horse of my own, I considered I was in luck when I chanced in with Kiah Walker just as he was getting ready to go out and sell a carload of wire that he had just purchased. Kiah hitched up his horse and we were soon on our way to Harold Lindsay's where we sold nearly a ton of wire. We then headed for Harry Gozzard's, but Harry said he had ordered all the wire he required. We then set out for Sam Patterson's only to find that Sam. was away at Laurel. However, we left our card and started for Jimmie Kendrew's, where we secured a good order. As I wanted to go over to Violet Hill to oversee the cement sidewalks that were to be laid during the week, Kiah left me as far as Dave Scott's. Of course Dave was over at Dean's and I had to go over to see if there were any letters for me. Sure enough there was one for me from Buster, asking me to call at Tommy Hannah's and Bob. Peacock's for him, as they had the contract of building a safe for Fred. to store his cash in. Just then Mr. Clokey came driving along and asked me to go over to Bob Hunter's. I accepted his invitation and we were soon on our way. We stopped at Violet Hill long enough to give the Mayor a few orders about how the sidewalks were to be built. We started out again, but while driving along 30 sideroad our horses took fright at a fancy gate and would have run away had not Austen Thompson been coming out from Wake's and helped us by. Mr. Clokey let me out at the 5th line corner and I started off on foot. I had not gone far when I met Edgar Moore and his young lady friend. I called at J. W. Armstrong's and had tea. Mr. Armstrong informed me he had caught Buster and was going to make an example of him. Hearing this I thought I had better move on or I might be in danger too. Accordingly I took my excuse and started for Tommy Hannah's. Pat.

The Inglewood football team met on Thursday evening and reorganized.

Miss Floella Sinclair has left Mr. Charles Thompson's, and returned to her home in Erin. She has made many friends here and will be greatly missed.

Mr. Bert Standing is home from S. P. S. Toronto for the summer.

Mrs. G. W. Blackwell has gone to St. John's, N.B., to visit her daughter, Mrs. Longhurst.

Quite a sad accident occurred here a few days ago, when Mr. D. M. Campbell, of Boston Mills, and Mr. Ernest Moss, a young Englishman in Mr. Campbell's employ, were loading a car at the freight shed, when the evening train came in and frightened the horses. Young Moss ran to their heads and they trampled him so he died from his injuries ten minutes later. He leaves a wife and one child in England.

WALDEMAR.

Seeding operations are in full blast in this locality. If the weather had been favorable this week many of the farmers on early land would have finished by Saturday.

The village band played a few choice selections on Station St. a few evenings ago in honor of the newly married couple. After the evening's proceedings had been brought to a close, Bandmaster Hiram Evans participated in playing Auld Lang Syne. The bride donated a dollar to defray the band expenses.

Mr. Alf. Tolton is wearing a 2 x 4 smile these days. It is a girl.

Mr. Albert Dodds, of Bowling Green, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Johnston one day last week.

Mr. Edward Groskurth has made some rather extensive improvements to his premises on Main St. The alterations add considerably to the appearance of the surroundings.

Mr. and Mrs. Little, of Monticello, paid a flying visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rodgers on Saturday evening and spent Sunday with friends in East Garafraxa.

Mr. G. Tolton has had the Edgar long distance telephone installed in his dwelling on Main St. and intends to make branch line connection with the Station St. local line. This will be very convenient in case of an emergency.

Mr. McCallum is erecting a very artistic poultry house and yard and intends engaging in the rearing of purebred White Leghorn fowl. We wish him every success.

Miss Nelson, of Grand Valley, has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Demans and also her cousin, Miss Maggie Burnett.

Mr. Cudney, 6th line, Amaranth, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lovell, Queen St., recently.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Tate paid a brief visit to the former's brother, David, in East Garafraxa, this week.

Mr. Warren Groskurth and Miss Fife, of Laurel, were the guests of village friends on Sunday.

Mrs. John Jenkins has gone on an extended visit to her daughter, Mrs. T. V. Armstrong, of Ottawa.

Miss Betsey Carter underwent a successful operation for appendicitis, in the Royal Anexandra Hospital in Fergus, one day last week, and is doing as well as can be expected.

SPEERSVILLE.

Where is he? Still on Broadway, Orangeville. We mean the man, who has been acting so falsely in making use of an honorable young man's name for the purpose of having a consignment of ale and lager shipped into Orangeville. What is the matter? Is he ashamed of his own name, or shall we say afraid of it? If so he had better give up the business and go to the swamp. Be careful, Alex.?

HOCKLEY.

Seeding operations are still in full blast, although some few are reported to have finished.

There are two very lonely boys on the townline now. Pete is sighing for his flown one, while Hill is counting the weeks to summer holidays.

We are glad to report that Mrs. A. Beatty is slowly recovering.

Our baseball team is now going at breakneck speed. Any teams wishing a game should communicate with our captain, Bert Reaney.

W. J. Webster appears to be doing a rushing business this spring.

R. J. Wilson, of Rosemont, had a miraculous escape the other day, when his horses ran away. He was fortunate to get off with some very bad bruises.

Seeing the Beeton telephone is giving such a very superior brand of service, it is surprising some more of our outlying citizens do not have it installed.

IN MEMORIAM.

Lines in memory of Florence Moffatt, who departed this life on April 13th, 1911.

Jesus has been amongst us,
He has called our dear one home;
Yet how much we feel the parting,
We who still are left to roam.

Then cheer up, thou lonely one,
Oh! we cannot help but sigh;
Yet we have that precious promise,
We shall meet her in the sky.

When we think of that re-union
Over on the heavenly shore;
When the trials and the parting
Of this cruel life are o'er.

Then cheer up, thou lonely ones,
Tell your griefs to Jesus now;
He will take away your sorrow,
He will smooth your troubled brow.

He will heal your bleeding heart,
If you cast on Him your care;
He will take away the sorrow,
That just now is resting there.

He will make you fit to meet your darling one
Who has lately passed away;
He will say, "Come thou faithful,"
On that bright eternal day.

Mrs. Richard McCandless.

TEN MODERN COMMANDMENTS.

I.

Thou shalt not go away from home to do thy trading, nor thy son, nor thy daughter.

II.

Thou shalt patronize thy home merchant, and thy home printer, for yea verily, doth not thy home printer spread over the glad tidings of thy goodness and greatness, and they shall patronage thee.

III.

Thou shalt employ thy own mechanics, that they may not be driven from their homes to find bread for their little ones. Thou shalt also consider him as thy neighbor, above all them that dwelleth in a strange town.

IV.

Thou shalt not ask for credit as the goods cost much money, and the merchant's brain is burdened with bills. His children clamor daily for bread and his wife abideth at home for lack of such raiment as adorneth her sister. Blessed, yea, thrice blessed is the man that pays cash.

V.

Thou shalt not ask for reduced prices for thine influence, for behold guile is in thy heart and the merchant readeth it like an open book. He laugheth you to scorn and shoutteth to his clerks "ha, ha!"

VI.

Thou shalt do whatever lieth in thy power to encourage and promote the welfare of thine own town and thine own people.

VII.

Thou shalt not suffer the voice of pride to overcome thee and if other towns entice thee, consent them not for thou mayst be deceived.

VIII.

Thou shalt spend thy earnings at home that they may return from whence they came and give nourishment to such as may come after thee.

IX.

Thou shalt not bear false witness against the town wherein thou dwelleth, but speak well of it to all men.

X.

Thou shalt keep these commandments and teach them to thy children, to the third and fourth generations, that they may be made to flourish and grow in plenty when thou art laid to rest with thy fathers. — Unknown Writer.

INSTRUCTOR'S DUTIES.

Representative of Department of Agriculture Will Have Downtown Office.

The announcement in these columns a couple of weeks ago to the effect that Orangeville had secured the appointment of a Provincial District Instructor in Agriculture has naturally created considerable local interest respecting the duties of the new official. A report issued by the Ontario Department of Agriculture a short time ago shows that in the places, where these district representatives are already located, they have performed the following services during the past year :—

Organized and conducted short courses in live stock, fruit growing, seed selection;

Organized and supervised Farmers' Clubs;

Managed excursions to The Agricultural College;

Made drainage surveys for farmers of the district;

Conducted drainage demonstrations for the farmers;

Handled experimental plots to show value of drainage;

Started agricultural societies in field crop competitions;

Conducted experiments in fertilizing;

Conducted stock judging competitions for boys at fall fairs;

Held seed and weed meetings in the interests of pure seed;

Made exhibits at fall fairs showing results from sprayed and unsprayed orchards, showing how to combat seeds and weeds and how to operate spraying apparatus;

Distributed bulletins at office and fall fairs;

Conducted experiments with insecticides and fungicides;

Addressed Farmers' and Women's Institute meetings of districts;

Took charge of orchards in the district and demonstrated the commercial value of care and scientific methods;

Demonstrated the value of good fruit packing at fall fairs;

Conducted experiments in spraying weeds and making survey of waste land in district;

Encouraged and assisted farmers in conducting experiments on their own farms in the lines for which there was a good local market;

Helped farmers save money by buying on the co-operative plan;

Acted as manager of Agricultural Society;

Gave information and assisted farmers in removing smut from wheat;

Assisted in making plans for farm buildings and ventilation;

Helped the work of cow testing

Obtained good results from experiments on muck land;

Interested rural public schools in agricultural competitions and in gardens;

Addressed teachers' conventions;

Conducted competitions in corn growing in rural schools of districts adapted to this line of farming;

Interested public school teachers in imparting agricultural information to their pupils;

Used office as a general bureau of information for farmers of the district.

We do not wish our readers to get the impression that the representative to be stationed at Orangeville will perform all these duties. From the foregoing they will, however, be able to obtain a pretty fair idea of the nature of the services that he is expected to perform. He will maintain a downtown office where he will be expected to spend a portion of his time and where farmers may call upon him for the purpose of obtaining information or discussing problems that relate to agriculture. Bulletins and other periodical publications on agricultural topics will be kept on file here. The office, we understand, will also be available as a meeting place for committees or the officers of farmers' organizations. The appointment should prove a helpful stimulus to agriculture in the County of Dufferin. For one thing the Department's representative can do much to direct agricultural effort along those particular lines for which the district, or any particular section of land for that matter, is found to be best adapted. This is an age of specialization and it is only a question of time until intelligent specializing comes to play an important part in successful farming.

All persons wishing to become members of the Union Basketball Club are invited to kindly attend a meeting to be held in the Blount School on Friday evening, May 5th, at 7 o'clock.

GRAND OLD MAN OF THE PRAIRIES

Declares he owes his splendid health to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Suffered for twenty-five years from Rheumatism and Kidney Disease — three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills made him a new man.

Swift Current, Sask., May 1st.—(Special.)—Seventy-six years of age, but strong and healthy, Mr. J. P. Lackey, of this place, is one of the grand old men of the prairies. But Mr. Lackey has not always enjoyed his present health. "For twenty-five years," he says, "I suffered from Rheumatism, which I inherited. I was nervous. My limbs would swell and I had a severe pain across the back. I also had a heavy dragging sensation across the loins. I am a well man to-day and I attribute it all to three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills. My Rheumatism and Kidney Disease have entirely disappeared."

Mr. Lackey is showing his appreciation of Dodd's Kidney Pills by buying them and presenting them to his friends. He has joined the great army of those who have learned from their own experience that as a giver of new life to old and young Dodd's Kidney Pills stand without an equal.

A CRIME AGAINST THE FAMILY TABLE.

Has it ever been your lot to sit at a table with a group of young folks who eat the meal in silence, or with a few constrained remarks, looking askance at the head of the family before venturing on any remark? I have seen such a sight on more than one occasion. Doctors have told us over and over again of the beneficial results arising from a meal with a contented frame of mind and with cheerful surroundings, but, sad to say, there are many households where each meal is a constant scene of bickering, nagging and faultfinding.

This is not only the case where there are young children, who require a reprimand occasionally for carelessness, but I am speaking of the homes where the boys and girls are well into their teens. Sad is that house and wrong is that parent, either father or mother, who chooses the hour when all are assembled around the table to mention some half forgotten grievance or to find some fault.

If any trivial thing has been done wrong, or any duty omitted, wait until after dinner or tea is over before you scold, blame, reprimand. Let the food which we have for the purpose of nourishing and sustaining our bodies have the opportunity of accomplishing that end, which cannot be the case if every mouthful is swallowed with either a sarcastic word or an uncomplimentary remark. More indigestion, nervousness and other derangements are caused by the too common fault of uncomfortable meal times than many people would suppose, and it is our positive duty to make those hours cheerful and agreeable to the children.

RELATIONS BETWEEN CAPITAL AND LABOR.

A Short Discussion of the Reasonable Attitude of Capital to Labor and Vice Versa—Mutual Confidence a Strong Factor.

To any individual interested in Street Railway operations there must always be present the two big divisions into which such operations are divided, i. e., Capital, and Labor. To the majority of individuals interested in street railway operations either one or other of these divisions is to them of paramount importance, and really very few try thoroughly to comprehend the details in which one or other may be varied to the advantage of the other.

Capital may be considered as the reserve of past experience and other operations.

Labor may be considered as the operations of the present.

The Directorate as the exemplification of the hopes of the future.

These three divisions should be firmly bound together to form an operating combination to accomplish one aim, i.e., adequate transportation for the general community proposed to be served to the general benefit of Capital and Labor and the general good.

Capital has three facts to bear in mind, these are:

(1) The fair value of purchase to be given;

(2) The fair value of interest to be received;

(3) The fair amount for depreciation to be provided.

Labor has three facts also to remember:

(1) Fair share of labor and mental service for wages to be given;

(2) Fair share of profits of operation to be received;

(3) Fair share of reserve for service to be provided.

Capital properly invested in an enterprise becomes as a rule mortgage on the properties of the company, fair allowance being made for interest and depreciation, unless sinking fund is provided to pay it back in future.

Labor remains in full control of its own Capital.

Labor, manual and mental labor once the strength of manhood has left the body or mind, becomes worn out and is sooner or later discarded as useless or antiquated capital.

It is apparent that to Labor the body and mind are as much Capital as the money commonly known as Capital, and interest for the present and depreciation for future must be considered by Labor as in the case of Capital.

Manual service is open to the competition of manual labor and of mechanical service, and its basis of value is so obtained, and by care resulting in skill, and perseverance become a Capital asset large or small.

Mental service is open to the competition of knowledge, and by study and experience becomes a Capital asset large or small.

Each one therefore has his Capital whether—

As Capitalist so called: money, brain, and manual strength.

Labor so called: manual strength, brain, and money.

Professional man so called: brain, manual strength, and money; and it is only a question of relative proportion.

And each should study to utilize his Capital for the greatest general good. Then how is he to establish in his mind, where the greatest good may be done. Money is the measurement of the results only in human coin. Happiness is nature's reward. Few men, comparativaely, are called upon to provide in a large way for the good of the general public, and these are as a rule men who have already done something for good in smaller circles of life.

Capital and Labor are only comparisons of the same thing.

How few men start out in life to accomplish an object. Most men first say "what money can I get?" and the result is that money and not accomplishment of a purpose becomes often the ruling factor. Pay day is the goal, and all pleasure in work or accomplishmehment is lost. Capital is usually invested with a purpose to accomplish. Labor in many cases is only invested with a purpose to receive.

In these few short remarks, I do not wish to pose as a preacher, but mention them to lead the train of the readers' thoughts, to the main point of this short article, "How can Labor help Capital, and how can Capital help Labor, to the mutual benefit of all concerned?" Capital once invested is much more the real servant of the company than the so-called employee Capital has staked its all in the enterprise. The employee is free to go and come. Capital must wait for results. Labor is free to wait or move off. Labor is continually struggling to subject. Capital must main the butt.

While uncertainties remain in the labor situation, Capital will naturally strive to fortify itself against Labor by automatic processes, and by reducing the amount of labor to minimum quantity. Every additional rise in the rate of pay to ordinary labor naturally does more to introduce machinery and labor saving appliances, and the public generally find living cost increasing, and the benefit naturally goes to the producer of raw material, or the man who helps to create and without whom operation would cease.

If instead of continually striving to get increased wages the labor unions would strive to reduce the cost of living, they would materially benefit themselves, and the community generally.

Increased wages means general increased cost of living, and every increase of cost of production gives extra value to all properties owned by capital, and eventually defeats the very object desired by the parties demanding increased wages for the same service, i.e., the capacity for greater comforts. Take one example: Why should the common Street Railway fare be five cents, practically in all places, and for all distances in Canada? Is there any sense in this arrangement? Certainly not! You see every moment in this country people hurrying along streets for short distances and street cars passing them practically empty. Why? because the fare is five cents for five minutes, as for fifty minutes, and Capital will say if you ask them to make variable fares for variable distances, "we cannot get labor to do it at a reasonable price," and so labor in this instance is robbing the public of a convenience which would cost them nothing but a little additional attention.

Should the conductor who sleeps against the rear partition of his car expect to receive the profits of the enterprise in the undertaking, or the motorman who carelessly runs his car receive the profits of benefiting the company?

Capital and Labor must work together for the benefit of each and the general welfare of all.

Nothing will help Capital more in this relation than the confidence of Labor that Capital desires to deal fairly; the same applies to the relation of Labor to Capital, and how is this to be established otherwise than that every dealing made by either party with the other should be decided on a question of justice, carefully, thoroughly and generously.

Now let us consider one point, i.e., how to establish confidence between Capital and Labor, and see what are the steps.

From,—

(1) The Company to the Manager;

(2) The Manager to the staff;

(3) The staff to the foreman;

(4) The foreman to the men;

and what are the conclusions. Necessarily each one member of a company is to a certain extent personally able to help to bring about the proper understanding between Capital and Labor to the well-being of the community at large, and therefore let each one of us try and do his share.—Donald S. Barton, in Electrical News.

"I Suffered Intense Pains in My Left Side."

Do you realize it is better to be safe than sorry, that it is the best policy to lock the stable door before the horse is stolen?

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy

cured Mrs. C. C. Gokey, of a stubborn case of heart disease, such as thousands are now suffering with. Read what she says:

"Before I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy I had been suffering from a heart trouble for over five years. I had grown so weak that it was impossible for me to do thirty minutes work in a whole day. I suffered intense pains in my left side and under the left shoulder blade, I could not sleep on the left side, and was so short of breath that I thought I should never be able to take a full breath again. The least excitement would bring on the most distressing palpitation. I had scarcely taken a half-bottle of the Heart Remedy before I could see a marked change in my condition. I began to sleep well, had a good appetite, and improved so rapidly that when I had taken six bottles I was completely cured.

A Richibucto School Teacher

Once a Dyspeptic—Now Well, Thanks to Father Morriscy's No. 11.

Richibucto, N. B., Nov. 17th 1909.

Father Morriscy Med. Co., Ltd.,

I have been teaching school for upwards of thirty years, during the last twenty-five of which I have suffered seriously with stomach trouble, indigestion and dyspepsia.

I have tried many remedies, and while I would get temporary relief from some of them, yet the old trouble would return, and with it the sufferings only known to the chronic dyspeptic.

Last year I had made up my mind to abandon my profession, feeling that in my condition I could neither do justice to myself or to the many pupils under my charge. A friend suggested to me that I try Father Morriscy's No. 11 Stomach Tablets; I did so, and have continued to use them with the result that my stomach trouble is cured—my indigestion and dyspepsia gone and I feel as well as I ever did.

I have, thanks to the Tablets, been able to continue in my profession, and feel that I am once more enjoying my work and am able to give justice to the fifty-four pupils under my care.

Yours Gratefully,

LACROSSE BOOM ON

OPENING GAME MAY 6TH AT TORONTO ISLAND.

Nationals (Champions) Meet Tecumsehs in Exhibition Game—Both Toronto Teams Will Be Strong and Expect to Make an Exciting Race—N. L. A. Series to Start Victoria Day, May 24th.

Lacrosse has certainly struck a winning streak this spring. From information gathered from the local press throughout the country more clubs will handle the gutted stick than has been heard from for the past ten years. In the Maritime Provinces, where Canada's national game has never received much attention, men whose early training taught them to admire lacrosse are getting in behind the clubs and helping to put the game before the school children, which if looked after cannot help but bear fruit.

Toronto will have abundance of lacrosse the coming season, with two teams in the National Lacrosse Union, the senior series of the Canadian Lacrosse Association, and a four-club senior series in the Ontario Lacrosse Association, junior and juvenile leagues, school leagues and church leagues, the game looks exceedingly promising for 1911.

MANAGER QUERRIE.
(Tecumseh Lacrosse Club.)

The management of the Tecumseh Lacrosse Club have set a new record for opening senior lacrosse in Toronto. For the past years baseball has opened the sporting season, this year it will be different. Manager Charlie Querrie, of the Tecumseh Club, looking ahead to put his team in the "pink" early, has arranged to play the Champion Nationals on the Island oval May 6th. This is at least three weeks earlier than any former year. The Frenchmen are very anxious to meet the Indians—it was on the Island that the champions struck their first defeat last year. Manager Joe Cattarnich wants to wipe out the sting, and Charlie Querrie is just as anxious to take another fall out of the "pea soups."

The Tecumseh team will have very few changes from last year's line-up. The defence are all intact and it is likely that the management will work a few of the reserves against the Frenchmen on Saturday, May 6th.

The Torontos will also have to be reckoned with. The management will have all last year's stars in line with the exception of "Nick" Carter, who has joined Con. Jones' "Minto Cup" hunters at Vancouver. This player is a great loss to the Toronto team, still the management have lots of material to fall back upon this season. From the Queen City and the N.L.A. championship this year looks to lie between the two Toronto clubs. The first meeting between Tecumsehs and Torontos will be at Scarboro Beach on May 24th. This game is for the city championship, and lacrosse fans would just as leave see these two teams fighting for city honors as striving for the Minto Cup. Here is the schedule of games in the N.L.A. both at the Island and Scarboro Beach.

McPHERSON—TATE.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized in the Methodist Church here on Wednesday, April 19th, when Mary L., eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Tate, became the wife of Mr. William McPherson, of Amaranth. Sharp at two o'clock the bridal party entered the church to the strains of a wedding march played by Miss Elsie McPherson, sister of the groom. Mr. Bert Tate, Waldemar, and Mr. Tate Fennell, Grand Valley, acted as ushers. The charming bride was beautifully gowned in cream voile, with satin stripe over cream silk and wore a veil and orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of cream brides' roses and maiden hair fern. After the ceremony the happy couple proceeded to the home of the bride where they received the congratulations of about fifty guests. A dainty luncheon was served immediately, four cousins of the bride, Misses Laura and Edna Duffy, Rena Fennell and Helen Tate, acting as waitresses. After the usual toasts were proposed by Rev. Mr. Roadhouse to which a number responded, the bride and groom left on the 5.36 train for Toronto, amid a deluge of confetti and rice. The popularity of the bride was shown in the number of beautiful presents given her. Among the guests noticed were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tate, Sr., grandparents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thompson, all of whom this year celebrated their golden wedding; Mr. and Mrs. McPherson, Garafraxa, parents of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Matthew McPherson, Orangeville; Mrs. Wm. Graydon, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. F. Tate, Lucknow; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thompson, and Miss Belle Brown, Marsville.—Star & Vidette.

FIFTY PER CENT. FOR CANADIAN SIDE.

The warfare that has been continuously waged between the town of Fort Francis and Mr. E. W. Bachus as to the use of power being developed by the latter, on the Rainy river, has resulted in the passage of a bill in the Dominion House requiring the utilization on the Canadian side of the river of fifty per cent. of the total power developed at any time. The question came up some months ago and a temporary arrangement was made with Mr. Bachus by which he was required to utilize on the Canadian side only one-half of that developed on the Canadian side. This half amounted to about 3,500 horse power and following the order Mr. Bachus was proceeding to install pulp grinders in Fort Frances to use this amount of power.

It is thought by the citizens of Fort Frances, however, that Mr. Bachus has no intention of manufacturing his pulp in Canada and an injunction has been applied for at Ottawa restraining him from installing the grinders and requiring him to build a mill.

In the meantime the council is busying itself to find a market for its half of the developed power and the clerk has been instructed to apply at once to the Minnesota & Ontario Power Company for prices on electrical energy and hydraulic power on the schedule plan, including in schedule power from 1 to 17,500 hp for the following purposes: pulp mill, paper mill, flour mill, general factory purposes, lighting, etc., stating when such power can be delivered and full particulars as to how they are prepared to deliver same.

BANKS, RAILWAYS AND MILLERS LOOK FOR RECORD.

Say that Outlook for Harvest this Year is Best Ever—Activities in Various Spheres on Account of Wheat Crop—Cold Storage Flowers—Death Clears Off Debt.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Montreal, April 24th.—The banks, the millers, the harvest machinery manufacturers, the transportation interests, are all looking forward to the farmers of Canada making a record in the matter of the country's total wheat crop this year. The banks lend money on the crops and they are preparing to lend generously this year. The millers grind wheat into flour and they are expecting to keep their mills working overtime this year. The transportation companies handle the crop and they are increasing their rolling stock and fleets of vessels this year.

In connection with the harvest outlook an important announcement was made this week that interests, closely identified with the Canadian Cereal and Milling Company, had purchased the International Milling Company, and that a holding Company was about to be formed which would direct the affairs of both companies. Mr. J. D. Flavelle, the president of the former organization, is spoken of as the president of the new company. Both the Cereal and Milling Company and the International Milling Company stand high financially and commercially, and the joining of the two will have no little effect on the handling of this year's crop. The Cereal Company's mills are all located in Ontario, namely at Tillsonburg, Lindsay, Toronto, London, Fergus, Embro, Woodstock, Ayr, Galt and Highgate, and have a combined capacity of over 5,500 barrels per day of flour rolled oats and oatmeal. The International, as its name implies, has mills on both sides of the boundary, four in the United States, and one at Moose Jaw. It was founded in 1896 by Mr. F. A. Bean, of New Prague, Minnesota, who started with one small mill. To-day it has mills at New Prague, Walls and Blue Faith, Minnesota, and at Davenport, Iowa, and at Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan. In making these expansions not a dollar outside of the actual earnings of the organization has been spent. This year the International is enlarging the Moose Jaw mill, erecting a rolled oats mill at the same place and acquiring a string of elevators throughout the west. The new combination is in very able hands financially. It is understood that the directors of the new holding company will be chosen from both the International and the Cereal Companies' boards. It is also understood that A. J. Nesbitt, Managing Director of the Investment Trust Company, Limited, carried through the negotiations which led to the combination being formed.

The harvest machinery people are looking for an extremely busy year. All the new settlers will need new machinery and there is going to be considerable difficulty in outfitting every farmer or would-be farmer in time. The Sawyer-Massey people report that their factories are working day and night to provide for the demands which are coming from the West for ploughs, reapers, rakes and so on. They also notice that the demand for heavier machinery such as threshing outfits and traction ploughs is much greater than it was a few years ago, showing that the farmers are getting more prosperous and preparing for operations on a larger scale this year.

Early this winter the Canadian Pacific, the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Northern placed their orders for freight cars to be delivered this summer in time to help the harvest to Fort William. Since then additional orders have been sent in for a total of over ten thousand cars. Preparations are also being made for increasing the tonnage of the vessels plying on the lakes, most of them in the grain trade, and of the fleets of Atlantic steamers. As a rule the railways are not far wrong and it will be very surprising if their preparations for a bumper harvest are not justified.

Having experienced cold storage eggs, cold storage meats, cold storage chickens, and cold storage edible products without limit, has now discovered the evil of cold storage flowers. Many a bunch of high-priced blooms, it now appears though seemingly fresh picked, may have been in cold storage for five and six months. Particularly is this true of violets, and many an ancient bunch picked half a year ago is now disposed of to the unsophisticated purchaser. In appearance the cold storage blooms, like cold storage eggs, have nothing of which to be ashamed. It is in their odor that the danger lurks. The ancient blossoms picked in the dull season lose all their sweetness soon after being placed in cold storage in the fall. When they are taken out from the cold storage chambers in the spring they must be artificially scented. Violets, for instance, are impregnated with violet extract, just as a handkerchief might be perfumed. Not only is there danger of a certain kind of poisoning from smelling them, but they hold their false sweetness for only about six hours and they droop and wither as quickly. These long preserved, artificially scented blooms which are vended at ridiculously low prices, are one of the most surprising cold storage products yet brought to light.

There are three wealthy and well-known citizens of Montreal, who, useful and public spirited as they are in life, will still be almost as useful in one sphere of activity at least, in death. This trio are old and honored members of St. James' Club. Although almost every man of means in the city is a member of St. James, and the amount of money spent there in a day for pleasures of one kind and another would keep a large sized family for a year or many years the institution has had difficulty in raising enough money to add to the present premises, and make some very necessary improvements. This novel scheme has been hit upon: The Committee has been empowered to borrow and spend one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars, this money to be raised by mortgaging the club's property. To pay off this mortgage the lives of three of the oldest members are to be insured, the club paying the premiums. When they die the insurance money will, of course, go to the club. The three members cannot make up their minds now that their friends really mean it now when they raise a glass and wish the proverbial "Good Health," for the sword of Damocles seems to be swinging over their heads.

FOR AND AGAINST.

Views of Two of Dr. Chisholm's Constituents on Reciprocity.

The following amusing article is from last week's issue of The Wingham Advance:—

Sharp and even bitter as parliamentary debates often are, there are occasionally breaks in the clouds that let in the sunshine of smiles. The following is an instance, which we reproduce from the daily papers:—

Dr. Chisholm (East Huron) said he had been accused of favoring reciprocity. This statement had been made in the Legislature of Ontario and had been repeated by the Liberal press. He had said in his speech upon the address that he would favor reciprocity under certain conditions. Those conditions should first be equalized. Nothing of the kind had been attempted or accomplished. If reciprocity was adopted we would still be confronted by the American tariff wall of 42 per cent., while our tariff against the United States was only 24 per cent. "I favor reciprocity," he declared, "but it is the kind of reciprocity which Sir John Macdonald favored. I am opposed to the kind of reciprodcity which he opposed, and died fighting against. My objection to this agreement is, namely, that it is a jug-handled agreement. It is a jug with a handle twelve times as big as itself. We get into the American market, it is true, but in return therefor we admit into our market not only the United States, but twelve other favored nations."

Dr. Chisholm then read to the House, amid continued applause and uproarious laughter, the portions of two letters received by him from constituents. The first letter which he read was written ostensibly in favor of the pact. The letter follows:—

Wingham, March 19, 1911.

"Dear Dr. Chisholm,—I thought I would drop you a few lines to warn you about reciprocity. Tell the Government to be very careful when dealing with the Yankees. I got bit with one of those gentlemen once myself. I had an old mare that had been a faithful servant to me for thirty years, and I was at work plowing near the highway one day with her, when one of those chaps came along and asked me how I would trade that old mare for his brown colt. After driving a hard bargain for a while, I gave him ten dollars and the old mare for his brown colt. He was scarcely out of sight when I discovered that the brown colt was two years older than my old mare. Also, he was heavy and balky. I only had him about three days when it kicked the brains out of my good collie dog, and that was worth more than both the horses. Everybody was laughing at me, so I just knocked the brown colt on the head and drew the colt and dog out in the field so I could bury them both in the one grave. The very next day the Yankee came along when I was in the field and sold my old woman three dollars' worth of Bologna sausage, and he never told her they were made out of our old mare. When he was leaving, his eyes fell on the brown colt and the dog lying out in the field, and he asked my old woman if he might take them home with him in his light wagon, and she said he could. I was told afterwards that he made a lot of sausage out of them, too, and sold their hides for three dollars and a half. I got nothing except three dollars' worth of sausage, and I buried that and erected a slab with an inscription on it to the memory of my old mare. Tell the Government to be very careful how they deal with those people, for they always make sure to get the best of the bargain.

J. H. Stephinson."

"How Farmers Will Benefit."

"McCawk, April 18, 1911.

Dr. J. Chisholm, M. P.

Dear Sir,—I write to say that I am inclined to favor reciprocity. I am sure the farmers will get a better price for their turnips and their calves. We raise a great many Swede turnips in this country, and the Yankees come over and buy them by the carload, and sometimes by the train-load. They take them over to the United States, where they grind them up very fine and sweeten and color them and then mix them with timothy seed that has been kept so long in some of their wholesale houses that it has lost its vitality and is no use for seed or any other purpose. This is then sent back to Canada as canned strawberries. Now, it is plain that if we had reciprocity we would not only get a better price for our turnips, but we would also get our canned strawberries at a greatly reduced price. Then these same Yankees also come over and buy our calves when they are less than a day old, and take them to the United States and convert them into canned chicken and their hides into genuine kid gloves, and they send these back to Canada also to be sold. Hurrah for chicken and cheap strawberry preserves.

Yours truly,

Jas. D. Cooper.

Continuing, Dr. Chisholm said, "I cannot imagine how the Government can come to a decision when there is such difference of opinion throughout the country as these two letters indicate." (Laughter.)

A WOMAN'S PLACE IN THE HOME.

Yes, but a mother's duty does not stop at her house door! The state is educating her children, the community has control over water supply, drainage, sanitation and food inspection, and yet she has no say in these matters. Her daughters may have to work in factories or offices and it is a mother's duty to exert her influence for providing suitable conditions, hours and surroundings for those daughters.

Though women's sphere is supposed to be in the home, it is the father who before the law is the sole guardian of the children. He has the sole decision as to what their religion should be, where and how they are to be brought up, and may even appoint guardians to his children excluding their own mother. Yet if a mother deserts her child she is punished with imprisonment and hard labor. One of the first laws passed by the Norwegian Parliament after women were given the vote was to give the mother and father equal guardian-hip over their children.

If the men had "managed it all right in the past," the women would be quite content to let them go on doing so. But I do not think it is all right when we see a good mother separated from her children to gratify a father's caprice. This occurs most frequently when the parents have different religious beliefs. In one case I know of, the family were united until the eldest girl was twelve years old. Then the father fearing the children would embrace their mother's religion, sent them away to be brought up by a lady who shared his religious belief, and the mother was not allowed to see her own children. When the eldest girl was sixteen her father had not visited her for two years, and she had not seen her mother for four years. She petitioned the court to be allowed to spend her Christmas holidays with her mother and it was refused her because the father withheld his consent.

This kind of thing occurs constantly in countries where women have not a vote. Another great menace to our country is the very large proportion of deaths in infancy. In New Zealand where women have the vote, the state supports a band of trained nurses who assist inexperienced mothers to care for their babies and provide medical attendance for working women who have sickly children. It also supports the working women until her baby is old enough to be left. In Toronto there is no law to prevent landlords from over-crowding houses. Consequently in this fair city we have a more shocking condition of affairs in our poorer districts than are to be found in the slums of London, England. In one house of fifteen rooms, thirteen families are now living. Some rooms are rented to two sets of people, and a young man engaged in night work sleeps by day in the same bed that two working girls occupy at night. Surely if women had equal municipal suffrage with men they would succeed in passing laws that would force the landlord to provide sanitary arrangements for his tenants.—The Canadian Farm.

SEVEN YEARS OF MISERY

All Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Sikeston, Mo. — "For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I cramped and had backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do my own housework, hoe my garden, and milk a cow. I can entertain company and enjoy them. I can visit when I choose, and walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the month. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl." —Mrs. DEMA BETHUNE, Sikeston, Mo.

The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It is more widely and successfully used than any other remedy. It has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means had failed. Why don't you try it?

While Charles E. Bone, a homesteader, living about 12 miles north of Kerr Robert, Sask., was dieing on his land, he carried a shotgun for the purpose of killing gophers. Slipping from his lap, the gun was discharged, the charge entering his abdomen and death followed in a few hours. His former home was at Brussels, Ont., and he leaves a bride of a year.

Are Your Kidneys Working Properly?

It Will Pay You Well to Make Sure

There's been a lot of "guessing" about rheumatism and rheumatic pains generally, but you can be dead sure that little pain across your back came from decreased kidney action.

The kidney's duty is to filter the blood—take out the impurities collected by the returning blood stream—do it just like absorbent cotton in a funnel filters the impurities from polluted water.

When the kidneys are not working you are bound for one of two courses—Diabetes and Bright's Disease or Rheumatism, Lumbago and Sciatica. The former course is usually fatal, and the latter always painful, but you need not have either, as they both can be easily prevented.

The very best prescription for all kidney troubles is Nyal's Stone Root Compound. It is no "patent" medicine, but a scientific prescription composed of Stoneroot, Buchu, Juniper and other remedies of proved value. More than that, it has been proved by thousands who have had glad relief from its use.

There's nothing quite so miserable as the dragging results of sick kidneys. You are trifling with your own future when you neglect so simple a precaution, as a pleasant home treatment with Nyal's Stone Root Compound when results are so certain.

It soothes bladder irritation, gives you rest and comfort at night, and makes life once more enjoyable.

The kidneys, liver and bladder are all dependent upon one another, and Nyal's Stone Root Compound is particularly designed to help them all.

THOMAS HOLMES, SR.

Death Claims Another of Our Pioneer Settlers.

Peaceful Close of a Long and Useful Life.

Another of the few sturdy pioneer settlers, who still remain as living witnesses to the stern struggle that by gradual stages transformed this section of Ontario from a wilderness of forest into the rich and populous agricultural district that we have to-day, was called to his eternal reward last week in the person of Mr. Thomas Holmes, Sr., of Caledon. In spite of the increasing burden of more than four score years, Mr. Holmes, always a strong and vigorous man, enjoyed remarkably good health until last February, when he was confined to his bed with a severe attack of la grippe, from which he did not appear to fully recover. He was, however, able to be about as usual and on Friday preceding his death walked out to the barn and back again. Saturday afternoon he was obliged to take to his bed, with what proved his last illness. The end came very peacefully early on Thursday morning. The immediate cause of death was bronchitis.

The late Mr. Holmes was born in King's County, Ireland, on August 12th, 1826, and was therefore in his 85th year at the time of his death. His father, Thomas Holmes, with two brothers, Richard and Robert, and three sisters, afterwards Mrs. R. D. Nodwell, of Hillsburg, Mrs. John Atkinson and Mrs. John Lewis, of Mono, came to Canada in 1846. Thomas Holmes settled at Mono Mills, where the subject of our sketch resided until 1851, when he started farming on his own account on lot 2, con. 4, east, Mono. On April 12th, 1851—slightly over sixty years ago—he was married to Miss Mary Ann Jackson, a daughter of the late George Jackson, of Adjala, the service being performed in St. John's Church, 7th line, east, Mono, by Rev. J. Fletcher, then incumbent of Mono Mills parish. Mrs. Holmes survives her husband and, although 81 years of age, is still enjoying good health and was able to attend the funeral on Sunday afternoon. Some years after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Holmes moved to lot 27, con. 3, east, Caledon, where they have since resided. After their marriage, the young couple started out in life in a modest way and encountered their full share of the hardships and privations that were the common lot of the pioneers in this province. By dint of industry, perseverance and careful business management, they made steady headway and in time came to own a fine property of 350 acres—150 acres in Caledon and 200 acres in Mono. Their marriage was also blessed with a family of four sons and four daughters, of whom all excepting one son, Jackson, are still living. The daughters are Mrs. James Shaw, Hanover; Mrs. Thos. Curry, East Garafraxa; Mrs. John Glassford and Mrs. Rich. Speers, Caledon. Two of the sons, George and Thomas, are well-known residents of Mono, the former living on the old homestead. The other son, W. J., also a prosperous farmer, resides on the Caledon homestead. Besides the sons and daughters, there are 25 grandchildren and 4 great grandchildren.

The late Mr. Holmes was a member of the Anglican Church, and had worshipped in St. Mark's Church, Orangeville, for many years. He was a staunch Conservative and was one of the foremost supporters of the late Hon. Thos. White, when that brilliant Parliamentarian represented the old constituency of Cardwell in the Commons. Mr. Holmes was an active and very enthusiastic Orangeman, and had been in connection with the Order upwards of 60 years. He was a charter member of Mona Britons L. O. L. 259, familiarly known as Holmes' lodge. The old gentleman was one of the veterans at the celebration in Orangeville last 12th of July. At the celebration in Erin in 1907 he was able to say that he had not missed a 12th of July walk since he first joined the Order. Mr. Holmes did not aspire to municipal or other public honors, although he always took a keen and intelligent interest in public questions. In his private dealings he was known as a good neighbor and a man of unquestioned honesty and as such enjoyed the confidence and esteem of the community in which his life was spent.

The funeral, which was held from his late home in Caledon to St. John's Church cemetery in Mono on Sunday afternoon, was one of the largest ever witnessed in this neighborhood, and this notwithstanding the rain which undoubtedly prevented many people from being present to pay their last mark of respect. Members of the Orange Order to the number of two hundred were present in full regalia, Mona Britons, Orangeville, Purple Valley, Relessey, Mono Mills, Connor, Hockley, Charleston, Alton, Melville Cross and Mono Road lodges being among those represented. The funeral cortege was fully a mile in length. Rev. G. A. Rix, rector of St. Mark's Church, conducted a short service at the house. The service in St. John's Church and at the grave was read by Rev. Mr. Rix and Rev. R. J. W. Perry, rector of Mono Mills Parish. After the latter the impressive ritual of the Orange Order was read by W. Bros. H. A. Duke, P.D.M. of Orangeville District L. O. L. and A. D. McKitrick, W.M. of L. O. L. 427, Orangeville, W. Bro. Jas. A. Patterson, Past County Master of Dufferin, officiating as Director of Ceremonies. The casket was borne to its last resting place by six grandsons, Messrs. T. E., J. A., E. J., W. T., and R. A. Holmes and J. H. Glassford. Among the floral tributes was a sheaf and sickle, expressive of the love and sorrow of the family.

DEATH OF ED. DURKIN.

A Promising Career Brought to an Untimely Close.

"Oh, what had'st thou to do with grief,
Who was so full of life, or death with thee,
That thou should'st die before thou had'st grown old."—Longfellow.

Early on Thursday morning last at the home of his parents, on First St., there passed away, after a brave struggle, Edward Albert Durkin, the second son of our esteemed townspeople, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Durkin. Mr. Durkin, who was in his twenty-first year, was a young man of brilliant promise. After graduating from the Orangeville High School, he decided to adopt the teaching profession. He took the necessary training course at the Model School in Durham, and in January last assumed charge of a rural school in East Garafraxa, over which he presided until the Easter holidays. About that time his health began to fail, and he did not resume his position at the end of the vacation. His last illness was of two weeks' duration. He succumbed to the dread disease, spinal meningitis, being unconscious for three days before his spirit took its flight. The deceased was an athlete of considerable prominence, and as a lacrosse and hockey player entered into these strenuous games with all the enthusiasm of youth, and the vigor of a fine constitution. Of a particularly bright and happy disposition, his winning personality secured for him scores of devoted friends who are inexpressibly shocked and grieved at his untimely death. As a member of the Liebander Bible Class of this town, of the Epworth League, and the Methodist choir, he will be no less missed than in the realm of manly sports. The circumstances are so pathetic and sad that no ordinary sympathy has been extended to the grief-stricken parents, and brothers and sisters in their irreparable loss. Edward was one of a family of six and his removal is the first break in the family circle.

The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon to Bowling Green cemetery, Rev. Dr. Harper, of the First Avenue Methodist Church, and Rev. T. R. White, of Laurel, officiating. The Orangeville High School Cadets, in uniform, with muffled drums, attended the obsequies in a body to the number of fifty. The floral tributes were chaste and beautiful, and included wreaths from the Liebander Bible Class, the Bowling Green Sunday School, the Orangeville High School Cadets, the Orangeville Hockey Club, and Messrs. William and Francis Durkin, Bowling Green, and sprays from Orangeville Methodist Choir, the Epworth League, Misses Evelyn and Minnie Durkin, Toronto; Misses Beatrice Rounding and Flossie McClelland, Grand Valley; Misses Velma Youmans and Irene Henry, Orangeville, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gordon, Orangeville, and Mr. Leslie Walker, Bowling Green. The pallbearers, all High School comrades, were Leslie Walker, Hutchinson Keith, Harold Kilpatrick, Wendell Holmes, Ward Nicholson, and Will Spence. Besides the grief stricken parents, three brothers survive: Dr. Louis H., now of Dundalk, Ernest L., who is associated with his father in business, and Howard, who is attending school, and two sisters, Elizabeth and Ruby, at home. The Banner extends its sympathy to the afflicted family in their sad loss.

"Oh why has worth so short a state,
When villians ripen, grey with time;
Must you, the noble, generous, great,
Fall in bright manhood's early prime"

MR. WILLIAM IREDALE.

Mr. William Iredale, who has made his home in Orangeville for the last four or five years, passed away at his residence on Zina St. on Friday, after a short illness. He was in his 86th year and his death was due to a general breakdown. Deceased came to Canada in 1831, his family taking up their residence in Toronto shortly afterwards. He was an eye-witness of some of the incidents of the Rebellion of '37, had met and talked with William Lyon Mackenzie, and remembered very clearly the wrecking of his printing office in Toronto. He was a member of the York Pioneers' Association, and of the Commercial Travellers' Association. He was also one of the first members of Carlton St. Methodist Church. Although he had been living retired for some years, he was formerly prominently identified with the business interests of Toronto, and was, at the time of his death, a somewhat extensive property-owner. Mr. Iredale was twice married. His first wife, Miss Rachel Daniels, predeceased him some twenty-four years ago. Two children of this marriage survive: Mr. John C. Iredale of Delaware Ave., Toronto, and Mrs. John Roberts, of Westwood, New Jersey. Mr. Iredale's second wife, Miss Matilda Stevenson, survives her husband. A niece, Mrs. John Irwin, predeceased Mr. Iredale only two months ago.

The remains were taken to Toronto for interment on Tuesday morning, the funeral being held from the home of his son, Mr. John C. Iredale, 528 Delaware Ave., at 3.30 o'clock, on Tuesday afternoon.

ROBERT MATSON DEAD.

Mr. Robert Matson, a well known Orangeville young man, died at his home on the East Townline on Saturday after a severe illness from inflammatory rheumatism and Bright's disease. Up to the time of his illness, Mr. Matson, who was a tall, strongly built young man, was apparently in the enjoyment of excellent health and the news of his serious sickness came as a surprise, even to those who knew him best. He was a genial, good-hearted fellow and had many warm friends in and about the town. He was only 31 years of age and unmarried. His aged father, Mr. John Matson, a brother, William, living in Vancouver, and two sisters, Mrs. Jas. Warnock, Caledon, and Miss Jennie survive. There was a large turnout to the funeral, which was held to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Monday afternoon. The members of Melville L.O.L. No. 466, of which the deceased was a member, and a large number of brethren from the town and neighboring lodges attended the obsequies in a body. Rev. G. A. Rix conducted the services at the house and grave, the latter being followed by the burial ritual of the Orange Order read by W. Bros. H. A. Duke and S. L. Island. The pallbearers were Messrs S. M. Delaney, Wm. Patterson, Andrew Adams, Isaac Patterson, Wilmer Dawson and R. Chambers. The numerous beautiful floral tributes included a wreath from Court Gardiner, No. 159, C. O. Faulkner, Caledon.

MAYOR STUBLEY DEAD.

Citizens, who had the pleasure of meeting Alderman John Stubley, J. P., Mayor of Batley, England, during his occasional business visits to Orangeville, will regret keenly his death, which occurred rather unexpectedly at his Norfolk residence on Friday, April 21sn. Mayor Stubley was interested in the Superior Portland Cement Works, and during his Orangeville visits was the guest of Mr. Geo. McIntyre, Secretary-Treasurer of the Company. He and Mrs. Stubley were here for a few days about the middle of last September. Mr. Stubley had extensive business interests in Ontario and Western Canada. In his native town Mayor Stubley was a wealthy manufacturer, and a large employer of labor. He was made a magistrate in 1896 and became Mayor in 1899. He was a strong temperance advocate and was noted for his interest in and generous support of charitable and philanthropic institutions.

MRS. ALEXANDER WATT.

Mrs. Helen Watt, relict of the late Alexander Watt, of Palmerston, and mother of Mr. Henry Watt, of Orangeville, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Williams, West Toronto, on Thursday, April 20th, after a few days' illness from pneumonia. The late Mrs. Watt, who was in her 84th year, was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, but came to Canada when only four years old. She was married in Guelph on Sept. 10th, 1847, afterwards settling in Aberfoyle, where Mr. Watt ran a sawmill. Later the family moved to Palmerston, where Mr. Watt operated a flour mill until his death in 1889. For the last fifteen years Mrs. Watt has made her home in Toronto. She was the mother of a family of twelve, of whom seven sons and two daughters survive, namely, Robert and John, of Toronto; James, in Alberta; William, in Manitoba; Edward, of Palmerston; Fred., of Welland; Henry, of Orangeville; Mrs. Arch. McEachern, Palmerston, and Mrs. Williams, Toronto. There are also 35 grandchildren and 23 great grandchildren living. The remains were taken to her old home at Palmerston for burial, the funeral being held on Monday, April 24th. Rev. R. A. Cranston was the officiating clergyman. Among the many appropriate floral tributes was a pillow from the family, and a beautiful wreath from the grandchildren.

DRAINAGE DEMONSTRATION

The Ontario Agricultural College is emphasizing the value of drainage again this summer, for which purpose drainage demonstrations are being held in many parts of the province. On Tuesday, May 16th, at the hour of 2 o'clock, one of these demonstrations will be held on the farm of Mr. R. Young, lot 30, concession 1, Caledon Twp. This meeting should be of special interest as some difficult places to drain are involved. Besides the discussion of the particular problems of Mr. Young's farm, there will be a demonstration of methods of finding the fall over a ditch, determining the grade, digging true to grade, etc. Those of our readers interested in drainage should not miss this meeting. Anyone wishing information about the drainage work should write Prof. W. H. Day, O. A. C., Guelph.

HEALTH RESTORED TO THIS FAMILY

Wife's experience with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food led to husband's cure.

"Since childhood I was afflicted with biliousness and sick headache," writes Mr. A. E. Van Wyck, Park Hill, Ont., "and as all the doctors' medicines and prescriptions failed to do me any permanent good, I had lost faith in all medicines. It was by accident that I came to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, for it had been recommended for Mrs. Van Wyck and did her so much good that she wished me to try it.

"I did so, and was surprised at the results. It is now three years since I discontinued the medicine and I have not had an attack of the old trouble. I hope that others may benefit by my experience."

The cures effected by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food are lasting because it builds up the system and removes the cause of trouble. 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50; at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

AN OTTAWA WEDDING.

A very pretty wedding took place last evening at 220 MacLaren Street, the home of the bride's parents, when Miss Barbara Sharpe, second daughter of Mr. Robert Stewart, ex-M.P., and Mrs. Stewart, was united in marriage to Mr. W. H. Gillespie, of Fort William, younger son of Mrs. J. E. Gillespie. The ceremony was performed at nine o'clock by Rev. Dr. Paterson, of Lachute, the bride's uncle, a large number of guests being present.

The interior of the house was a floral wreath of pink and white and green, a profusion of palms and ferns forming an effective background for the clusters of pink carnations and marguerites, which was arranged in lattice effect around the large window where the ceremony took place.

The bridal party entered the drawing room to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss Helen Stewart, the bride's sister. The aisle was formed by wide satin streamers carried by some girl friends of the bride.

The bride was brought in and given away by her father and looked very sweet and charming in her exquisite robe of ivory liberty satin simply fashioned in tunic and panel effect, embroidered in white silk in chrysanthemum and vine designs, studded with pearls. The corsage was draped with embroidered tulle and had yoke and short undersleeves of embroidered chiffon, the corsage finished with pearl ornaments and a soft wide girdle and the long train was cut square and heavily embroidered in silk. She wore a tulle veil and a wreath of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of lillies of the valley and wore the groom's gift, a diamond pendant set in platinum. The maid of honor was Miss Maysie Stewart and the bridesmaid, Miss Irene Griffin, of Westmount. Both wore exceedingly dainty gowns of hand painted ninon mounted on pink satin and fashioned in pointed and draped tunic effect. The bodices had yokes and sleeves of white lace and were trimmed with touches of black velvet and Irish point lace and edgings of pearl bugles and beads. They wore quaint caps of white lace caught at either side with clusters of rose buds and carried bouquets of pink sweet peas. The best man was Mr. Charles E. Stewart, brother of the bride, who received from the bridegroom a gold headed cane, while to the bride's attendants he gave silver initialled card cases. During the signing of the register, Miss Helen Ferguson sang splendidly d'Hardlot's "Because." After the ceremony the young couple received the congratulations of their friends and delightful refreshments were served in the dining room, where the table had been decorated with roses and lillies of the valley.

Mrs. Stewart, the bride's mother, wore a handsome gown of white satin with an overdress of black chantilly lace and prettily finished with touches of blue and a corsage bouquet of red roses. Mrs. Paterson, of Lachute, wore a rich gown of mauve crepe de chine trimmed with old lace. Miss Helen Stewart was very pretty in a white lingerie dress with sash and touches of pale blue. Mrs. Gordon Stewart, sister-in-law of the bride, was in black chiffon velvet, hand embroidered in black and white applique and trimmed with silver bugles and corsage bouquet of lillies of the valley. She wore a picture hat of black velvet faced with white and having black and white willow plumes. Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie left on the late train for Toronto, Chicago and Winnipeg and will reside in Fort William. The bride wore a smart tailored suit of king's blue cloth, the short coat opening over an empire dress of the cloth with yoke and sleeves inlet with cream lace and finished with gold beaded embroidery and black velvet buttons. She wore a blue toque with wreath of roses and bows of ribbon.

Many handsome and lovely gifts were received including some rare silver and a great many cheques.—Ottawa Evening Journal, Wednesday, April 26th.

Mr. Gillespie is a former Orangeville boy and is well-known to many Banner readers. His numerous friends here join in extending their congratulations and good wishes.

I. O. O. F. AT HOME.

The officers and members of Maple Leaf Lodge, Independent Order of Oddfellows, gave a delightful At Home in their fine Lodge Room in the Jackson Block on Wednesday night, April 26th. About one hundred and fifty people attended the function and were most favorably impressed with the hospitality and spirit of sociability evinced by the brethren of the mystic links. A very pleasant programme was provided during the early part of the evening under the direction of Mr. D. B. Brown, who filled the chair in a most pleasant and acceptable manner. Short addresses, appropriate to the occasion, were delivered by the Chairman, Rev. J. A. Black, of Mono Mills, Rev. G. A. Rix, Principal Firth, of the Public School, and Mr. V. A. Statia. The musical numbers consisted of solos by Messrs S. R. Frost, E. A. Warren and Percy Harding, three of the town's popular vocalists, a violin solo by Miss Clara Hulse, piano duets by Misses Ruth and Myrtle Shaw and Misses Wright and Lathwell, and a duett by Messrs Frost and Harding. Misses Wallace, Hulse and Wright were the accompanists. Refreshments were served after the programme. The remainder of the evening was then pleasantly spent in games, music and dancing.

LIQUOR CONFISCATED.

Magistrate Pattullo Holds that Kuntz Brewery Company Shipped Lager to Orangeville for Resale.

A good deal of interest was taken in the liquor case tried by Police Magistrate Pattullo on Tuesday afternoon. The case was the result of the seizure by Chief Ewing at the C. P. R. station early on Saturday morning, April 22nd, of twelve cases and eight kegs of lager consigned by The Kuntz Brewery Company, of Waterloo, to the address "James Speers Orangeville." The Chief suspected that the name "James Speers" was fictitious and from this circumstance and the size of the shipment concluded that the liquor had been ordered by some person in Orangeville for resale. A few hours after the seizure the Brewery Company sent a message to the Dominion Express Co., asking to have the shipment returned, claiming that it had been forwarded to Orangeville through mistake. Meanwhile Provincial Inspector Ayearst, of Toronto, who had been advised of the seizure, was busy instituting proceedings to have the consignee located and the shipment confiscated. At the hearing on Tuesday the Superintendent of the Kuntz brewery appeared and laid claim to the lager, asserting that it had been shipped here in mistake and in contravention of the brewery rules. Orders for local option municipalities, he told the Court, were not filled unless they were in writing. In this particular instance the order had been received by telephone. The Superintendent himself was absent when the order came in and it was turned over to the shipping department by the bookkeeper. After hearing the evidence, the magistrate took the view that the size of the shipment was in itself evidence that the liquor was intended for resale and ordered the lager to be confiscated. Mr. Ayearst subsequently consented to allow the liquor to be returned to the brewery company for resale in a license district upon payment into court of the sum of $15 said to be the wholesale value of the consignment. Inspector Ayearst and County Crown Attorney McKay conducted the prosecution. Mr. A. A. Hughson appeared in the interests of the brewery company.

AN UNCERTAIN BUSINESS.

The uncertainty of the hotel business is well illustrated by the experience of Mr. T. O. Kerr, formerly of Alton. Mr. Kerr first invested what money he had saved in the Alton hotel. Local Option put him out of business a year ago. He then went to Shelburne and embarked in the grocery business. Not finding this to his liking he purchased a hotel in Wroxeter in the County of Huron. Last week the Huron Commissioners cancelled his license without even allowing the three months' extension, which is usually granted to enable the landlord to dispose of his stock.

A bad back turns every twenty-four hours into one dull round of pain and misery—you are lame in the morning, nagged all day by a dull throbbing backache, can't rest in the evening or sleep well at night. It hurts to bend over, straighten up, get up from a chair, or lift even a light weight. Any sudden twist, turn or awkward movement sends a tearing twinge of pain through the weak spot.

PERSONAL UPBUILDING.

A. H. McGillivray, in Presbyterian.

The Lord's Supper pictures to us Jesus as a sacrifice for sin. The emblems of which He bids us partake in remembrance of Him tell how He gave Himself for us. It is also a pledge that He will come again and receive us unto Himself. He has commanded us to continue the observance of this sacrament until the day of His appearing.

But it is more than a picture of His sacrifice and a pledge that He will return. It is a means of grace. He who partakes thereof with discernment receives spiritual strength. To such it is an aid to faith and a help in personal upbuilding. The Shorter Catechism puts it plainly: "The worthy receivers are, not after a corporal or casual manner, but by faith, made partakers of His body and blood, to their spiritual nourishment and growth in grace." Thus in this ordinance we not only receive the benefits that flow from Christ's death but we receive Christ Himself. We have Him not only to contemplate, but to appropriate. We touch spiritual life at the fountain head.

It is worthy of note that when our Lord instituted the ordinance He used as symbols of Himself bread "that strengtheneth man's heart," and wine "that maketh glad the heart of man." And in the Scripture lesson here assigned He refers to Himself as the Bread of Life.

What bread is to the body He is to the spirit. Bread partaken of becomes flesh and blood. It makes bone, nerve, sinew. It gives strength to the arm and light to the eye. It becomes our very life. In like manner Jesus assimilated becomes the strength of our lives. Thus He says, "My flesh is meat indeed and My blood is drink indeed." We appropriate Him in faith and the Word becomes flesh. "He that eateth Me shall live by Me." The life of the Christian is not an imitation but a reproduction of the life of Christ.

It is significant that in choosing a symbol of Himself our Saviour should choose bread, a common necessity for all mankind. Bread is the staff of life. In our deep natural desires and appetite we resemble each other from age to age and recognize our common humanity. So Christ is essential to life. Without Him we cannot live. "He that hath the Son hath the Life." To the polluted He is purity; to the irritable, patience; to the faint, courage; to the weak, strength; to the ignorant, wisdom. And when we pray for daily bread we must understand it as bread for the whole nature, for we are to live not by bread alone but by every word of God. Christ comes not to supplement but to replete human life.

The bread partaken of on that memorable night was broken and distributed. The life of Jesus was to be given to the world; hence it must needs be broken. Thus far His life was fair but not communicable. His death was to be the breaking of the spirit on order that the imprisoned spirit of Life shall be shed abroad to bless the world. He must bleed if we would bless. Born in Bethlehem (House of Bread) there is a sufficiency in Him for all the needs of the world. Before His advent He was food to the faithful, for "they did all eat of the same spiritual meat and they did all drink of the same spiritual drink"; and He is saying to His Church to-day concerning all sorts and conditions of men, "They need not depart: give ye them to eat."

By partaking of our daily bread we have grown in strength and in stature. We have passed from infancy to maturity. In like manner as we feast upon the hidden manna, Christ is forming within us so that we can say, "I live, yet not I but Christ is living in me." He is the fuel of the fire of our life. He is the very force of our being, and this process of upbuilding is to go on "till we all attain unto the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a full-grown man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ." It may be said that we receive all these benefits from the Word apart from the Lord's Supper. This is true. No special kind of grace comes to us through this sacrament. Yet we realize these things more vividly and impressively at the table of the Lord. There is something in the sight of the symbol by which in an exceptional sense, the soul is nourished, hope is brightened, love is kindled, and the version of Unseen things is clarified. Nowhere else as here does the devout soul see the Unseen in the seen, the Eternal in the temperal. It is the Lord's banquetting house where He says, "Eat, O friends: drink, yea drink abundantly O Beloved." It is the Church's festival, from it we rise and go home to new strength to the tasks of life. It is the climax of the means of grace.

ORANGEVILLE PRESBYTERY.

At Tuesday's meeting of the Orangeville Presbytery, Rev. S. R. Robinson, B.A., pastor of Knox Church, Charleston, was granted leave of absence for four months, dating from June 1st, for the purpose of enabling him to attend the approaching International Sunday School Convention in San Francisco. Mr. Robinson will attend the Convention as one of the sixty or more delegates appointed to represent the Ontario Sabbath School Association. Mr. Robinson has for several years taken a very active interest in S. S. work and methods, and his appointment by the Association is a timely and deserved recognition of his services in this department of church work. Presbytery decided to organize the preaching station at Glencross as a Presbyterian congregation in connection with the Camilla field and under the supervision of Rev. A. J. Fowlie, pastor of the Camilla and Mono Centre churches. This is a matter that the Presbytery has had under consideration for the past five months. For some time past the people of the Glencross field have been given Sunday services under the supervision of the session of St. Andrew's Church, Orangeville.

At the annual meeting of the Ontario Educational Association in Toronto Easter week, Rev. J. R. Bell, of Laurel, was elected to the Presidency of the Trustees Department. A GREAT REMEDY FOR LITTLE ONES

That is what thousands of mothers say of Baby's Own Tablets. We have received thousands of letters praising them—we have yet to receive a single one condemning them. The Tablets cannot possibly do harm even to the newborn babe. They contain none of those poisonous drugs which make the so-called "soothing" mixtures so dangerous to the welfare of the little one. They are a scientific medicine prepared by one of the greatest specialists on childhood ailments and should be kept in every home where there are babies or small children. Mrs. Fred. McCarthy, Pinewood, Ont., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets and have found them a great remedy for little ones. I would not be without them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

$60,000 IN PRIZES

Canadian National Exhibition Prize List for 1911 is Out.

The prize list of the Canadian National Exhibition, August 26th to September 11th, which is being distributed, shows that the prizes have been increased in nearly every department, till the grand total reaches $60,000.

As no prizes are given for manufactures, the whole of this amount goes to live stock, horticulture, woman's work, educational exhibits, and similar lines of Canadian Industry.

The increase in the amount given to live stock is particularly noticeable. Nearly $5,000 has been added to the horses alone, while special prizes of $500 each for the best animal in the Holstein and Shorthorn classes, show that the cattle have not been neglected. Poultry also gets an additional $1,000.

In women's and children's work and educational exhibits new classes have been added, and in short every department shows the exhibition is keeping pace with its wonderful increase in attendance.

The prize list can be had by writing Manager J. O. Orr, City Hall, Toronto.

That the management fully expect to reach the million mark this year is evidenced by the announcement that the spectacular attraction will be The Festival of Empire, a reproduction of the glories of the coronation ceremonies, in which 1,500 performers will take part, while the famous Coldstream Guards Band, musicians to the Royal Household, will be the musical feature.

NOTHING LIKE IT FOR COLDS.

Mrs. Holland Ferguson, Sheffield, N.B., writes: "Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has cured my children and myself of severe colds. We are never without it in the house. There is nothing like it for colds and throat trouble, and it is so soothing and pleasant to take, my children would drink a whole bottle if they were permitted."

The Epworth League, in connection with Laurel Methodist Church, has elected the following officers for the ensuing year:—Hon.-President, Rev. T. R. White; President, Mr. Walter Gray; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. Geo. JEWELLER FENWICK DISAPPEARS.

W. A. Fenwick, the "little man from Toronto," as he styled himself, has been missing since Thursday night last. It is said that a considerable portion of his stock is also gone. There are a number of creditors who are anxiously regarding the outcome. Mr. Fenwick did business in Welland under the name of the Toronto Jewellery and Optical Co. He was rightly called the little man as he was phenomenally short.—People's Press, Welland, Ont., Tuesday, May 2nd.

Fenwick was formerly in the jewelery business in Shelburne.

SPOILING THE LOCKS.

Postmaster Park states that the locks on the post office boxes are very often spoiled by parties, who have forgotten their keys, attempting to force them open with knives, latch keys or other articles. Young people are most addicted to this practice, which no doubt largely arises from thoughtlessness. It is a poor plan of getting one's mail, and those who attempt to get into their boxes in this manner should take this reminder to heart and drop the practice. If a person happens to be without a key it is an easy matter to step to the wicket and ask to have the box opened. If the wicket is not open it is far better to do without mail than run the risk of injuring or destroying a box.

MOTHERS' DAY.

Mothers' Day will be observed on the second Sunday in May, or May 14th. Day schools are asked to celebrate on previous Friday when possible.

Object—To honor "The Best Mother Who Ever Lived." Your mother, of course.

Method—Wear a white flower, emblem of purity and fidelity. Do some act of kindness to, or in memory of your mother. Visit some lonely or sick mother. Make glad the heart of some bereaved mother. Remember any sick or unfortunate mothers in hospitals, and especially in old people's homes.

Emblem—While any white flower may be worn, the white carnation is the Mothers' Day special flower. Its whiteness stands for purity; its form, beauty; its fragrance, love; its wide field of growth, charity; its lasting qualities, faithfulness—all a true mother's attributes.

Mothers' Day is for every creed, class, race and country. It is not denominational or inter-denominational. Social, fraternal, civil, military and religious organizations, official, professional and business classes are all asked to pay homage to mothers through the wearing of the white flower, and observance of the spirit of the day.

—Orangeville water rates are now payable at the Sterling Bank instead of the office of the Town Treasurer.

WANTON DESTRUCTION.

To change the present order of things and get back the old days with their abundance of game of all kinds is impracticable, if not impossible. But it may be possible to do something in that direction. Stringent game laws have been enacted. But they do not appear to be effecting much improvement. And it may be said that it is not the farmer to whom credit is due for the enactment of what game laws we have. The prime mover in securing these has been the sportsman, who loves birds and game for what they really are, though he will take a day off in season to get a little enjoyment out of shooting them. Upon the true sportsman, however, cannot be laid the blame for wanton destruction of game and bird life which this country has experienced during the past decade or two. Perhaps the farmer, more than anyone else, is to blame, not so much because he has wantonly destroyed them, but because he has been wholly indifferent in regard to their preservation. Birds have come and birds have gone without arousing his interest. In many instances, he has looked upon birds as a nuisance. They may pick a cherry or two, destroy a few heads of grain, and are, therefore, fit subjects for slaughter. They may do some damage in this way, but it is very small indeed as compared with the good they do as destroyers of insects and other pests of field and orchard. It may be a case of locking the stable door after the horse has got out, but surely something can be done to stem the tide and bring back to the country a measure of the bird life of the past.—Canadian Farm.

SEND FOR THIS GUARANTEE BOND.

The makers of Congo Roofing have discovered an ingenious way of removing the risk and guess-work from the roofing proposition.

They are confident that Congo Roofing will last ten years, and they have undertaken to make the purchaser equally confident by giving him a genuine Surety Bond with every roll. The bond is issued by the National Surety Company of New York, and is a genuine legal document, enforceable without resort to law.

If you lay a Congo roof and it does not give you exactly the service which the makers promise it will give you, you can secure instant and complete redress.

The remarkable feature of this guarantee is that it covers ten years, and applies to both the 2-ply and the 3-ply Congo.

FALLACIOUS ARGUMENTS.

We have seen and heard much about mail order houses, and have taken the trouble to look carefully into the matter, to see if there is any truth in the statements that these concerns are able to undersell our local merchants for the same quality of goods.

We find that the only case in which they undersell our home merchants is in some unimportant articles of small value and of which every person knows the price. These they sell at cost or even less, in order that they may induce you to purchase from them the more important articles at full or even inflated prices.

Very few people, except those actually engaged in a particular business, are good judges of quality, and in most cases it is necessary for a buyer to trust the fairness and integrity of the merchant from whom he buys. It can thus be seen what advantage the mail order house obtains by selling a few small staples, the values of which are generally known, at a low price. In this way many are led to believe that their prices are correspondingly low on more important goods.

The arguments in favor of mail order houses are familiar to all our readers. Briefly stated, they are that these firms buy in larger quantities and consequently at a lower price than the local merchant, and that their turnover is so much greater that they can afford to sell on a lower margin and still pay dividends on their capital stock. While some of these arguments may seem true, they fall to the ground when considered in connection with the fact that these firms are necessarily located in large cities, where rent and taxes are vastly greater than they are here in Orangeville.

Then there is the question of help. The necessarily exact system entails an amount of labor of which the average person has no idea. The checking and counter-checking, the sorting, shipping, addressing and billing is all necessary and must be paid for.

The small interest on the capital is another will-o'-the-wisp argument, for you will notice that the owners of the capital stock are not workers in the establishment. They are not producers of revenue for the business. Every item of labor and superintendence is paid for, some of the latter at a very high rate. If the smaller merchant who is actively engaged in his own establishment was to allow himself a fair salary for his superintendence, it would be found that over and above this he obtains no greater interest on his invested capital than do the real owners of the mail order houses. In fact, many merchants make no more than a fair salary, without any return for invested capital.

You cannot be an expert in every line, but in the lines with which you are acquainted, experience will prove that you can supply your wants in Orangeville just as economically as by sending away. And in cases where you are not a judge of quality, is it not better to trust the word and accept the judgment of your neighbor, than that of a soulless corporation that has no interest in you or in Orangeville?

Think it over, and you will decide that it does not pay and is not fair to send your money away.

$3,600 in Cash Prizes for Farmers

ARE you one of the thousands of Canadian farmers who have used or intend using Canada Cement for the construction of some farm utility? If you contemplate building anything whatsoever of concrete, make up your mind right now to build it with a view to winning one of the prizes we are offering. Read the rest of this announcement and you will learn how you may try for a share in the $3,600 we are giving away, to encourage the use of cement upon the farm. Throughout Canada the farmers have taken such a keen interest in our campaign that it has inspired us to go further along these educational lines. We have decided, therefore, to offer a series of four $100.00 prizes to each of the nine Provinces, to be awarded as follows:

PRIZE "A"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who will use during 1911 the greatest number of bags of "CANADA" Cement for actual work done on his farm.

PRIZE "B"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who uses "CANADA" Cement on his farm in 1911 for the greatest number of purposes.

PRIZE "C"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who furnishes us with a photograph showing best of any particular kind of work done on his farm during 1911 with "CANADA" Cement.

PRIZE "D"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who furnishes the best and most complete description of how any particular piece of work shown by photograph sent in, was done.

In this contest no farmer should refrain from competing, because of any feeling that he may have little chance against his neighbor who he thinks might use more cement than he does.

For it will be noted that Prizes "C" and "D" have no bearing whatever on quantity of cement used. The man who sends us the best photograph of so small a thing as a watering trough or a hitching post, has as much chance for Prize "C" as a man who sends a photograph of a house built of cement—and the same with Prize "D" as to best description.

Canada Cement is handled by dealers in almost every town in Canada. Should there not happen to be a dealer in your locality, let us know and we will try to appoint one.

Contest will close on November 15th, 1911, and all photos and descriptions must be in our office by that date. Awards will be made as soon as possible thereafter. The jury of award will consist of: Prof. Peter Gillespie, Lecturer in Theory of Construction, University of Toronto; W. H. Day, Professor of Physics, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph; and Ivan S. Macdonald, Editor of "Construction."

Now, you cannot hope to do concrete work to the best advantage unless you have a copy of our free book, entitled, "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete." This book tells how to construct well-nigh anything on the farm, from hitching post to silo. Whether you enter the contest or not, you'll find this book most helpful. A post-card asking for the book will bring it to you promptly. Send for your copy to-night. From your cement dealer or from us, you can obtain a folder containing full particulars of contest. If you send to us for it, use the coupon provided in this announcement.

FELL INTO WELL.

Samuel Moore, of Shelburne, a veteran of the Fenian Raid, met with a serious accident on Wednesday of last week. He was sitting at the edge of the well curb in the east end of the village, in the rear of the electric light station, where Bellerby Bros. were putting together a windmill to pump water from the new well to the main. By some means a pole which they had been using fell and struck Mr. Moore on the head, causing a fracture of the skull, and he fell backwards into the well a distance of ten feet, and was immersed in two feet of water. He was unconscious for several hours after the accident and it is very doubtful if he ever recovers from the blow he received and the fall into the well.—Free Press.

THE BANNER

THE BANNER, MAY 11, 1911.

THE LAKE SCHEME.

It is unfortunate that the project to create an artificial lake in the Credit Valley flats has been found impracticable owing to insufficient fall. The creation of a lake close to the town would undoubtedly stimulate activity during the summer months. It would in all likelihood create considerable excursion traffic that would bring many visitors to Orangeville and cause a good deal of money to be expended here that would not, under ordinary conditions, find its way into local trade channels. The Board of Trade would do wisely not to allow the project to be finally dropped without further investigation. Even if dredging should be absolutely necessary, it would be well to get an estimate of the cost of the work before making a final decision upon the feasibility of the scheme.

THE RURAL TELEPHONE.

The rapid extension of rural telephones is a matter that the business men of our towns and villages have reason to contemplate with a good deal of satisfaction. The rural telephone will do much to strengthen the personal connection between the local merchant and his country customers, and in this way will assist to counteract the tendency to order goods from the big city departmentals. We are convinced that the home merchant who is running his business honestly and is satisfied to take close profits on his sales can prove to his customers that it is to their advantage to do their buying from him instead of sending their money to outside places, provided that he can get and keep in touch with them. The rural telephone will provide the means of getting and keeping in touch. In its wake will eventually come a rural delivery system and with this important aid to business, towns and villages will stand an excellent chance of coming into their own again.

A CRUSADE NEEDED.

Orangeville stands sorely in need of a determined and vigorous crusade against the indefensible practice of allowing ashes, garbage, old stovepipes and other rubbish to accumulate and lie undisturbed in the alleys and back lanes of the town. The visitor to our town is almost invariably struck with the neat, well-kept lawns and boulevards on Broadway, and the chief residential streets. Should he by any mischance happen to take a walk along any of the lanes—particularly at this season of the year—we fear that the favorable impression he had formed of the neatness, tidiness and general cleanliness of the town would be forever destroyed. The lane north of Broadway is an eyesore and the sanitary inspector should lose no time compelling business men and citizens, who make a practice during the winter months of using this thoroughfare and the vacant pieces of ground adjoining as a dumping place for ashes and refuse, to clean away the unsightly and in some cases unhealthy accumulations. What has been said of the Broadway lane applies—perhaps to a lesser extent—to nearly every other lane in town. To speak plainly our citizens have become grossly careless in this respect. They are tolerating conditions which do them no credit, and are detrimental to the healthfulness and the sightliness of the town. The remedy is neither difficult nor expensive. It is an easy matter for each property holder to clean up along his own premises and an inexpensive matter to have the rubbish carted away. A general determination to clean up, backed by vigorous action on the part of the sanitary inspector is all that is needed to work a wholesome and desirable change for the better. While on the subject, we may add that there seems to be a tendency to allow the practice to which reference has just been made to spread to the public streets. Citizens will readily recall more than one recent instance, where ashes have been scattered on the streets in a manner that should not be tolerated for one moment. Zina St. at the present time is marred by a large heap of ashes from the furnaces of the Public School. When a public body, so important as the Orangeville Public School Board, allows the public streets to be used in this manner, what may be expected of the ordinary citizen?

PERTINENT COMMENT.

The meeting of trains by the town constable to look out for suspicious liquor shipments naturally meets with but little favor in some quarters, and far-fetched indeed are some of the tales told about ruin up at the waterworks, etc., while the constable is attending to local option duties. The break up at the engine took place two or three weeks before the constable began to watch the trains, and the engine has only run one night since he began to watch the trains. When people get into a big sweat over things like this it only arouses suspicions that their pretence at being law-abiding citizens is a bluff. A constable's actions somehow never seem to worry a man who isn't up to some funny business himself.—Shelburne Economist.

TOLD IN THE LOBBY.

Dr. Sproule, the veteran from East Grey, who is perhaps the best authority on rules and precedence in Parliament, has been asking questions lately about the Papal Zouaves. The Eucharistic Congress in Montreal last September has been responsible for many pointed queries since the session opened. Dr. Sproule a few days ago elicited from Sir Frederick Borden the statement that the Zouaves of Quebec were not organized under the Militia Act, and "were presumably private associations." The Minister of Militia gave a touch of humor to the talk when he admitted that the Zouaves in question had been supplied with rifles, "but they are of an obsolete type." The department over which the genial Sir Frederick presides disclaimed all responsibility for the clothes the Zouaves wear. Any one who has seen these gentlemen in all their war paint will readily recognize how those baggy pantaloons would hurt the aesthetic eye of the Minister of Militia and Defence!

The death of Perry Graham, the son of the Minister of Railways and Canals, was a shock to the Press Gallery, of which he was a member. On the trip to the West of Sir Wilfrid Laurier last summer, Perry made a name for himself for good fellowship. He had much of his father's tact. This session he came into the Gallery as the representative of the Brockville Recorder—which paper is owned by Hon. G. P. Graham—and he speedily won a place in the affectionate esteem of his working newspaper friends. He seemed so full of life and the joy of living, yet he crossed the boundary with startling suddenness.

The story of the week centres about Captain Tom Wallace. The friendship of Tom and the Western giant, Glen Campbell, is proverbial. Recently Glen was the guest of Tom at Woodbridge. On Sunday they went to church, and Tom took up the collection as usual. When he came to the seat in which Campbell was sitting Tom politely presented the plate, and said:

"Don't you remember promising me fifty dollars for the reduction of our church debt?"

And Glen was so astonished that he peeled a fifty from his bulky Western roll.—"The Mace," in Toronto Saturday Night.

WHAT IS THE FARMER TO DO?

Is There No Protection Against the Automobile Menace?

The Editor of The Banner.

Dear Sir,—I am a farmer and own a young, spirited team of horses. They are not vicious, but somewhat timid. They give no trouble in passing other teams, or even a threshing machine on the road, but when they meet an automobile they become unmanageable, and it is impossible to pass without at least three able men to keep them under control, one holding the lines and one holding the head of each horse. If I knew when I would be likely to meet an auto I might be prepared for the occasion, but I don't, and just as sure as I start out I meet—or which is worse—am overtaken by one, two, or three of these "infernal flying machines." Now, Mr. Editor, in the name of common sense, what is a man to do? Is there no law to protect him from the terrible danger of accident and possible death while driving to market?

DRAINAGE DEMONSTRATION.

The Ontario Agricultural College is emphasizing the value of drainage again this summer, for which purpose drainage demonstrations are being held in many parts of the province. On Friday, May 19th, at the hour of 2 o'clock one of these demonstrations will be held on the farm of Mr. W. Buchanan, lots 11 and 12, con 3, west, Mono township. This meeting should be of special interest as some difficult places to drain are involved. Besides the discussion of the particular problems of Mr. Buchanan's farm, there will be a demonstration of methods of finding the fall over a ditch, determining the grade, digging true to grade, etc. Those of our readers interested in drainage should not miss this meeting. Anyone wishing information about the drainage work should write Prof. W. H. Day, O. A. C., Guelph.

COMMENCED 37th YEAR.

With last week's issue, the Shelburne Free Press, one of our bright and readable exchanges, commenced its 37th volume. Brer. Mortimer emphasizes the striking changes that the passing years bring by publishing the names of the old ratepayers from 1875 to 1879, who are still resident in Shelburne. There are only eighteen of them left, the following being the names:—E. F. Bowes, Jeremiah Brundige, Angus Bell, Edward Berwick, William Collins, Hugh Carson, James Cameron, Frank Gabriel, Simon Jelly, Robert McKay, Wm. Robertson, W. G. Richardson, R. A. Riky, Thomas Robson, Chas. Sinclair, J. C. Whitten, G. M. Watts and Hudson Webster.

The Banner wishes the Free Press a continuance of the growing prosperity that has been its lot in past years.

PREVENTION OF TUBERCULOSIS

The eleventh annual meeting of The Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis will be held in the Hygienic Institute in London, Ont., on Wednesday and Thursday, May 17 and 18. Evening meetings will be held in the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium. Arrangements have been made for reduced railway rates for delegates.

HYDRO-ELECTRIC POWER.

The following extract from the speech delivered by Hon. Adam Beck at the hydro-electric power inaugural in Toronto a few evenings ago furnishes an interesting statement of the work and aims of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission:—

"On behalf of the Hydro-electric Commission and the municipalities who first assumed the responsibility of undertaking the Hydro-electric power project in the Niagara district, I wish to express appreciation to Toronto and its citizens, whom we must always consider the pioneer municipality in the cheaper power movement. In was the city of Toronto that sought legislation in 1903 to undertake the development, transmission and distribution of power on her own behalf. The citizens, the Municipal Council and the press have always extended their common support. No partisanship has ever interfered with the public spirit and enterprise that have dominated her co-operation with the other municipalities in this great public undertaking.

"Whether it was ex-Mayors Urquhart and Oliver, Controller Spence, or the present incumbent, Mayor Geary, and the Board of Control and Council of to-day, there was but one desire on the part of representatives of the city of Toronto, and that was to carry out the wishes of the citizens in the best interests of the city.

"The development of the original project has been marvellous. While but thirteen municipalities assumed the large liability and responsibility, the Commission now has contracts with twenty-six municipalities for the supply of 44,000 horse-power. The Commission has made contracts for and has available 156,000 horse-power to meet the ever-increasing demands in all sections of the Province. We have now applications from sixty-two unincorporated villages, which will give an idea of the growth of the undertaking.

"The power policy as it exists to-day is not the work of any one man, Government or municipality. It has grown out of the co-operation of the municipalities, the Government and citizens of all parties.

"Electricity supplied by the Hydro-electric Commission because of its cheapness will in the course of a few years become one of the common commodities of the people. Centralization is the tendency of the times. The power policy has prevented the exploiting of one of our great natural resources, has made electricity available to large and small communities alike as well as to large and small users, and whether a large industry or a small one, the boon of cheap manufacture will assure the retaining to Ontario of its industrial supremacy with the Dominion.

"The success of the whole project is assured beyond the most sanguine anticipation of all interested. The reward to those who have given their time and labor in promoting this greatest undertaking of its kind in the world will be in the fact that the Province will be a better Province to live in, that the burdens of its people will have been lightened, and the comfort that electricity brings will be available to the humblest home in the land."

New Foulards, Mulles, Ginghams, Prints and Muslins at Ritchie Bros.

MISTAKE OF MUNICIPAL BONUS

Some of the cities of Western Canada in their anxiety to attract industrial enterprises and thereby create prosperity are showing a tendency to fall into the same error that has proved the ruin of many Eastern towns and cities, and has seriously handicapped many others. The anxiety to get manufacturing firms to locate has led some of them to offer inducements which are not legitimate or wise. It is a policy that has proved its folly in the East, and will do so in the West if it is followed.

Before any municipality decides to give free sites or water and power at or below cost, or to guarantee bonds or give a cash bonus or any other assistance that will cost the municipality a cent of money or credit, the ratepayers should look into the matter.

In the first place, an industry that will not be remunerative to its promotors is not desirable in any community. Any concern that is not strong enough to make its business go and make profits without the aid of a municipality will hardly do so with what aid a municipality can give. There are too many instances of firms starting business on the capital provided or guaranteed by the municipality and nothing else but hot air and nerve. They do not last long, the promoters get the money and the municipality gets a useless building and experience. If a concern cannot stand on its own feet, a municipal prop will not make it walk.

On the other hand, if the industry is going to be a paying concern, what is the necessity of giving it any assistance? If it is a legitimate enterprise entering into a paying business, it will establish itself where there is the most profitable business to be done. Whatever assistance a municipality can give, would not influence it. The great majority of the ratepayers in any municipality cannot afford to pay taxes to help men who have money make more, nor can they afford to tax themselves to give money to those who want it by promoting companies instead of working for it as the ratepayers themselves do.

The best and only attraction for any legitimate concern is a good market, good shipping facilities and a supply of raw material within reach of their plant. Without these, all the bonuses that could be voted by a dozen municipalities will not make it a success. And a failure is a black eye to any community. The whole bonus system, in whatever shape it is presented, is bad, and should be shunned by municipalities as they would the plague.—Collingwood Bulletin.

WANTS TO GO TO CORONATION.

Mayor Thorp, of Guelph, Makes An Interesting Suggestion.

Mayor Thorp, of Guelph, is of the opinion that the Mayors of the cities and larger towns of Ontario should attend the Coronation in a body and present King George and his Consort with an address expressive of the loyalty of themselves and their constituents. Mayor Thorp's idea is embodied in a circular letter, a copy of which was received by Mayor Riddell a few days ago. The letter reads:—

Dear Sir,—In regard to the King's Coronation in June next, what do you think of the idea of the Mayors in the Province attending the Coronation in a body and presenting him and her majesty, the Queen, with an address expressing our loyalty, etc., or at least as many Mayors as can find it convenient to attend. And we might have our wives accompany us, to be presented to their majesties also.

It is my opinion that we should take advantage of the positions we hold at the present time, and it will give us an opportunity of taking in the whole proceedings much more advantageously than an ordinary citizen could ever expect to do, aside from the assurance we show the British Public and the World of the loyalty of the leading Province of the Dominion over the seas. Our meeting and discussing public matters together, comparing notes, etc., would also be advantageous to each one of us and the municipalities we represent. Then again, by going in a body or in groups we might get better railway, steamer, and hotel accomodation at less cost. We might appoint one of our number to act for us in securing same.

Let me hear from you at an early date as to whether this suggestion meets with your approval or not. And if it does, make any further suggestions that may occur to you."

FIRTH CONCERT A SUCCESS.

Those who attended the concert given by the Francis Firth Co. in the Town Hall Monday evening, enjoyed a rare treat. Seldom does one have the opportunity of hearing such versatile artists as this company contains. Mr. S. Homer Eaton, the reader and impersonator, can certainly hold an audience and move them to tears and laughter. His character impersonations are unsurpassed by any artists in his line.

Miss Mazie Jackson possesses a pure soprano voice which combined with a charming manner makes her a great favorite.

Mr. W. Francis Firth, baritone, author and composer, displayed a voice of exceptional range and quality, containing the brilliancy of a robust tenor. His singing of Annie Laurie will long be remembered by those who heard him, while his own compositions "Whisperings of Love" and "There Let Me Rest" which he played and sang, proved him to be a composer of no small ability.

Each member of this little company officiated at the piano, and in all, gave the citizens of Sarnia one of the greatest treats heard here in years.—Sarnia Post, Feb. 9th, 1911.

The above Company will appear in the Town Hall here on Friday evening, May 19th, under the auspices of the Canadian Order of Foresters. Admission 25c. and 35c. Plan of hall open at The Banner Book Store, on Friday morning, May 12th, at 9 o'clock.

PEOPLE WILL TALK.

You may get through the world, but it will be slow,
If you listen to all that is said as you go,
You'll be worried and fretted, and kept in a stew,
For meddlesome tongues will have something to say,
For people will talk.

If kind, or generous, or a smile, or a joke,
They will insinuate you are worse than a rogue;
If upright, and honest, and fair as the day,
They will say you're a crook in a
sly, sneaking way,
For people will talk.

And then if you show the least boldness of heart,
Or a slight inclination to take your own part;
They will call you an upstart, conceited and vain.—
But keep right ahead, don't stop to explain,
For people will talk.

If threadbare your dress, or old-fashioned your hat,
Someone will surely take notice of that,
And hint rather strongly you can't pay your way,
But don't get excited whatever they say,
For people will talk.

Now the best way to do is to do as you please,
For your mind, if you have one,
will then be at ease;
Of course you will meet with all sorts of abuse,
Don't try to stop it—you'll find it
no use,
For people will talk till judgment day.

STANTON.

On the night of May 1st, the dwelling house of Clifford Hand, w ½ lot 5, con. 6, township of Mulmur, together with its contents, was completely destroyed by fire. The fire was first noticed by the hired man, who was sleeping in an upstairs room on the south side of the house. The woodshed is situated to the south of the house adjoining the kitchen, and when first noticed the flames appeared to be issuing from the woodshed. The man arose in haste and quickly aroused Mr. and Mrs. Hand and their infant child, who were the only other occupants of the house at the time. He then hastened to attempt to put out the fire, but found that it was beyond all control. Mr. Hand's first thought was to get his wife and infant child, which was only ten days old, removed to a place of safety. They were quickly got out of the doomed house and Mrs. Hand made her way in the darkness after midnight to the home of her father in Stanton, a distance of 1½ lots, carrying her little one in her arms. It was a risky flight, but we are pleased to state that Mrs. Hand is recovering nicely from the shock and excitement, and is not likely to suffer any ill effects from her trying experience. The destroyed house was one of the largest and most beautiful dwellings in this neighborhood. The origin of the fire is wrapped in the deepest mystery. There had been no fire in the part of the dwelling where the conflagration originated since last summer and neither Mr. Hand nor his hired man used tobacco in any form. House and contents were insured in two companies, namely, The Dufferin Farmers' Mutual, which carried the following risk, on house $500, on ordinary contents $225, a total of $725, and The British American Company, $550 on house and $225 on contents, a total of $775. The policy in The Dufferin Farmers' Mutual was paid in full last Friday by the Adjuster, Mr. John Johnston, of Laurel. The policy in the British American Company was not a blanket policy, which covers almost every article in a house. As male and female clothing, flour and all kinds of provisions were not specially mentioned, the adjuster for the Company deducted $84, from an insurance of $225, thereby reducing the insurance on the contents to $141. We learn since that there was one room in the house in which Miss Hand had clothing and household effects to the value of $100 stored away. There was no insurance at all on this, but the adjuster was so sympathetic that he grafted on $25 to cover the loss of property that was not insured. Your correspondent is in favor of paying every legitimate insurance claim to the last dollar, but detests the practice of cutting off what should be paid on the one hand and grafting on something that should not be paid on the other, in order to make an appearance of being sympathetic. We might say here that the inventory of the total loss on contents alone amounts to upwards of $600. The Dufferin Mutual Company acted very honorably in paying their share of the insurance without any deduction whatever. The policy holders in this Company have good reason to be proud of their Company's record and should do their utmost to extend the sphere of its operations. The Company has a capable, conscientious adjuster in Mr. Johnston, who can always be depended upon to see that full justice is done to the assured and at the same time to guard the Company from loss through any imposition or attempted fraud. To those who have not placed their risks with this Company we would say, "Take the first opportunity and place your insurance in the Dufferin Farmers' Mutual."

LAUREL.

The weather was very cold last week and as a result vegetation was practically at a standstill. Very little progress was made with seeding operations and some of our farmers were looking rather blue. There are always those who forget the promise of seedtime and harvest. We like to meet people—no matter what their walk in life, who look on the bright side of life and do not try to meet trouble on the narrow bridge. After darkness comes the light and after the cold and frost comes the warm, bright sunshine. There have been cold and dark days, but now we have the bright sunshine and with the increasing warmth vegetation is growing rapidly, the birds are singing everywhere, and all nature seems to be pulsating with new life and vigor. Have we not very many things to be thankful for.

I am glad to be able to report that our little town is not at a standstill, but on the contrary is making steady and satisfactory progress. Our blacksmith, who is doing a good business along honest lines, has just finished plastering his shop both inside and out with cement and has marked it out in blocks, which not only adds greatly to the appearance of the building, but brightens up the town as well.

Mr. J. A. Hughes has thoroughly renovated his store by repainting and making other improvements. Mr. Hughes' business is increasing rapidly. Mr. Hughes is a good storekeeper and is now in the enjoyment of as large a business as any village storekeeper west of Toronto. We are proud of our local merchant and the success he is making of his business.

Mrs. R. A. Gray has sold her cottage to Mr. Neely, of Toronto. Mrs. Gray and family left Laurel on Wednesday last for London to join her husband, Mr. R. A. Gray, who holds a good position with the G. T. R. Company. We will miss the family, but wish them every happiness and success in their new home. Mr. Neeley has already moved into Mr. Gray's house. We bid him a cordial welcome to our community and hope he will find the atmosphere and environment to his liking.

Mr. Edward Richardson is already making preparations to rebuild his dwelling house. We understand that on Saturday last the Directors of the Dufferin Farmers' Mutual Company made a very satisfactory settlement of Mr. Richardson's insurance claim.

Mr. Wm. Patterson is making preparations to erect a new kitchen as an addition to his residence on lot 11, con. 2, Amaranth.

Mr. J. W. Gordon is preparing to build a new barn on lot 12, con. 3, Amaranth.

The Women's Institute held its annual meeting in the Methodist church last week. There was a large attendance of the members. Officers were elected as follows:—President, Mrs. R. Curry; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. E. Richardson; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. S. T. Ranton; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Geo. Nelson. With such an efficient staff of officers we are looking forward to the Society having a very prosperous year. We wish them every success in their work.

CAMILLA.

An old resident of the township of Mono passed away on Sunday morning, April 30th, in the person of Mrs. Mary Buchanan, wife of Robert Buchanan. Deceased lady, who was 76 years of age, died at the home of her son, Roland Buchanan, lot 15, 2nd line, west, where she and her aged husband had made their home for some time past. Mrs. Buchanan was a native of this township, being a daughter of the late Richard Allen. She was married 57 years ago and during her lifetime in the township had witnessed the many stages that marked the gradual transformation of the country from densely wooded forest to fertile and well-cultivated farm lands. Those left to mourn her loss are her husband, three sons, Roland and Thomas, of Mono, and Richard J., of Moose Jaw, Sask., and four daughters, Mrs. Thos. Allen and Mrs. Harry Bailey, of Orangeville; Mrs. James Fleming, of Alliston, and Mrs. William McGuire, of Toronto. Messrs. Henry, Michael and William Allen, of Mono, are brothers. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon, May 2nd, to St. John's Church cemetery, 7th line, east, Mono. Much sympathy is felt for the surviving relatives.

WALDEMAR.

Seeding will soon be a thing of the past in and around this locality. The weather has been ideal.

Paper hanging, house cleaning and gardening seem to be the main topics of the day with the industrious village house wife.

Master Cedric Groskurth is confined to the house these days with a severe attack of rheumatic fever. We hope to soon see him out again.

Miss Lillie Courtney, of Hespeler, formerly of this village, is renewing old acquaintances in this section.

Mrs. R. C. Rodgers, of Main St., has returned after an extended visit to friends in Brantford.

Mrs. John McFadzean, of this place, is attending her sister, Mrs. James Brown, who was suddenly overcome with a severe attack of appendicitis. From the latest report we are glad to say that Mrs. Brown is almost out of danger.

Rev. Mr. McCallum preached a very interesting sermon to a large and thoroughly appreciative congregation in the Presbyterian Church here last Sunday evening. The text was appropriately chosen from the 4th chapter of St. Mark's gospel. Those, who have not been coming out to the evening service should strain a point if necessary in order to attend as Mr. McCallum will no doubt make it worth while for any person within reach to come and spend an hour listening to him. Besides a large congregation is very encouraging to the pastor.

Mr. Joseph Lomas has erected an up-to-date driving shed. R. Dixon & Sons, of Grand Valley, are the contractors. When completed the building will have a neat, artistic appearance and will add greatly to the looks of Mr. Lomas' premises.

THE MAPLES.

Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Hunter, of this place, have the sympathy of their many friends in the grievous loss they have been called upon to suffer through the death of their year old son, William Henry. The little boy was a strong, vigorous child and was in excellent health up to Sunday night before his death, when he was taken very ill with convulsions. Dr. Hunter was with him nearly all day Monday, but was unable to save the precious life. Death brought the little sufferer a happy release about one o'clock on Tuesday morning. The child was named after his grand uncle, the late W. H. Hunter, and was born on the day preceding his well-known relative's death. The funeral was held to Greenwood cemetery, Orangeville, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Rev. Mr. McCallum, of Waldemar, conducted the services at the house and grave. The sympathy of the entire neighborhood is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Hunter in their loss.

A WORD OF GRATITUDE.

"In justice to humanity I want to tell you that I was a great sufferer from itching piles, and have found Dr. Chase's Ointment the best treatment obtainable," writes Mr. Fred. Hinz, Brodhagen, Ont. "It gives instant relief and I can recommend it to any sufferer from this dreadful disease."

PROGRESSIVE EUCHRE PARTY.

The Charity Society held a delightful euchre party in the old Council Chamber in the Town Hall on Friday night. There were upwards of one hundred guests present. Playing commenced at nine o'clock and was heartily enjoyed by everyone until nearly midnight, when the young ladies of the refreshment committee served a dainty luncheon. During luncheon hour the prizes were presented to the lucky winners as follows:—ladies' point prize, Mrs. J. A. V. Preston; lady's lone hand, Miss Margaret Scott; gent's point prize, Mr. R. B. Plummer; gent's lone hand, Mr. J. A. Atcheson; consolation prizes, Mrs. F. Marshall, Mr. John A. Leighton. Luncheon was followed by a pleasant dance. The assembly room was prettily decorated with flags and bunting, the Charity Society colors, red, yellow and black, being quite noticeable in the color scheme.

CHANGES IN HARDWARE STORE.

Mr. S. A. McCartney has made several important changes and a notable improvement in the appearance of his hardware store. The betterment in appearance will be further enhanced by 2 Silent Salesman Showcases that are to be installed in a few days. Mr. McCartney is also building a stockhouse at the rear of his store, which will prove a useful convenience for storing cement, nails and other heavy stock. In building the stockhouse provision has been made for loading and unloading goods with a minimum lift. We are glad to note these evidences of the prosperity that Mr. McCartney is enjoying in his business.

Salt Rheum On the Hand

Yielded only to the soothing, healing influence of DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

In addition to the suffering and annoyance caused by eczema and salt rheum there is always danger of the trouble spreading and becoming chronic. For this reason the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment should be regular and persistent until the cure is thorough and complete.

Mrs. John J. Delory, Linwood, Antigonish county, N.S., writes:—"I want to say that Dr. Chase's Ointment has proven a great blessing to me. I had salt rheum on one hand, and could not get it healed up. The itching was most distressing at times. Two boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment has cured me completely, and I gladly recommend it to every sufferer."

In every home there is a demand for Dr. Chase's Ointment. It is particularly useful where there are children. Chafing and skin irritation are relieved at once and eczema is cured by this soothing, healing ointment. 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

BARN BLOWN DOWN.

About 6 o'clock on Monday night, May 1st., a well developed cyclone struck the barn of Miss Martha Hunter, near Caledon Lake, and completely wrecked it. The storm lasted only a few minutes and covered a very small area. The barn was a bank one, 60x40. It was completely destroyed, the timbers being twisted and broken so that they were only fit for kindling wood. Several hens were killed, but fortunately, three cows that were stabled underneath escaped without injury. Miss Hunter had some insurance on the barn, but nevertheless will lose considerable through the disaster.

Three years ago this coming August a barn that stood in the same place was directly in the path of a destructive windstorm and was completely wrecked. The barn that was demolished on May 1st., replaced this building.

NEWS NOTES.

Happiness arises chiefly by catching its opportunities as they arise, not by forming ideal conditions under which alone we fancy that we can be happy.

Mr. Hugh Guthrie, M.P. for South Wellington, has announced that Guelph is to have a new city regiment. It is said that it will likely be a regiment of Highland Light Infantry or of Fusiliers. Many of the local military men would like a Kilt regiment, but the cost of the uniforms is almost prohibitive, the officers' alone being placed at $500 each. It is proposed to make it an eight company regiment, which at full strength would be 488 men of all ranks. The full eight companies will not be organized right away, but the proposition is to start with just half that number, or four companies.

AFTER 7 YEARS SUFFERING

I Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Waurika, Okla.—"I had female troubles for seven years, was all run down, and so nervous I could not do anything. The doctors treated me for different things but did me no good. I got so bad that I could not sleep day or night. While in this condition I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and began its use and wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. In a short time I had gained my average weight and am now strong and well."—Mrs. SALLIE STEVENS, R. F. D. No. 3, Box 31, Waurika, Okla.

Another Grateful Woman

London, Ont.—I feel as if I could not tell others enough about the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was so weak and tired that I could not rest nights. A friend recommended your Compound and I soon gained health and strength and could not wish to sleep better. I know other women who have taken it for the same purpose and they join me in praising it.—Mrs. WM. A. BUFFY, 905 Dame St., London, Ont.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has surely cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, and nervous prostration.

SEED-TIME AND HARVEST.

The school children of Toronto had at their credit on the 10th of March last in the Penny Savings Bank $164,384.85; of which amount it is said one boy deposited the tidy sum of $500. This splendidly illustrates the advantage of a convenient means of depositing small amounts. But what is of greater importance to our young people, and to older people also, is that they should have some plan of investment for their savings that may be of permanent advantage to them, a plan that, when old age arrives and their earning days are over, will furnish an income that will enable them to live in comfort, happiness and dignity for the remainder of their lives. Such a plan is provided by the Canadian Government by its Annuities Act. If, for example, the lad referred to, who we will assume for the purpose of illustration is 16 years of age, will avail himself of this plan, and will deposit with the Government one-half of the amount which he has already saved, or $250, he will receive at 60 an Annuity of $154.65; and if he will add to his $250, $20 a year from 16 to 60, he will receive a further sum of $245.70, or a total income of $400.55 a year for life, payable in quarterly instalments. If he should die before 60, all his payments would be returned to his estate with 3 per cent. compound interest; though the same payments would secure for him a larger Annuity if he did not wish to provide for this return.

If the pennies of the child had not been deposited in the Savings Bank, there is little doubt that in the majority of cases they would have been spent on trifles; but while the custodian of their savings is the Savings Bank, the temptation to withdraw will constantly recur. If deposited with the Government for the purchase of an Annuity, they cannot be withdrawn, for if they could be the object aimed at would probably in 99 cases out of 100 never be attained. The advice of Sir Walter Raleigh: "Use thy youth so that thou mayest have comfort to remember it when it hath forsaken thee, and not sigh and grieve at the account thereof; use it as the springtime which soon departeth and wherein thou oughtest to plant and sow all provision for a long and happy life," is good advice still, though given over three hundred years ago; and you can now plant and sow where the harvest will be sure and abundant, for the Annuities plan is positively the only plan open to you that will enable you to spend your principal and interest without your income becoming smaller no matter how long you may live.

In youth, life seems limitless and boundless, but before middle age is reached the shortening process becomes daily more real. There is no time to sow "wild oats." Statistics show that at 45, 97 per cent. of men meet with reverses and lose their entire accumulations; that at 60, 95 per cent. are dependent upon their daily earnings or on their children for support; and that of those who fail at 45 only 2 per cent. ever recover their financial standing. The advantages, therefore, which the Annuities system presents as a means of making provision for old age should be apparent to everyone. In an interview a few days ago with an old lady of 90, who is an inmate of a poorhouse, she said she frequently cries for hours at a time at the thought of having to end her days in such a place. But no one who has purchased a Canadian Government Annuity need ever be afraid of ending his or her life there, as no process of law can deprove him or her of it. The wolf will never enter their door.

Anyone of the age of five or over who is domiciled in Canada may begin, and may receive the Annuity at 55 or any age thereafter; and any person now of the age of 55 or over may purchase an Immediate Annuity. For a small addition to the ordinary rate an Annuity may be continued for a certain number of years though death occurs before the number of years expires.

Literature explaining all about this most provident system may be obtained at the post office or on application to S. T. Bastedo, Superintendent of Annuities, Ottawa, to whom letters go free of postage. He will be glad to give you all information if you will write to him.

THE BRIGHTEST DAY FOR EVERY WOMAN.

Comes With Good Health Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Her brightest day for every girl and every woman is the day when she looks well, feels well and is well; but with most of the fair sex such days are rare. Instead they suffer from a painful languor, have a terrible weakness in the back, headaches that make everything seem blurred, and a ceaseless aching in the limbs. These and other trials afflict girls and women through the lack of rich, red blood nature is calling for. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have given the joy of real robust health to thousands of women who are happy today because these Pills actually make the rich, red blood that makes weak ones well and strong. This statement has been proven over and over again. Here is further proof from Mrs. C. J. Brook, Manitou, Man., who says: "After a busy term on second class work, followed only by a short time of relaxation and a strenuous two and a half months normal course, in March, 1906, I began teaching school. I had a heavy rural school, with a large attendance, and consequently a large number of grades. Thus I found the work a great nervous strain. This added to the overwork of study, previous to teaching, soon resulted in a "run down" condition. When vacation time came I did not put much attention to my condition as I thought the holidays would fully restore me, but as I resumed work again I soon found this was not the case. One morning when I came to breakfast everything reeled before me and I almost fainted away. The lady with whom I was boarding advised me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She always spoke very highly of them, her daughter having used them with the most beneficial results following a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I decided to take her advice, and had only taken a few boxes when I began to improve in health—and such an appetite as I had. I rapidly gained health, my face had a healthy glow, and I gained in weight. I have since often recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to others who have used them with equally beneficial results, and I believe the Pills to be a standard remedy for the ills for which you recommend them."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Bruce Times gives the following incident that occurred in Walkerton recently:—A foolish friend, someone has said, is more dangerous than a wise enemy, and Amos Leech, bartender at the Royal hotel, has painful proof of the truth of this contention. A man whom he hadn't seen for some time was so fervently affectionate when he saw Amos last week, that he rushed up and hugged the barkeeper to such purpose, that he collapsed under the embrace and fell like a rag against the bar. Afterwards rallying, Leech continued to experience the utmost pain, and on consulting a physician, learned that he had nearly been killed with kindness, as two of his ribs were found to be broken directly over his heart.

Father Morriscy Medicine Co., Ltd.

I am writing to tell you I have been a victim to Rheumatism for several years, and have been treated by seven doctors without finding any permanent relief until I got Father Morriscy's medicine. It has cured me so I am able to do my work and feel I am as well as ever in my life.

Yours truly, JOHN CRAWFORD.

Rheumatism cannot exist when the kidneys are in perfect working order for then they take out of the blood all the Uric Acid, which alone causes the Rheumatism.

Father Morriscy's "No. 7" Tablets act directly on the kidneys, toning them up and helping them to clear the blood of the Uric Acid. If the Rheumatism is of long standing it may take some time to clear out all the poison, but almost from the first "No. 7" Tablets relieve the pain, and if used faithfully they rarely fail to cure.

Even if other remedies have done you no good, do not give up till you have tried Father Morriscy's "No. 7" Tablets.

ARE COWS INJURED BY MILKING MACHINE.

Some Experiments Show That They are Not—Careless Handling May Cause Trouble—All Machine-Milked Cows Should be Stripped.

(By J. Vanderleck, Macdonald College)

Is it possible to milk cows clean with the milking machine or is there much strippings? Does the yield of machine-milked cows compare favorably with the yield obtained by the average milker? Is there any difference in the quality of the machine-drawn milk? Does the milking machine cause any depreciation in the value of the cows?

To answer such important questions one cannot rely on personal observation only, and I have therefore collected data from all over the continent. After careful consideration of all the facts I have come to the conclusion that the foregoing points must be answered in favor of the milking machine.

The value of the method of machine milking will be determined by the thoroughness of the work. With only a few exceptions, cows have taken kindly to the milking machine after they become once accustomed to it. In this respect there is no necessity to consider the breed or age of the cow. We have in our possession numerous data about cows, which at first objected to machine milking, and had to be induced by special means to give their milk down. Most of them, however, became in course of time accustomed to the machine. The few cows which refused absolutely to be milked by machine do not testify against the method. Such cows should be disposed of to hand milking concerns or sold for beef.

In some places heifers have been put to machine milking as soon as the inflammation had gone out of the udder after parturition. As such tests are only of very recent date, no more than two lactation records are on hand, but these records compare favorably with any two-year-old record made in an average herd. Heifers in their first lactation give down their milk quite freely, and are less inclined to hold up milk than are cows which have been hand-milked for several years. Here is a record of such a heifer: She was a grade Jersey and freshened on Sept. 17, and gave from Oct. 14 to July 20, a period of 280 days, 5,200 pounds of milk by machine, and 185 pounds of strippings by hand. The milk tested 4.85 per cent. fat, and 253 pounds of butter were made from this milk. The same cow freshened again in Sept. 22, and gave in her second lactation from Sept. 29 to June 13, a period of 259 days, 5,600 pounds of milk, including 523 pounds of strippings. The milk tested 5.41 per cent. fat, and 294 pounds of butter were made from this milk.

Another record that deserves mentioning was made by a Holstein in her seventh year. The cow freshened on Dec. 28 and gave from Dec. 30 to Dec. 7, a period of 336 days, 12,206 pounds of milk and only 5 pounds of strippings in the second week. The milk tested 3.04 per cent. fat, and 371 pounds of butter were made from this milk. It happens sometimes that cows have suddenly made very poor records, and in nearly all instances we have been able to trace it back to disturbing influences. A Jersey with a milk record of 100 pounds of strippings in 280 days, gave more than half of that amount in one week. It appeared that during the week this cow gave 65 pounds of strippings the teatcups had been too big. When the teatcups do not fit snugly, the vacuum will attract a surplus flow of blood to that region and the milk elaboration will be impaired.

Most of the complaints made by dairymen about the shortcomings of the milking machine are easily traced back to careless handling of the machine. With the introduction of the universal teatcup the scope for mistakes is getting smaller and smaller. In the first place the teatcup must be just right, not too large nor too small, for if the cup is too large the constant suction tends to expand the teat to practically the same size as the inner diameter of the cup. This causes a temporary swelling, which is not only annoying but at the same time gives chance that a considerable amount of milk is retained in the teat while in this distended condition. The cause of this temporary swelling is due to the increased amount of blood that is drawn in to the teat. If this is practiced for a long time it will result in an undue distention of the teat, and cause it to be sore. If the cups are too small, it will interfere with the milking by obstructing the flow of the milk and closing the milk-duct of the teat. When milkers are in haste, it frequently happens that in attaching the teatcups the teats are not drawn squarely in the cups. As a result the opening of the teat is drawn against the side of the cup and no milk can be drawn from the teat. This explains why by careless attachment of the teatcups it is found sometimes that one teat is not milked. For good and effective work it is a wise plan to draw the cups partially down after they have been attached and allow the cups to place themselves back in position. By doing this the opening will adjust itself to the teatcup.

During the summer months it is necessary to be especially careful in the use of teatcups and rubber mouth pieces. Cows on pasture are giving a large flow of milk and the udder and the teats are larger and more tender and often sunburn and chap, so that it is advisable to use teatcups and mouth pieces that are a little larger than what have been used during the rest of the year, so as not to injure the teats. Sore and chapped teats are more quickly healed when milked with a milking machine than when milked by hand.

One objection to the milking machine is that the shape, size and quality of the udder and teats of some cows make it impossible for the machine to do efficient work with them. Teats abnormally small or large and warty or meaty teats are apt to render machine-milking unsatisfactory. Our only answer is that cows which show abnormalities should be rejected. The breeder has it in his power to select only animals which answer to certain conditions; there is no reason why the udder and teats should not be one of those. As a general rule it is a fact that cows with normal udders give down their milk with very little manipulation.

Many operators have found that it gave a marked improvement when they manipulated the udders of the cows. The record of a Holstein shows that for a period of 12 weeks, the milk amount varied between 360 and 327 pounds, and the amount of butter from this milk varied between 13.5 and 15 pounds. There were, practically speaking, no strippings, but to arrive at these splendid results manipulation of the udder had been necessary, otherwise it would have been impossible to obtain all the milk by machine. After about two-thirds of the milk was drawn the operator massaged the udder, beginning at the top and working continually downwards, carefully kneading all hard places, thus freeing the alveoli and milk-cistern from milk.

The question whether stripping is advisable with a commercial herd is denied by many dairymen. They maintain that the labor required for this purpose is too expensive considering the small amount of milk obtained. They forget, however, that leaving milk in the udder will have a retarding influence on the milk flow, causing the cow to dry up earlier than is necessary. From a progressive standpoint any factor that tends to lessen production, even though a temporary financial gain might result, should not be tolerated, because in time it would undoubtedly affect the dairy qualities of the cows so treated. It is rather peculiar that strippings from machine-milked cows are so exceptionally rich in butter fat, some strippings testing as high as 11 per cent. fat.

Machine milking has no appreciable effect upon the physical condition of the cows, nor does it affect in any way the udder of the majority of animals. It has further no apparent effect as regards the quality, texture or form of the udders, nor do the teats increase in length, change in texture, or become less in calibre by reason of the mechanical suction to which they are subjected. On the other hand, improvements have been noticeable in the udders of several cows.

Sometimes garget results when cows are machine-milked without stripping. In herds where machine milking has been adopted, such cows must be hand-milked or carefully stripped, until the milk secretion is again perfectly normal.—The Canadian Farm.

THE HORSE'S POWER TO ATTRACT.

Automobiles may come and automobiles may go, but the power of the horse to attract will live on. There is something inherent in the horse that attracts man aside from its usefulness. It has been said that the horse is the most beautiful animal God has made. And is this no true? There are creatures more beautiful in color, perhaps, or more striking in their general contour, but the all must take a back seat when the well trained spirited beast of the equine race gets into position. See him as he foots it off on the tanbark, every muscle strained, every nerve centred upon leaving distance in the rear, and obeying the behest of his master. The pacer, the trotter, the high stepper, the jumper, and even the slower going drafter, all have their power to attract. And that they do attract a visit to a horse show, such as was held in Toronto last week, would convince the most skeptical. The pessimist will say it is the spring millinery and society clothes which draw on occasions of this kind. Not a bit of it. Just try out a function of this kind, spring hats, silk gowns, and all that without the horse, and how many will pay a dollar or two to see it all? Very few indeed. But why go to the trouble of decorating a building as the armories were decorated last week, with all the trimmings that go to make a place look beautiful? If the horse will attract of itself, why all this expense? Merely to provide a suitable setting for our equine friend. A horse may be ever so attractive, yet he cannot overcome the repelling effect of bare walls, uncovered rafters, or poorly dressed onlookers. It may be, too, that fine surroundings influence the horse and spur him on to greater efforts to please.—The Canadian Farm.

FOX FARMING.

The richest farming in the world is fox farming—black fox farming. It is really gold mining. On Prince Edward Island the business of breeding black foxes has been carried on for a generation. Frank Deedmeyer, our consul at Charlottetown, says that $2,300 has been paid to a breeder for a single black fox skin; the prices for ordinary pelts run from $300 to $500 each. Some fox farmers have been able to pay off a farm mortgage by the sale of a pure black fox skin.—New York Press.

John Boyd, of Creemore, has a flock of twenty-nine hens which he reckons are pretty hard to beat as egg producers. In thirty days they laid 587 eggs—a fraction less than twenty per day.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

This Year's Meeting Will Be Held In City of Toronto.

Ottawa will have the signal honor this summer of entertaining the General Assembly of the Canadian Presbyterian Church. This is not the first time the Capital has been chosen but it is some ten years since the last occasion when this distinction was conferred on her. The delegates, drawn from the Atlantic to the Pacific, numbering between five and six hundred, will see a different city than the last time General Assembly convened here. When the canny Caledonians from the Maritime Province find themselves between the Chateau Laurier and the new Central Station they will rub their eyes and wonder if they did not get off at the wrong place.

The church parliament will meet on June 7, and all the sessions are to be held in the centrally located Knox Church, City Hall square. The duration of the sessions cannot be forecasted to a certainty, but two weeks is supposed to give ample time for all their deliberations. Some distinguished fraternal delegates are expected from the Presbyterian churches of Scotland and of the United States.

At least three questions of vital interest to the whole Canadian church will come up for action. The relation which Queen's University shall sustain to the church still trembles in the balance, and a battle royal is predicted between the advocates and the opponents of clean-cut separation. Church union with the Methodist and Congregational bodies will also loom largely on the horizon. As an overwhelming majority of the Presbyteries have endorsed the project since the last General Assembly in Halifax, it is thought that the action to be taken this year will be for the assembly to send the question of organic union to the individual sessions and congregations. This will be equivalent to a thoroughly democratic referendum of the church, and will leave no room for conjecture as to the whole membership's feelings.

The Board of Social and Moral Reform, through Rev. Dr. Shearer, the secretary, will introduce a radical report on the church's attitude towards monopolies and ill-gotten fortunes, and the assembly will be asked to take a strong and clearly-defined stand on the side of the workingman in his industrial conflict. This report was given a preliminary airing at a London Presbytery meeting some days ago and caused a profound stir.

There is always much interest in the election of the new moderator. It is believed by many local Presbyterians that the honor of succeeding Rev. Dr. Forrest, principal of Dalhousie University, Halifax, in the moderator's chair, will fall to Rev. Dr. R. P. MacKay, Secretary of the Foreign Mission Board for many years. Dr. MacKay made a close run last year for this position. Local Presbyterians are eagerly preparing to entertain the church delegates with generous hospitality.

DENISON FOUND.

A very sudden and unexpected death occurred in Erin Township, when Mr. Denison Found passed peacefully away on April 25th, after just a few hours sickness. Deceased was in his usual health when he arose in the morning, but was taken sick about 8 o'clock and died at five the same afternoon. He was conscious until near the end and chatted cheerfully ten minutes before his death. The late Mr. Found was a native of Yorkshire, England, and came to this country some fifty years ago, his wife dying six years later. The funeral took place from the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. T. Fines, to Erin cemetery, the service at the house and at the grave being conducted by the Rev. Dr. McArthur. There remains to mourn his loss, one sister, Mrs. H. Clark, Mildan, Sask., and two daughters, Mrs. H. Milson, Mono, and Mrs. T. Fines; sixteen grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Mr. Found joined the Methodist church early in life. He was a kind citizen and an obliging neighbor, and was highly respected by the whole community. The pallbearers were, Messrs. J. Henderson, J. Cassells, J. Jackson, R. Fines, Mono; J. McBride T. Wilson, Erin.—Erin Advocate.

Cod Liver Oil With the Oil Taken Out

A Triumph for Chemical Science and Pharmaceutical Skill

Oil from the liver of the cod-fish has been used as a preventative of disease and a restorative for ages.

For a long time it has been the general opinion that the medicinal value of Cod Liver Oil was the greasy, oily part itself—its only drawback being the unpalatable, fishy taste of the oil.

From the first experts have been trying to find means to make it more palatable. They used to "cut" it with whiskey—take it in wine—flavor it with lemon juice—anything to get away from that abominable fishy taste and smell.

Lots of people still take it in Emulsion form, which is nothing more than "churned" oil—broken up—but still greasy, oily and a strain on the digestion.

Doctors used to think it was the oil itself that built up the system—they were slow to find out that the oil was a distinct drawback to the medicinal principles contained in it.

Crude oil is quite indigestible, and will, in time, put the strongest stomach out of order.

A way has now been discovered to do away with the grease and the smell, and yet retain all the medicinal properties of the liver. This is done by removing the fresh oil from the new livers. The liver pulp is then reduced to the form of an extract like beef extract.

Nyal's Cod Liver Compound is simply this liver extract combined with an extract of malt and healing wild cherry. It also contains the true hypophosphites.

This combination makes Nyal's Cod Liver Compound a delicious tonic—builds up the system, and makes you strong.

Take it when you feel yourself losing your grip. It's a pleasure to take—even the children like it.

Get a bottle to-day and ward off disease. $1.00 for a large bottle. Your druggist will cheerfully recommend it because he knows all about it.

MRS. JOHN HOARE.

Mrs. John Hoare, an old and very highly respected resident of the township of East Garafraxa, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. O. Douglas, Maynard Avenue, Toronto, early last Wednesday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Hoare had been staying with their daughter for the last nine months. Death was caused by a gradual breaking down of the system, hastened somewhat by a slight stroke of paralysis. Mrs. Hoare, whose maiden name was Nancy Dolmage, was a native of Kilkenney, Ireland. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Dolmage, came to Canada when she was about 15 years of age, settling in the neighborhood of Streetsville. She was married to Mr. Hoare on January 24th, 1861, coming to live on lot 8, 18th line, East Garafraxa, shortly after her marriage. In the neighborhood where she lived Mrs. Hoare was known as a kindly, sympathetic woman, who was always ready and willing to comfort and help those in sorrow and distress. She lived an exemplary Christian life and in her own family circle faithfully discharged the duties of a loving, devoted mother and wife. By her husband and family she was held in the sincerest affection and the memory of her sweet and unselfish life will be tenderly cherished. She is survived by her aged husband and a family of three sons and one daughter. The sons are W. A., East Garafraxa; J. W., Orangeville, and Jacob, on the homestead. Mrs Douglass, of Toronto, is the only daughter. There was a large attendance of sympathizing friends and neighbors at the funeral, which was held from her former home in East Garafraxa to Greenwood cemetery on Friday afternoon. There were a number of chaste floral tributes, among them a beautiful pillow from the Women's Missionary Society of Parkdale Methodist Church, Toronto. Rev. T. R. White, of Laurel, conducted services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were the three sons, son-in-law and two grandsons, Masters Clarence Hoare, The Maples, and Reggie Hoare, Orangeville. Among the friends present from a distance were Mr. J. Dolmage, Mr. Samuel Switzer and Mrs. Stephenson, Streetsville; Mrs. Henry Young and Mr. James Young, Brampton; Mrs. Wm. Switzer, Norval; Messrs. Robert and Joseph Hoare, Georgetown, Mr. and Mrs. James Scott and Mr. and Mrs. John Spiers, Erin.

ANDREW HUGHSON.

Andrew Hughson, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hughson, of East Garafraxa, died at the family residence, lot 4, con. B, East Garafraxa, early yesterday morning after a short illness resulting from bronchial pneumonia. Mr. Hughson, who was 39 years of age, had been a cripple since childhood, having been severely injured when about four years old by a gate falling upon him. In spite of his infirmity he was always bright and cheerful, and was well liked by everyone who knew him. He was somewhat of a mechanical genius, and showed considerable skill in the making of various useful implements. The funeral will be held from his late home to Greenwood cemetery at 2.30 o'clock on Friday afternoon.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Leonard Halbert, son of Mrs. Jas. Halbert, of Mono, met with a serious accident while blasting some large stones on his farm near Granger on Wednesday of last week. Leonard and his brother had drilled a hole in a stone, put in the charge, and set fire to the fuse. They then retired to a safe distance and waited for the explosion. Leonard thought the fuse had failed to ignite and went back to light it again, when the explosion took place and he was badly injured with the flying stones and was bruised terribly. He may lose the sight of one of his eyes. Dr. H. D. Thompson, of Shelburne, attended to his injuries, which are considered serious.

THE MARRIAGE INSTITUTION.

A Montreal Clergyman Writes Trenchant Letter on the Ne Temere Decree.

The following letter, which appeared in a recent issue of the Orange Sentinel, is from the pen of Rev. T. S. St. Aubin, the pastor of a French Presbyterian Church in Montreal. Rev. Mr. St. Aubin, who is himself a converted Roman Catholic, is a son-in-law of Mr. Nathaniel Sproule, of this town. His letter reads as follows:—

"I wish to congratulate you on the fight you are making against the bold Ne Temere decree and the impudence of the Roman Catholic clergy, making void marriages rightly performed according to the law of God and man.

"The clergy of Rome make me think of the Pharisees who make the commandments of God by their tradition! In this question of marriage they are putting asunder what God hath joined together. And the worst of it, it is all done under the cloak of the religion of Jesus Christ!

"In very pious words they will tell you that marriage is a sacrament instituted by Jesus Christ, and therefore it is most sacred and should not be dissolved. Then the Holy (?) Mother, the Church, breaks these sacred bonds right and left just because she has not performed the ceremony herself. Naturally the priest will tell you these parties were not married and so there was no dissolution, and this is based on the assertion of these self-constituted God's representatives upon earth and laws of their own living.

"Marriages performed by the minister of the Gospel are only 'market bargains,' according to the statement made by Archbishop Lynch, of Toronto, a few years ago, which statement has been faithfully repeated by his priests lately.

"To say the least, our marriage ceremony is as solemn as the Roman Catholic ceremony, the wording of the engagements as sacred, and the promises made by the contracting parties as full. The parties contracting the engagement are as enlightened, their sentiment of honor as much developed, and their knowledge of the will of God as clear, and their love to God and to one another as deep and sincere as it is with any Roman Catholics! The minister who performs or who witnesses the ceremony and invokes the blessing of God upon the contracting parties is as good a man morally and is as spiritually minded as the priest is. Why, then, are we thus insulted, our marriage looked upon as market bargains, and in some instances marriages performed by ministers annulled?

"A few months ago, an impudent priest of Rome told a Mrs. Daignault, a Roman Catholic woman, who is married to a Protestant, one of my parishioners, that she was not married, and her children were illegitimate. If that fellow had been broad enough don't you think he should have been whipped? And just think, the coward said that to a poor defenceless woman in the absence of her husband! And this is only one case out of many I heard of before.

"You know it looks pious to say that marriage is a sacrament instituted by Jesus Christ. But it is not so. It is not a sacrament, for there are only two: baptism and the Lord's Supper. And then Christ never established marriage, neither did the Apostles. Christ never married anyone, as far as we know neither did the Apostles. And He gave no rule concerning it. Marriage was already established and Christ sanctioned it, when He said, 'What God hath joined.' And no divorcement was allowed except for adultery, and St. Paul teaches that it can be given in case of desertion.

"Surely the priest of Rome will not dare to say that no one was married before the coming of Christ to earth or since it has been performed by the priests of Rome!

"Just think of it; according to that impertinent little Ne Temere decree I am not married and just because I had the misfortune to be born a Roman Catholic and baptized by a priest! Did Christ make such law? Did He ever annul a marriage between Jew and Gentile? And because the marriage was not performed by Himself or His Apostles? Did the Apostles teach such a horrid doctrine? St. Paul said on the contrary that Christians and unbelievers when united were not to be separated, as recorded in I. Cor. vii. From whence then has the priest of Rome the authority he claims? It is a self-given authority. All that provoked this Ne Temere decree is that in mixed marriages Rome is playing a losing game. Almost all Roman Catholics marrying Protestants become Protestants. More this brings on conversations with other members of the family, and seeing the superiority of Protestantism they often accept that faith.

"Then the clergy is losing the fat fees it charges for marriages.

"And this is another unjust thing to Roman Catholics wanting to be married, is that the fees are exorbitant unless the contracting parties are willing to be looked upon as inferiors, common people. And in case of cousins the dispensation is beyond the ordinary purse. Why should there be a law compelling such to accept these unjust terms, just because a man happens to be a Roman Catholic? Why not give the liberty of such to go to men to be married whose sole object does not seem to be to make money!

"You are justified, Mr. Editor, in your fight against such tyranny as this unjust law of marriage, and these monstrous separations of man and wife. What God hath joined should not be separated, whether a minister of the Gospel presides at the marriage ceremony or a priest of the Church of Rome."

ELECTED BISHOP OF NIAGARA.

Archdeacon Clark, of Hamilton, Chosen by Synod.

Hamilton, May 2.—Ven. Archdeacon Clark, Hamilton, was elected Bishop of Niagara to-night at 10.30 after five ballots had been taken. From the time balloting started at 8 o'clock this afternoon till the last ballot was taken Archdeacon Clark and Rev. J. Paterson Smyth, Montreal, were the two favored candidates, and as the day progressed Archdeacon Clark gradually gained votes, until the ballot which secured his election stood: Clergy, 48; laity, 35, with 37 clergy votes and 32 laity votes necessary to elect. The vote for Rev. Mr. Smyth on the last ballot was: Clergy, 20; laity, 25.

Rev. Dean Houston, Niagara Falls, presided, and after the last ballot was counted he declared Archdeacon Clark elected Bishop of the Diocese of Niagara.

On motion of Ven. Archdeacon Forneret and Rev. Canon Abbott the election was made unanimous. Archdeacon Clark's election was popular with the delegates, who warmly congratulated him on his elevation. The decision was announced by pealing the cathedral bell six times.

Bishop-elect Clark, after the announcement of his election, said he was able to stand and open his lips, but could not control his feelings. He asked pardon if he said but little then. He recognized that the Synod was guided in its decision by the Holy Ghost, and while he realized his unfitness for the high position, he would put himself in God's hands and ask for the prayers of those present that God would fit him for his work.

The Synod then passed a resolution of thanks to Dean Houston for the able manner in which he presided.

After the Synod was called to order at 2 o'clock it was announced that the parishes of Acton, Reading and Bowling Green were disfranchised through the non-payment of contributions to the general purpose fund.

After the rolls were called, Dean Houston paid a tribute to the late Bishop DuMoulin, whose successor they were met to elect.

At 3 o'clock the first ballots were distributed, and the following scrutineers were appointed:—For the clerical vote, Rev. A. C. Collier, Rev. G. B. Gordon and Rev. W. Marsden; for the laity, Messrs. Joseph Beaumont, H. H. Francis and Rev. P. H. Ferguson.

On the first ballot Archdeacon Clark came within ten votes of getting the required clerical vote, and he had 14 laity votes. The result of the first ballot was:—

	Lay vote.	Cler'l vote
Archdeacon Clark	14	28
Rev. Patterson Smyth	13	19
Canon Abbott, city	9	4
Canon Tucker, London	9	4
Bishop Thornloe, Algoma	4	11
Archdeacon Forneret, city	3	5
Canon Howitt, city	3	0
Canon F. J. Davidson Guelph	2	1
Rev. N. L. Perry, St. Catharines	2	0
Canon Sutherland, city	2	0
Rural Dean Irving, Dundas	1	0
Rev. Dr. J. O. Miller, St. Catharines	1	0
Dean E. G. Bidwell, Kingston	0	1
Dean DuMoulin, Cleveland	0	1

The second ballot placed Archdeacon Clark and Rev. Mr. Smyth far ahead of the other candidates. Archdeacon Clark had 20 lay and 34 clerical votes, and Rev. Mr. Smyth 22 lay and 28 clerical votes. The third ballot stood 26 lay and 42 clerical, against 27 lay and 25 clerical. In the fourth ballot the respective standing was 30 lay and 44 clerical, against 27 lay and 26 clerical.

Ven. Archdeacon Clark was educated at Bishop's College, Lennoxville, Que., and Trinity College, Toronto, taking his B.A. and M.A. at the latter university. He was ordained Deacon in the Cathedral at Ottawa, and priest in the Cathedral, Hamilton, in 1876. For twelve months he was Principal and mathematical master of the High School, Uxbridge. He was a missionary at Palmerston for eighteen months; incumbent of Burlington for two years; rector of Barton and Glanford for three years; incumbent and rector of Ancaster for twenty-one years. Seven years ago he was asked by the Bishop and Synod to give up parochial work to become Secretary-Treasurer of the Synod and Archdeacon of Niagara. He was for three years Secretary of the Provincial Synod, and is now, in addition to his other work, Registrar of the diocese and Clerical Secretary of the General Synod of Canada.

A BASEBALL MATCH.

An exciting game of baseball was played on the High School grounds on Tuesday afternoon between a High School "picked" nine and a team representing The Bankers. As two of the bankers were unable to be present, two substitutes were utilized in their stead. The Academy team worked three pitchers, but none of them proved effective enough to stop the heavy hitting bankers. Warren pitched superb ball for the latter nine, allowing only a few hits. Errors on both sides were responsible for the high score of 12 to 9, in favor of the bank team. "Bun" Aiken showed no partiality as referee. Following is the line-up:—

Bankers—C, McBride; 1b, Saxton; 2b, Law; 3b, Keith; ss, Plummer; cf, Durkin; rf, Braiden; lf, Brawley; p, Warren.

High School—C, Holmes; p, Green; 1b, Dawson; 2b, Gulley; 3b, Rowan; ss, Stevenson; lf, Nicholson; rf, D. McPherson; lf, Russell.

CARRYING CONCEALED WEAPONS.

Owing to the crimes committed by foreigners in Canada the Ontario Legislature found it necessary to formulate a law controlling the carrying of weapons, similar to that in force in some of the States. This law provides that the sale of revolvers, stilettos, and various other offensive weapons in all parts of Ontario is to be strictly regulated by the police, and in certain cases prohibited. This decision has been reached by the government, as a consequence of the increasing frequency of stabbing and shooting affrays among the foreign population of Toronto and the province. The proclamation states that every person who exposes for sale or sells any bowie-knife, dirk, dagger, stiletto, metal-knuckles, skull cracker, slug-shot, revolver, pistol, or air-gun, to any person other than the holder of a written permit from the provincial or local police, is liable to a fine of from $25 to $200, with the maximum option of six months in jail. The same penalties are applicable to the man who makes the purchase without having a permit, and any weapons sold irregularly are liable to confiscation. Dealers are required to keep records of all sales of the above articles, with the purchaser's name, very much as is required of druggists in the sale of poisons. The dealer must also report such sales to the Provincial police every three months. The police may search anyone whom they believe to be violating the law, and seize any weapons which are being illegally carried. The concluding clause renders possible the deportation of dangerous foreigners upon whom weapons are found.

CHORAL SOCIETY RECITAL.

The Young People's Choral Society brought their meetings for this season to a close last Wednesday night by giving a delightful concert in St. Andrew's Church. The quality of the programme was a revelation to those in the audience who were unfamiliar with the work the Society has been doing during the winter months. The numbers were:—

Piano Solo—"Valse Brilliante" Moszkowski
Miss Emma King.

Chorus—"A Song of Spring" Geibel
The Choral Society.

Solo—"If I were a Red, Red Rose,"
Miss Beatrice Harshaw.

Baritone Solo—"The Lost Chord,"
Mr. Wm. Campbell.

Solo—"Time's Roses," Katherine Barry
Miss Helen Denton.

Piano Duet—"Rigoletto" .....Verdi
Misses E. Huston and H. Wallace

Chorus—"Welcome Sweet Spring," From Rubenstein's Melody in F.
The Choral Society.

Piano Solo—.....Liszt
Miss M. Elliott.

Solo—"Dis Possente," ...From Faust
Mr. S. R. Frost.

Chorus—"Hunting Song," ...Brackett
The Choral Society.

Miss Henrietta Wallace acted as accompanist.

Mr. S. R. Frost, who was instrumental in organizing the Society and to whose skilful and intelligent tuition its present proficiency is attributable, occupied the chair and prefaced each of the numbers with a brief account of the life and work of the composer. Mr. Ross McPherson also spoke briefly on the organization of the Society and its work during the winter months. The object of the Society was vocal culture and the study of music. For the furtherance of the latter object a portion of each meeting had been devoted to the works of one of the great composers, such as Bach, Verdi, Mendelssohn, Beethoven and Liszt. Papers were read on the lives of these great musicians and a musical programme was also provided. Mr. McPherson paid an appreciative tribute to Mr. Frost, the leader, to whose interest, knowledge of music and enthusiasm the Society owed the success that it had attained. The programme was brought to a close with the National Anthem.

The Society closes the season with a membership of between fifty and sixty. It will be reorganized in the autumn, when an even larger membership is looked for.

NEIL—HARMON.

The marriage of Mr. Lester H. Neil, eldest son of Mr. J. W. Neil, formerly of this town, to Miss Sara Harmon, of Ledevute, Pa., took place very quietly at the home of the bride on Wednesday, April 19th. The bride wore a tailored suit of grey and the groom's gift was a diamond and pearl necklace. After a short honeymoon, they will reside in New Liskeard.

WAS IT A METEOR?

What appeared to be a large meteor passed over the town about 10.15 o'clock on Saturday night, travelling in a southeasterly direction. The meteor, if such it was, was noticed by several citizens, all of whom were impressed by its unusual appearance. It was considerably larger and travelled much slower than the ordinary "shooting" star. It also seemed to be much closer to the earth. It had a "tail" apparently about a yard in length. When a little more than midway between the zenith and the eastern horizon it burst into pieces, much as a rocket does, and immediately disappeared.

NIAGARA CAMP.

There will be two camps of training for the militia at Niagara-on-the-Lake next month instead of the usual one. The first camp will be June 5 to 16, and the second one June 19 to 30. It will be noticed that in each case camp opens on Monday instead of Tuesday, as has been the usual custom, and closes on Friday instead of Saturday. The second camp closes in time to let the soldiers home for the First of July. The 36th Regt. goes to the second camp, June 19 to 30. Other Infantry regiments that will attend the second camp are the 23rd, 35th, 37th, 44th, and 77th. The Cavalry at this camp will be Governor-General's Bodyguard, 1st Hussars, Second Dragoons, 9th Mississauga Horse. There will also be Army Service Corps, Engineer Corps, and Army Medical Corps detachments. The Artillery will again go to Petawawa. The announcement has been made that this year there will be special demands made upon the technical and military qualifications of each officer and man who is to be allowed to attend.

HOW OLIVER STARTED.

The Edmonton Bulletin Was the Outgrowth of a Telegrapher's Idea.

The story of how Hon. Frank Oliver (then plain Frank Oliver) happened to bring into existence The Edmonton Bulletin, the first newspaper published in Alberta, was told at a re-union of old time telegraphers held in Edmonton the other day.

Alex. Taylor, the dean of Western telegraphers, was associated with Mr. Oliver in the venture and told the story for the benefit of other old-timers who were present at the gathering, held in Mr. Taylor's house.

Mr. Taylor was holding down the Edmonton end of a wire which was connected with Winnipeg, and had an office in the old Hudson Bay Co. trading fort, which is now the oldest building in town and owned by the Provincial Government. He had been the means of having the line extended to Edmonton and had sent and received the first telegraph message sent or received there. This was in 1879.

Every day, Mr. Taylor took over the wire from Winnipeg from 800 to 1,000 words of general news, and posted a copy on the door of the old fort, for the benefit of the few settlers. Four other copies he distributed among the four most prominent men of the place.

Frank Oliver then kept a store in the little settlement, and as he had been a printer in his earlier days, one day Taylor suggested to the trader that he get some type and a little press and start a news sheet. Mr. Oliver agreed, and when the following summer, he made his annual trip to Winnipeg in an ox cart, he brought back with him a case of type and a small hand-press. It is said that The Bulletin was started on a capital of $22.50.

Mr. Oliver found, when he got home, that he had neglected to get any large type for a heading. Mr. Taylor was resourceful, so out of a piece of wood he carved the heading "The Bulletin." The wood had a tendency to warp, and finally it had to be cut into three pieces. One day the pieces got mixed, and the paper came out under the heading "The tin Bulle."

The paper was supported, and as the town grew it made steady progress. It has grown now into a modern daily, with morning and evening editions.

Fun at the Opera.

During the visit of the Montreal company to Toronto for the grand opera season, which was only too short, many persons gave as their reason for not going to hear it that they visited the theatres to be amused. One Toronto lady suggested a way in which to get amusement out of grand opera. She said that anyone who read the book beforehand, and then listened to the comments and surmises of the people sitting near by who had not done so, would be given many opportunities to smile.

A little scrap of conversation which is typical occurred before the commencement of one of the performances. A young lady, who evidently followed the doings in the grand opera world, had brought two friends with her. Her conversation indicated that she knew something about the grand opera organizations which had visited Toronto in the past, and she was searching for old friends in the program. She looked through the casts for the name of Signor Torre, but could not find it, although she had apparently seen it among the pictures in the lobby.

"I noticed in the lobby that Torre is singing with this company now," she said at last.

"You don't say so," replied one of her companions. "That certainly is odd, and last time Torrey was here it was at Massey Hall with Alexander."

Indian Baby Carriages.

Indian babies are carried in a great variety of ways, but none of them go in baby carriages like white children. Some mothers, such as the Sioux, carry them in shawls on their backs. When the babies of the plains south and east of Calgary go to town they are placed on a framework of poles hitched to the saddle of a horse. The Crees of the Saskatchewan, and the very northwestern part of Ontario, carry their babies in "baskets." The little one is cased snugly from head to foot, and laced in like a foot in a boot. The case is fastened to a board at the baby's back; and over the baby's head there is an iron frame, on which the mothers hang leaves and twigs to brush away flies and mosquitoes.

The basket is usually padded with moss, and the baby is quite as comfortable in its own way as any city or town baby in a baby carriage. Indian babies don't, as a rule, cry very much. If they do, their mothers usually let them cry till they get tired or go to sleep. It's quite likely a white baby would be very uncomfortable in an Indian "basket"; but then an Indian baby might be quite as unhappy in either a baby carriage or a high chair.

Progressive Vancouver.

Vancouver is robbing San Francisco and California generally of good men. The Chicago Public refers to the terrible stagnation on the Californian coast and wonders why Vancouver should be different.

A Californian merchant, Campbell Pomeroy of Santa Rosa, California, boldly attributes the difference to the progressive spirit of the Vancouver people.

He says: "The city is so alive and enthusiastic it will vote money for anything needed," and "they have the single tax in operation."

That enables them to vote money without embarrassment. — Toronto World.

Peevish About It.

Montreal in 1910 exported 20,000,000 bushels of wheat; New York only 6,000,000. Railroad differentials that foster Canadian export at the cost of American ports may suit the greed of railroad owners but they are hard upon trade.—New York World.

HORSE ROUTES.

The standard bred Trotting Stallion, The Bison, will make the season of 1911 at the stables of his owner, Dr. W. H. Riddell, Mill St., Orangeville. The Bison is an extremely handsome horse, stands 15-2 hands, weighs 1050 lbs. and has a trotting record of 2.21¼. He is a half brother of Minor Heir, who holds a record of 1.56¼. The Bison is a royally bred horse, sound and free from vice and has proved himself a very superior sire. His colts are of a good size, tractable dispositions and are without exception good gaited. Owners of light mares should see The Bison before breeding.

A WARNING.

Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said—
"My trade of late is getting bad,
I'll try another ten-inch ad."
If such there be, go, mark him well,
For him no bank account shall swell;
No angel watch the golden stair,
To welcome home a millionaire.
The man who never asks for trade,
By local, line, or ad, displayed,
Cares more for rest than worldly gain,
And patronage but gives him pain.
Tread lightly, friends, let no rude sound
Disturb his solitude profound;
Here let him live in calm repose,
Unsought, except by men he owes,
And when he dies, go, plant him deep
That naught may break his dreamless sleep;
Wherein no clamor may dispel
The quiet that he loved so well;
And that the world may know its loss,
Place on his grave a wreath of moss,
And on a stone above, "Here lies
A chump who wouldn't advertise."

NOTICE.

Next week The Banner purposes sending accounts to all subscribers who are in arrears. We trust these reminders will bring an early and, may we add, a good-natured response. The amounts are small, and it is probably due to this fact that payment has been overlooked, or neglected, but they represent a large sum in the aggregate. For this reason early payment is a matter of importance to the publisher.

THE FRANCIS FIRTH CONCERT COMPANY.

Entertainers Who Are To Visit Orangeville Gave St. Clair the Treat Of Its Life.

The music lovers of St. Clair and vicinity were not slow to realize last Saturday evening, than a company of stars of the first magnitude were furnishing the entertainment. The consensus of opinion is, that this programme was by far the best of anything given in this city. The programme was elevating from first to last. The audience showed its appreciation with sincere applause and the actors were always ready to add to the already heavy programme with encores.

To give an adequate description of the treat is more than the writer would attempt. Mr. W. Francis Firth, baritone, composer and author is in a class by himself. For years he sang in grand opera and in Italy on the same stage with Caruso, the famous tenor. Mr. Firth is perhaps the only American to appear in the Royal Theatre of Naples; on his return from his engagements abroad, he opened a studio in Toronto and built up a reputation in Toronto. Ill health caused him to abandon teaching and after a time he again appeared in public as a baritone. Mr. Firth is a genius, and as such has his peculiarities. Though he carries tenders of contracts with the best grand opera companies now on the Pacific coast and the south, he prefers to be his own master, free to sing what he will, and where he will. The financial end does not worry him; he finds his greatest delight in visiting the 'tanks' and letting those hear good music who lack the better advantages of the great cities. His selections, "the Bandelero," "Whisperings of Love," "A Plea," and last but not least the duo, from "Emandi" by Mr. Firth and Miss Jackson are worth five times the price of admission. His popularity was further proven when St. Peter's Lutheran Church was filled to the last seat Sunday evening to hear him render two of his sacred compositions. Everybody knows or ought to know S. Homer Eaton, he is the peer of impersonators. One of the clergy said from his pulpit Sunday: "I had five dollars worth of laughs; it was better than any medicine." His "Reuben Ketchum in Jimmie Farms" was incomparable. He was the old man to a T. As "Middle Green" and the "The Bowery News Boy" he brought his wonderful powers into play. He was great. Miss Jackson she sings seemingly without an effort. her numbers were always sacred. St. Clair is better off for having had this company in its midst; its the talk of the town. The highest compliment that could possibly be paid to them here, is the desire to get a return engagement this season. The Firth Concert company has won our hearts.—From St. Clair, Mich., Republican, Feb. 16th, 1911.

The Francis Firth Company will appear in the Town Hall, Orangeville, on Friday evening, May 19th, under the auspices of Court Gardiner, Canadian Order of Foresters.

RIFLE ASSOCIATION MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Orangeville Rifle Association will be held in the Council Chamber of the Public Library on Friday evening, May 12th at 7 o'clock sharp. The meeting is called for the election of officers and the transaction of other business.

AN AUTO TRIP.

Messrs. Geo. Robb and T. J. Brown accompanied Mr. T. F. Brown, of Shelburne, to Toronto on Tuesday morning and made the home trip in a handsome 25 h. p. Ford auto that Mr. Brown has just bought. The party made the run from Toronto to Orangeville in 2½ hours, and could have done considerably better had the roads been good all the way.

SUFFERED GREATLY FROM COLIC.

Mrs. Aime Guenette, L'Immaculee Conception, Que., writes: "My little boy suffered greatly from colic. I gave him castor oil and other medicines without helping him in the least. One day I saw Baby's Own Tablets advertised, so wrote for a box. I found them so good that I always keep them in the house and would use no other medicine for baby." The experience of Mrs. Guenette has been that of thousands of other mothers. Not only do the Tablets cure colic, but they cure constipation, vomiting, indigestion, make teething easy, banish worms and make baby bright, active and happy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE SPRING DELUGE.

Saturated soils, swimming fields, and transient torrents, sweeping away good surface soil to enrich some distant river bottom, repeat again the lesson of the tile and surface drain. Nature does not weary in her admonitions. If we did not heed last year, she tells us again in the spring of 1911, and will give us another object-lesson in 1912. Almost invariably, the early-sown grain yields by far the best crops. That is conceded, and yet we postpone putting down the tile drain, thus losing probably eight or ten days in getting upon the land, and bushels galore in the harvesting. In a waterlogged condition, the soil is cold and stiff, frustrating our efforts to prepare a proper seed-bed in which the grain will have a chance to germinate and develop. Another pressing reason for attention to drainage is the increasing practice of spreading manure upon the fields in the winter season, in order to save heating and leaching. Even on fairly level fields, it is not reassuring to see the roughage of the stable manure floating about like an ark waiting for the subsidence of the waters. As a rule, those who practice this system wisely avoid spreading the manure where there are natural runways, or on hillsides. It being no uncommon occurrence for a tile drain to pay for itself by the increased crop in one year, surely, with so many other good reasons for doing the work, and adding so much to the comfort of spring operations, and the saving of "wear and tear" to horses and implements—surely 1911 will witness the prosecution of a record campaign in Canadian drainage. — The Canadian Farm.

The representatives, who have been appointed from the 30th Wellington Regiment to take part at the King's Coronation are: Sergt. Tarr, of Harriston; Color-Sergeant Ward, of Erin; and Sargent Wideman, of Guelph, with Mr. David Dick, of Fergus, as waiting man.

The First in the World.

The combining of the reconstructive with the tonic treatment in the cure of diseases was first embodied in that wonderful medicine, Merrill's System Tonic. The blood is purified, new blood is made. The nerves, muscles and tissues of the heart, stomach, liver and kidneys are toned and strengthened and nature is then enabled to throw off the disease which has been ravishing the body. The thousands of cases of constipation, catarrh, chronic rheumatism and general weakness already cured proves System Tonic a wonderful medicine. All Druggists, 50c or postpaid from The Merrill Medicine Co., Merrill Building, Toronto.

Want to get out of a rut, to make a new start, to live where conditions are with you, not against you; want a fair chance to make money—as good a chance as your dad had when Ontario was "out West"? Come to Saskatchewan!

$20 Farms Grow 40 Bushels of Wheat per Acre!

To the average man this would seem impossible, but it is done by farmers in the LAST MOUNTAIN VALLEY, in Golden Saskatchewan, and they don't work nearly so hard as their less fortunate friends who stayed "at home." The average crop in this fertile valley is about 30 bushels per acre. The first year's crop clears the land! There are yet thousands of acres in this wonderful valley—as rich as any soil in the world—that have never been put under cultivation. They await but the touche of the plough to bring forth immense harvests of golden grain.

Golden Saskatchewan!

Though provided with ample rainfall, the Last Mountain Valley is a land of almost continuous sunshine, where health abounds—a climate that builds vitality. Pulmonary diseases or epidemics of any kind are unknown here.

Railroads Galore!

You don't need to live "forty miles from nowhere," either, or "next door to civilization." You are "inside" of civilization. Seven great railroads already serve this district. More railroad building is going on here than in any other part of Canada. In 1910 one-third of the Canadian Pacific's construction was here. The Canadian Northern is now building another road into the heart of the Last Mountain Valley.

400,000 Homeseekers Coming!

Last year 300,000 homeseekers came to Western Canada. The present year, according to immigration authorities, will see 400,000 people settled on the land, and making homes for themselves and their families. Western Canada will soon be as densely populated as the best agricultural sections of Ontario. Land prices are going up every day. Those who buy now will get the benefit of the advance.

Our Prices Lowest—Our Terms Most Liberal!

We have over 175,000 acres of the finest unbroken wheat land in the world, near towns and on railroads in the Last Mountain Valley. We have a list of land bargains such as were never before known. Our prices are absolutely the lowest, and we sell on small, easy payments. No other colonization company can hope to meet these terms and prices, because none can buy land now in such enormous tracts.

Always Delivers the Goods!

Our belief in the Last Mountain Valley is not a "make-belief." We believe in the Last Mountain Valley because we know it. We know it when it was a grassy wilderness, when there was hardly a bushel of wheat grown within its whole area. We have watched it year by year for eight years, until now it has become widely known in Eastern Canada, England and the United States as the best wheat-growing district in America.

OLD SYSTEM BEST SAY DISGRUNTLED ONES

Board of Control System of Municipal Government, now in force here over a year, is not Satisfactory Claim the Ward Politicians—Business Men and Good Citizens Generally Approve of it—Canadian Teachers Unexcelled Say British Experts—Vaccination for All is the Order—Eighteen Hour Day the Limit, Thinks Doctor.

(From our own correspondent.)

Montreal, May 8th., 1911.—The Board of Control, or Galveston plan of commission government for cities as it is called in the United States where it originated, is a failure in so far as Montreal is concerned according to a band of ex-aldermen, would be contractors, ward heelers and others who have formed themselves into an organization whose aim is to recapture the City Hall for the old form of aldermanic patronage and plunder carried on so successfully until last year under the old system of government by aldermanic committees.

The Commissioners have held the reins of office for slightly over a year now. Any one who takes the trouble to compare, in ever so casual a manner, the results which have been achieved in that short year in the way of civic improvement, with the results which were promised but which were never forthcoming during the many years of aldermanic sway, will agree that the new system, instead of being a failure as claimed, has been a great success. There have been shortcomings of course, but all around it may be safely said that never before has the city's money and energy been put to better use than during the last twelve months. When the Board of Control was elected the number of aldermen was cut down from two to one for each ward. This left a few gentlemen at home who had had a taste of political life, and hankered for more. Up to the present they have been kept quiet, but now, it appears, they are getting together and intend to make a concerted effort to obtain control of the municipal purse strings once more.

"Disbelieve it, if you wish," remarked an informant, "but it is a fact. The proposition is to issue a petition which the people will be asked to sign praying for a referendum on the question. The argument is that the Board of Control is not giving satisfactory results, and they contend that a referendum would put the board out of existence.

"Behind this movement are a number of the members of the old aldermanic regime and certain contractors who complain that the Controllers are not giving them a fair show.

"This petition is actually in preparation. Unless the plans of the promotors miscarry, however, the petition will be launched on the public in the near future with a beating of drums and the sound of trumpets. Watch for developments."

Is the Canadian child "forward?"

Members of the Commission of English educational experts who are visiting Canada in the interests of education, answer the question with an emphatic negative.

"That is to say," said one of the commissioners, "the children are not "forward," in the sense of the word, which is generally interpreted as rudeness. On the other hand, they are bright, and show an absolute absence of self-consciousness which is really delightful. It indicates an individuality and an alertness which will make them good, bright, self-reliant citizens of the future. It also speaks well for the system of instruction given in the schools and is a testimonial to the careful work of the teacher, whose salary is not commensurate with the efforts that both he and she must have made in order to obtain such results.

The Commission, which is composed of leading British educationalists, is making a tour of the Dominion with a view to reporting on the school system here.

General compulsory vaccination has been ordered by the Provincial Board of Health of the Province of Quebec. This will mean not only vaccination for those who have not been vaccinated, but re-vaccination for those who have not been vaccinated for the last seven years.

This stringent step has been adopted in view of the discovery that cases had been reported in more than twenty counties.

Moreover, the attention of the Board has been called to the fact that as lumbermen returned from the bush inspectors found many cases of smallpox.

Dr. E. Pelletier, Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, declares that it is time to stamp out the contagion before it has become too general. "We are surrounded by smallpox, said he. Ontario is infested and the neighboring States are also on the verge of an epidemic.

We have discovered lately that hundreds of cases have been shielded, even by physicians, sometimes through ignorance, and sometimes quite deliberately. This is the explanation of the numerous outbreaks reported from over twenty counties of the Province.

Eighteen hours of work out of twenty-four should be the limit for any man in any class of work, not only on account of muscular exertion and failing strength, but also because of failing brain power, the man losing his capacity to appreciate his surroundings and to direct his operations. Such is the substance of the opinion given by Dr. Francois de Martigny, chief surgeon of the Hotel Dieu, who in the case of Dame L. Laverdure against the Canadian Northern claiming $8,000 for the death of her husband.

Brouillette was killed in a fall at about ten in the morning after having been at work since seven o'clock of the previous morning, having suspended work only for meal hours, and having worked through day and night. The contention of the plaintiff was that the company had no right to allow men to work during such long hours.

Dr. de Martigny was called by the plaintiff's counsel to state what was the limit of a man's endurance, and placed the limit at eighteen hours of continual muscle or brain work, reasonable time being allowed for meals.

A negro known as One-eyed Walling was, and probably is now, a preacher in Virginia. His ideas of theology and human nature were often very original, as the following anecdote may prove:

A gentleman thus accosted the old preacher on Sunday:

"Walling, I understand you believe every woman has seven devils. Now, how can you prove that, I'd like to know?"

"Well, sar, did you ebber read in de Bible how de seben debbles were cast out er Mary Magdelene?"

"Oh, yes, I've heard of that; but what does that prove?"

"Did you ebber hear of 'em bein' cast out of any odder woman, sah?" and the old man assumed a wise look.

"No, I never did."

"Well, den, sah, de odders has sure got 'em yit!"—Youth's Companion.

Provincial License Inspector Ayearst and three constables raided the Dominion Hotel in Acton a week ago Saturday. The beer on tap in the bar was tested and believed by the Inspector to be stronger than the 2½ per cent. allowed and which the labels of the kegs indicated, and twenty kegs were confiscated, placed in the custody of Chief Lawson and conveyed to the cells in the town hall for safe keeping. A batch of summonses were subsequently issued, charging violation of the Liquor License Act. Seven of these were served on Wm. Lawson, bartender, four upon A. J. Lehman, proprietor, and four upon his two sons, charging illegal selling at different dates.

Mr. Thomas Pearson, of Prince Albert, Sask., writes:— "I must thank you for the benefit I received from Zam-Buk. Last summer I suffered greatly from piles. Mr. U. A. Dufresne, of 183-185 St. Joseph Street, St. Roch, Quebec, P. Q., writes:—"I can highly recommend Zam-Buk to everyone who suffers from piles. I have also found it most effective in curing a sore thumb with which my little son was suffering. The thumb had begun to swell and fester and had lost the nail. I persevered in the application of Zam-Buk and the sore is now entirely healed."

THE FRANCIS FIRTH CONCERT COMPANY.

Entertainers Who Are To Visit Orangeville Gave St. Clair the Treat Of Its Life.

The music lovers of St. Clair and vicinity were not slow to realize last Saturday evening, that a company of stars of the first magnitude were furnishing the entertainment. The consensus of opinion is, that this programme was by far the best of anything given in this city. The programme was elevating from first to last. The audience showed its appreciation with sincere applause and the actors were always ready to add to the already heavy programme with encores.

To give an adequate description of the treat is more than the writer would attempt. Mr. W. Francis Firth, baritone, composer and author is in a class by himself. For years he sang in grand opera and in Italy on the same stage with Caruso, the famous tenor. Mr. Firth is perhaps the only American to appear in the Royal Theatre of Naples; on his return from his engagements abroad, he opened a studio in Toronto and built up a reputation in Toronto. Ill health caused him to abandon teaching and after a time he again appeared in public as a baritone. Mr. Firth is a genius, and as such has his peculiarities. Though he carries tenders of contracts with the best grand opera companies now on the Pacific coast and the south, he prefers to be his own master, free to sing what he will, and where he will. The financial end does not worry him; he finds his greatest delight in visiting the 'tanks' and letting those hear good music who lack the better advantages of the great cities. His selections, "the Bandelero," "Whisperings of Love," "A Flea," and last but not least the duo, from "Emandi" by Mr. Firth and Miss Jackson are worth five times the price of admission. His popularity was further proven when St. Peter's Lutheran Church was filled to the last seat Sunday evening to hear him render two of his sacred compositions. Everybody knows or ought to know S. Homer Eaton, he is the peer of impersonators. One of the clergy said from his pulpit Sunday: "I had five dollars worth of laughs; it was better than any medicine." His "Reuben Ketchum in Jimmie Farms" was incomparable. He was the old man to a T. As "Middle Green" and the "The Bowery News Boy" he brought his wonderful powers into play. He was great. Miss Jackson she sings seemingly without an effort, her numbers were always sacred. St. Clair is better off for having had this company in its midst; its the talk of the town. The highest compliment that could possibly be paid to them here, is the desire to get a return engagement this season. The Firth Concert company has won our hearts. —From St. Clair, Mich., Republican, Feb. 16th, 1911.

The Francis Firth Company will appear in the Town Hall, Orangeville, on Friday evening, May 19th, under the auspices of Court Gardiner, Canadian Order of Foresters.

THE BANNER

THE BANNER, MAY 18, 1911.

STERLING BANK INCREASED PROFITS.

Earned Ten and a Quarter Per Cent. on Paid-up Capital Last Year.

The Sterling Bank of Canada i- with a very satisfactor- - out for the fiscal year - - ending April 29th, 1911. As i- - statement ing - - well known, all the lead- - -artered banks had little opportunity during the past year of showing anything like the profits of the previous year, while the unsettled conditions caused by the developments in connection with some of the younger banks have made it very difficult for others to make the same strides they had previously. On this account the Board of Directors of the Sterling Bank hardly expected the profits to run ahead of the previous year, but the statement issued to-day shows net profits of $96,825, equal to 10 per cent. on the paid-up capital, as against $92,832 last year, and $64,146 in 1909. As the dividend requirements took only $47,025 these profits, with what was carried forward from last year permitted $85,245 being applied to profit and loss account.

The total surplus and undivided profits at the end of the year come to $366,862, as against $281,616 at the end of last year. The general statement shows that while the management has been very conservative, big gains have been made in almost all departments. The total assets of the bank now stand at $7,256,341, as compared with $4,896,730 at the end of the year 1908, and $2,962,712 at the end of 1907. The total deposits now stand at $4,950,047, compared with $2,360,572 at the end of 1908, and $1,509,943 at the end of 1907.

Seeing that the Sterling has been able to make such substantial progress in a year, which leading brokers consider has been the most unfavorable experienced in twenty years, it can be readily seen that, given normal conditions, the bank should during the next few years make even greater strides.—Toronto Daily Star.

APPEAL UNSUCCESSFUL.

The following item, which appeared in the legal reports of the Toronto dailies last Thursday, will interest many of our readers :—

Re. W. H. Hunter Estate.—Appeal by D. J. Hunter and A. H. Hunter, from the order of Middleton, J., of the 7th of January, 1911. The order appealed from was made on an originating notice under C. R. 938 for an order construing the will of William Henry Hunter, and the appellants appeal therefrom in so far as it affects the interests of the appellants in the residue of the estate of deceased. Argued and judgment reserved. Judgment: The testator knew he had made a codicil amending his original will by increasing the legacy to $7,000 and in using the word "will" in the revocation clause of the second codicil it must be assumed that he had the first codicil in his mind and intended to revoke the legacy for the increased amount and not a legacy which he had already revoked. The judgment will, therefore, be affirmed, with a further declaration as regards David John Hunter, that he is entitled to a share of the residuary estate of the deceased in the proportion which $2,000 bears to the total pecuniary legacies, $28,500, and not in the proportion which $7,000 bears to the same. Costs of all parties out of the estate, those of executors between solicitor and client.

Dr. R. W. Rooney and other citizens petitioned for a street watering service on John St. as far as the Little York St. bridge. The prayer of the petitioners was granted.

A by-law was passed authorizing the execution of the agreement with W. A. Boos for the construction of the West Broadway culvert.

A communication was received from the British American Oil Co. respecting the use of oil for laying dust on the streets. The clerk was instructed to write the company for information as to method of application and probable cost per season.

A FARMER'S WIFE.

Declares Towns Are Going to Suffer If Automobile Nuisance Continues.

To the Editor of The Banner.

Dear Sir,—There has been a lot of talk lately about people not patronizing their own town. Well, what are we going to do? We are afraid to go to town on account of the automobile nuisance. It seems too bad after the farmers have made the good roads that we should be afraid to travel on them. Is it any wonder we send to Toronto for our household necessaries? We can send for dry goods enough to last six months and get our groceries from the country stores. In our neighborhood there are very few women, who will venture to drive out alone. Unless something is done to prevent the automobiles running one or two days in the week, so that the farmers can have one or two days they can go to town and not run the risk of being killed, the towns are going to suffer.

WHITTINGTON.

There is considerable diversity of opinion in this neighborhood as to the wisdom of adopting the proposed reciprocity treaty. There are those who are party blind and can see nothing but the ultimate absorption of Canada by the United States, should the treaty be finally passed, and there are others who look at the proposed trade proposition from a purely business point of view and consider it only natural that we should trade with our neighbors to the south, supply them with the various commodities they want from us and in return procure from them the goods which they can produce at a cheaper rate than we can produce them ourselves. The latter are those who think for themselves, who recognize a man's first duty is to provide for himself and his family, and who refuse to let others with less brains do their thinking for them. No one can deny that those who represented Canada at the Conference which resulted in this treaty are men of experience, of good judgement, and weighed their work well before signing the agreement. Yet there are those who have the temerity to say that they had been duped into sacrificing the interests of their country. Ah! such stupidity! No one who has a little of common sense believes a thing for a moment.

Laurel correspondence some time ago I observed that the correspondent gave the Amaranth Council credit for having thrown out a drain. Now let us see the matter and see whether the council 'did' or 'did not' do the right thing in refusing to go on with the drain. In the first place, in accordance with the Act respecting drainage a petition was gotten up and presented to the Council, asking for the construction of a drain. The Council then, as was its duty, sent an engineer to locate the drain as asked for. The engineer located the drain as directed, presented his report to the Council, which accepted it, then prepared a By-law, had it properly advertised, held a Court of Revision, at which there was considerable opposition offered by some parties living near the outlet of the proposed drain, though none withdrew from the petition. Owing to the opposition of those living at the mouth of the proposed drain, the Council then referred the matter back to the engineer with instructions to discontinue digging the drain as soon as he could procure a proper outlet for the water south of lot 27, con.6, so as to reduce the cost of drain as much as possible. In order to meet the wishes of the Council, the engineer made another award, in which the estimated cost would be only about half the original amount. The Council notified the petitioners, held another meeting, and finding none who wanted to withdraw from the petition, they prepared a new By-law, advertised another Court of Revision, and commenced calling for those who appealed against their assessments, when the same parties, who opposed the By-law in the first instance, again raised so much opposition that the Council threw the whole drain question out. I fail to see wherein the Council deserves the approval of the ratepayers. It is evident the petitioners acted in good faith as none wished to withdraw from the petition for the drain on either occasion. Some say the Reeve was actuated by other than public reasons. This I can scarcely believe. Someone deserves the censure of the people for these farcical proceedings. Quite a large bill of expense has been incurred and has to be paid by somebody though it amounts to $500. Who is to pay it? It cannot be charged up to the petitioners as they got no drain and why should the ratepayers at large have to foot the bill? The money has been squandered and lost if they fail to go on with the work. Only last year through someone's stupidity the township lost between $400 and $500, by neglecting to properly protect a culvert while under construction. Where is this going to end? Our taxes are quite heavy enough without squandering them in this senseless way—almost $1,000 thrown to the winds in two years! The people are beginning to think and ask themselves if they did the proper thing last January. The boys are not bad fellows but a little ballast would help to steady the craft. Don't you think, Mr. Editor, that they had better go on with the drain, and let those receiving the benefit pay the shot?

LAID UP FIVE YEARS

Until Half a Bottle of Father Morrisey's Liniment Cured His Shoulder.

Mr. Jos. J. Roy, a prominent tinsmith of Bathurst, N.B., july 16, 1909:

"I cannot let this opportunity pass without letting you know what benefit I received from your Liniment. For five years I had a sore shoulder, which prevented me from working or from sleeping at night. I had tried everything possible and still could find no relief, until I was advised to try a bottle of your liniment, which I purchased without delay. I only used one half of the bottle when I was completely cured, and now I feel as if I never had a sore shoulder. I would advise anyone suffering from Rheumatic pains to give your liniment a trial, for I cannot praise it too highly."

A liniment that will do that is the liniment you want. It is equally good for sore throat or chest, backache, toothache, ear ache, sprains, sore muscles, cuts, bruises, burns, frost-bites, chapped hands or chilblains. Rub it in, and the pain comes out. 25c per bottle at your dealer's, or from Father Morrisey Medicine Co. Ltd., Montreal, Que. 6 4

ALTON.

Mr. George Ward, formerly with the Kingston Hosiety Co., and for a time in the employ of J. M. Deds and The Beaver Woollen Mills, of this place, has accepted the position of manage in the Finishing Department of the Turnbull Company, manufacturers of underwear in the town of Galt. Mr Ward is interested in one of the companies that was recently voted a loan of $15,000 by the ratepayers of Owen Sound for the purpose of starting a new industry there.

Mr. Lem. Morgan, of the Williams Shoe Factory in Brampton, has rented the house on Beaver Hill, belonging to the estate of the late Wm. Algie, for a summer residence. Mr. Morgan moved his family here last week. They were guests at the Martin home for a few days.

Mr. Amos Mason has opened an attractive and well-equipped ice cream and refreshment parlor in connection with his store. This will make a welcome addition to the village's places of entertainment and is certain to be greatly appreciated and liberally patronized by our citizens.

The Barber Carriage Company have added considerable machinery to their plant and are increasing the number of their employees. The business has expanded so rapidly of late that the firm find it almost impossible to keep pace with the demand for the popular Barber buggies. This proves that the horse and buggy are losing none of their popularity as a means of conveyance.

Mr. J. B. McNichol, of Orangeville, has purchased the brick hotel from Finnegan Bros. and is making arrangements to have it thrown open to the public in the near future. Finnegan Bros. gave Mr. McNichol their hotel property and $2100 in cash in exchange for the latter's fine 50 acre property in the South Ward in Orangeville. The value placed upon the Orangeville property is $5600. It is said that as soon as the Willis House was offered for sale, Finnegan Bros. decided to allow their property to be utilized for the purpose it was intended for, namely, a house of public accommodation.

Mr. Henry McClellan, our hardware merchant, keeps abreast of the times, by constantly adding to his stock lines of goods that the public is asking for. Mr. McClellan carries a carefully assorted stock of staple hardware. He reports a better business this season than any other year in his experience. This speaks well for the popularity of his store.

The Alton Baseball Team defeated the Orangeville Bankers by a score of 15 to 6 on Saeurday afternoon. The game was the first of the season on local grounds. Until the seventh innings Warren held the locals to 6 runs, the score then being a tie. During a batting rally in the eighth he gave way to Plummer, and at the end of the innings nine runs had been chalked to the locals' credit. Campbell, who was in the box for the locals, displayed his old-time form, having no less than a dozen strike-outs. The players were:—

Alton—Hill, cf; Henry, 1b; McClellan, lf; R. Dean, ss; Baughman, rf; Cavers, 2b; W. Dean, 3b; Houston, c; Campbell, p.

Orangeville—Gulley, 1b; Green, ss; Scott, lf; Rowan, 3b; Matthews, rf; Plummer, cf; Law, 2b; McBride, c; Warren, p.

The score by innings was:—

Alton ..... 2-0-0-1-0-3-0-9-x—15
Orangeville ..... 0-0-2-0-1-3-0-0-0— 6

13 WEEKS IN HOSPITAL.

Came Away No Better and Then Two Boxes of Zam-Buk Worked Complete Cure.

Mr. Fred. Mason, the well-known upholsterer and mattress manufacturer of St. Andrews, N.B., says:—"I had eczema on my knee, which caused me terrible pain and inconvenience. The sore parts would itch and burn and tingle, and then when rubbed or scratched, would become very painful. I tried various remedies but got no better, so I decided to go to Montreal and take special treatment. I received treatment at the Montreal General Hospital for thirteen weeks, but at the end of that time I was not cured, and almost gave in. A friend advised me to give Zam-Buk a trial, and although I had little hope of it doing me good, I took the advice. Almost as soon as applied Zam-Buk stopped the itching and the irritation. I presevered with the balm, and it was soon evident that it would do me good. Each day the pain was reduced, the sore spots began to heal, and by the time I had used a few boxes of Zam-Buk I was cured."

For eczema, blood-poisoning, piles, ulcers, sores, abscesses, varicose ulcers, bad leg, sore feet, blisters, insect stings, poisoned wounds, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin injuries and diseases, Zam-Buk is without equal. Zam-Buk Soap should also be used for washing all wounds, eczemous patches and sores. All druggists and stores sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box and Zam-Buk Soap at 25c. per tablet, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

MONO MILLS.

Miss Beatrice Duke, who has been visiting friends in Toronto, has returned home.

Mrs. Ritchie, of Toronto, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Murray here.

Mr. Jos. E. Gray, who had charge of the Anglican Parish here last summer, has been appointed on the Colportage staff of the Upper Canada Bible Society in the Porcupine District in New Ontario.

The combined forces of Blount and Mono Mills Women's Institutes and Farmers' Club, will hold their annual picnic on the afternoon of June 9th. Mrs. Horace W. Parsons, of Forest, Ont., will be present to address the ladies, and Dr. Reid, of Georgetown, will give a demonstration on Horse Judging. The programme will also include contributions by well known local talent and arrangements are being made to have a good band in attendance. This will be farmers day, and the object is to have all farmers and their wives and families enjoy it. Fuller particulars later.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Burden, who have been highly respected residents of this vicinity for some time, have removed to Toronto from whence they intend going West. Mr. Carmichael, of Toronto, has moved into their residence.

LAUREL.

The farmers have nearly all finished their seeding in this vicinity and most of them are busy at present preparing their potato and mangold ground. We are told that this has been one of the best seedings for many years and the people generally are looking forward to a year of success and plenty. We hope that they will not be disappointed. Every animate being or form of plant life seems to enjoy renewed life and vigor after the long, dreary winter.

Our contractors are busy and the sound of the hammer, saw and chisel is again heard in our vicinity. Mr. Robert Fife's new driving shed is almost complete and the contractor, Mr. George Young, is looking for more help and is offering good pay for experienced hands. From Mr. Fife's he will go to Mr. Robt. Curry's where he has taken the contract of rebuilding a barn. When completed the building should be a credit both to Mr. Curry and the contractor. Messrs. Hughes and Robinson have Mr. William Groskurth's dwelling house nearly ready for the roof. Mr. Hughes has his hands full of work this season, but those having contracts with him can rest assured that all the jobs he undertakes will be finished in a workmanlike manner.

We are sorry to report that Mr. Alex. Ewing has been obliged to go to the hospital in Fergus to undergo an operation for cancer in the face. The operation, which was rather more serious than anticipated, has already been performed, but Mr. Ewing will be obliged to remain in the hospital for some weeks. We trust that the result will prove quite satisfactory.

Miss Ruby Trimble, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Trimble, who had her arm fractured and a shoulder dislocated by being upset from a sleigh last March, has returned from Toronto Hospital. Although unable as yet to use her arm, we have every reason to believe that she will regain the full use of the injured member shortly.

Ex-Reeve J. H. Hosick and family have moved to Toronto, where Mrs. Hosick and little son will make their home, while Mr. Hosick is away on an extended trip through the West for the benefit of his health. We trust the change of scene and climate will prove as beneficial as expected.

We understand that Mr. E. Steer (a blind man) and daughter are giving concerts and limelight views in all the schools throughout the County and will be at Laurel on Thursday evening, May 18th. As this is the only method Mr. Steer has of making a living, we hope that the many readers of The Banner will avail themselves of this opportunity to help the deserving needy. The same blind man passed through our township selling books about 21 years ago, and on that occasion proved himself worthy of the patronage of the public. We understand that Mr. Steer will go to Black's Corners on Friday night next. If, will do us no harm to remember these dates and make it a point to attend some of these concerts.

A WORD OF GRATITUDE.

"In justice to humanity I want to tell you that I was a great sufferer from itching piles, and have found Dr. Chase's Ointment the best treatment obtainable," writes Mr. Fred. Hinz, Brodhagen, Ont. "It gives instant relief and I can recommend it to any sufferer from this dreadful disease."

TO MY MOTHER, THE QUEEN.

Dreaming again of long ago,
And of her I loved so well;
The way she taught me how to walk,
And caught me every time I fell.

Then as I grew from child to boy,
The love and care was still the same,
Her's was the heart my troubles did share,
And taught me all my woes to bear

My mother! I shall never forget,
The good you always did to me,
And how you said I was to be—
Honorable, gentle, kind and free.

Oh mother! could I but have you now,
No sorrow or care should you ever know;
My turn t'would be your grief to bear
And yours the joy and love to share

Yesterday was Mothers' Day,
But where mine is I cannot say;
All I know the world below
Is better by far for mothers like mine.

OPERATION HER ONLY CHANCE

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lindsay, Ont.—"I think it is no more than right for me to thank Mrs. Pinkham for what her kind advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I wrote to her some time ago I was a very sick woman, suffering from female troubles. I had inflammation of the female organs, and could not stand or walk any distance. At last I was confined to my bed, and the doctor said I would have to go through an operation, but this I refused to do. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now, after using three bottles of it, I feel like a new woman. I most heartily recommend this medicine to all women who suffer with female troubles. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and think they are fine."—Mrs. FRANK EMSLEY, Lindsay, Ontario.

We cannot understand why women will take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, without first trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration.

HORNING'S MILLS LAKE.

Changes Owners—The Property Will be Used as a Summer Home by a Wealthy Englishman.

Horning's Mills Lake, the Mecca of night fish poachers, has changed hands, the new owner being a Mr. Strouther, an Englishman. The deal takes in all of the Glen Airth estate, which includes, besides the Lake, the Huxtable Pond and what is known as "the Reserve," on the north side of Mill street, Horning's Mills. Mr. Strouther has also bought about ten acres from Jas. and Jos. Webster to square off the Lake property. The total area involved in the transaction is about 75 acres and the money consideration is some place between ten and twelve thousand dollars.

The new owner, it is understood, will erect a summer residence on the lake property, will have that part of his estate enclosed by an eight-foot wire fence, and will have a deer park. Work on the contemplated changes will start at once.

The poachers, we presume, will be sorry to see a resident owner.

Horning's Mills Lake is one of the finest trout reserves in this district and is the biggest 'feature' of the little village of the hills.

It was doubtless one of the things that first induced Louis Horning to settle on the spot that afterwards bore his name.

Wm. Airth opened the first general store at Horning's Mills and also carried on milling for a number of years on the property he purchased from Mr. Horning. Mrs. Rolstin, of Toronto, a daughter of Mr. Airth, was until the recent deal the owner of the Lake property.—Economist.

A sow, the property of Wellington Rush, Zone, recently gave birth to eighteen pigs; and Mr. James Elliott, Euphemia, has two ewes, which gave birth to seven lambs.

On a country road not far from Guelph, is a sign which has attracted considerable notice from autoists and others. A card was tacked up reading, "What will you do when you die," Underneath, another agent tacked up the sign, "Use ——'s Oil, good for burns."

Two and a Half Hours on Operating Table

Specialist Could Not Remove Stone In The Bladder

GIN PILLS PASSED IT

JOLIETTE, P.Q.

"During August last, I went to Montreal to consult a specialist as I had been suffering terribly with Stone in the Bladder.

He decided to operate but said the stone was too large to remove and too hard to crush. I returned home and was recommended by a friend to try GIN PILLS.

They relieved the pain. I took two boxes and went back to the specialist. He said the stone was smaller but he could not remove it although he tried for two hours and a half. I returned home and continued to take GIN PILLS, and to my great surprise and joy, I passed the stone.

GIN PILLS are the best medicine in the world and because they did me so much good, I will recommend them all the rest of my life". 46

CARE OF THE CELLAR.

A reader has asked for information about the care of the cellar. The question is timely. Health and comfort depend upon keeping the cellar not only as a store-house for a great many of the supplies and requirements, but on keeping it in a sanitary condition as well.

Air and light are two prime necessities. But the cellar should also be dry. Nowadays, when the cellar is used as the engine room, on not a few farms where the furnaces are installed it is not difficult to do this, but at the same time the necessity of keeping meats, eggs, butter and vegetables at a temperature which will not permit them to spoil, and this is best arranged by having the cellar divided into three compartments, with the furnace at one end and the perishable goods at the other.

Spring time house-cleaning should begin in the cellar. The store-house where potatoes, apples, and other vegetables have been kept should be thoroughly overhauled before very warm weather sets in. Thorough cleaning up will save trouble further on. After it is cleaned and scrubbed out thoroughly, a good fumigating should be given. After that it will not be so apt to contaminate butter and other stores with taints. Before autumn supplies are put in it should have another clearing out and fumigating. Drains should be kept clear and running well. They should be flushed now and then to assure one's self that they are working right.

So much of the family convenience and comfort depends upon the adaptability of the cellar, that a few words along that line are worth repeating. With the furnace, if one is used, at one end and the store-room at the other, and with two good solid partitions and the central portion of the cellar between them, the situation can be pretty well controlled. The north, or north-west side of the cellar is the best for the furnace, as a good share of the cold comes from that quarter. When stores of vegetables are well protected upon that side there is little likelihood of their freezing.

Many a trip to the cellar can be saved by installing a dumb waiter. This little arrangement, whereby many articles can be placed upon its shelves, and raised from the cellar to the kitchen, pantry or dining-room when required, and again lowered at once, is at most an inexpensive apparatus, and saves its cost many times a year.

Where the cellar is well drained and comfortable the washing can be done there with great convenience. In the central portion, or else where the furnace is installed, a stationary laundry tub can be fixed, with hot and cold water pipes from the hot water reservoir, and the cistern. A chute may be built in the house leading to the top floor, with openings on each floor. Down this soiled clothes may be thrown, to drop in a receptacle at the bottom, there to await wash day. The man who knows just what a chute for hay and straw will save him in steps about the barn can appreciate the usefulness of just such a chute in disposing of soiled linen or clothes in the house.—Canadian Farm

GRAND TRUNK MUST PAY $1050.

For Horse Killed At Caledon East.

Mrs. Stoddart Failed in Case Against G. T. R.

The Brampton Conservator gives the following report of Peel County Assizes, which were held last week:—

The Spring Assizes opened here on Tuesday afternoon with Mr. Justice Sutherland presiding. It was Judge Sutherland's first court in Brampton and it was also the first assize court of the newly appointed sheriff. There were no criminal cases to be tried but a number of civil actions are being heard. The Grand Trunk Railway Company defended two actions, losing one and winning one. The first was an action for damages brought against the company by Wm. Borland and nine others forming a syndicate which owned a stallion named "James Hal" for the death of the animal. On December 28th, last, Mr. Borland, who had charge of the horse, was engaged in feeding it about eleven o'clock at night. He went to an adjoining building to get some oats, leaving the bar across the stable door. During his moment's absence, he claims, the horse, which was loose in its stall, got out from beneath the bar and escaped from the yard to the roadway and from thence to the railway tracks. Lanterns were procured and search for the missing animal continued all night. He was found dead next morning, having been struck and killed by a passing train. The owners claimed damages because of the company's negligence in leaving open a gate leading to the tracks which, they claimed, should have been closed. Plaintiffs were awarded $1550 damages by the jury, who found the company negligent.

The second action in which the Railway Company were the defendants was a suit brought by Mrs. Mary Stoddart, of Hamilton, for injuries received last August while alighting from a passenger train. Mrs. Stoddart had been visiting in Brampton and was on her way to Milton to visit her sister. She was to change cars at Georgetown. Approaching that station she prepared to get off. She claims that as she set her foot on the platform the train started to move again, after having stopped and that she was dragged along the platform until her shoulder was dislocated and she received bad bruises. The train hands testified that Mrs. Stoddart attempted to leave the train before it had stopped and other witnesses with whom she had conversation at the time swore that she had told them she thought the train had stopped when she attempted to get off. The Company was not found liable in any way in this action, and Mrs. Stoddart lost her case.

Fred. Hill, Alton, sued J. M. Dods, of the same place, on a contract made ten years ago. Hill was in the employ of Dods and was to receive five per cent. of the profits of the company in addition to his regular wages. After hearing the evidence for the plaintiff the case was taken from the jury and will be argued in Toronto before the judge next week. Mr. Wm. Laidlaw appeared for the plaintiff, and McCarthy for the defendant.

Clarke vs. Clarke.—In this action Chas. Clarke, of Bolton, is attempting to recover a sum of money from his sister, Margaret Clarke for improvements, etc., effected upon the farm owned by her which he rented from her. The suit is the result of a family disagreement concerning the property which was taken to the courts for settlement. It is being heard to-day.

AT LAST, A CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

"Fruit-a-tives Cured Me" Says Mrs. Baxter.

"I was a helpless cripple from Rheumatism for nearly a year. All down the right side, the pain was dreadful and I could not move for the agony. I was treated by two physicians without help.

I saw "Fruit-a-tives" advertised in "The Telegram" and decided to try them. After I had taken one box, I was much better.

When I had taken three boxes, I could use my arm and the pain was almost gone.

After taking five boxes, I was entirely well again. The cure of my case by "Fruit-a-tives" was indeed splendid because all the doctors failed to even relieve me. "Fruit-a-tives" cured me.

MRS. LIZZIE BAXTER.

A HOME PLACE, TORONTO, Dec. 15, '09.

In hundreds of other cases, "Fruit-a-tives" has given exactly the same satisfactory results because "Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest blood purifying medicine in the world. "Fruit-a-tives" the famous fruit medicine regulates kidneys, liver, bowels and skin, and prevents the accumulation of uric acid, which is the prime cause of Rheumatism.

"Fruit-a-tives" will positively cure every case of Rheumatism, when taken according to directions. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c. At all dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Are Your Kidneys Working Properly?

It Will Pay You Well to Make Sure

There's been a lot of "guessing" about rheumatism and rheumatic pains generally, but you can be dead sure that little pain across your back came from deceased kidney action.

The kidney's duty is to filter the blood—take out the impurities collected by the returning blood stream—do it just like absorbent cotton in a funnel filters the impurities from polluted water.

When the kidneys are not working you are bound for one of two courses—Diabetes and Bright's Disease or Rheumatism, Lumbago and Sciatica. The former course is usually fatal, and the latter always painful, but you need not have either, as they both can be easily prevented.

The very best prescription for all kidney troubles is Nyal's Stone Root Compound. It is no "patent" medicine, but a scientific prescription composed of Stoneroot, Buchu, Juniper and other remedies of proved value. More than that, it has been proved by thousands who have had glad relief from its use.

There's nothing quite so miserable as the dragging results of sick kidneys. You are trifling with your own future when you neglect so simple a precaution, as a pleasant home treatment with Nyal's Stone Root Compound when results are so certain.

It soothes bladder irritation, gives you rest and comfort at night, and makes life once more enjoyable.

The kidneys, liver and bladder are all dependent upon one another, and Nyal's Stone Root Compound is particularly designed to help them all.

BEER IS BEER

License Inspector Matthew C. Beckett knows the taste of beer, lager beer, and he proved that he knew what he was talking about when he was put to a straight-up test with the real thing on Wednesday morning by the police magistrate. This is the story. Last Saturday evening the inspector strolled into the Albion hotel, George Gamble, liquid heaver, behind the bar, and saw several bottles in a case all of them ostensibly local option beer bottles. But the Inspector had his doubts about their innocence and though there but a few dregs in the bottles—the remainder of the contents having evidently just been drunk—he proceeded to taste those dregs. Of the five empties thus tested M. C. declared four of them contained lager beer, good at that, he said. The fifth had contained local option stuff. Mr. Beckett went further, he carefully drained the four suspicious bottles into a glass and pronounced the result as being indubitably lager beer. Gamble protested stoutly that it was local option beer and couldn't see how the Inspector's taste led him to draw the impression that he would ever think of harboring beer in the Albion. But the inspector went right ahead and had Gamble up before the P. M. on a charge of selling booze. On oath Gamble still protested that he had sold no beer and on oath the Inspector asseverated that it was lager he had tasted in the empties. Gamble's counsel then raised the question of the accuracy of the Inspector's tongue for sampling beer and doubted if he could be positive whether or not it was lager when he had only sipped a small amount. To clear the matter up the Magistrate sent Gamble down for a bottle of local option and the Inspector for a bottle of lager from his store in the cells. Going into another room the Magistrate in the presence of two press representatives poured a small amount of lager into one of the glasses and some local option into the other. Handing the glass with the lager to Mr. Beckett he said, "What's that one?" The Inspector took a sip and hardly had the amber fluid touched his lips when he said, "Oh, that's lager beer." The other one he as quickly pronounced to be the local option; and he was right. The case then adjourned for further evidence until Friday.—Owen Sound Times.

CURED OF CONSTIPATON

Mr. Andrews praises Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills.

Mr. George Andrews of Halifax, N.S., writes:

"For many years I have been troubled with chronic Constipation. This ailment never comes single-handed, and I have been a victim to the many illnesses that constipation brings in its train. Medicine after medicine I have taken in order to find relief, but one and all left me in the same hopeless condition. It seemed that nothing would expel from me the one ailment that caused so much trouble, yet at last I read about these Indian Root Pills.

That was indeed a lucky day for me, for I was so impressed with the statements made that I determined to give them a fair trial.

They have regulated my stomach and bowels. I am cured of constipation, and I claim they have no equal as a medicine."

THE LATE WM. SLOAN.

On Friday last another of Tottenham's respected residents, Mr. Wm. Sloan, in his 61st year, passed to his reward. He had been in poor health for some time so that his death was not unexpected. The late Mr. Sloan was a native of Adjala, having been born on the old homestead, opposite Adjala Presbyterian Church, which was taken up by his father on coming to this country. He purchased the farm across the road on which is located Adjala Presbyterian Church (commonly known as Sloan's Church) and cemetery in which his remains were laid to rest on Monday. He lived there until about four years ago when he removed to Tottenham. He was a very successful farmer and a great lover of good horses of which he always kept a good stock and a number of years ago shipped horses to the West. The funeral on Monday was largely attended, service being conducted in Adjala Church by Rev. Mr. McCuaig, assisted by Rev. Mr. Black.—Tottenham Sentinel.

THE REAL WILDS.

British Columbia Mountains Are Genuine Primeval Nature.

The wonderful upper valley of the Fraser River in British Columbia is graphically described by Frederick A. Talbot in The World's Work. We quote sections of this well-told story of "Life on the Trail in the Rockies."

The Fraser River was picked up at the point where its headwaters are swelled by the outfall from Yellowhead Lake, and thence onward it was our companion for over four hundred miles. This, the second largest river in British Columbia, has an evil reputation from source to estuary, with its narrow canyons through which the water thunders like a mill-race, and which either completely defy navigation, or render it extremely hazardous. It was already boiling and bubbling, tumultuously when we struck it, as it writhed and twisted its tortuous way through the narrow valley hemmed in by two parallel towering mountain ridges. After crossing the Pass the land falls gently to the western end of Yellowhead Lake, but from that point it drops very sharply for a considerable distance, and it is this declivity which causes the Fraser to rush along so viciously. It swerves round hairpin corners with fierce velocity, the rapids are treacherous, while the whirlpools and eddies are like boiling pots.

And the trail is every whit as bad as the waterway.

You look ahead and it is like peering through a narrow wedge-shaped fissure or passage. It is just the same when you look behind. On either hand rises the eternally snow-capped serrated ridge to a height of 7,000 feet or so. The river simply threads its way through a deep cleft driven into the mountain range. The flanks of these sombre walls have been swept extensively time and again by fire, and in their gaunt nakedness exercise a most depressing effect, even under the most congenial atmospheric conditions. The only time when they do assume an individual beauty is at eventide, when the slanting rays of the setting sun strike rock, forest, and snow, producing those remarkable sunset effects and strange blazes of color for which the Rockies are so famous, and which change with startling suddenness every minute, until the sun has dipped below the ridge. Not a sound is heard beyond the tumbling of the river, or the dull reverberating thud, thud, and roll of a landslide or avalanche. Even the birds, and they are few and far between, are mute, save perhaps now and again when you hear the hollow mocking croak of the raven, or the eerie screech of an eagle.

Here and there the fissure-valley opens out to a width of a mile or so, and then the river spreads out, forming a lake. Moose Lake for instance, is really an expansion of the river-bed over a length of about ten miles. It is a pretty stretch of water with the densely forested mountain slopes on the southern bank, which have not yet been ravaged by fire, stretching down unbrokenly from the timberline to the water's edge. At places the prevailing expanse of green is torn by an ugly jagged wound, the result of a shiver on the mountain which let loose a few thousand tons of rock, and sent them, sweeping everything before them, hurtling into the lake below. This is one of the freaks of nature which occasion the railway engineer considerable anxiety, and he will exercise no end of ingenuity in avoiding such capricious outbursts.

Taken on the whole, this stretch of country offers but little attraction to agriculture in any form. The dense woodlands will attract the lumberjack, for there are some excellent stretches of big timber. Mining may also develop upon an extensive scale, but investigations have not yet betrayed many indications of mineral wealth. In this direction, however, it is but fair to state that the country has only been indifferently scratched by unscientific prospectors who have not wandered far from the trail. No one can say what exists among the mountains on either side, and no one will have the pluck to penetrate their fastnesses until the iron road communication is in close proximity.

The fact is that the country is too broken to permit of extensive invasion. The trail exists more in fancy than in the concrete. For a decade or more it has been a forgotten pathway, and has become littered with the huge trunks of many a timber giant, who has come to an untimely end through fire, and has reeled or collapsed across the badly distinguishable path. Then again, the trail wanders up and down in an apparently aimless manner. Now you are crawling cautiously along the side of a high ridge. The highway is no more than a narrow ledge, which falls down abruptly for a hundred or two feet. If your horse slips, or makes a false step, you can confidently expect a meteoric flight. You have to exercise constant vigilance so as to be able to cast off from your ship of the bush at an instant's notice. The safest plan is to walk.

Verigin, B.C.

British Columbia is to have two thousand more Doukhobors. So says Peter Verigin. He ought to know. He is the high priest. Three years ago, on the Columbia River, near Nelson, the Douks, appropriated 10,000 acres of land. They planted fifty thousand trees—apple, pear, plum, peach, and cherry. The white blossoms will be out in the spring. Fruit is promised later on. This fruit-growing will mean a great industry. It will mean that half the Doukhobor nation of Canada must give its attention to it. Peter Verigin has a great state problem on hand. He has decided that there shall be two communities of his subjects—two Verigins. Verigin in the valley of the Saskatchewan and Verigin on the Columbia. Verigin, B.C., will raise all the fruit for the nation. It needs a lot of fruit. We George Bernard Shaw, the Douks don't eat meat. Prairie Verigin will fill the granaries with wheat and sweet herbs and grasses.

INDIGESTION RIGHTLY CURED STAYS CURED.

Not by Treating the Symptons but by Toning up the Stomach to do Nature's Work.

Indigestion should not be neglected for by depriving the body of its proper nourishment it grows steadily worse. Neither stimulating medicines, which ruin the already weak stomach by making it work beyond its strength, should be used, nor predigested foods, which do not excite a flow of the digestive fluids, and by disuse cause the stomach to grow weaker. Nowhere is the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills more clearly useful. Its principle is to enable the stomach to do its own work by building up the blood and giving tone to the nerves. When these are once more restored to their normal health indigestion disappears and the cure is permanent. In proof of these statements we give the experience of Mrs. Paul Gannon, Star City, Sask., who says: "For more than a year I suffered with all the terrible pains of indigestion, and my life was one of the greatest misery. It did not seem to make any difference whether I ate or not, the pains were always there, often accompanied by a severe bloating and belching of wind. I did not even get relief at night, and sometimes hardly got a bit of sleep in my misery. I tried many remedies said to cure indigestion, but they did me not one particle of good and I fully expected that I would always be afflicted in this way. At this time my brother came home on a visit and he urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and got six boxes for me. By the time I had taken four boxes I began to improve and could eat with some relish. I was greatly cheered, and continued taking the Pills until all traces of the trouble had disappeared and I could once more eat all kinds of food without the smallest inconvenience. We have since used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in our family for other troubles. I am so firmly convinced of their virtue as a family medicine that I have no hesitation in recommending them to all weak, ailing people."

A NARROW ESCAPE.

On Friday last, Mr. C. Blackwood, accompanied by Messrs. Graham and White, of the Massey-Harris Co., Toronto, and Mr. J. W. Flett, Manager of the Union Bank here, went down the Credit for a day's fishing. All went well until they were preparing to return home. In watering the horses, one of them would not drink, and Mr. Flett, who was standing at their head, took off the bridle, thinking it might then drink. However, as soon as the bridle was removed, it made a bolt. Mr. Flett, who hung on, was dragged and finally knocked down, the wheels of the surrey passing over him. In falling he struck on the back of his head and was rendered unconscious in which state he remained for some time. Dr. Gear was 'phoned for, and started immediately for the scene of the accident but before his arrival Mr. Flett had recovered consciousness. It was found that no bones were broken and beyond a few bruises and stiffness from being dragged there were no serious injuries, and we are glad to learn that he will be all right in a day or so. It was a narrow escape from being killed and it is safe to say that he will never take off a horse's bridle to make him drink again. The team ran some distance and finally collided with a fence where they were stopped. The harness and two of the wheels sustained some damage.—Erin Advocate.

After examining J. J. Wisser, an Oakville dentist, Drs. R. W. Bruce Smith and Arthur Jukes Johnston, of Toronto, pronounced him hopelessly insane. He has paresis and the physicians say he will fail and not live long.

$1,120 IMPOSED IN FINES.

Ten Convictions Registered Against A. J. Lehman, an Acton Hotelkeeper, His Bartender, and Two Sons.

100 Gallons of Liquor Emptied on Street.

The raid by Provincial Inspector Ayearst and three provincial constables at Lehman's hotel a week ago last Saturday night was only the culmination of a surveillance by the officers of the Provincial Government extending over a period of two months or more. The climax was reached when the cases were heard in court at the town hall on Saturday before H. P. Moore, J.P., and H. W. Kennedy, J.P., of Georgetown. T. L. Monahan, barrister, Toronto, prosecuted for the License Department of the Province, and James Haverson, K.C., appeared for the defendants.

Six charges were preferred against Wm. Lawson, bartender, and alleged lessee of the bar; one for keeping intoxicating liquors, and five for selling. Convictions were registered in each case and the fines totalled $525 and costs, or 18 months in gaol at hard labor. The law-breaking bartender was, however, not present at the trial. His counsel arrived the evening before and it is surmised that when the serious nature of the charges was ascertained it was found advisable for Lawson to leave the country. It is reported that he left by the midnight train on Saturday morning with Cheyenne, Wyoming, as his destination. Acton is well rid of a man of his unscrupulous principles. A bench warrant awaits his return to Canadian territory at any time in the future.

A. J. Lehman, proprietor of the hotel, pleaded guilty, through Mr. Haverson, his solicitor, to selling liquor on two occasions for which informations had been laid against him. Notwithstanding that he had previously been fined for first and second offences for keeping liquor for sale, upon informations laid by Inspector Ayearst last October, the charges on Saturday were necessarily regarded as first offences for selling. In view of the previous convictions, however, the magistrates imposed the maximum penalty, viz., $200.00 and costs, or three months in jail at hard labor in each case.

It appears that this inconsiderate father was also guilty of getting two of his sons, who are of the tender ages of under 15 and 18 years, into the work of illegal liquor selling, and, it is understood, entirely against their wishes or inclinations. Charges were preferred against Austin and Norman, and their father instructed Mr. Haverson to also plead guilty in their behalf. Fines of $100 and costs were imposed in each case. The aggregate of the fines against Lehman and his sons was $600 and costs, and the aggregate against the staff of the Dominion Hotel $1,120 and costs.

After the convictions had been registered the magistrates gave Inspector Ayearst an order to confiscate and destroy the liquor that had been seized, and the casks containing it. The officers then rolled out the twenty kegs to the street in front of the town hall, and promptly knocked the heads and allowed the 100 gallons of lager to flow down the gutter. The destruction of the liquor was witnessed by many citizens and the remark was general that it was the best disposition of intoxicating liquor that had ever been made in Acton. A number of citizens with cameras took snap shots of the scene, and the event will be held up as an object lesson for years to come.

The events of the week have shown conclusively that the Liquor License Laws of the Province of Ontario mean business, and that Hon. Mr. Hanna and his department are determined that the clauses bearing especially upon Local Option municipalities shall be enforced. Mr. Avearst the Provincial Inspector, is a most intrepid and efficient officer, and is never satisfied with any perfunctory or careless service on the part of the preventive officers under his supervision. They certainly did their work well on this assignment.

Citizens generally sincerely hope that A. J. Lehman will at last have learned his lesson. Through his cupidity, fool-hardiness and lust for easily-made profits he has now got himself and his two boys into a position where any future conviction registered against them will mean incarceration in gaol for at least four months at hard labor.—Acton Free Press.

AN IMPORTANT RULING.

Bell Telephone Co. Must Make Long Distance Connection With Independent Lines.

Terminal Charge of 15 Cents for Each Long Distance Call.

(Toronto World, Thursday, May 11th)

After an almost interminable discussion between the independent municipal and Bell Telephone companies over the question of long distance connections, and many hearings before the board of railway commissioners, Chairman Mabee put the matter in a nutshell yesterday afternoon.

In delivering judgment he said that the connections should be made with the independent and Bell switchboards, that a terminal or additional charge of 15 cents be made for each outgoing call from business originating on an independent line, that a record be kept of all such business and a monthly return be made to the board, and at the end of a year the board will determine whether the granting of such facilities at competing points is detrimental to the Bell Company's business, and if any compensating charge should be levied.

The chairman's judgment was rendered after an adjourned sitting, which occupied two days, and the matter had previously been up before the board on several occasions. All through the hearing it was evident that the view of the board was against duplication of plants in respect of a monopoly of the nature of the telephone. "It seems to me that the control of rates does away with the necessity for competition," said the chairman.

In reply to the chairman's question what would the independent companies do if the board made an order and the Bell Company made it inoperative by failing to give proper service, H. D. Gamble suggested that the board was competent to enforce any order it made.

"Being diffident," averred the chairman, "I don't want to discuss the competency of this board, but the fact is the Bell Company people are human beings. Force them to do a thing and they have to do it if they think they are treated in an unfair way."

Quite naturally Mr. Gamble was unable to associate himself with that view, and J. C. Kelsey, a telephone expert from the United States, was called to show that all the virtues possessed by the Bell Company, according to Mr. Slyvan's evidence on the previous day, was a phantasmagoria. In Indiana, for instance, the lion and the lamb were not felicitating. In many other states independent companies had started up because they found it impossible to get an efficient service from the Bell Company. Judge Mabee thought if the conditions had been reversed the independents would have emulated the Bell tactics. "When companies, like individuals, get matters into their own hands they generally do things to suit themselves."

Mr. Gamble thought Mr. Sylvan's evidence was nine-tenths irrelevant, and the chairman agreed that nine-tenths of the evidence in all courts was irrelevant. He suggested that they hear about the ladies on one side being better looking than those on the other. Nearly everything else had been talked about.

Mr. Kelsey said that many people in the United States were watching the outcome of the case, and he thought the board ought to try some plan.

"Try it on the dog, eh?" interjected Judge Mabee.

Mr. Kelsey thought the board should order the long distance connection and charge five or ten cents for terminal facilities.

Mr. Gamble closed the hearing with an extended argument, and there was plenty of cross-firing from Mr. Cowan.

The board appeared inclined to the view that if long distance connection in competing towns was ordered without any compensating charge, there would be no object in subscribers continuing the Bell service. Vice-Chairman Scott would not listen to a terminal charge of five or ten cents. It should be fifteen or twenty cents. Judge Mabee referred to his experience with a Bell, local and automatic service in one town, and added, "Of all the curses that blasted any municipality that was the worst."

At this point the discussion centred on the application of the Nelson Telephone Co. for revision of the term of a contract with the Bell Telephone Co. made in 1909, not to build lines into Milton or Burlington. Inasmuch as these lines were not authorized in the charter, and the company proposed to apply for legislation to empower it to build those lines, the board took the view that the company could not contract itself out of doing what the charter did not contemplate, and the entire contract was cancelled upon the understanding that another contract satisfactory to all parties would be submitted for ratification.

In regard to the application of eleven independent companies for long distance connection, Chairman Mabee said that there were 378 contracts with the Bell Co. in force, and in many of these the features objected to by the board had been eliminated.

"Competition has never appealed to me as against a single company where you have a public service commission to control the rates and see that the service is adequate," he said. Competition means waste of capital and is a constant cause of irritation in the municipalities where it existed.

The argument in favor of competition was that it brought about a better service and normal rates, but with a controlling commission like the Ontario railway and municipal board, it was unnecessary for any outside company to enter the field. It was the duty of the board, for instance, to protect the Bell Company as much, as to see that the Ingersoll subscribers got long distance connection.

Long distance connection was the sheet-anchor of the Bell Company's service, and he felt confident that without it the Bell Company would not have 250 subscribers in Ingersoll. When experts like Mr. Kelsey and Mr. Sylvan were unable to agree upon an order, how could they expect an order which the board could make would be satisfactory? The only solution he could suggest was to make an order for, say, a year on an experimental basis, and see how it would work out.

Judge Mabee then outlined the basis of the order as given in the first paragraph. Each company would have to reimburse the Bell Company for any expense involved in the work and any disputes would be referred to the electrical engineer of the board. All companies included in the application would be permitted to come under the terms of the temporary order, but pending the result of the trial, no other orders would be made, and at the expiration of the year the entire matter would be thrown open again. A time would be fixed in which to complete the work, and all companies would be required to keep an accurate account of the business. There would not be any additional toll on business originating upon the lines of the Bell system, but long distance connection would have to be made at the nearest junction point.

Mr. Gamble then precipitated another lengthy discussion in regard to connection with independent companies at non-competing points, but the Chairman reserved judgment in this respect, as the board had already issued judgment in a similar matter.

The companies named in the application are: Ingersoll Telephone Co., Ltd.; Harrietsville Telephone Association, Ltd., Blenheim and South Kent Telephone Co., Ltd.; Wheatley Telephone Co., Ltd.; People's Telephone Co. of Forest, Ltd.; South Lambton Telephone Co-Operative Association; Port Hope Telephone Co., Ltd.; Markham and Pickering Telephone Co., Ltd.; Niagara District Telephone Co., Ltd.; Brussels, Norris and Grey Municipal Telephone System, and Consolidated Telephone Co., Ltd.

BRINKMAN—HADDOCK.

An interesting event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Haddock, lot 23, 6th line, east, Mono, at 5 o'clock p.m. on Wednesday, May 10th, the occasion being the marriage of their daughter, Maggie E., to Mr. Robert Brinkman, of Elder. The silken knot was tied by Rev. Wm. McLean, of Cardwell, in the presence of a gathering of about sixty guests, nearly all of whom were relatives of the bride and groom. The ceremony took place in the drawing room, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion, the bridal party taking their places beneath a pretty arch of flowers and evergeeens, with three large wedding bells hanging from the centre. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a gown of white silk point d'esprit, trimmed with satin. She wore a bridal veil and orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations. Her youngest sister, Miss Ettie, made a pretty bridesmaid in a becoming gown of white mull. She carried pink carnations. Mr. Joshua Brinkman, of Violet Hill, a cousin of the groom, acted as best man. The wedding march was played by the bride's sister, Miss Florence. After receiving the congratulations of the assembled friends at the close of the service, the happy couple led the way to the dining room, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served. The bride was the recipient of a large number of handsome and expensive wedding gifts. The groom's present was a beautiful gold watch and chain and to the bridesmaid a gold brooch set with pearls. Guests were present from Alton, Orangeville, Toronto, Rosemont and other outside points. The Banner joins the many friends of the newly wedded couple in wishing them an overflowing measure of happiness.

Imperfect Kidney Action Causes Rheumatism

Rheumatism with its kindred ailments—Lumbago, Wry Neck, Neuralgia, etc., usually results from lodgments of uric acid in the joints and muscles.

Now the chief function of the kidneys is to properly filter this poison from the blood.

Only when they fail to do this is Rheumatism probable.

Kidney weakness starts in various ways. A sudden chill, after perspiring freely, sometimes settles in the kidneys—or an unusual strain may cause it.

Poisons which should be filtered out of the system are pumped back into the blood, causing Uric Acid, the real cause of Rheumatism, Lumbago, Wry Neck, Neuralgia, etc.

In the early stages Nyal's Stone Root Compound will stop it.

Will start your kidneys working properly so that the Uric Acid is reabsorbed and eliminated.

Away goes your Rheumatism with it.

Perhaps these early warning twinges have passed unheeded, and your Rheumatism has become deep seated.

Muscles all snarled up in knots as it were.

Then you'll need Nyal's Rheumatic Cure.

2. *A. McPherson, Jno. Gilchrist, J. E. Smith, Dr. R. N. Kyles, C. W. Hurndall, skip.
3. *Cecil Groskurth, Ed. Sproul, Rev. G. A. Rix, J. D. McMillan, Geo. E. Brown, skip.

12. R. E. Gillespie, Dr. G. H. Campbell, W. H. Lugsdin, Dr. T. H. Henry, E. C. Clark, skip.

The players, whose names are preceded by asterisks, are known as star players, and are the only men who may be borrowed by other rinks, in case they find themselves short of their regular players. A new rule this year obliges the skips to use their own star players whenever possible, and also prohibits any skips from borrowing the same star man for two consecutive games.

AN INTERESTING COMPARISON.

The Winnipeg Free Press presents some striking comparisons between freights in the Western Provinces and in the Northwestern States. The rates on tile or brick from St. Paul to Grand Forks, N.D., are, it says, 11c. per 100 pounds for a 321-mile haul, while 19c. is charged for a 315-mile haul from Winnipeg to Indian Head. The rate from Duluth to York, N.D., a distance of 423 miles, is 13c. per 100 pounds, while from Winnipeg to Mortlach, Sask., only a mile further, the rate is 22c. Similar discrepancies prevail in all other like cases. What makes the injustice all the more transparent is that the same company charges higher rates in Canada than it does in the United States. The Canadian Pacific, on its lines in the Northwestern States, will haul a carload of brick 200 miles for $32, while the charge for hauling a like distance in Manitoba is $64.

It is no wonder, when the company has such a gold mine as this to draw upon, that Canadian Pacific hundred dollar shares sell around 234.—Toronto Weekly Sun.

THE PATIENT BRAIN

A tireless worker so long as supplied with rich, red blood.

The brain is one of the most patient and industrious organs of the body. It can be induced, by good treatment, to perform prodigies of work. But it is sensitive and will not brook abuse. It responds to the lash at first, but if the lash is laid on too hard it balks.

Nervous trouble is generally brain trouble, and no suffering is to be compared to mental suffering, with the accompanying dread, suspicion and melancholy.

One-fifth of the blood in the human body is consumed by the brain, so make the blood rich and red by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and you will overcome diseases of the nerves. Headaches will disappear, irritability will go, digestion will improve, and weakness and despondency will give place to new hope and courage, new vigor and energy.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food will enable you to avoid such extreme nervous trouble as prostration and paralysis. 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50; at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Record Breaking Reductions

CONTINUE AT THE

Mason & Risch "Forced Removal" Sale

With an utter disregard of manufacturing cost and former selling prices, the remaining pianos in stock have been reviewed, and the price on each and every one has been cut down so as to ensure its immediate disposal.

There is not a single feature of this RECORD DISPERSION that calls for explanation after we have stated that the contractors have failed to complete our new building on Yonge street before the expiration of our lease at 32 King street west.

Every instrument in this great stock, whether it be new or used, must be disposed of at once. We have no place to store them.

We will give any terms of payment in reason to any responsible buyer, and he can have the piano at once.

To dispose of this immense stock we realize that we must do something for the public we have never attempted before.

The public will only be satisfied with the bribe that means sensational value, with not a loophole left for criticism when the bargain is completed Ten Years' Hence.

Scores of buyers have attended this sale from many towns from this and adjoining Provinces, each and every one satisfied that they had secured THE bargain of their lifetime.

Don't miss this matchless opportunity. Come and Inspect Anyhow, if it is only to compare with what you have or can see elsewhere.

No one will urge or seek to unduly impress you. The prices and the goods do all the talking. If you want further information our polite attendants will give it.

HANDLED OVER $1,000,000.

At its meeting on Monday Chinguacousy Council transacted an unusual amount of very important business. The resignation of George Bowles, who for twenty-nine years had filled the position of Township Treasurer, was council for the position. Mr. Watson son was the unanimous choice of the council for the position. Mr. Matson was for many years a member of the township and county councils and has also filled the position of county and township auditor. He is therefore very familiar with municipal matters and is otherwise well equipped for the performance of the duties of the office. His salary will be $250. In saying farewell to the council Mr. Bowles referred to many interesting events that had transpired and the many changes which had occurred during his term of office. Upwards of $1,000,000 passed through his hands, and with the exception of one or two mistakes for very trifling amounts, which were made good by himself, no mistakes had occurred. Mr. Bowles is now well advanced in years and feels that he has done his duty in this and other respects. He will spend the rest of his days, which we hope will be many and happy ones, in quietness and retirement.—Brampton Conservator.

ORANGEVILLE RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

Orangeville Rifle Association No. 74 held its annual meeting in the Public Library Auditorium on Friday evening, commencing at 7.30 o'clock. Officers were elected as follows:—Hon.-President, Major (Rev.) G. A. Rix; President, Col. J. A. V. Preston; Captain, C. V. Jeffers; Secretary-Treasurer, H. S. Footner; Committee, Dr. G. H. Campbell, R. B. Plummer and E. H. Sproule. The Committee was instructed to see that the ranges are put into shape and that the Association has a good supply of ammunition on hand. Practices will likely begin at an early date. The Association has an annual competition, open to all members, for a handsome silver shield. Two years ago the trophy was won by Mr. Carson Jeffers and last year by Mr. S. T. Still, of Glencross. The competition for this handsome prize will be held on the Wednesday half-holidays during the months of July and August. Membership in the Association costs only $1.00 a year. For this small sum any citizen who cares to join can have many hours of solid enjoyment and at the same time acquire a degree of proficiency in marksmanship that would otherwise be impossible, except at considerable personal expense.

See Ritchie Bros.' Spring Jackets at $4.00 and $4.98.

MAY MONTHLY FAIR.

A good-sized crowd attended the monthly fair in Orangeville last Thursday. The majority of the visitors were horsemen, many of them coming from a distance. Owing to the high, disagreeable wind the number of ladies was smaller than usual. Merchants as a result did not have the usual volume of fair day trade. Horse buyers were numerous and managed to pick up a number of equines at good prices. Jews predominated among the buyers and as usual drove some hard bargains. A scrap between a couple of dealers enlivened matters on Broadway late in the afternoon. The men got into a dispute over some horse deal and treated the bystanders to a lively exhibition of fisticuffs. They managed to get satisfaction out of each other in about two minutes. One of them had his nose barked, but beyond this little damage was sustained by the combatants.

The only medicine a mother should give her little ones is one she can give and feel absolutely safe that not the slightest harm will result —a medicine that is guaranteed strictly free from injurious drugs. Such a medicine is Baby's Own Tablets — every box is sold under such a guarantee and the mother may feel perfectly safe in giving them to even the new-born babe. Concerning them Mrs. Albert E. Wood, London, Ont., says: "I have found Baby's Own Tablets all that is claimed for them. My baby has had them from birth, and will take them eagerly. I am sure there is no better medicine for little ones." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Kelly was the guest of friends in the city last week.

Mr. G. E. Barlett, of Toronto, was in town over Sunday.

Mr. Jack Aitcheson spent Sunday with friends in Beeton.

Miss Irvine spent a few days with Mrs. R. N. Irvine, of Toronto, last week.

Mr. "Jack" Aiken, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Aiken, West Broadway, left for the city on Monday to take a situation with J. B. Henderson & Co., a wholesale dry goods house.

Her friends will regret to learn of the illness of Mrs. Youmans, Zina St., who is confined to her room with an attack of pneumonia. At time of writing her condition remains unchanged.

Mr. W. H. Maxwell, of Toronto, has been spending a few days renewing former acquaintanceships in town. Mr. Maxwell was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John McConnell, First St., while here.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch. Irwin and Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Holmes, of Orangeville, Mr. and Mrs. John Brinkman, of Alton, and Mr. Rich. and Miss Mary Brinkman, of Toronto, were guests at the Brinkman-Haddock marriage at Relessey last week.

Mr. R. J. Dodds, a former Orangevillian, motored up from the city on Saturday and spent Sunday with friends here and at Grand Valley. "Bob" had a fine car and several of his friends enjoyed pleasant trips during his short sojourn here.

Dr. W. J. Clark, College St., Toronto, spent a few hours renewing former acquaintanceships in town on Monday. Our former townsman looks well despite the stress of city life, and the demands of a large and steadily growing practice.

Mr. S. J. Brown, ex-Deputy Reeve of Amaranth, whose long and critical illness has been noted in The Banner from time to time, was in town last Friday for the first time since late last summer. His many friends were pleased to see him looking so well after his protracted siege.

Messrs. Norman and Gordon Davies, sons of Rev. and Mrs. Davies, of the Baptist Church, passed successfully the recent examinations at McMaster University, Toronto. Norman secured the Knott prize of $25 for highest standing in Eng. Bible I. Both are teaching in the West for the summer months.

The subject, which possesses more than ordinary interest, refers to the four hundred years of Israelitish history prior to the birth of Christ. Dr. Talling, who is one of the foremost scholars of the Presbyterian Church, preached in St. Andrew's some months ago. His sermons are well worth hearing. Rev. Mr. Morris, pastor of the Church, will spend the day in Beeton, where he has arranged to conduct anniversary services.

DR. D'ALTON McCARTHY.

The death of D'Alton Stewart McCarthy, eldest son of Judge McCarthy, took place at the home of his parents in this town on Sunday. Dr. McCarthy was taken ill at his home in Hemet, Cal., some months ago. He left for Orangeville on April 20th, accompanied by his brother, Mr. M. S. McCarthy, M.P., of Calgary, arriving here about three weeks ago. After recovering from the fatigue of the long railway journey he showed a temporary improvement, but his physicians had already pronounced his case hopeless, and the inevitale dissolution was not long delayed. Death was due to a complication of diseases. The late Dr. McCarthy was in his 42nd year and unmarried. He graduated from Trinity Medical College about 1890, after a creditable college course. He had been living in Hemet, Cal., for five years, and prior to that had practised his profession in Los Angeles. He was Medical Health Officer at Hemet, and prior to his fatal illness was in the enjoyment of a large and profitable practice. He was a successful practitioner, and his taking off in the midst of a useful and honorable career is inexpressibly sad. Besides his parents he is survived by two brothers, Mr. M. S. McCarthy, M.P., of Calgary, and Mr. L. M. McCarthy, of Winnipeg, Inspector for the Northern Crown Bank. He was a nephew of the late D'Alton McCarthy, for many years M. P. for North Simcoe. The funeral, which was private, was held from his parents' home to the Forest Lawn Cemetery at 2.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Rev. G. A. Rix, rector of St. Mark's Church, was the officiating clergyman. The pallbearers were Mayor Riddell, Col. Preston, C. R. Wheelock, H. F. Tuck, Geo. McIntyre and John Howard. Among the friends present from outside Orangeville were L. G. McCarthy, K.C., D. L. McCarthy, K.C., and Mr. Frank McCarthy, of Toronto, all cousins. There were many beautiful floral tributes, bearing mute testimony to the esteem and sorrow of friends. Among those, who expressed their sympathy in this way, were Mrs. D'Alton McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. McCarthy, and Miss Hope Morgan, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Watson, Hamilton, Mayor Riddell, Mrs. F. W. Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. G. McIntyre, Orangeville.

WILLIAM HAMMOND.

Mr. William Hammond, a resident of Brampton for a number of years, died at the home of his brother, Mr. John Hammond, Wellington St., on Friday morning after an illness of about seven weeks. Deceased was in his 72nd year, and leaves a widow, four sons, John, Henry and Fred., of Brampton, and George, of Belfountain, and a married daughter, who resides in the United States. John Hammond, Orangeville, James Hammond, Inglewood, Mrs. James Newsome, Grand Valley, and Mrs. Geo. Harrison, Caledon, are the surviving brothers and sisters. The funeral was held to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Saturday afternoon, Rev. G. A. Rix, rector of St. Mark's church, being the officiating clergyman.

A HIGH-CLASS PROGRAM.

Mr. Firth appeared before Durham audiences on two or three previous occasions, but never to better advantage than he did Tuesday night. He possesses a full, rich, clear baritone voice, and is well deserving of the praise given him by the press.

Miss Mazie Jackson is a star soloist, and from her very first appearance, she had the rapt attention of the small, but appreciative audience. She has an attractive stage appearance and a highly cultured voice of wide compass. The closing duo, by Mr. Firth and Miss Jackson, was pronounced by lovers of music to be worth alone the whole cost of the admission.

The character impersonations of S. Homer Eaton, is, we believe, the most realistic performance that was ever heard in Durham. His "Reuben Ketchum" was a masterpiece, and without any buffoonery or extraneous effort to be smart, he demonstrated fully, the possibility of being funny, without even a suggestion of vulgarity. Some have the idea that to be funny, it is necessary to be vulgar, or to go as near as possible to the edge of vulgarity. Not so with Mr. Eaton. His comicalities are all innocent, and some of his highest touches are sublime to the point of reverence. Everything on the program was high-class and all three artists gave unmistakeable signs of culture and refinement.—Durham Chronicle, May 11th, 1911.

The Firth Concert Company will be heard in the Town Hall, Orangeville, on Friday evening. The Company comes here under the auspices of Court Gardiner, Canadian Order of Foresters.

CALEDON EAST.

Mr. Thos. Cunnington, an old resident of this neighborhood, died very unexpectedly a week ago Thursday. He went to the stable to attend to his horses and failing to return to the house within a reasonable time, members of the family went out to search for him, and were horrified to find him lying on the floor, where he had apparently fallen unconscious. When a physician arrived he found that the old gentleman had been stricken with paralysis. He lingered until Tuesday morning, when he passed over to the great majority. Last autumn the deceased, who was in his 76th year, and Mrs. Cunnington celebrated their golden wedding. The late Mr. Cunnington was a member of the Methodist Church and was a member of the trustee and quarterly boards. He was also at one time Superintendent of the Sabbath School. In politics he was a staunch Conservative. He is survived by a widow and a family of three sons and four daughters, all married. He was a member of the A. O. U. W., in which he carried $2000 insurance.

FIRTH CONCERT A SUCCESS.

Those who attended the concert given by the Francis Firth Co. in the Town Hall Monday evening, enjoyed a rare treat. Seldom does one have the opportunity of hearing such versatile artists as this company contains. Mr. S. Homer Eaton, the reader and impersonator, can certainly hold an audience and move them to tears and laughter. His character impersonations are unsurpassed by any artists in his line.

Mr. W. Francis Firth, baritone, author and composer, displayed a voice of exceptional range and quality, containing the brilliancy of a robust tenor. His singing of Annie Laurie will long be remembered by those who heard him, while his own compositions "Whisperings of Love" and "There Let Me Rest" which he played and sang, proved him to be a composer of no small ability.

Each member of this little company officiated at the piano, and in all, gave the citizens of Sarnia one of the greatest treats heard here in years.—Sarnia Post, Feb. 9th, 1911.

The above Company will appear in the Town Hall here on Friday evening, May 19th, under the auspices of the Canadian Order of Foresters. Admission 25c. and 35c. Plan of hall open at The Banner Book Store, on Friday morning, May 12th, at 9 o'clock.

FINEST WESTERN WHEAT FARMS

Dirt Cheap!

WM. PEARSON
of Winnipeg, known as "Last Mountain Pearson"

I have 175,000 acres of the finest wheat land in the world. I am going to sell a part of it quick, at low prices, to advertise the district, and to the first homeseekers or investors who write me, I am going to make the most remarkable land proposition ever known. The price is so low that the first year's wheat crop will, in all probability, pay back the entire cost of the land—and payments so easy that you will scarcely miss the money. These farms are right in the heart of the Western Canada wheat country, located in

The Famous Last Mountain Valley
SASKATCHEWAN
"The Golden"

Land-hungry homeseekers are rushing into this fertile valley by thousands. Seven railroads reach this district. Entire townships are broken up and put under cultivation every day during plowing season. New towns and cities spring up over night. The population of this valley will increase four-fold in five years. Living in Last Mountain Valley is like living in your own home country. These new settlers have all the comforts and luxuries of the homes they left, and are GETTING RICH, BESIDES! Grasp now this great opportunity to secure choicest wheat land cheap!

Our Prices Lowest—Our Terms Most Liberal

We have a list of land bargains such as were never before known. Our prices are absolutely the lowest—and we sell on small, easy payments. No other Colonisation Company can hope to meet these terms and prices, because none can buy land now in such enormous tracts.

THE ERA OF THE HORSE.

Horsemanship has suffered nothing from the development of electricity, petrol and steam. If this is the age of the auto and the aeroplane, it is no less the real era of the horse. Machinery may replace him as a motive and traction power, just as it replaced hand labor in the factory and on the farm. The status of the laborer has suffered nothing from the evolution. His position is vastly better than it ever was when the introduction of engines and looms first filled his mind with apprehension. What progress, lent by these agencies, has done for labor, is also being done for horsemanship. Never was there such strong incentive to intelligent enterprise in horse-breeding as at the present time, when roads are full of autos, and when steam plows, each of them capable of plowing and seeding a quarter section per week, are dotting the great wheat fields of the west. The man with the steam plow is the man who will pay the highest price for good breeding stock. The man with the auto is also the man who will afford the highest incentive to the horse-breeding interests. He prefers to see his son interested in horses, for horsemanship develops manhood. He will buy the best horses and will encourage horse interests Hence it is that the fashionable horse show is gaining ground so rapidly at the present time. Not only are the country horse shows and the big winter and summer fairs and exhibitions, where horses and horse knowledge from an every day practical standpoint are set forth, becoming events of more and more absorbing interest, but the city horse show, where the fashionable horse parades the tanbark, is claiming the interest of the wealthy in a way that it never did before. During the past year or two horse shows have sprung up in many cities and towns that never evinced any particular interest in horse-flesh before. The movement is spreading in a national as well as an international sense, and any government that lacks courage to step right out into the open with measures necessary to the furtherance of the horse interests is missing a golden opportunity to win honor and glory. —Canadian Farm.

NOTHING LIKE IT FOR COLDS.

Mrs. Holland Ferguson, Sheffield, N.B., writes: "Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has cured my children and myself of severe colds. We are never without it in the house. There is nothing like it for colds and throat trouble, and it is so soothing and pleasant to take, my children would drink a whole bottle if they were permitted."

The King's Royal hotel at Owen Sound's summer resort is reported to have again changed hands, the purchaser being a gentleman from Detroit, who will open the hostlery for the summer.

FROM THE TROPICS TO HEALTH

Cedron Seed Plant.

In Central America many natives are gathering the seeds of this plant, Cedron Seed, a rare medicine that has valuable curative powers. But few drug stores carry this seed, owing to the high cost of the article.

This country is a large consumer of this costly seed because it enters into the famous catarrh remedy, Peruna, sold the world over.

ON THE SIDE.

"Jimmy, your face is dirty again this morning" exclaimed the teacher in a neighboring school. "What would you say if I came to school each day with a dirty face?" "I would be too polite to say anything about it."

Two very nice little girls had a quarrel one day. "Anyhow," said one to the other, who was an adopted child, "your parents are not real." Whereupon the other little girl retorted, "I don't care, my papa and mamma picked me out. Yours had to take you just as you came."

At an important state function in London blue tickets were issued to persons in high rank, admitting them to that part of the hall reserved for members of the royal family. Less distinguished guests were given white tickets. Through some mistake an important public man received a blue card, while his wife received a white one. When the couple reached the audience chamber there began the trouble, inasmuch as the lady firmly declined to be separated from her husband. An aide endeavored to reason with her, pointing out the dreadful consequences that would follow a mingling of blue and white. "How absurd!" exclaimed the lady. "What do you take us for—a seidlitz powder?" She was permitted to enter with her husband.

Mahlon Ivins, Jr., of Merchant, has a reputation as an actor, and takes part in nearly all of the local shows. In the last show that was given "Shorty" had one of the leading parts.

After the show, while he was taking off his make-up, an elderly man made his appearance in the doorway.

"Are you Mr. Ivins?" the old man enquired.

"Yes," replied "Shorty," as he motioned him to be seated.

"Well," the old man continued, "I just want to tell you something. I've been watching your acting to-night. you should not be playing in this town; you should be with Mansfield, Booth, or Irving, or Joe. Jefferson."

"W-w-why?" "Shorty" said "those actors are dead."

The Presbyterian congregation at Swinton Park have sold their old church to the Orange society who have moved it to their own property and will fit it up for a lodge room. Work has commenced on the new Presbyterian church.

While playing on the banks of the Irvine river near Salem recently, a little boy by the name of Figg about 8 years old, fell over the rocks a distance of 50 or 60 feet and but for the bravery and presence of mind of a younger brother, the fall might have ended with even more serious results. As it was the little chap had his jaw cracked and was otherwise shaken up.

$3,600 in Cash Prizes for Farmers

Tell Us How You Did It

You may win a prize by doing so

SUPPOSE your friend Bob Wilson, on the next concession, "pulled up" at your front gate on the way back from market and asked about that silo or barn foundation you built, you would be glad to tell him, wouldn't you? And it wouldn't take you long, either, would it? And, as a matter of fact, you'd find as much pleasure telling him as he would in listening—isn't that right?

First you would take him over to view the silo or barn foundation. Then you would start to describe it—its dimensions—the kind of aggregate used—the proportions of cement used—number of men employed—number of hours' working time required—method of mixing—kind of forms used—method of reinforcing, if any—and finally, what the job cost. So that by the time you finished, neighbor Wilson would have a pretty accurate idea of how to go about building the particular piece of work which you described.

Now couldn't you do the same for us, with this difference—that you stand a good chance of getting well paid for your time?

In Prize "D" of our contest, open to the farmers of Canada, we offer $100.00 to the farmer in each Province who will furnish us with the best and most complete description of how any particular piece of concrete work shown by photograph sent in was done. The size of the work described makes no difference. The only important thing to remember is that the work must be done in 1911 and "CANADA" Cement used.

In writing your description, don't be too particular about grammar or spelling or punctuation. Leave that to literary folk. Tell it to us as you would tell it to your neighbor. What we want are the facts, plainly and clearly told.

Sounds simple, doesn't it? And it is simple. And surely it is well worth your while when you think of the reward in view.

Now sit right down, take your pen or pencil—fill out the attached coupon—or a post-card if it's handier—and write for the circular which fully describes the conditions of this, the first contest of the kind ever held in Canada.

Every dealer who handles "CANADA" Cement will also be given a supply of these circulars—and you can get one from the dealer in your town, if that seems more convenient than writing for it.

Contest will close on November 15th, 1911—all photos and descriptions must be sent in by that date, to be eligible for one of these prizes. Awards will be made as soon as possible thereafter. The decisions will be made by a disinterested committee, the following gentlemen having consented to act for us, as the jury of award: Prof. Peter Gillespie, Lecturer in Theory of Construction, University of Toronto; Prof. W. H. Day, Professor of Physics, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph; and Ivan S. Macdonald, Editor of "Construction."

Having decided to compete for one of the prizes, your first step should be to get all the information you can on the subject of Concrete Construction on the Farm. Fortunately, most of the pointers that anyone can possibly need, are contained in our wonderfully complete book, entitled "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete." A large number of Canadian farmers have already sent for and obtained copies of this free book. Have you got your copy yet? If not, you'd better send for one to-day. Whether you are a contestant for one of our prizes or not, you really ought to have this book in your library. For it contains a vast amount of information and hints that are invaluable to the farmer.

Please send full particulars and book.

Before leaving Grand Valley for Erin, where the family now reside, Miss Isabell Bayne was presented by the Choir of Knox Church, of which she was a member, with an address and a very pretty clock and mirror.

Postmaster J. R. Morris, of Blenheim, observed a unique anniversary on May 1, for it was 56 years since he took charge of the Blenheim post office. He has the longest term in the service of any man in the Dominion, and during all the 56 years he has served without interruption except for an occasional holiday.

For the first time in the history of Windsor, in the police court of that city recently, the provision of the law which prevents hotel keepers from taking anything but money in payment for liquor was enforced. Joseph Demars was fined $19 for accepting a peck of potatoes from a man in payment of whiskey.

At a largely attended meeting of Knox Church, Elora, held a week ago Monday evening an unanimous call was extended to Rev. W. M. Hay, of Ottawa, to the pastorate of their church, which was made vacant six weeks ago by Rev. W. R. McIntosh's removal to King St. Presbyterian church, London.

A Markdale jay undertook to get ahead of a waitress in an hotel not ten miles away from here. After glancing over the menu he ordered some "licker." As the order was given in a local option district he thought he had the queen of the tray guessing. But she was wise, and brought him his order—which was cold tongue.—Flesherton Advance.

A crisis has evidently arrived in regard to the People's Railway. Very little construction work has been done on the road, and Guelph has been talking of cancelling its agreement. Recently a Dominion charter was secured. Bonds have been issued to the extent of $25,000 a mile, and the promoters are said to be actively engaged in selling these bonds. It is also rumored that the Canadian Northern Railroad will buy the line.

Lambe, has returned the roll, which shows a total assessment of $584,421 an increase of $50,000 over that of last year, caused by a general increase on all property in town. Income assessable, $3,100; business assessment $55,426, population, 1672, an increase of 40.

THE DEPARTMENTAL STORE PATRON.

A newspaper editor in one of the Manitoba villages had the joke on a citizen of his burg not long since. This citizen and his family, who are great admirers of the departmental store, bought all their goods in Winnipeg. A few weeks ago a daughter of the citizen got married and the entire wedding paraphernalia, including the invitations, was purchased in the city. The day after the wedding the bride's father brought to the newspaper office a long account of the event, but when the paper appeared it contained nothing about the wedding but an announcement of three or four lines. Next day the citizen called at the newspaper office to demand an explanation why the report of the wedding had not been printed. "Oh that's all right," said the editor, "you will likely find it in one of the city departmental store catalogues."

HORSE BURNED IN AMARANTH.

On Friday afternoon a log house on Lewis Menary's farm on the Luther Amaranth townline, occupied by Jas. Fulton, caught fire during the high wind, either from a spark from the chimney or from a burning rubbish pile. Mrs. Fulton ran to Mr. McPherson's for help, leaving her little child playing around. The child followed after her across the field, while Mrs. Fulton returned by the road. Missing the child, the woman fainted, thinking it was in the burning house, and in the search valuable time was lost in which the house might have been saved. In a little while the child was seen toddling along the path taken by the mother. While the house was completely burned, the greater part of the contents was removed by willing hands.—Star & Vidette.

The death took place at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., on Sunday, May 14th, of Frank Ruston, formerly of Albion, from an attack of diphtheria. He was in his 40th year, and is survived by one daughter, his wife having died some years ago.

On estates exceeding $50,000 duties run from 1 to 5 per cent., according to amount of estate. There are other provisions in the act, as recently amended, adding further duties.

WEEKLY ENVELOPE SYSTEM.

The Presbyterian Laymen's Missionary Movement has issued an interesting leaflet setting forth some of the practical results of the adoption of the weekly envelope system of church giving. Speaking in a general way the influence of the Laymen's Missionary movement, with the adoption of the better methods of missionary education and finance that it is actively promoting, has resulted in a very gratifying increase in the givings of the Presbyterian Church in Canada in the last two years. This statement does not apply to the Presbyterian Church alone, but is equally true of the other three great Protestant bodies —the Anglican, Baptist and Methodist Churches. Givings for the missionary, educational and benevolent objects of the Presbyterian Church in Canada in 1909 show an increase of $160,000 over the givings in 1908 and the total contributions for all purposes show an advance of $330,823. The splendid results obtained from the weekly envelope system wherever adopted constitute its best recommendation to the numerous congregations that have not yet adopted this plan of giving. Experience has amply demonstrated that systematic giving by the weekly envelope plan does much to solve the problem of church financing.

A SURE THING.

All Canadian Government Annuities are payable for life no matter how long the Annuitant may live, but the Guaranteed Annuity, that is an Annuity which for a slightly increased payment is guaranteed to be paid for 5, 10, 15 or 20 years as may be desired should the Annuitant die before the period mentioned had expired, enables a purchaser to provide for the contingency that someone may be dependent upon him at the time the Annuity falls due. For example, a man 75 years of age recently purchased an Immediate Annuity of $300 to be guaranteed for ten years for which he paid $2,643. If he should die at, say, 80, the $300 a year will be paid to his heirs for the remaining five years, but in any case he will receive the Annuity as long as he lives, should he live to be one hundred or more. This means in other words that the sum of $3,000 is guaranteed to be paid whether he lives or dies. The $2,643 had been invested at 6 per cent. and was yielding an income of $158.58; so that his income is now almost double that which he formerly received. Literature fully explaining the Annuities scheme as applicable to both young and old may be had by writing to S. T. Bastedo, Superintendent of Canadian Government Annuities, Ottawa, to whom letters go free of postage.

PETITION FOR PAROLE.

William Hanlon, the King township farmer, who was sentenced by P. M. Pattullo to three years imprisonment for forgery, has petitioned to be given his liberty on parole. After his trial here Hanlon was taken to Guelph and there tried on similar charges. He was found guilty and sent down for a period of twelve years. He has already served three years and a half and earned 296 days remission out of a possible 298 by good conduct. He wants to get back to his farm. The Minister of Justice has the matter under consideration.

A BAD ACCIDENT.

John McElwain, of Ballycroy, Gets His Right Hand Maimed in Shingle Mill.

John McElwain, a young farmer, living near Ballycroy, was the victim of a most unfortunate accident about six o'clock last Friday afternoon. He was clearing the shavings from the edger of a portable shingle mill that was at work on his farm, when his right hand came in contact with the saw and was badly lacerated. Mr. McElwain was removing the shavings with a pitchfork and the saw caught his hand outside the handle severing the four fingers and the thumb near the middle joint. The remainder of the thumb was so badly crushed that the physicians found it advisable to remove the entire bone before stitching up the wound. There was grave danger that the injured man would bleed to death, but the men who were with him managed to check the bleeding by binding the arm tightly at the wrist and below the shoulder. Drs. Dunning, of Mono Mills, and Campbell, of Tottenham, were telephoned for, and on their arrival dressed the wounded hand and did everything possible to make the suffering man as comfortable as the circumstances would permit. Mr. McElwain is about 35 years of age and is married, but has no family. Profound sympathy is felo for him in his misfortune.

A $7,000,000 DEAL.

Former Orangeville Man Central Figure in an Evening Paper's Report of a Mammoth Transaction.

Sir Donald Mann Admits Negotiating for Control of Island Smelting Company.

Considerable stir was created in town on Friday night by the announcement in the Toronto Daily News that Dr. J. S. Island, a former Orangeville boy, had disposed of his interest in a secret smelting process to Sir Donald Mann, of Mackenzie and Mann, for the fabulous sum of $7,000,000. The News article, which was quite positive in its statements, reads as follows :—

"The Island Smelting and Refining Company, of Toronto, which sprang into existence a few years ago through the researches of Dr. J. S. Island in the back room of his dental office, has been sold to Sir Donald Mann, of Mackenzie and Mann, for the sum of seven million dollars.

"Dr. Island confirmed the report this morning at his office. Under the conditions of transfer of the secret process for which Dr. Island searched for years, together with all apparatus, and the services of the inventor, the holders of stock in the Island Smelting and Refining Company will receive approximately seven millions for their holdings, which will represent an enormous profit on their original investment. Payment will be in stock, Sir Donald Mann and his associates retaining about three millions.

"The story of the transaction contains several elements of peculiar interest, inasmuch as the inventor was for many years a practising dentist in Toronto, and during spare hours patiently developed his theories of the profitable extraction of precious metals from low grade ores. Upon that goal, which had brought failure and financial ruin to many predecessors, he concentrated his attention and success came at last. To-day, through the negotiations for the new company he finds himself several times a millionaire.

"The process by which the former dentist has overcome one of the greatest problems of the mining world, namely, the successful and profitable extraction of valuable metals from low grade ores which, have formerly been cast away upon the "dump" or left unmined in the earth, was described guardedly by Dr. Island to The News.

"It is not an electrical process," said he, "but purely chemical. There are no refractory metals as far as the scope of my invention is concerned. It consists of the application of hydro-chloric acid and sulphuric acid to ores, which converts the mineral salts into soluble salts."

While the above revelation will hardly enable an outsider to turn his backyard into a river of gold, it is nevertheless the basis of a ten million dollar secret.

It is not regarded as an all surprising that the eyes of Sir Donald Mann should have been turned covetously upon such a practical and precious idea as was represented in the discovery. Of recent years the Mackenzie-Mann money has gone extensively into mining properties, particularly iron mines west and north of Lake Superior and in other localities which branch lines from the Canadian Northern system could reach.

The application of the process to the ores of such properties is understood to be worth untold fortunes, as would likewise be the exclusive control of the scheme in Canada, and the rights for its sale in other countries. A highly important factor in inducing the present large price for Dr. Island's holdings was the fact that the patents have been secured upon it, giving full protection.

About two years ago the Mann interests offered six millions cash for the secret, which was refused. It is understood than in addition to the inventor's share holdings, a large portion of the balance is in the hands of Toronto men, although United States money is also represented. Mr. John Douglas, a well-known Canadian man, is president."

The News seems to have been incorrectly informed, for on Saturday, the Financial Post, which generally gives its readers pretty accurate information on financial topics, stated that the announcement of the sale was incorrect. What the Post stated was :—

"The announcement in an evening paper yesterday that Sir Donald Mann had purchased the Island Smelter rights for seven million dollars is incorrect. To The Post Sir Donald denies it flatly. Negotiations are in progress but the amount mentioned as involved is quite wrong."

Dr. Island is a son of Mr. Joseph Island and a brother of Mr. J. L. Island, of this town. He attended High School here and has been practising dentistry in Toronto for a number of years. Mrs. Island is a daughter of the late Andrew Henry, Clerk of Mono township for many years.

W. L. WILSON DEAD.

Governor of Brampton Gaol Succumbs After Long Illness.

Remains Will Be Interred in Brampton To-Day.

Mr. W. L. Wilson, Governor of Brampton gaol, and formerly a prominent figure in the municipal and political life of the Township of Caledon, passed away on Monday after a protracted illness. Mr. Wilson had suffered for the last two or three years with a growth in the throat. He underwent an operation about a year ago, but the resultant improvement was only temporary. He did not suffer toward the last and his end was peaceful.

William Lewis Wilson was born in Armagh County, Ireland, in 1847. He came to Canada with his parents and other members of the family when about four years old. The family settled in Mono township, a short distance from the village of Hockley. In 1864, when about 17 years of age, Mr. Wilson decided to strike out for himself and to that end became apprenticed to Mr. Thos. Hackett, of Hockley, with whom he wrought at the trade of shoemaker for five years. In 1870 he started in business on his own account in the village of Mono Centre, at that time a thriving and bustling burg. In 1872 he removed to Mono Mills and in 1881 took up his abode in Charleston, where he followed his chosen trade up to the time of his appointment to the Governorship of the Brampton gaol in the autumn of 1906. The late Mr. Wilson was a staunch Conservative and took a very active interest in politics, whether municipal or general. For a quarter of a century he was a prominent figure in the political activities of the historic constituencies of Cardwell and Peel. He was also a strong Orangeman, and was for many years one of the mainstays of Warnock L. O. L., Charleston. He was identified with the Methodist Church, and his only son, Rev. W. E. Wilson, is a minister in that body. Governor Wilson was twice married. His first wife was Miss Mary Goodeve, of Caledon East, whom he married in 1870, and who died in 1877, leaving a family of four daughters. His second wife, who died three years ago this month, was Miss Eleanor A. Raney, of Adjala. The fruit of this union was a son and two daughters. The surviving members of the family are Rev. W. E. Wilson, of Sudbury, Misses Etta and Amanda Wilson, of Brampton, who nursed their father through his long illness; Mrs. E. R. Bowles, Toronto, and Mrs. R. J. McConnell, Orangeville.

Th late Mr. Wilson was a genial, kindly man, who made many friends, but had few enemies. In the political arena, he fought hard for his party friends, but avoided the personalities that are so fruitful in engendering bitterness, and as a consequence, enjoyed the respect and good-will of those who did not share his political convictions. He had hosts of friends and acquaintances in the Counties of Dufferin, Simcoe and Peel, who will learn with more than ordinary sorrow of his removal from the scene of his earthly activities.

The interment will take place from his late home to Brampton cemetery this afternoon.

SUCCESSFUL DENTAL STUDENTS.

The results of the annual examinations of the Royal College of Dental Surgeons have just been announced. Among the successful candidates we notice the name of Mr. N. K. Douglas, of Owen Sound, in the third year list. Mr. Douglas has entered Dr. G. H. Campbell's office for the summer months. Mr. J. B. Aiken, a son of Mr. G. L. Aiken, of Toronto, formerly of Orangeville, Mr. D. A. McCarten, and Mr. J. H. Wiltse, a brother of Miss Wiltse, of the Public School staff, have passed in the second year. We congratulate the young men upon their success.

MR. NOBLE WRIGHT.

Mr. Noble Wright, formerly a well-known citizen of Orangeville, departed this life at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Walter Gates, of Winnipeg, on Sunday, May 14th., after a long and trying illness. Mr. Wright had a paralytic stroke in 1907 and was an invalid from that time until his death. He was 75 years of age and was born in the north of Mono township, where he spent his early years. He also resided at Primrose and near Mono Centre, and about twenty-four years ago, moved to Orangeville, where he was engaged in the milk business for a number of years. His wife died about twenty-two years ago, shortly after the family came to Orangeville. Mr. Wright went to the West eight or nine years ago, taking up his residence in Saskatoon and subsequently in Winnipeg. He is survived by a family of five sons and four daughters, most of whom are married. They are George and James, of Winnipeg, Robert and William, of Saskatoon, Noble, of Chicago, Mrs. Chas. Sandy, Delisle, Sask., Mrs. Wm. Allen, Toronto, Mrs. Walter Gates, of Winnipeg, and Mrs. E. H. Burkhardt, of Sandwich, Ill. The remains were brought to Orangeville for burial, arriving here on Friday evening. The funeral was held to the Forest Lawn Cemetery at 2.30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, service being held in St. Andrew's Church at 1.30. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Dr. Neil, the gifted pastor of Westminster Church, Toronto. Dr. Neil, it is interesting to note, was one of the late Mr. Wright's Sunday School pupils when a boy living at Mono Centre. The floral tributes were chaste, numerous and beautiful. The remains were borne to their last resting place by Messrs. Wm. Leitch, Toronto, Alex. Leitch, Horning's Mills, and D. McPherson, I. J. Murphy, F. Marshall and T. B. Lewis, Orangeville. Among the relatives present at the obsequies were two of the sons, Noble, of Chicago; and George, of Winnipeg, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Allen, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gates, Winnipeg, Mrs. Chas. Sandy, Delisle, Mrs. Burkhardt, Sandwich, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Leitch, and Miss Leitch, Horning's Mills, Mr. Wm. Leitch, Toronto, and Mrs. Robinson, of Hamilton.

PATRICK MEANEY.

Mr. Patrick Meaney, a member of the staff of the Orangeville Sun, and one of the oldest residents of this town, passed away at his home on East Broadway on Monday. Mr. Meaney had been in failing health for the last year or so and had not been able to do a great deal of work since the New Year. The last time he visited The Sun Office was in March. His death was due to a general breakdown of the system. The late Mr. Meaney was born in Guysboro, N.S., 76 years ago. He came to Orangeville in 1863, joining the staff of the Sun, which his brother-in-law, the late John Foley, father of the present editor, had founded three years previously. He has been connected with The Sun ever since, and was one of the oldest printers in Ontario. When he came here Orangeville was a struggling frontier hamlet. He saw it grow step by step from the village stage into the present modern and progressive town. More striking still are the changes Mr. Meaney has witnessed in the printing craft. When he joined The Sun, there were only a few dailies in Canada. The type-setting machines and the modern presses that have come into existence in the last quarter century were unknown. Type-setting was all done by hand and a country office was fortunate indeed if it possessed anything better than the oldtime Washington hand press. Mr. Meaney was an excellent workman, steady and industrious in his habits, and well-informed on the topics of the day. He was a very quiet man, kindly dispositioned and it was seldom indeed that he uttered a harsh word about those who cherished creeds and opinions differing from his own. He was unmarried and is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Foley, of this town, and Mrs. Barlow, of Petoskey, Mich. The funeral, which was private, took place yesterday morning, the remains being conveyed from his late home to St. Peter's Church, where high mass was said by Rev. Father Egan. The interment took place in the Forest Lawn cemetery. The pallbearers were Mayor Riddell, W. M. Green, J. E. Booth, Jos. Ryan, Dr. T. H. Henry and J. M. Bennett.

Wilson Graham, a young Irishman, who works for Samuel Irvine, East Luther, received a bad shaking up a week ago Saturday. While leading a team attached to a land roller through a gate something started them to run away. The young fellow was knocked down insensible, had a rib fractured, and was injured internally, as he spat blood for a couple of days afterwards. Some think the roller passed over him, but the Dr. thinks the injuries to his body do not bear this out, and that the force of the blow from the horses or roller knocked him out of the way. At all events he received a severe shaking up.

SHELBURNE GIRL DROWNED.

Miss Hazel Hicks and Miss Blaine Victims of Holiday Fatality.

Former Was Organist in Shelburne Methodist Church.

Miss Hazel Hicks, aged 18 years, of Shelburne, and Miss Olive Blaine, aged 23, of Barrie, students at the Toronto College of Music, were drowned in Lake Ontario, two and one-half miles from the mouth of the Humber at noon on Wednesday. A dinghy in which they were sailing went on its beam ends, and the young women lost their hold and sank as the boat was swept by a wave.

Cecil J. Wolfe, of Olds, Alberta, and H. A. E. Clarke of Kingston, Jamaica, students at Trinity College, who were the escorts of the young women, were rescued by the opportune arrival of the steamer, Turbinia, which was on its way in from Hamilton. Captain B. W. Bongard, by the aid of his glass, saw the boat in the water and what appeared to be two persons clinging to it.

Although he had a thousand passengers on board coming from Hamilton and it was somewhat risky to put the steamer about, owing to the danger of a panic, among the passengers, who were liable to rush to one side to view the persons in distress, he promptly lessened speed and lowered a boat.

Mr. Clarke was in a critical condition, and Purser Samuel Hewitt, who is a third year medical student, and who had a supply of medical necessaries on board, set about to resuscitate him when the two men were taken to the decks of the Turbinia.

It took nearly half an hour before the patient was able to speak. Mr. Wolfe was also prostrated, and he did not revive for some time. The two men were landed at the Turbinia ticket office and the police ambulance was summoned and conveyed them to Trinity College.

Miss Hicks, one of the victims of the sad occurrence, was the only daughter of Mr. David Hicks, of Shelburne. She had been a pupil of the College of Music for three years and was to have taken her degree of A. T. C. M. this year. She was organist in Shelburne Methodist Church and went home every week-end to take charge of the organ for the Sunday services. She was a bright, winsome girl, was deeply interested in her musical studies and gave every promise of a successful career. The news of her regrettable death reached Shelburne during the afternoon and spread consternation amongst her acquaintances and friends. The sad event has cast a gloom over the whole community, where the dead girl was known to nearly everyone and was a general favorite.

You cannot expect good work from a furnace unless it is properly installed.

You cannot buy a Furnace like you do a Stove—send it home and have the "Handy-Man" put it up—not if you expect to get all the heat out of your coal.

¶ Your heating system must be planned. The registers must be properly placed. The warm and cold air ducts must be a certain diameter. The furnace must be located in just the right spot—and it must be just the right size. ¶ We supply plans to you absolutely free and you do not need to buy a furnace to get them either.

¶ If you have a heating problem to solve—new building or old—send us a rough diagram of your building, showing the location of doors and windows. ¶ We will prepare for you complete plans and specifications for heating that building, give you an estimate of the cost of the heating system, and also the advice of our experts on every detail.

"Hecla" Furnace

The plan is essential, but it is also essential to have a furnace that will give you ample heat—one that will supply pure, fresh air without a taint of gas, and, for the lady of the house, heat that will be free from dust and smoke.

The "Hecla" is such a furnace.

GET THIS BOOKLET.

"Comfort & Health" tells how you can get heat without gas. It tells how to get the same heat from six tons of coal as you ever got from seven. Write for it to-day. And at the same time ask for any information you may require regarding the heating of your home. 147

JOS. HILTS.

H. Bridgen, a farmer near Glencairn, met with an unfortunate and painful accident a few days ago which might have resulted much more seriously than it did. He was harrowing and in making a turn in a low part of the field the harrow turned up and fell backwards on him pinning him to the ground, from which position he was more than an hour extricating himself. The horses fortunately remained quiet or he might have been killed. As it was he sustained a dislocation of the shoulder and other painful bruises which have laid him up ever since.

The Guelph hospital staff are somewhat interested over present extremes to be found among the patients. A woman from Erin, Wellington County, weighs 350 pounds, and it was necessary to make some unusual preparations for her reception. Drum Major Joseph Lawrence, of the Wellington Rifles, furnishes the other extreme. Lawrence stands six feet ten inches, and, because of his great height, has been a figure of wide interest at militia camps and on parade.

THE LIFE-BLOOD OF BUSINESS.

Never before has the part taken by advertising, in keeping the wheels of business moving, been so forcibly illustrated as in March last, when the temporary printers' strike in Chicago caused all the morning and evening papers to appear in size of four pages only, without any advertisements.

This strike of a few hours' duration only, proved conclusively how entirely modern retail business is dependent for its success upon newspaper advertising.

At the busiest hours when the department stores are usually thronged with thousands of shoppers, they were almost deserted and the main streets wore a holiday appearance.

The loss to the newspapers carrying the usual amount of week-day department store and smaller store advertising was insignificant compared to the enormous loss sustained by the whole business community.

When the advertising life-blood was cut off—the means of talking to the purchasing public — business, immediately, came practically to a standstill.

The successful business man has realized that to meet his expenses of rent, light, taxes, and wages, he must reach the largest number of customers in the quickest possible time, and the value of advertising as the most economical and most rapid means of obtaining custom was, on this occasion, most conclusively proven.

And it seemed to prove more than this—it placed newspaper advertising in a very prominent place as an essential in every advertising campaign.—Economic Advertising.

ROSEMONT.

At present our farmers are busy preparing their root ground.

We wonder if any of our young people intend taking in the Picnic at Mono Centre on the 24th. We believe they had a good time last year.

Mr. Geo. Ladd, of Mono Centre, was in the village on Monday.

Mr. Geo. Conners is busy drawing stone for Mr. Archie Moffatt's barn with his engine. He moved a kitchen for Mr. Hill Little this week.

The Lindsay boys from Violet Hill have completed Earl Brett's wall and Earl expects to raise the addition to his barn shortly.

Richard Holt, of Violet Hill, is building the stonework for Archie Moffatt's barn.

Mr. and Mrs. James Christian, of Ennis, spent Sunday with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Elder and Miss Gertie Didd, of Lisle, spent Sunday at Mr. Jno. McNabb's.

Mr. Russell and Miss Aggie McDowell spent a few days with friends in Barrie this week.

Four loads of gypsies passed through our village on Monday.

We wonder where Buster is this hot weather? Don't be downhearted my friend. You have many friends around Rosemont. We hope to hear from you again next week.

Wedding bells are sounding faintly near Rosemont. Hill and Fred. are both busy getting their houses ready.

Our school has been closed for the past few weeks owing to the sickness of the teacher.

Inspector Gordon, of Orangeville, was in our village last week.

MONO MILLS.

A painful and serious accident occurred on Friday afternoon of last week, the victim being Mr. John McElwain, a well-known and prosperous young farmer, of Adjala. Mr. McElwain was engaged in assisting to operate a shingle machine and in some way his right hand came in contact with one of the rapidly revolving saws, and was badly lacerated. Dr. Dunning, of Mono Mills, and Dr. Campbell, of Tottenham, were summoned and found it necessary to amputate the four fingers below the second joint, and to remove the thumb bone, which was badly splintered as far as the wrist. Needless to say Mr. McElwain will be badly disabled the remainder of his life and sincerest sympathy is felt for him.

Miss Alma Dowling entertained a number of her friends to an ice-cream party on Friday evening of last week.

Mrs. Reid, of Toronto, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harvey.

The Committees in charge are busy making arrangements for the Institute Picnic on June 9th, and from present indications it will be both a pleasant and profitable afternoon's entertainment.

Misses' Dresses at $3.50 each at Ritchie's.

CAMILLA.

Well, Mr. Editor, I thought I would send you in a few items of interest from our neighborhood this week.

Seeding is over for this year and everybody is making preparations for planting roots.

Mr. Jos. White will be raising a new bank barn some of these days.

If what we hear is correct it may be a bad thing for the country for one to acquire too much wealth, for Mr. Richard Langford is about purchasing 200 acres more land, which will cause us the loss of our highly esteemed neighbors, Wm. Canning and family.

Mr. David W. Lundy spent Sunday at Mr. John Frame's.

Mr. Earl South and Mr. Wm. Parks were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Moore on Sunday afternoon and evening.

D. McDonald and Alex. Buchanan called on Mr. Fred. and Miss Berdita Thompson one evening last week.

Mr. Fred Thompson, Miss Lily South, Mr. Herb Patterson and Miss Berdita Thompson spent Sunday with Mono Centre friends.

Alex. Buchanan and Tom Campbell say the roads are fine up north. We wonder how they found that out.

Some things we would like to know:

The reason James Parks told Jim Little that wood and coal oil was worth more money now.

Why Earl South wont go back to Owen Sound this summer.

What makes Bob Little say that White's barn raising will come off soon.

We would advise the old maids of this community and all other communities to be prepared for the census enumerator when he comes on June first.

DUTCH HENRY.

MONO CENTRE.

The Picnic held in McCarston's Grove on Victoria Day, under the auspices of Burns' Presbyterian Church, attracted a record crowd. The countryside was well represented for miles in every direction, and scores of visitors were present from Orangeville, Shelburne and other neighboring points. The glen, which forms the picnic grounds, at any time one of the prettiest spots imaginable, was at its very best on Wednesday. To the charm of attractive and picturesque surroundings was added the further delight of an ideal day, neither too warm nor too cool for comfort and pleasure. The Picnic itself was a huge success, the committee in charge contributing its share to the enjoyment of the hundreds of pleasure-seekers by providing a capital programme of races, novelty events, games, etc. In the early part of the afternoon interest centred in the baseball match between Violet Hill and Mono Centre teams. The contending nines treated the spectators to a rattling good game, with plenty of hitting and base-running to keep everybody on tip-toe most of the time. The visitors had slightly the better of the argument and managed to win a well-earned victory and at the same time annex a cash prize of $8. The line-up was as follows:—

Violet Hill—Lewis Cotton, p; L. Halbert, c; A. Lewis, ss; K. McKenzie, 2b; Wilford Turner, cf; Alex. Halbert, 1b; John McKenzie, rf; Fred. Turner, 3b; Herb. Lindsay, lf.

Mono Centre—W. H. Patterson, p; John Bloomer, c; W. Conn, ss; Bert. Canning, 1b; John Aiken, 2b; H. Patterson, 3b; W. Bridgeman, cf; W. Lundy, lf; Geo. Aiken, rf.

Umpire—Robt. Lewis.

The baseball match was followed by a well-contested football game between Primrose and Camilla teams. This resulted in a draw, neither team being able to score. The players were:—

Primrose—Goal, John Riley; backs, Herb Lindsay, Fred. Turner; halfbacks, Perry Lindsay, W. Turner, K. McKenzie; forwards, Lorne Halbert, Dave Scott, H. Lindsay, John Galbraith, John McKenzie.

Camilla—Goal, D. Patterson; backs, Jno. Bloomer, Jos. Snowden; halfbacks, Oscar Banks, Fred. Thompson, Earl South; forwards, C. Scott, R. Nicholson, J. Maltby, W. Ewing, John Moffatt.

Lon Tupling, of Shelburne, made an impartial referee.

The ladies of the congregation served an excellent supper, commencing about 3 o'clock. Owing to the size of the crowd, the problem of furnishing eatables for everybody was not an easy one, but the ladies proved equal to the exigencies of the situation. Ga.e and refreshment booth proceeds amounted to $150 or upwards.

CHARLESTON.

Mrs. George Dodds, an old and very highly respected resident of the township of Caledon, passed away at her home, lot 20, 2nd line, west, on Wednesday of last week, aged 84 years. Mrs. Dodds, whose maiden name was Catherine Rutledge, was the last surviving member of a family of four sisters, who were married to four brothers. She is survived by a family of four sons and one daughter, namely, Mrs. James McFarlane and Messrs. Crozier and Wm. G. Dodds, of Canandaigua, N.Y., Samuel Dodds on the homestead, and John Dodds, of Bates & Dodds, undertakers, Toronto. Deceased was a member of the Presbyterian Church, her husband, who died about four years ago, having been an elder of Knox Church. The funeral, which was largely attended, was held to the Forest Lawn cemetery, Orangeville, on Saturday afternoon, Rev. S. R. Robinson conducting the services.

The concert given in the Town Hall Wednesday night, under the auspices of Knox Church, was a huge success. The hall was crowded to the doors, and everybody seemed delighted with the bright and original programme provided. The proceeds were over $80.

FOR HORSE STEALING.

A Toronto Sub-Contractor in the Toils.

Albion Township Farmers Are The Complainants.

Adolph Meyers, of 122 Edward St., Toronto, a civic sub-contractor engaged in digging and hauling clay from the Adelaide and Lombard streets sections of the trunk sewer, was arrested on Monday by Detective George Guthrie on two charges of horse-stealing. He was taken to Brampton by Provincial Constable Broddy to stand his trial.

Messrs. John W. Maw and Albert L. Harper, farmers residing near the village of Bolton, are the complainants. The teams taken from them were valued at $600 a pair.

The horses were stolen three weeks ago. Detectives Guthrie and Murray learned that they were in possession of Meyers, who had them hauling clay from the trunk sewer to the Cherry street dump. Accompanied by Maw, the detectives found one team at the dump on Thursday. Maw declared the team belonged to him, and they were unharnessed and handed over to him. On the same day one of Harper's horses was found in Meyer's stable in the rear of 122 Edward street, and the other in a stable on Clinton street.

Meyers told the detectives that he purchased the horses for $970 from a dealer who was buying horses in the country and was not detained. In the meantime the county police had been gathering evidence, with the result that Constable Broddy made a flying trip to the city Monday armed with a warrant for the apprehension of Meyers.

Horse-stealing in Peel county has been very prevalent during the last couple of months, several farmers losing valuable animals which have not yet been recovered.

Ladies will find that McPherson & Johnston can supply their wants in stylish Footwear.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the acting would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. Headvised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never loose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

POACHING IN WARWICKSHIRE.

The net is now spread out for a hundred yards or more along by the hedge of the Rung Hills Spinney in Shakespeare's greenwood. It is most singular to notice how quiet the poachers are. Not a word do they exchange with one another, and yet the temptation to speak in the circumstances must be very great.

Perhaps the coast is not clear. Mayhap the keen ear of the poacher has caught the "swish, swish," of the game preserver's boots wading through the dew-moistened grass on the other side of the river. Perhaps—and this is the most likely reason of all—the poacher knows by the dimpled and undulating look of the turf in the field—for before entering the ground the most experienced man amongst them lay flat upon the earth, level with the sky-line, and looked out over the pastures — that more rodents than usual are out on the feeding-ground.

That is why they are so quiet, so silent that any intrusive watcher might think those dim, crouching forms were bodiless, and, in some unearthly way a special creation of mysterious Nature. That is why they can look no way but upon the ground; because they are of the earth earthly. That is why they cannot lift their eyes to heaven, where the top rim of the silver moon is peeping, orb-like, at their proceedings, over the dark spinney in the rear.

It is now that the mysterious instincts of the poacher's lurcher are called into play. Up till now the dog has been sitting upon its haunches, watching out of its dark eyes the preparations of its master for the slaughter of the innocents. Not one single sound has that brindled creature—taught by fear or love or some evil power—given forth to denote that it is alive. It has sat there, gloomy as a gorged raven, until it has seen the last peg, the last forked twig—pegging the bottom of the net stuck into the green turf.

A low, peculiar clucking kind of noise is now heard, so faint as to be almost a doubt. It is the poacher's signal to his dog. It is that which the lurcher hat been waiting for so silently.

The dark, dumb, statute-like thing darts from its position in a shot. Down towards the river it goes, rapidly and noiselessly, to frighten the feeding hundreds of furry ears into the net, upon the top cord of which the poachers keep a tight finger. The effect is almost magical; the lurcher is doing its work well. Its serpent-like sliding through the tall grass has paralyzed the quiet nibblers with a great and abiding fear. They rush headlong into the net spread out for them.

Jerk—jerk—jerk!

The Warwickshire poacher knows the signs. Each jerk foretells the doom of one pair of furry ears. Before escape is possible, the big hand of the poacher is down upon it, and its poor neck is broken. A quivering, shivering, trembling creature, with an agonized cry strangled in its throat, is thrown down, never to run and gambol again!

As jerk continues to follow jerk, the heap of murdered rabbits and hares grows in size. The sons of Ishmael are having a good time. Yet they do not utter a word; no single cry escapes from their set lips. Even the fiend-like lurcher worked up to fever-heat with excitement, opens not its mouth. It is a strange, weird spectacle—mysterious, uncanny, unearthly, almost devilish.

The dog works like an imp of darkness. With head now erect and now between its legs, it runs here and there wherever it sees a dimple in the grass, and where, by instinct, it knows right well there lies out a furry little cony, or the parent of a family, enjoying a feed of sweet lush grass which it will never enjoy any more.

The tact of the lurcher is remarkable. It is full of cunning. The hideous creature "doubles" as quickly as the rodent it chases. It seems to take a perfectly unholy pleasure in its work, as, with its red and slimy tongue lolling far out of its mouth, it hurries every victim to the net. And yet, laboring as it must be under the most intense excitement, it has been so well taught by its master in the dreadful trade of poaching that it can never be induced to "give mouth."

In the meantime, while the wonderful lurcher is enjoying its saturnalia of murderous power, the poachers themselves are having a veritable orgy. Their movements are rapid. It seems to the silent observer of their crafty actions as if they reserve all their energy for their nocturnal work. In the daytime, loafing in the slums—for there are slums even there— of gay Brookington, they are sluggish, lethargic, indolent, and downright lazy; they betray no inclination to do anything but lounge about with a pipe between their teeth, waiting for the day to die and their nightwork to begin.

When the night does come they are new men intent upon their designs. Mercury runs in their veins. At those nocturnal hours when there is more life in their fingers-tips than in the whole of their turgid bodies during the day. And they need it, the rush of rabbits is so very strong. There is so much murder to be done. With the same instincts as that animating their lurcher dog, they do it without a word. Only a whispered curse ever escapes them, and that is only when one of them has caught a hare and fails to strangle its child-like screams quick enough.

Their work in the Close of the Rung Hills Spinney is now nearly over. Thanks to the avility of their dog and the cunning of their own hands, almost every rodent which was out on the feeding-ground, but a few minutes ago, now lies lifeless in a heap beside each poacher. Some of them are still shivering and quivering in their death tremors.

The haul in the Spinney Close has been such a big one to-night that there is no need for the poachers to go forward to a new covert. It is now only necessary to get the "game" away with all convenient despatch. On the land surrounding the Red Coomb Farm in this secluded part of Shakespeare's greenwood that is quite an easy matter. There is no disturbing farmer to interrupt, no stern keeper to waylay, no country constable to arrest.

So they put the furry ears into the sack-bags provided for them, pull up their forked twigs, fold up their spreading nets, and make off as silently as they came, looking, as they move, like dumb visitants from the nether world where darkness is loved better than light.

In complimenting themselves upon the lucky haul which they have had, they have not one single word to throw at their dog, without whose cunning services they would have come poorly off. This is the way of men who have had their turn served. That extraordinary creature, half human and half canine, melancholy as ever now the excitement has subsided, walks behind the poacher's heels on the homeward jaunt just as it did on the outward—a silent, shadowy, impish, and unearthly form. — The London Spectator.

PROOF OF INNOCENCE.

A Southern negro was brought into the courtroom accused of stealing a neighbor's chickens.

Mister George Washington Shintopp did you steal those chickens? asked the judge pointedly.

No, sah, jedge; ah is toe 'spectable fo' dat.

But it is stated on good authority that a bundle of feathers was found in your back yard the day before Christmas.

Dat 'sinneration, jedge, des proves mah innocence, coz' how could the feathers be found in mah back yard de day befo' Christ'mus, when mah wife didn't pluck those chickens until de day after Chris'mus?

The business of the Georgian Bay Shipbuilding and Wrecking Co. at Midland has so increased that it has been found necessary to extend its premises and Mr. Dobson has purchased about twenty acres of land across the bay with a good water frontage. This will be admirably adapted for the establishment of a shipyard for the pulling out of vessels, for repairs and the building of new vessels.

WHAT IS THE JOB WORTH?

The May issue of Printer and Publisher, Toronto, has some sensible remarks under the above caption regarding municipal printing by the editor, Mr. John M. Imrie, who is an expert as to the cost of printing.

"The loyalty of the average country newspaper," begins Mr. Imrie, "to his local municipality is surely beyond question. He gives freely of his time to municipal affairs and of his newspaper space to "boosting" the home town and contiguous territory. Then, when the time for printing the auditors' report and voters' list comes around, he takes pity on the low state of the municipal finances and charges less for the products of his composing room and press room than that product costs him. He is indeed a philanthropist.

"Many years ago a rate of $1 a page was established as the proper charge for auditors' reports. Under the conditions that then obtained this price was probably sufficient to yield a fair profit to the printer. These conditions have changed; the cost of producing a page is much higher; yet in many offices the old rate remains. Why? Because the printer does not know the cost of the product he sells; a situation which is driving many printers to the wall, and is keeping others from enjoying some of the luxuries of life that their fourteen-hour-a-day efforts deserve."

Mr. Imrie then goes on to analyze several jobs that have been submitted to him, and to give estimates of what the price should be.

An auditors' report from a town on the Georgian Bay consisted of 30 pages and cover. One of the local publishers charged for it $34, the old rate of $1 a page. The publisher wrote Mr. Imrie that "perhaps the changed conditions should now make it $1.33 a page. He asks Printer and Publisher to give its opinion of the proper price. The editor compiles in a detailed estimate and shows that the price should be $2 a page.

Another auditors' report came from Tavistock. It consisted of 11 pages and cover. Mr. Imrie shows that the price for the job should be $26.91.

The whole trend of Mr. Imrie's criticisms is to the effect that there is not a municipality in the country that is paying near the right price for its pamphlet work, an opinion, by the way, that the Economist has held for a long time. It would also be interesting to have Mr. Imrie's opinion on the prices paid for the printing of the financial statements of churches.—Economist.

PROSPEROUS CALGARY.

Population Is Increasing by Leaps and Bounds.

City is Bright, Healthful and Has Hopeful Manufacturing Outlook.

The following interesting communication is from the pen of Mr. A. B. Galbraith, a Shelburne young man who went West a few weeks ago:—

Calgary, May 9th, 1911.

Dear Editor:

Allow me the use of a little space in your columns to tell some of our friends about this great Western city, which has a population at the present time of 60,000, that is being steadily augmented every week by trainloads of people from all over the continent. Sometimes one train is divided into no less than three sections of a dozen cars each, with as many as four thousand settlers aboard. Some of these have no money and no way of getting out again until they earn some. Others have money and have come in with the intention of speculating. Everbody seems to be prospering, especially the men in the real estate business. Some of these are rated as millionaires and others are well on the way. The people are, as a rule, very friendly. Evidently, they are not as big feeling as in the older cities, and are more willing to advise and help their fellows. The wages are good, running from thirty cents an hour for street laborers, to sixty cents and seventy cents for first-class mechanics. The climate is very invigorating. Although the days are warm, the evenings are always delightful and healthy. The breezes from the snowy peaks of the Rockies are responsible for this. One thing the easterner misses is the continual song of the birds. One seldom hears anything except an odd robin and the frog orchestra, which is so melodious in Ontario at this season of the year is never heard at all.

It is claimed that because of its sunny climate and splendid water from the springs in the Rocky Mountains, Calgary is the healthiest city in Canada. The city is developing rapidly into a great manufacturing centre. The Elbow and Bow rivers, which join in the centre of the city, furnish splendid water power. The outlook is very optimistic at present, owing to the Canadian Northern from the southeast and the Grand Trunk Pacific from the northeast, both intending to build their shops in the heart of the city. Land in Calgary at the present time sells from $100 to $1,000 per foot frontage, naturally becoming less valuable as the outskirts of the city are approached. Some of the residential lots sell for $1,000 a lot of 25 ft. frontage. Most of the farming land throughout the surrounding country sells at $30 to $40 per acre. No land is available for homesteading this side of Edmonton, but there is thought to be a great country to the north of the city. Horses for dray purposes and driving purposes apparently belong to the past. Autos have taken their places. There are about twenty-five churches and six schools, all of which seem to be well patronized. The streets are nearly all paved and ornamented with a few jack pines, a tree very similar to the Ontario spruce. The city has the control of its street railway system and seems to have a well-equipped and well-operated system. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the use of your columns, I am,

Yours Faithfully,

A. B. GALBRAITH.

CONCRETE
THE SALVATION OF THE FARM

IT is only a few years since concrete was generally accepted as a reliable building material, yet the difference which this convenient and economical form of construction has made in the outlook of the farmer in these few years, has done much to revolutionize things on the farm.

The growing scarcity of lumber and its consequent rise in price, has gradually caused that commodity to assume the general aspect of a luxury. So much lumber is used on the farm for buildings and fences that its extremely high price has made it almost prohibitive to the average farmer unless he has an extra large sum of money to spend on outlay. Wire fencing partially solved the problem, but real relief did not come until concrete was proven by actual tests to be not only practicable, but to possess many advantages over wood as a building material.

The uses to which concrete can be put are practically without limit, more particularly on the farm. Already the list includes forms of construction ranging from the large hip-roofed barn down to a nest-egg that deceives the wisest old layer in the brood. These uses have been extended largely, by a series of extensive experiments conducted under the auspices of the Canada Cement Company, on farms throughout the country. This large concern, which has fathered the concrete building process in Canada, has been a large factor in the spreading of knowledge of concrete and its uses. Recently it has distributed 65,000 copies of a book entitled "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete." This work contains information which makes it possible for any farmer to do almost any kind of construction work around a farm with concrete, and is given free of charge. This generous distribution of literature and the efforts of this firm to show the farmer how practical concrete really is, have earned for them the highest of commendations.

The most recent plan to introduce concrete to the farmer is a contest arranged by the Canada Cement Company. The lines along which the contest is planned are broad enough to enable every farmer to compete with equal chance of success with the most experienced user of concrete. In each Province there are four cash prizes of equal value offered, each prize $100. The first is to be given to the farmer in each Province who will use the greatest number of barrels of "Canada" cement in a given time on his farm; another prize will be given to the farmer in each Province who uses "Canada" Cement on his farm in 1911 for the greatest number of purposes; the third is to be given to the farmer in each Province who furnishes a photograph showing the best of any particular kind of work done on his farm during 1911 with "Canada" Cement. The fourth will be for the farmer in each Province furnishing the most complete description of how any particular piece of work, shown by any photograph sent in, was done. This contest will be open until November 15th, 1911.

Already much has been accomplished on the farm by the use of concrete. Perhaps the greatest argument in its favor, and one which has developed only since concrete has actually been put into general use, is its health-promoting properties.

If sickness occurs in a city to any great extent, a searching investigation usually follows, conducted by a medical health officer, with the result that it is traced back to its cause and this cause removed.

The farmer must be his own medical health officer. He must look to the causes to be found on his own farm. A great deal is now being done along these lines, and in many places, particularly in the West, it has been found that a number of the causes of sickness can be avoided by the use of concrete.

HOGS EATING FROM A CONCRETE FEEDING FLOOR.

A common sense view of the situation shows that this simply-handled material is peculiarly well adapted to measures of sanitation and in preventing germs from spreading.

Possibly the place visited more often than any other by the farmer is his well. If it is so situated that unhealthful ground streams can leak into the drinking water, there is every possibility of this unhealthfulness being communicated to the farmer and his family by the most direct route. Concrete has done much to remedy this. If a well is built of concrete—a solid cylinder set into the ground—it is impossible for such leakage to occur. In the same way a concrete dairy provides but slim accommodation for disease germs. These two simple precautions are a long stride in the direction of good health, as water and milk, the latter even more than the former, are the commonest of the germ-distributing agencies and both are used frequently by the farmer and his family.

SHOWING CONCRETE WELL CURB AND PLATFORM.

Not only has the modern farmer studied out a method of guarding against sickness from sources which might, in the case of water and milk, be termed, internal. He has gone a step further and has decided that the barnyard must also be subjected to some changes if doctors' pills and doctors' bills are to be dodged.

The average barnyard—there are many worse, some better—consists of a stack of hay or straw, a manure pile, a watering trough, and a spongy, oozy mass of mud, dirt, and filth, in betwees and all around. Most farmers will recognize this type as being familiar, even those whose farms are models in other respects. Until recently it has seemed almost impossible to avoid this objectionable condition in a barnyard. Owing to the stamping of cattle and the rooting and scratching of the smaller stock, the ground seems to be kept constantly worked up into its oozy state. Into this, and through it, the farmer is compelled to make his way several times a day while doing his chores. Despite his best efforts, a certain amount remains upon his shoes and clothing. If he escapes the germs that are sure to exist in the stagnant wallow, and does not catch a cold from wetting his feet in it, he always runs the risk of carrying some small particles into the house on his shoes, where they dry into fine dust and are stirred up by the next sweeping, filling the atmosphere that has to be breathed.

To avoid this altogether would be impossible, but the farmer has found a way in which much can be done to alleviate the barnyard troubles.

Instead of wading through mud, the farmer and his family walk dry-shod to the barns and amongst the buildings on concrete walks and drive-ways. Instead of standing in a muddy hole, while he waters the stock, he stands on a concrete platform on which is set a concrete drinking pool. This serves a double purpose of not only providing cleaner water for the horses and cattle, but also does not harbor the germs of contagious diseases which so often lurk in old wooden drinking troughs.

His small stock and poultry, instead of rooting in the mud and filth for their food, take it from a concrete feeding floor laid in a convenient spot in the barnyard. This may be swept down or washed off and prevents a waste of feed.

The use of concrete as drainage material and in forming gutters under eaves makes it possible for farmers' wives and daughters to visit the barns without danger of contracting colds and without many other unpleasantnesses.

With water pressure secured from a concrete cistern built above ground, and the use of concrete in the building of closets, many of the objectionable features are removed and with proper drainage, much can be done to make such buildings perfectly sanitary.

SOLID CONCRETE CISTERN.

Aside from its advantages as a germ-proof material, concrete finds favor with the farmer of to-day because he can use it himself as easily as he could use wood. All that is required is a quantity of broken stone, sand, and Portland cement. The moulds are easily constructed and can be made of odd pieces of lumber handy. With the exception of the cement, the materials can be found on almost any farm and should cost little or nothing.

UNDER THE CRUST.

One of the greatest mistakes a farmer can make is yielding to that insidious tendency to dull his mental energy by sheer physical exhaustion. There are so many things to do about a farm, and so few hands to do them, that, unless one is careful, he finds himself working on into the night, when he should be resting, if not sleeping. Morning comes apace, finding his senses heavy; but Necessity, that stern prompter, opens his eyelids and drives him through another round of duty. Day after day this continues, till, unconsciously, he slips into a routine, and, despite natural inclinations and resolutions to the contrary, gradually settles into ruts. He loses his mental grasp and outlook, becomes the slave of his own work, drags through it as best he may, with dulled perception, flagging enterprise and dull-gray outlook where nothing matters much but grimly holding on. The future holds nothing of promise, and only the old ways are safe.

Have you caught yourself sliding into that condition? Did you stop to consider whither you were drifting? Wise man if you decided that a keen mind and reserve of mental energy were more important than a few extra present tasks. Everyone admires the thrifty, energetic farmer, but an ounce of mental energy is worth a pound of muscular any day in the week. A well-stored mind, informed concerning up-to-date developments, a broad outlook and a keen mental edge are more important than spring seeding or harvesting. Sleep an extra hour, shorten the chores by a little better planning and a little more snap. The one thing we cannot afford to do is to get under the crust, where too hard work will put us every time.

NATURE WILL CURE YOU

Of Kidney Disease, Aided by Father Morriscy's No. 7.

Kidney trouble is one of the most distressing ailments of mankind, and leads to backache and rheumatism. This is because of the importance of the work done by the kidneys,—work which must proceed normally to insure good health.

A very large proportion of civilized people have some form of kidney trouble, sometimes without knowing that their malady is of that nature. Many obscure pains can often be traced to diseased kidneys.

These organs are the filters of the body. Their function is to strain out of the blood and eliminate through the bladder the worn out tissue and other impurities gathered by the blood in its course.

When the kidneys become congested and sluggish, these impurities, including the irritating and poisonous uric acid, are not entirely removed from the blood. The result is that the uric acid is deposited in the joints and tissues, causing the agonies of rheumatism and frequently affecting the liver and other organs.

Father Morriscy, the famous priest-physician of Bartibogue, N.B., after much research compounded a remedy which worked hand in hand with Nature. His doctrine, justified by thousands of cures, was that the need is not a patchwork relief, but a treatment that will enable the forces of Nature, working through the kidneys, to accomplish their intended work.

His famous prescription, No. 7, assists the kidneys to work vigorously and eliminate the harmful uric acid from the whole system. In the form of tablets, No. 7 is easy to take, and will effect cures where other remedies have failed. Do not trifle with kidney disease, but take No. 7 Tablets, the treatment that has proved so successful with other sufferers.

THE FARM SADDLE HORSE.

Excepting in cities and towns, horseback riding belongs to the past. One rarely sees a farmer's son or daughter engaging in this delightful exercise. The saddle and the saddle horse have given way to the top buggy. No one on the farm ever thinks of putting the saddle on to a horse and enjoying a nice canter to the post-office. It is a case of walking if the distance is not too great, or hitching "Nell" to the buggy, or it may be getting astride a "bike" and "hiking" it up the dusty road. The change is not in the best interests of the country. There is something about a nice saddle horse and outfit that adds a charm to life on the farm. And it would be too a strong factor in encouraging boys and girls to remain on the farm. One of the main reasons for the change is the type of horse kept on the average farm. The heavy horse which it pays the farmer so well to raise, does not make a good saddle beast. But even on farms and in sections of country where light horses are raised, one rarely sees a saddle or a farmer's boy astride his best charger. The saddle horses now in use in cities or towns were bred and raised on farms. But it was not till they were sold off the farms that they got their first taste of the saddle and the spur. Why could not such horses be broken to the saddle as well on the farm as off it? It would be a profitable business as well as one that would afford considerable pleasure to the farmer or the farmer's boy. The first class, well-trained saddle horse sells for big money, but it is not the farmer who gets the big price. It is the man to whom the farmer sells who gets the "plum."—The Canadian Farm.

Cod Liver Oil With the Oil Taken Out

A Triumph for Chemical Science and Pharmaceutical Skill

Oil from the liver of the codfish has been used as a preventative of disease and a restorative for ages.

For a long time it has been the general opinion that the medicinal value of Cod Liver Oil was the greasy, oily part itself—its only drawback being the unpalatable, fishy taste of the oil.

From the first experts have been trying to find means to make it more palatable. They used to "cut" it with whiskey—take it in wine—flavor it with lemon juice—anything to get away from that abominable fishy taste and smell.

Lots of people still take it in liquid form, which is nothing more than "doctored" oil—broken up—but still greasy, oily and a strain on the digestion.

Doctors used to think it was the oil itself that built up the system—they were slow to find out that the oil was a distinct drawback to the medicinal principles contained in it.

Crude oil is quite indigestible, and will, in time, put the strongest stomach out of order.

A way has now been discovered to do away with the grease and the smell, and yet retain all the medicinal properties of the liver. This is done by removing the fresh oil from the new livers. The liver pulp is then reduced to the form of an extract like beef extract.

Nyal's Cod Liver Compound is simply this liver extract combined with an extract of malt and healing wild cherry. It also contains the true hypophosphites.

This combination makes Nyal's Cod Liver Compound a delicious tonic—builds up the system, and makes you strong.

Take it when you feel yourself losing your grip. It's a pleasure to take—even the children like it.

Get a bottle to-day and ward off disease. $1.00 for a large bottle. Your druggist will cheerfully recommend it because he knows all about it.

CANADA GROWS NEW TOWN EVERY DAY.

Next Six Months Will See an Average of a Municipality Every Twenty-Four Hours Brought Into Being — Novel Movement to Eliminate Insanity—May Day as Moving Day a Failure this year.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Montreal, May 22nd. By the end of the coming summer there will be at least one hundred and seventy new towns in Canada, not counting those which come into existence gradually and in the natural course of evolution from clusters of houses, into hamlets and then into towns. The one hundred and seventy will all be in the West—the great, the glorious West. Not for them the humdrum processes of conventional development; they will spring, full-panoplied, into being, with hotels, court houses, jails and all the modern improvements, on paper, and a small railroad station, a mile or so of siding, and unbounded hope and confidence in the future as actual assets. The Canadian Pacific will be responsible for fifty of them, the Grand Trunk Pacific for twenty-four, and the Canadian Northern for ninety-six. It is a fair supposition that all of them will live because of the fostering care of their railroad and that most of them will prosper because the time has come for towns to succeed farms at selected locations on the prairies, and the railroads are in a better position to do the selecting than any other instrumentality except land companies. Nor will these railroad towns be the only communities to come into being in the West in the next three or four months, but from their number it is possible to draw some kind of an impression of the method and the speed of Western development.

Insanity as a defence in murder trials which has become so common of late years may eventually be eliminated as the result of a novel movement just started here. Figures have been gathered which show that in this city alone there are 2,000 feeble-minded children, many of whom will inevitably become members of the criminal class. Statistics show that crime and insanity are on the increase and that fully half the criminals are criminals because of mental or nervous conditions which are obtained during childhood. Accordingly it is now proposed to catch the potential criminals suffering from some mental or nervous disorder while they are young and cure them before it becomes too late. To this end it is planned to establish here an institution where feeble-minded children shall be examined and registered since if the condition is recognized soon enough the child can generally be cured. Under the present system the procedure is to send mentally deficient children to a reformatory, from which they are released in a few months often worse than they were before entering. Under the new plan they will not be released until they are cured. If this proposal does succeed in eliminating the overworked defence of insanity in criminal cases it is not improbable that a long suffering public will be willing to erect a monument to its sponsor.

Montreal's long established and picturesque May first moving day is fast disappearing and as a result van owners and expressmen are much perturbed. For many years it has been almost impossible to secure for this day any sort of a vehicle in which goods and chattels could be moved unless engaged far in advance. By common consent practically the whole city moved just as regularly as the first of May arrived. Of late years, however, this form of unrest has been steadily on the decrease, and this year, so far as the appearance on the streets of wagonloads of furniture went, was almost entirely lacking. Two causes contribute to this state of affairs, according to the sorrowing moving men. In the first place it is becoming a very general custom to date leases from October 1st instead of May 1st, while the general increase of prosperity among the poorer quarters reduced the evictions which usually take place on this day by many thousands.

As a rule, when a man moves his family, or his place of business, he seeks out the newer portions of the city. The office goes to what previously was a residential district, the home goes from the old residential district to the suburbs, or to what was, a short time before, the green fields.

It is not often that one sees a mover flitting from new to old—it is always old to new.

There was a notable exception this year, however. McCuaig Brothers and Company, the well known stock broking firm, occupied modern and up to date offices on St. James St. right in the centre of the city. Shortly after the first of May they moved to Sacrament Street, down near the Board of Trade, and are now occupying one of the oldest, most historic buildings on the island of Montreal. It was occupied in ancient days, during the French regime, by the Intendent Holdemain. The original walls still stand. The dungeon may still be seen in the cellar. It was used in days of old to keep prisoners safe. To-day it may be used for making doubly secure a modern vault.

But were Holdemain or those of his day to visit the old home now, they would not recognize it. Telegraph instruments are ticking, tickers are buzzing, noiseless typewriters are deftly writing letters without a sound, telephones are ringing and clerks and messengers are posting up queer figures on great long white sheets.

For the Intendent's quarters have become, from cellar to roof, the home of one of Montreal's busiest stock broking houses, and the cobwebs of ancient weaving are fast being swept away by modern business methods and the energy and acumen of modern business minds.

Fire alarms have been far in excess this year in comparison with same period of last year. Since the 1st of January, 857 runs were made by the various divisions of the fire brigade, up to the first of May, while during the same period in 1910 the total number was only 636. Up to the first of June, last year, the runs made numbered only 807.

JUST ONE CURE FOR ANAEMIA.

It is Through the Rich, Red Blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make.

There is just one cure for anaemia—more rich, red blood. Anaemia is simply a bloodless, run down condition. Then the body becomes weak from overwork, worry or illness, an examination of the blood will show it to weak and watery. The common symptoms are paleness of lips, gums and cheeks, shortness of breath and palpitation of the heart after the slightest exertion, dull eyes and a loss of appetite. Anaemia itself is a dangerous trouble and may pass into consumption. It can only be cured by making the blood rich and red, thereby enabling it to carry the necessary nourishment to every part of the body.

It is a proved fact that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured thousands and thousands of cases of anaemia. They are really intended to make new, rich blood and are compounded in the most scientific manner with the finest ingredients for the blood known to medical science. These Pills are not a cure-all. They are intended to cure only those diseases that have their origin in poor, watery blood, and starved, weakened nerves, and the record of their success in doing this is their constantly increasing popularity in every part of the world.

Mrs. R. Colton, Golden, B.C., says:—"As a matter of duty I wish to say a word in praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for what they have done for my daughters, one 16 and the other 18 years of age. Both were pale and bloodless and suffered from many of the symptoms of anaemia. They would tire easily, suffered from frequent headaches, were easily discouraged, and often fretful. I saw in our home paper the story of a young girl who had similarly suffered and was cured through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I bought three boxes of the Pills and my daughters started to take them. Before they were done they began to feel better and look better, and I got a half dozen more boxes, and by the time these were used, they were enjoying the best of health, with rosy cheeks and not like the same girls at all. I also gave the Pills to my little boy who had rheumatism, and they completely cured him."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ELEPHANT ON RAMPAGE.

Circus Animal Got Away From Its Keeper in Town of Ingersoll.

Roaming over the fertile fields of Oxford county much after the fashion of its native jungle, a large elephant, which suddenly became unmanageable and escaped from Howe's circus in Ingersoll, on Saturday morning, May 21st, caused considerable damage and created consternation amongst the country folk. Up to the time of its recapture, about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, hundreds of country people were attracted to the swamp, about five miles and a half south of here, in which the animal had taken refuge.

The elephant made its escape when, with others of the herd, it was being watered at the Thames River. Suddenly breaking away from its keeper, the animal plunged into the stream and hurried for the opposite bank. The keepers tried heroically to stop the progress of the animal, but their efforts were in vain. Hooks, which the keepers carried, were sunk deeply into the animal's ears, but it simply shook its head in defiance and rushed on, hauling the helpless men with it. Reaching the bank the animal made straightway for the open country, sometimes following the sidewalks and crossing boulevards and lawns.

The big brute left a path of destruction. Lawns suffered severely, and in the country nine fences on the farm of Mr. M. J. Williams, were knocked down. Although apparently not malicious, the elephant was obstinate, and paid no attention to those it had formerly obeyed. The course the animal pursued was in a southerly direction, which eventually brought it to a large swamp on the farm of the late George Partlo, five and a half miles from Ingersoll. It made quick time, reaching the swamp about 9 o'clock with a small army of circus employees and others who mustered up sufficient courage in hot pursuit.

For a considerable length of time the elephant was mired in a low spot in the swamp, and for a time there were grave doubts as to its ever being rescued. It slowly settled until only its head could be seen. It gradually worked its way out, however, and at every opportunity a rope was thrown about it. Once free from the mud the animal was as unruly as ever, and soon crossed a road to another and higher section of the swamp. Here it was closely followed and eventually surrounded.

Excited by the chase, the animal pulled up numerous small trees with its trunk and tossed them about as though they were playthings. After several hours of arduous work the animal was hoppled by means of chains, and with the assistance of another elephant, was coaxed out of the swamp and brought into town between 5 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon.

The animal, a female, is said to have shown a peculiar disposition at times since her baby was disposed of by the show people a year or so ago and this is not the first time she has caused trouble. The circus people attribute her strange conduct to a desire to find her young. Owing to the disappearance of the elephant the rest of the herd did not figure in the street parade.

Several claims were presented to the circus people for damages, all of which were promptly settled.

A CLOSE CALL.

This town came very nearly having a scorching last Thursday evening about six-thirty. Some boys playing with fire crakers had shot a rocket in the air which carried the stick and wrapping up with it, and the paper still burning alighted in some dry grass close to Lacey Bros. oil house. The fire when discovered had spread about three feet and was burning merrily in a cedar post and some refuse. As it was only a few feet from a tank containing 200 gallons of coal oil it can easily be seen what the consequences would have been had it not been discovered in time. As this town has no fire protection would it not be advisable for the authorities to prohibit the sale of this line of goods as one means of lessening the fire risk.—Hillsburg Beaver.

The following were present at the meeting:—Mr. J. G. Wallace, of Markdale, in the chair; delegates, Mr. M. H. McArthur, Dr. L. H. Durkin, of Dundalk, Ed. H. Lorenz, of Hanover, A. A. Smith and Blaney McGuire, President of the O. L. A., of Orangeville.

The Dufferins played their opening lacrosse game in Markdale on Victoria Day, when they crossed sticks with The Aberdeens in an exhibition match. The Markdalians were having a big holiday celebration and the lacrosse game was one of the attractions. The home team won by a score of 5 to 2, but the Dufferins made a showing that did themselves credit and satisfied their supporters that they have the material for a first-class team. The northerners played a number of veterans like Dr. Campbell, the Kelly boys, Rutledge, and Wallace, while the Dufferins were strictly a jun. team. The ball was not faced until 3.15, which only gave the green shirts an hour and a quarter to play the game, dress and get back to the station. Some of the Markdale players were not in condition to go the entire distance, and they had a couple of men in reserve to take their places at half-time. In the haste to get the game started the referee neglected to line up the two teams in the customary manner, and it was not until the end of the quarter that the Dufferins discovered they had been playing against 14 instead of 12 men. The Aberdeens got three goals in the first half, and each team scored twice in the second half. The game was clean and fast, although the roughness of the playing field made accurate combination work well-nigh impossible. The locals were represented by the following men:—Goal, J. Harmon; point, F. Pickering; coverpoint, A. A. Smith; defence, C. Jeffers, E. Densmore, H. B. McGuire; centre, Fred. Wright; home field, W. Holmes, I. Winterton, W. Vanwyck; outside home, H. Keith; inside home, H. Kilpatrick.

Dr. G. H. Campbell officiated in the capacity of referee.

Hillsburg and Alton baseball teams furnished a fast and interesting exhibition game on the Alton grounds on Victoria Day. Alton won by a score of 8 to 6. The game was witnessed by a large crowd. The players were:—

Alton—W. Houston, c; D. Campbell, p; R. W. Henry, 1b; J. Algie, ss; C. Culligan, 2b; R. Dean, 3b; W. Dean, rf; W. Dorrington, cf; B. McClellan, lf.

Hillsburg—A. Cullen, c; E. Green, p; N. Deering, 1b; B. Mooney, ss; H. Nodwell, 2b; D. Carmichael, 3b; J. Carmichael, rf; E. Huxley, cf; E. Everdell, lf.

Why Not be Well and Strong

When weak and run down DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD will help you back to health.

This letter tells of two women who have proven this.

Mrs. D. Stott, Cobourg, Ont., writes: "After recovering from typhoid fever I was left in a very low state of health. I was weak, nervous and not fit to do any work. A friend of mine, Mrs. G. M. Brown, had used DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD and told me that it benefitted her wonderfully. I took courage and began the use of the medicine. After taking the first box I began to feel an improvement in health and now after using four boxes I am completely cured. I now feel like myself once more and believe that I can attribute the cure to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

Life is too short to spend weeks or months dragging out a miserable existence of weakness and suffering. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cures by forming new rich blood and building up the system. You can depend on it to benefit you, 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

WHAT ONE FARMERS' CLUB ACCOMPLISHED.

The important functions of a Farmers' Club should be at least three, viz., (1) to develop, inform and assist its members individually along scientific, business and social lines; (2) to develop the faculty of public expression, fitting the members to represent their occupation effectively in Parliament and otherwise; (3) to secure through organized effort public benefits.

A live organization which seems to have served all three functions well, the Farmers' Club at Ayr, Ont., which a member of our staff had the pleasure of visiting this spring, and with which he was so much impressed that he asked the new secretary, Wm. T. Edgar, for a statement of what the Club had accomplished to date in the way of tangible public attainments. Mr. Edgar has been at some pains to accumulate the data which is here presented in his own words:

"The Club was organized in April, 1908, by our County Representative, F. C. Hart, B.S.A., Galt. After appointing a staff of officers, and with a membership of about sixty, the Club commenced work at once, holding meetings once a month. These meetings, besides being an intellectual and social benefit, have been the means of promoting many things that have proved beneficial to the surrounding community.

"The first of these was the promoting of a rural telephone system, which is now flourishing under the name of the Ayr Rural Telephone Company, with Bell connection.

"Second was a very successful three-days' short course in seed and stock judging.

Third, was the organizing of a Union Continuation School—Ayr village and several of the neighboring school sections.

"Fourth, a petition, signed on behalf of the Farmers' Club, asking the C. P. R. to provide a more suitable siding, which has been built and has proven a great benefit.

"Fifth, was the organizing of a Horticultural Show, which, with the valuable aid of the Women's Institute, has proven a great success, and will be continued.

"Sixth, we presented a petition to the Provincial Government, signed by over 400 men of the community, regarding the unfairness of the law concerning the thresher crossing bridges safely with traction engines. We also sent three men to wait on the Government Committee dealing with the question, and trust that good results may follow.

"We have had several public union meetings with the Women's Institute, at which we have been favored with the presence of prominent speakers."—The Farmer's Advocate.

STORIETTES.

A politician who is a great walker was out enjoying his favorite recreation. After going a few miles he sat down to rest.

"Want a lift, mister?" asked a good-natured farmer, driving that way.

"Thank you," responded the politician, "I will avail myself of your kind offer."

The two rode on in silence for a while. Presently the farmer asked:

"Professional man?"

"Yes," answered the politician, who was thinking of a bill he had pending before the house.

After another long pause the farmer observed:

"You ain't a lawyer, or you'd be talkin'; you ain't a doctor, 'cause you ain't got a bag, you ain't a preacher, from the looks of you. What is your profession?"

"I am a politician," was the reply.

The farmer gave a snort of disgust.

"Politics ain't no profession; politics is a disease," he said.

ROSEMONT.

Fine afternoon this, isn't it people? As Buster and Happy Hooligan seem to be taking a rest, I will endeavor to pick up and continue the thread of their narrative. I was in Shelburne a week ago last Saturday and got a ride out to Primrose with Robert McDowell, who invited me home with him. After tea Ollie took me over to Rob. Murphy's to spend the evening. We found Milford oiling his buggy and getting all burnished up to go to join the Christians on the morrow. Hilliard said he would have gone to Shelburne on Sunday, only that a fair-haired Orangeville boy had bottled his Olives. Ollie and I returned about bedtime and after a good night's rest in a feather bed, I left McDowell's and headed for Violet Hill. I was soon overtaken by John Galbraith in search of latch keys. He gave me a ride up to the Third Line, where we met Joe Rutledge, who asked me to come out east for a drive. To my surprise he did not stop until we landed at Creary's on the seventh line and there I discovered I wasn't wanted any longer. Gordon then took me up to see the remains of Cliff Hand's house. On the road we met Sam. Little driving slowly along the road, accompanied by a fair-browed maiden. I conjectured that they were out to see the sights. We came back to Creary's, had tea, and then went south to exercise Gordon's team, leaving Ina and Joe behind. We drove up the 7th line and on the way almost drove over Edgar Moore and his winsome maiden. They were so busily occupied in an interesting conversation that they failed to notice us approaching. However, there was no harm done. We heard afterwards that they had been visiting friends at Ennis. Coming back, we met Russell McDowell and a borrowed girl on their way home from Sistersville. Russell called to me to stop off and see him and not having anything else in view I dropped off at his place to await his return.

On Sunday, May 22nd, in announcing that during the warm weather church services would be made very brief, Rev. Dr. M. Benson, of Welland Avenue Methodist Church, St. Catharines, said: "I wish all you good ladies would leave those pretty hats of yours at home during the hot weather and come to church with parasols. If you did it would conduce to your own comfort and that of others. I wish you would think about this."

NATURE STOPS

When the Kidneys Give Out.

Do you feel that you simply can't go any farther—that you must have rest for that lame and aching back—relief from that constant dead-tired feeling—freedom from those stabbing, darting pains?

It is nature's warning that the kidneys are giving out and you need the help of Booth's Kidney Pills, the guaranteed kidney remedy. In every machine there is one part that works the hardest and gives out first. The kidneys work night and day, and naturally a life of unusual activity doubles the duties of the kidneys and in time the strain tells. The kidneys give out and nature cries "stop." Booth's Kidney Pills are sold by all dealers, 50c., postpaid from The R. T. Booth Co., Ltd., Fort-Erie, Ont. There is no pill just as good. Send for a Free box. The test will prove the truth of our statement. Sold and guaranteed in Orangeville by T. Stevenson.

AN INVALUABLE MEDICINE.

Mrs. W. Arnold, Edmonton, Alta., writes:—"Kindly send me a box of Baby's Own Tablets. They have been invaluable to me and I really do not know how I ever would have got along without them. Baby was poorly; his digestion was bad and he was constipated. I gave him the Tablets and they made a fine healthy boy of him. Now, whenever he is cross or troubled with constipation, I always give him the Tablets and they relieve him right away. I tried a lot of other medicine but nothing seemed to agree with him till I got the Tablets. I would not be without them." The testimony of Mrs Arnold is that of thousands of other mothers. Everyone who ever uses Baby's Own Tablets has words of praise for them. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Come to SASKATCHEWAN THE GOLDEN

"The Land That Pays for Itself in a Single Season."—Prof. Thomas Shaw.

Want to quit paying rent and have a fine farm of your own? Come to Saskatchewan! Want a farm so fertile that the first crop pays for your land? Come to Saskatchewan! Want pleasant, congenial work that pays generous rewards? Come to Saskatchewan!

Want to live where health, not sickness, is "catching"? Come to Saskatchewan! Want a home surrounded by good neighbors, schools, churches and railroads? Come to Saskatchewan! Want to get out of a rut, to make a new start, to live where conditions are with you, not against you; want a fair chance to make money—as good a chance as your dad had when Ontario was "out West"? Come to Saskatchewan!

320 Farms Grow 40 Bushels of Wheat per Acre!

To the average man this would seem impossible, but it is done by farmers in the LAST MOUNTAIN VALLEY, in Golden Saskatchewan, and they don't work nearly so hard as their less fortunate friends who stayed "at home." The average crop in this fertile valley is about 30 bushels per acre. The first year's crop clears the land! There are yet thousands of acres in this wonderful valley—as rich as any soil in the world—that have never been put under cultivation. They await but the touch of the plough to bring forth immense harvests of golden grain.

Golden Saskatchewan!

Though provided with ample rainfall, the Last Mountain Valley is a land of almost continuous sunshine, where health abounds—a climate that builds vitality. Pulmonary diseases or epidemics of any kind are unknown here.

Railroads Galore!

You don't need to live "forty miles from nowhere," either, or "next door to civilization." You are "inside" of civilization. Seven great railroads already serve this district. More railroad building is going on here than in any other part of Canada. In 1910 one-third of the Canadian Pacific's construction was here. The Canadian Northern is now building another road into the heart of the Last Mountain Valley.

400,000 Homeseekers Coming!

Last year 300,000 homeseekers came to Western Canada. The present year, according to immigration authorities, will see 400,000 people settled on the land, and making homes for themselves and their families. Western Canada will soon be as densely populated as the best agricultural sections of Ontario. Land prices are going up every day. Those who buy now will get the benefit of the advance.

Our Prices Lowest—Our Terms Most Liberal!

We have over 175,000 acres of the finest unbroken wheat land in the world, near towns and on railroads in the Last Mountain Valley. We have a list of land bargains such as were never before known. Our prices are absolutely the lowest, and we sell on small, easy payments. No other colonization company can hope to meet these terms and prices, because none can buy land now in such enormous tracts.

Always Delivers the Goods!

Our belief in the Last Mountain Valley is not a "make-belief." We believe in the Last Mountain Valley because we know it. We knew it when it was a grassy wilderness, when there was hardly a bushel of wheat grown within its whole area. We have watched it year by year for eight years, until now it has become widely known in Eastern Canada, England and the United States as the best wheat-growing district in America.

INDUCTION AT GRAND VALLEY.

Rev. D. Smith Becomes Pastor of Presbyterian Church.

Rev. D. Smith, of Conn, was inducted into the pastoral charges of Grand Valley and South Luther on Friday last, the arrangement as prescribed by Presbytery, being carried out.

Rev. Dr. McKenzie, interim-moderator, presided, opening with devotional service, after which Rev. A. Fowlie, of Camilla, preached from the parable of the talents. He gave this favorite chapter a new setting and meaning to many. Talents were synonymous to ability and opportunity, and demanded nothing but the consecrated efforts of our best in everything.

Rev. Mr. Cheyne, of Claude, addressed the newly-inducted minister, pointing out the importance of his work, how he should interest himself in the special interests of his new people, of the necessity of keeping his time to himself, so as to properly prepare for his work on the Sabbath, and for that study so essential to success in the ministry.

Rev. Wm. Morris, of Orangeville, gave some straight forward and candid advice to the people in their relationship to the pastor. Every member of the church ought to be as well versed in the blue book, or rules of proceedings of the church as a member of a fraternal organization knows what his Society stands for, or what the ritual means. It was the duty of the managers to become versed in the work and objects of the church in its varied matters, so they can intelligently present its claims when seeking that financial aid necessary to its success. The elders also have a very special work to perform, in which the dispensing of the bread and wine at the communion is perhaps the least important part. They must exert an influence on the lives of the people, and in short assist the minister in the duties of his high calling.

Following the induction, Mr. Smith met those present, after which a social tea was served in the basement by the ladies.—Star & Vidette.

NOTHING LIKE IT FOR COLDS.

Mrs. Holland Ferguson, Sheffield, N.B., writes: "Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has cured my children and myself of severe colds. We are never without it in the house. There is nothing like it for colds and throat trouble, and it is so soothing and pleasant to take, my children would drink a whole bottle if they were permitted."

HE WANTED A GARAGE.

A few days ago a gentleman stepped off a C. P.R. steamer on her arrival here, and after a quick glance around the wharf, stepped up to a local official. "Where shall I find a garage?" he inquired. "Garage" was a new one on the officicial, but he was game. The word sounded like something liquid, so he made a stab at it. With a pitying shake of the head he answered, "My dear man, the town's under local option, you can't get a drink unless you're onto the ropes." The best point about this story is that it's true.—Owen Sound Sun.

KILLED BY STREET CAR.

Former Shelburne Man Victim of a Toronto Fatality.

John Taggart, brick-layer and plasterer, aged 63 years, a former resident of Shelburne, who had been rooming at 224 Adelaide street west, Toronto, was knocked down by a street car while walking across Queen street, at the corner of McCaul, with a fish under his arm, on Saturday night, and fatally injured. He was picked up unconscious, with his skull fractured, and was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where he died at noon Monday without having regained consciousness. The trolley which was responsible was in charge of Motorman Geoffrey and Conductor A. E. Wilson. Mr. Taggart's identity was not discovered till after his death. Mrs. Percy, with whom he had roomed for the past two years, stated to a Toronto Star reporter that on Saturday he left the house at about twenty minutes to six, remarking that he was going out to do some shopping, and as he did not turn up Saturday night or early Sunday, Mrs. Percy made some inquiries, but could obtain no information as to his whereabouts until Monday morning. It never occurred to them that he had met with a fatal accident. The remains were brought to Shelburne for interment Wednesday forenoon, the funeral taking place from the station to Shelburne cemetery. Deceased is survived by four daughters:—Mrs. R. A. Crichton and Misses Ethel, Mamie, and Edna, all of Toronto. Messrs. W. J. Taggart, of Horning's Mills, and Thos. Taggart, of Mt. Brydges, are brothers, and Mrs. M. Anderson, Horning's Mills, and Mrs. McCauley, Terra Nova, sisters of deceased. The late Mr. Taggart was raised in Melancthon township, and lived there and in Shelburne until a few years ago when he removed to Toronto.—Economist.

"I am glad to write my endorsement of the great remedy, Peruna. I do so most heartily."—Julia Marlowe.

Any remedy that benefits digestion strengthens the nerves.

The nerve centers require nutrition.

If the digestion is impaired, the nerve centers become anemic, and nervous debility is the result.

COUNTRY HOUSE FURNITURE.

Shown in conjunction with the new exhibits of reed furniture variously called willow, rattan cane, etc., and designed principally for country houses are sets of furniture made of painted wood treated with a preservative which protects the paint. At present this furniture is shown in bluff and in duff pastel blue only. It is ornamented with fine tracings of a darker shade of the same color.

A high backed sofa, roomy armchairs, high backed chairs without arms and a round or square table go to a set and there are chairs which are sold separately. The buff design is especially liked for living rooms and foyer halls, its lines being dignified and bold. The blue designs are similar except for a band of lattice work made of quarter inch strips of the wood, which crosses the back of the sofas and armchairs.

Of the smaller chairs one has a back consisting of three-inch wide panels which taper to less than two inches where they join the seat. The middle panel is taller than the others and each curves into a tall, round scallop at the top. Another chair has a back formed of a wider centre panel bounded on either side with a much narrower panel, the three ending in one tall, pointed round at the top.

In one respect chairs and sofas of all designs are alike, each seat, or rather the centre of each seat, is made of plain black imitation leather over which is a removable cover made of a stout, pale ecru hemp material decorated in colors. The cover spreads over the entire seat, leather and woodwork and is hooked to eyelets at the corners.

Furniture of much the same pattern that is large, roomy and simple in design is made of painted wood combined with rattan, the latter introduced as panels to the seat and back. These are of straw color or they match the woodwork. Thus a big white armchair had part of the seat and the lower half of the back made of closely woven straw color rattan and in another chair of similar design the rattan was enamelled white. A third was trimmed with tan color rattan.

Sets of plain grey wood are mounted with white cane and white reed seats, and like the others described they are included among the willows, reeds, rattans and canes, all members of the one family. The finest of this furniture is among the fashionable materials for summer furnishings.

ITALIANS FINED.

Constable Hornet and Jim Cox rounded up a gang of eight Italians here yesterday afternoon on charges of unlawfully fishing on Sunday, and of trespassing on the Caledon Trout Club's property when they were doing the fishing. The gang was packed into the bus and carted over to Erin for Magistrate Hull to deliberate on their offence, which deliberations cost the dagoes $71.60 or $8.95 each for their little adventure with the rich men's playthings. After the fines were imposed the whole bunch claimed they had no money to pay them with and they were accordingly held while papers were being made out to commit them to Guelph jail in default of the fines. The Italians kept the bluff up until about ten o'clock when they decided it was not going to pan out to their liking and the long green began to make its appearance from various hordes and the law was soon satisfied.—Hillsburg Beaver.

A St. Catharines despatch says that the unseasonably hot weather of last week, has brought growth along wonderfully all over the Niagara fruit belt, and growers say that if there is plenty of rain soon it will result in the earliest home-grown strawberries on record, the berry plants being already very far advanced. That berries will be on the market long before the middle of June, the usual time, is the prediction of growers.

Bill Ray, of Nantucket, followed, but in popularity never quite equalled his predecessor, the old-bell-ringer and inimitable town crier, Clark. One day as Ray and his daughter were strolling about the town, the latter dropped before the soldiers' monument and laboriously began to decipher the names. With a disappointed look she turned to her father and said: "Dad, ain't your name here?" Glancing at his daughter, he replied: "Clementine, be I dead?"

HOW TO TREAT SKIN TROUBLES.

It is not a good thing for people with a tendency to have pimples and a blotchy complexion to smear themselves with greasy ointments and such things. In fact they couldn't do anything worse, because the grease clogs the pores of the skin making the complaint worse. When there is an irritating rash a soothing boracic wash may help to allay the pain or itching, but of course it doesn't cure. Skin complaints arise from an impure condition of the blood and will persist until the blood is purified. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured many cases of eczema and skin disorders because they make new, rich blood that drives out the impurities, clears the skin and imparts a glow of health. Mrs. S. L. Peterson, Brandon, Man., says: "I suffered for years from eczema, which brought with it other troubles, such as a poor appetite, headaches and weakness. The portions of my body affected by the eczema gave me constant torture from the itching and heat. I tried several doctors and all sorts of lotions and ointments, but did not get the least relief. Finally I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and decided to do so. After using the Pills for some time the irritation and heat began to grow less and I seemed in better health otherwise. I continued taking the Pills for several months and every vestige of the trouble disappeared, and my skin is again as free from blemish as in youth. Given a fair trial Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will not disappoint those suffering from skin eruptions or weakness of any sort."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure all those troubles due to poor blood simply because they make new, rich, red blood. That is why these pills cure common diseases like anaemia, rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, headaches, indigestion, St. Vitus dance, and the general weakness and special ailments that only women folk know. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six box for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The shooting of robins is an unlawful act, punishable by fines ranging from $1 to $20, under Sec. 8, of Chap. 289, revised statutes of Ontario. The only condition provided by the same statutes under which robins can be shot without breaking the law is in the protection of fruit from their ravages. Even then most people would rather divide their fruit with them than shoot them.

An innovation that is likely to be much appreciated by engineers and firemen is being introduced in the C. P. R. locomotives now under construction in the Angus Shops in Montreal. Hitherto the engines have been built so that they are separated some distance from the tenders, with only a canvas curtain between the two to protect the men from the weather when it is stormy. All the new engines are being attached directly to the tenders, and the canvas is replaced by a permanent wooden door, which, when closed, forms a complete enclosure of all parts of the cab without interfering with the work or intercepting the engineer's lookout ahead.

THE BANNER

THE BANNER, JUNE 1, 1911.

FREE SCHOLARSHIPS IN McGILL

The Grand Trunk Railway Company is offering four free scholarships, each covering four years' tuition in the Faculty of Applied Science of McGill University, subject to competitive examinations, to apprentices and other employees of the Company under twenty-one years of age, and to minor sons of employees.

The competitive examinations, which will be the regular entrance matriculation examination provided for in the Annual Calendar of the University, will be held at the University, Montreal, and at other centres, beginning June 12th, 1911. The four candidates making the highest average and complying with the requirements of admission will be awarded the scholarships and have the option of taking a course in any department of the Faculty of Applied Science. Scholarships will be renewed from year to year, to cover a period not exceeding four years, if at the close of each session, the holders thereof are entitled, under the rule, to full standing in the next higher year.

In case a scholarship holder finds it necessary to interrupt his course for a year or more, notice must be promptly given at the close of the session, to the Railway Company and to the head of the Transportation Department of the University, in order that the scholarship may be open to other applicants. In order to establish prior claim to the next available scholarship, notice of the student's intended return must be given to the Railway Company and to the head of the Transportation Department of the University, not later than January 1st, preceding the opening of the session in which such scholarship will be available.

In consideration of the free scholarships, students will be required to enter the service of the Company as Student Apprentices, and serve during vacation periods while in attendance at the University, and at the option of the Company, for two years after completing the College course. Successful candidates will, before entering the University, be required to execute the Company's regular form of Student Apprentice Contract, copies of which can be obtained upon application to Mr. R. S. Logan, Assistant to President, Montreal, to whom also applications for certificates entitling eligible persons to enter the competitions should be addressed.

Copies of the Annual Calendar containing the conditions of admission and announcement of courses may be obtained upon application to Mr. J. A. Nicholson, Registrar, McGill University, Montreal.

THE ADVERTISING WASTE BOGEY.

Almost everybody in the advertising business is dead certain there is appalling waste in advertising. It is the favorite topic at advertising club discussions, and such a thrilling case can be made for the contention that shivers are apt to traverse the hearers' spines as they listen. Perorations noble as the exhortations of Clay or Webster can be built upon the assumption of waste.

But where do the orators arrive when they get through? They might as well have been orating about the sins of the Great White Way or the folly of going to sea in leaky boats. However skilful in calking leaks, the elimination of leaks depends so much on the boat—and you can't get a new boat in the middle of the sea. There are many advertisers whose proposition or whole individual character is such that they cannot avoid advertising waste. When an advertiser says that all he expects advertising to accomplish is to "create a favorable feeling," where is the judge that can make a chart of his advertising waste? It will simmer down inevitably to an opinion—a personal opinion backed by no conclusive evidence.

Julius Schneider, formerly advertising manager of The Fair, Chicago, said the other night to the Agate Club, Chicago: "Advertising waste is largely a matter of deliberate choice or lack of nerve in the face of demands." This is a significant sentence, and illustrates how much personal character enters into an advertising campaign. Few situations in selling (unlike manufacturing) are exactly alike, and qualities of character form the very life of an advertiser's success or failure.

What the "advertising waste" orators ignore is that there can be a great deal more waste in being under-aggressive than through over-aggressiveness. Everybody is ready to pounce upon some advertising that is done and prove it a waste; but nobody tries to compute how much more would be wasted if the advertiser didn't advertise at all. All advertising is pioneering, and the best pioneer who ever blazed trails took some false steps, doubled on his tracks, and many other things later proved to be inaccurate and foolish.

One man's recipe for eliminating waste may be another recipe for building business. The main thing is to study your business. A certain large advertiser of the veriest general-publicity type, who has been very frequently criticized for 'waste,' has satisfactorily demonstrated to a chosen few in his confidence that, considering his product and his trade situation, his present kind of advertising is high-class strategy—the mourners' bench of waste critics to the contrary notwithstanding.

Waste lies as frequently in the qualities of the man as in the methods of his advertising; and all "waste in advertising" is an elastic, relative and nebulous term.—Printer's Ink.

BODIES NOT FOUND.

Relatives Making Strenuous Search for Remains of Hazel Hicks and Miss Blain.

Father of Miss Hicks Says That Young Men Displayed Neither Courage Nor Skill.

Altogether over five square miles of Lake Ontario's bed have been dragged since the Victoria Day fatality, yet no trace of the bodies of Miss Hazel Hicks and Miss Olive Blain has been found.

Convinced that he could find some yet undiscovered information regarding the accident, Mr. Hicks, father of Miss Hicks, arrived in Toronto yesterday, leaving his wife in a condition of collapse. Mr. Hicks has been singularly successful in his quest. He heard that the accident had been witnessed by a resident of Dowling avenue, and proceeded there as soon as he arrived in the city. By a singular coincidence the first house he called at was the right one. It was owned by Mr. G. P. McGann, and occupied by his chauffeur, Mr. W. G. Hatchett and wife. Mr. Hatchett witnessed the accident, and watched the rescue, from the dining-room window, which is so situated as to disclose to view only a small stretch of water, between two trees. It was in this strip though that the accident happened, so the dragging operations will be conducted to-day in that narrow expanse.

Relatives and friends of the deceased now engaged in the search are: Mr. W. Gallaugher, Miss Hicks' uncle; Mr. Hicks, Mr. T. R. Blain, Miss Blain's brother, and Mr. M. Price, of North Bay, a school friend of Miss Hicks.

Last evening Mr. Hicks made the following statement to The Globe:

"I consider that the two men in the boat showed neither courage nor skill. Their conduct was culpable in the extreme, and I wish to repudiate Clarke's statement that Hazel (Miss Hicks) was 'his dearest friend.': I know for a fact that her acquaintance with him was only slight."

The relatives of both girls expressed the opinion that some official enquiry should be made into the circumstances of the drowning.—Tuesday's Globe.

The Banner understands that Mr. Wm. The Convention has usually chosen candidates for both Houses, but the coming Convention will only place a nominee in the field for the Dominion House.

CONDEMN NE TEMERE DECREE.

Methodists of Orangeville District Resent Rome's Meddling With Marriages.

District Almost Unanimous in Favor of Church Union.

At the annual meeting of the Orangeville District of the Methodist Church in Caledon East on Monday a strong resolution was passed deprecating the unwarranted interference of the Church of Rome in the matter of marriages not performed in accordance with the Canon law of that Church and memorializing the General Conference to petition the Government to enact legislation that will make further interference of this kind impossible. The resolution was adopted without a dissenting vote. By a practically unanimous vote of 20 to 2, the District expressed its approval of the basis of union. A keen contest developed for the position on the Conference Stationing Committee, the candidates being Rev. Chas. Langford, Alton, Rev. T. R. White, Laurel, and Rev. J. S. Stevenson, Mulmur. Rev. Mr. White was elected, but not until eight ballots had been taken. The other representative on the Committee is the District Chairman, Rev. Dr. Harper, of Orangeville. Owing to an unusually heavy loss through deaths and removals, the membership of the district shows a slight decrease, notwithstanding a large number of additions by profession of faith. The review of the year's work showed that the various departments of the church's activity are in excellent shape. This is particularly true of the missionary department, in which the givings have far surpassed any former year. At the ministerial session on Monday afternoon all the ministers were present except Rev. W. A. Potter, of Shelburne, who was detained owing to the death of his sister. A resolution was passed recommending that R. H. Halbert, T. W. Cornett and J. O. Johnston, three young men on probation, attend College during the coming year. Monday evening Rev. Dr. Harper, Chairman of the District, gave a greatly appreciated Travel Talk to the members of the District and the Caledon East and Mono Road congregations on the subject of his trip through the Canadian West last summer.

FOR GOVERNOR'S OFFICE.

It is said that Ex-Reeve Thos. Wilson, of Caledon township, is likely to succeed the late W. L. Wilson in the office of Governor of Brampton gaol. Mr. Rich. Partridge, of Brampton, a former Monoite, is a candidate for the position, and is said to have a strong following in the County Town.

THE MONTH OF JUNE.

Hicks Forecasts a Rainy Month Followed by Extremely Dry Weather.

Rev. Irl R. Hicks gives the following weather forecast for June in the current number of his magazine, Word and Works:—

A Regular Storm Period covers the first six days of June. The Mercury and Venus periods also bear upon and intensify disturbances at this period. The crisis of these storms will fall on and touching the 4th and 5th. A low barometer, high temperature and humidity may be put down as foreshadowing severe storms at this time. Rising barometer and change to fair and much cooler weather will pass eastwardly over the country from the 6th to 9th.

A Reactionary Storm Period will bring decided storm conditions on and touching the 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th. At this period we enter into the June solstice disturbances. This fact, by oversight, is not shown in the diagram, but the Solstice Period extends from the 10th to the end of June. The full Moon on the 11th falls at the central day of the annual magnetic and electric crisis. Within three days of sunset on the 11th, a maximum of magnetic and electrical storms will visit many wide extremes of the Earth, attended by phenomenal "earth currents," much volcanic unrest and violent seismic shakes.

A Regular Storm Period extends from the 13th to the 17th, being at the crisis of the Mercury period, and under full strain of the solstice and the Venus periods. Daily thunder storms with an excess of electricity, wind, rain and hail, may be expected. Tornadoes may be looked for, and your locality may be in their paths — why not? —Change to very much cooler will follow about the 16th to 19th.

A Reactionary Storm Period will make itself severely felt on and touching the 20th, 21st and 22nd. This period is at the exact center of the summer solstice and great electrical manifestations will mark this period, and in all this part of the month we may look for an excess of lightning all round the heavens, in early evening and through the nights As we have often said, this solstice lightning is very grand and awe-inspiring, but for the most part it is perfectly harmless. Of course the electric bolts of an on-coming thunder storm are fraught with danger, but the noiseless, panoramic flashing all over the clouds, banked around the horizon these solstice evenings, is as harmless as moonshine—beautiful to behold and full of life and health to the vegetable kingdom as well as to all animal life.

A Regular Storm Period is central on the 26th, the new Moon falling on the same day, Moon being in perigee and at greatest north declination. In every probability this will prove one of the most decided periods of disturbance during this month. The barometer should be consulted with care as we enter this period, and if it falls to very low reading—a result to be expected — storms of violent character should be apprehended. All storms during the last half of June will be erratic in character—will move in directions out of the ordinary, often doubling back over their tracks after they have supposedly passed off to the east. We believe there will be too much rain in June, for best agricultural interests, except in New England States, and the extreme southern and southwestern sections. A marked seismic period is central on the 26th, covering the 23rd to 29th.

We have explained in several preceding numbers of Word & Works how the Venus period was incorrectly placed in the storm engravings for 1911. The center of this Venus equinoctial period should have been located on May 23rd, instead of June the 24th. This period really covers all the central and latter parts of May, and extends to about the 26th of June, so that June, after all, will come in for the larger part of the Venus influence. We desire to repeat that our Barometer and Hygrometer should be accessible to every home, school house, and public place, during the storms that almost certainly will appear at this, and all similar periods. There is no computing their value in dollars and cents, as thousands will testify who have proven their value, in every quarter of this continent. As we pass out of June, we believe that dryness and drouth will pinch most parts of the country through the remaining part of the summer, into the late autumn.

STEADY GAINS MADE BY STERLING BANK.

Annual Statement Shows Bank in Strong Position. Number of Shareholders Increased to 1709.

Toronto, May 23rd.—The Annual Statement of the Sterling Bank of Canada, just issued, shows that this conservative yet progressive young institution did very well in its year's operations. While up to the present time not very much has been heard about the Sterling, still it has gone along very quietly building around itself a very strong chain of branches throughout the Province of Ontario, and has already rounded out its organization by branches in Montreal and Winnipeg. That its branches must be well located is indicated from the showing they were able to make during the past year when, as is generally known, banking conditions, more particularly in Ontario, were somewhat unsettled. The Sterling's net profits for the year amounted to $96,825.00, equal to 10.25 per cent. on the capital, which compares with $92,832.00 in the previous year and $64,146.00 in 1909. Out of the net profits the sum of $47,625.00 was applied to payment of dividends, while the balance, with what was carried forward from the previous year, making a total of $85,245.00, was applied to profit and loss account. The total surplus and undivided profits now amount to $366,862.00 as compared with $317,150.00 at the end of 1910.

The general statement shows the steady headway the Sterling has made during the past few years, the total assets now standing at $7,202,341.00, which compares with $4,304,368.70 at the end of 1908 and $3,428,956.13 at the end of 1907. The total deposits are now $4,950,047.00 as compared with $2,583,691.45 at the end of 1908 and $1,906,401.64 at the end of 1907.

The report of the Board of Directors showed that, owing to the somewhat unfavorable banking conditions which had prevailed more especially in Ontario during the past year, a great measure of conservatism had been maintained. This resulted in the bank having at all times very large reserves on hand. Notwithstanding the fact that the resources had been harbored in a most careful manner, the percentage of earnings to capital was the largest in the history of the Bank, having amounted to 10.25 per cent. on the capital.

A feature of the statement which rather indicates the high esteem in which the Bank is held throughout the country, is that during the course of such a year as the last has been, the list of shareholders increased by some forty, now reaching a total of 1709 as compared with 1669 at the end of the previous year.

The entire Board of Directors was re-elected with Mr. G. T. Somers as President, and Mr. W. K. George as Vice-President.

A LARGE FUNERAL.

Many Friends Gather to Pay Last Mark of Respect to Late Governor Wilson.

The funeral of W. L. Wilson, late governor of Brampton gaol, took place on Thursday afternoon last to Brampton cemetery. Service was conducted at the home by the Rev. Dr. Long, pastor of Grace Church. Dr. Long referred to his long acquaintance with the deceased, and paid a tribute to his uniform kindness, generosity and forgiving spirit. He was always ready to lend a helping hand in time of sorrow or need, and to do it without ostentation or hope of reward. His long suffering was borne with great patience and fortitude. He knew the end was approaching and did not fear the hour of dissolution.

The pallbearers were Rich. Blain, M.P., Samuel Charters, M.P.P., Sheriff Henderson, Registrar Johnston, Mr. John Nesbitt, of Caledon, and W. A. Hamilton, of Brampton, all close personal friends of the deceased.

The burial service of the Orange Order was read at the grave by the Grand Chaplain, Rev. Canon Walsh, and Bro. W. J. Warnock, W.M. of Warnock Lodge, Charleston, of which Mr. Wilson was for many years the Master.

The funeral was attended by a large number of people from different parts of the country, showing the respect in which the deceased was held, not only by his Orange brethren but by people of all creeds and classes.

DAVID J. ELLIS.

Mr. David J. Ellis, a former resident of the township of Caledon, died in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., on Thursday, May 25th, at the age of 70 years. Although he had been ailing for a year or longer, the end came somewhat unexpectedly. Deceased was the eldest son of the late Edward Ellis, 1st line, east, Caledon, and was married to Miss Wiggins, a daughter of the late John Wiggins, of that township. He was in business in Orangeville for a time about 30 years ago. He moved from this place to Sault Ste. Marie, where he farmed for some years, afterwards embarking in business. His wife died about 16 years ago. Since then he has made his home with his only daughter, Mrs. Supe. Besides his daughter, he is survived by one son, Capt. Albert Ellis, who has been sailing on the Lakes for a number of years. Ex-Warden E. J. Ellis, of Caledon, is the only surviving brother. There are six sisters, namely, Mrs. Shaw, Miss Ellis and Mrs. A. Darraugh, of Orangeville, Mrs. M. Armstrong, of Caledon, Mrs. G. T. Graham, of Eugenia Falls, and Mrs. G. Van Wyck of Toronto.

CAMILLA

Mr. Editor will you allow me a few lines in your valuable paper in which to say that I was not aware we had a citizen of such literary genius as "Dutch Henry" has shown in our midst. Morally, however, his education seems to have been sadly neglected and this reminds me of the old proverb, "A little learning is a dangerous thing." The great pons asinorum in the pathway of such people is that they do not always strive to tell what is truthful. If they would paddle their own little canoes down the stream of personal affairs they would not be swamped so often. I would advise "Dutch Henry" to take advantage of the cheap rates to Hamilton and thus benefit by having some of the dusty cobwebs swept from his brain. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the use of your valuable space I remain.

Yours Respectfully,
LIT.

The Kidneys Wear Out

But in advanced years you can keep these organs healthy by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

As old age comes on most people suffer more or less from derangements of the kidneys. With some there are years of pains and aches, with others Bright's disease sets in and the end comes quickly.

Fortunately many have learned about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and are enabled by their use to keep the kidneys healthy and active.

Mr. Richard Preston, Osborne, Lambton County, Ont., says: "Seventeen years ago I began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills when my back was so bad that to stoop or rise was torture to me. The kidneys were in bad condition, but these pills entirely freed me of back pains. I have used them ever since, whenever the kidneys would get out of orders, and now, at eighty years, am well and hearty, thanks to this grand medicine."

LAUREL.

The warm weather and occasional showers that we have been experiencing lately is causing vegetation to grow very rapidly. All classes of our residents appear to be well satisfied with the outlook, especially our cheesemaker. It seemed difficult at first to get milk drawers, but matters have been so adjusted that all the old routes are provided with drawers and one new one as well. Mr. Ranton is anticipating a larger make of cheese this season than last. The factory commenced operations on Monday, May 22nd, and on Monday, the 29th, more than twice as much milk was received as a week previously. Two routes are not yet started, but will be in the course of a few days. We hope that every person who has the opportunity to send in milk will do so. The Laurel Cheese Factory is an old and tried institution of thirty years' standing, and has always proved a success.

We are sorry to report that one of our esteemed residents, Mr. Alexander Ewing, was obliged to go to Fergus hospital a couple of weeks ago to undergo an operation for cancer in the face. Mr. Ewing is doing as well as can be expected, but will be unable to return home for some time yet.

Mr. Oliver Ewing, son of Mr. Alex. Ewing, who has been teaching school in East Luther township and who is a very bright and promising young man, was taken suddenly ill while teaching on Wednesday of last week, and had to be taken to his father's home. Dr. Campbell, of Grand Valley, who was called in attendance, found that his ailment was appendicitis. Realizing that an operation was necessary he summoned Dr. Groves, of Fergus, to his assistance. The operation was performed successfully, but for a time grave doubts were entertained regarding his recovery. We are glad, however, to be able to report that he is now fairly on the way toward recovery, although making rather slow progress. The afflicted family have the sympathy of the whole community in their sad troubles.

We are glad to notice that little Miss Ruby Trimble, who has been laid up with a broken arm and dislocated shoulder, is able to be iabout again and join with her playmates in their innocent amusements.

On Tuesday of last week while Mr. Ed. Richardson's hired man was drawing rails with a team of spirited colts, they ran away and got entangled in a wire fence. One of the colts—a valuable one worth at least $200—broke its hind leg. Dr. Reilly, V.S., who was called in, pronounced the break a very bad one and held out little hope for the animal's recovery. However he set the limb and encased it in plaster of Paris. The horse is still alive and is doing as well as can be expected. Mr. Richardson seems to be unfortunate this spring. It is only a few weeks ago since he sustained a heavy loss by having his dwelling house destroyed by fire.

The Victoria Day Celebration held in Alton under the auspices of the Women's Institute was a huge success. The ladies deserve a great deal of credit for the attractive programme they provided and the manner in which it was carried out. Promptly at one o'clock the Parade was formed at the Public Library for the march to the Park. The place of honor was given to the toy vehicles, consisting of bicycles, wheelbarrows, baby carriages, etc. There was quite a long line of these, all gaily decorated and propelled by young folk. The school girls came next, looking very neat and pretty in their dresses of white. Following the girls were the sailor lads in their trim white and blue uniforms, the Cadets, smaller boys, and then the Boy Scouts, about fifteen strong, with Mr. A. C. Wilson as scoutmaster, and Mr. Roscoe Hill as assistant scoutmaster.

On arriving at the Park an interesting programme of races and other sports was commenced and was soon in full swing. The judges were Messrs. J. M. Dods, Jas. Smith, L. Doherty and Wm. Rowcliffe. The prize winners, with the exception of a few events where your correspondent was unable to obtain the names of the winners, were as follows:—

Decorated Vehicles.

1. Herb Lovell, dressed as a Rough Rider; rode a tricycle decorated with red, white and blue, with Queen Victoria's picture draped, borne in front.
2. Waldo Dorrington, dressed as a Scout, and trundling a wheelbarrow, loaded with a Scout's tent outfit.
3. Miss Bertha Lovell, on a bicycle decorated with red, white and blue.

Mr. A. C. Wilson acted as starter for the races, giving general satisfaction by reason of his fairness and impartiality.

In addition to the races the spectators were treated to an excellent baseball match between Alton and Hillsburg teams. The game was very close and well-contested, resulting in a score of 8 to 6 in favor of the home team. The players and their positions were:—

Alton—W. Houston, c; D. Campbell, p; R. W. Henry, 1b; J. Algie, ss; C. Culligan, 2b; R. Dean, 3b; W. Dean, rf; Roscoe Hill, cf; B. McClellan, lf.

The Public School boys and a team from the Mills put up an interesting game of baseball on the evening of Victoria Day. The School team won by a score of 11 to 7.

Lovell; Vice-President, Mrs. Richard Thomas; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. J. L. Meek. The Society is in a flourishing condition, having a large membership and being in good condition financially. The successful character of the celebration on Victoria Day was responsible for a tidy addition to the treasury.

Mr. Jas. McNichol, of Orangeville, who bought Kerr's hotel from Finnegan Bros. a short time ago, giving his farm in exchange, has sold the hotel property to Mr. Arch. Cowan, a farmer in Erin township. Mr. McNichol gets Mr. Cowan's farm on the deal. Mr. Cowan will reopen the hotel shortly.

The boys of the village had their usual sunrise celebration on Victoria Day. The town bell rang steadily from 4 until 6 a.m. The sound of guns, powder and exploding firecrackers from the big hill back of the village had nearly every person awake before 6 o'clock.

Cured His Rheumatism In Three Weeks.

Rev. Father Morriscy

James LeB. Johnstone, a prominent member of the Citizen's Band, of Chatham, writes:

"I contracted Rheumatism by exposure, five years ago, and was ailing for two months and in great pain all the time. I got Father Morriscy's No. 7 Tablets and took them for about three weeks, when the Rheumatism all left me and I have had no return of the pains since."

Father Morriscy's "No. 7" Tablets have cured thousands of this terribly painful disease.

Rheumatism is generally brought on by exposure, but is really caused by Uric Acid in the blood. This Uric Acid is an irritating poison, formed from the waste matter of the body. The kidneys should remove it, but when they fail it poisons the blood, and, settling in the joints, causes Rheumatism.

"No. 7" Tablets clear out the clogged-up Kidneys and stimulate them to perform their task of filtering the Uric Acid out of the blood. When this is done the Rheumatism simply and naturally vanishes.

"No 7" Tablets cost 50c. At your dealer's. 28

IT TELLS ABOUT THE SANE HEATING OF HOMES

"Comfort & Health" tells about a heating system.

It goes into the question of healthful heating and shows how important a part the furnace plays in the health of your family.

It explains the principle of warm air heating; how the furnace draws in fresh air, warms it and circulates it moist and pure to every room in the house.

Then it tells about the perfect warm air furnace—the "Hecla." The furnace that cannot leak gas. The furnace that gives heat without dust. The furnace that is easy to run, and what is more important, how that furnace—The "Hecla"—saves you one ton of coal in seven.

"Hecla" Furnace

Cannot Leak Gas

Gas in the house is disagreeable. Often it proves dangerous to the health. The "Hecla" is so constructed that gas cannot get into the living rooms. The places where gas leaks occur in the ordinary furnace are fused in the "Hecla" so that gas cannot possibly find an outlet.

Saves 1 Ton in 7

The "Hecla" uses only six tons of coal where others use seven. It is the steel ribbed fire pot that makes this saving. Row flanges are of steel plate placed close together and welded into the fire pot get more heat from your coal is told in "Comfort & Health."

'PHONE 119. East Broadway, Opposite Market.

A certain lady one Sunday recently induced her husband, who was not a regular church goer, to accompany her to the evening service. During the service he fell asleep, snoring at first softly and at length so noisily that the lady was constrained to give him a sharp nudge in the hope of rousing him. To her consternation, however, as he slowly awakened, he exclaimed in a loud voice: "Let me alone. Get up and light the fire yourself, it's your turn."

Mr. Geo. Henry Boothman, an Englishman, 35 years of age, died from the effects of a sunstroke at Glenwilliams, a week ago Sunday. Deceased had just arrived in the Glen from England, on Saturday, and had taken a walk up to the quarries on Sunday afternoon where he had secured a job and was to have started work on Monday. While returning about 5 o'clock he was overcome by the heat and dropped unconscious by the roadside.

Planning For a Divorce

Many Methods Were Suggested, but None Found Satisfactory.

By WILLARD STOUTENBERG

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

I was a young law student twenty-three years old, studying in the office of Marbury & Slade. Mr. Marbury was an old friend of my father's, and I think he was quite fond of me. One day he sent for me to come into his private office, and I found him alone there.

"Frank," he said, "I can give you a chance to make $500."

Now, I was scraping along financially, trying to make ends meet till I could get my profession, and $500 would be a great lift for me.

"How?" I asked eagerly.

"By taking a wife."

My delight vanished as quickly as it had come.

"There will be nothing to prevent your getting a divorce in time," he added, noticing my discomfiture.

"I don't think I would like to be tied up in such a matter at all. What does it mean?"

"It means that a client of ours, a girl of twenty-one, has inherited a fortune conditional upon her being married. Of course there is a time limit, and that time expires tomorrow at 12 o'clock noon. The young lady, Miss Irene Townsend, needs a man to marry her and, in consideration of an amount paid him, to leave her alone forever afterward. It wouldn't do to agree upon a divorce, because in that case I doubt if the marriage would be legal, but after the property is turned over to the heir I see no reason why one should not be obtained."

I thought awhile. There was a spice of romance in the matter that appealed to my youthful imagination.

"What kind of a looking thing is she?" I asked.

"On that score, my boy, you needn't trouble yourself. She is a very pretty woman and, moreover, of excellent birth and breeding, of which she is proud. She is the ward of an uncle who, I think, intends that she shall eventually marry some great catch, perhaps a British lord. All that's wanted of the first husband is that he may be relied upon after the marriage to keep out of the way and consent to a divorce when the time comes."

"How long have I to consider the matter?"

"You'll have to decide pretty soon. Miss Townsend must be married by tomorrow noon or lose a fortune. If you don't want the job some one else must be found to accept it. Think it over and let me know before I leave the office for the day."

I thought I would ask to see the girl I was to marry; but, considering that I was to be simply a husband to obviate a legal technicality, what need was there for me to see her? If she were attractive perhaps the less I saw of her the better. I waited till Mr. Marbury's hour for going home, and when he sent for me, before answering the summons, I flipped a coin to decide for me. "Heads I marry, tails I don't." Heads won.

I announced my decision to Mr. Marbury, and he told me the marriage would take place at the office the next day about 10 o'clock. Before going to my wedding I put on a frock coat and stuck a flower in my buttonhole; but, thinking this would appear as though I considered the affair a real wedding, I changed to my business suit and threw away the flower.

At 10 o'clock sharp I received a summons to go to Mr. Marbury's office. I found there besides Mr. Marbury a man in clerical dress, an aristocratic looking gentleman, very stiff and reserved, who didn't deign to look at me, and my bride. It was all right for the others to treat the matter as a mere legal form, but the bride and bridegroom gave each other a quick look. I defy any man upon entering into such an arrangement to avoid beginning at once to play a game of hearts. At any rate, I did, and, always having found indifference to be the most powerful force to move a woman, I refrained from looking at Miss Townsend after the first glance. I cast my eye perfunctorily over the papers I was required to sign and, drawing my pen through the words "five hundred dollars," wrote "one."

"What do you mean by that, sir?" snarled the elderly gentleman.

"I have decided, somewhat late perhaps, that to accept money for such a service would demean me. I shall be happy to serve the young lady, but not for pay."

I was obliged to stand a good deal of abuse from the elderly gentleman, in which his ward took no part. But I remained firm, told them that there was still nearly two hours remaining in which to find a substitute, and since the person was to be simply a dummy it didn't matter who he was, provided he was not already married. I also said that the one dollar paid me made the marriage a matter of bargain. There were reasons why a man who had been recommended as one to be relied on should be chosen. So after considerable discussion and a side conference between Mr. Marbury and the uncle it was decided to accept my conditions. Standing before the clergyman, Miss Townsend and I were made legal man and wife.

Miss Townsend was apparently well pleased with me so far as appearance goes and was decidedly prejudiced in my favor by my firmness in refusing to take any pay for the service I was doing her. When the ceremony was over I resolved upon a bold stroke.

"There is one reward," I said to her, "that I would accept for becoming your provisional husband if you can find it in your heart to grant it to me."

The uncle knit his brow, and my wife waited to hear more.

"I have taken upon myself," I said, "a condition that will doubtless prevent me from marrying a real wife for a long while to come, and few girls care to marry a divorced man. I have done this to assure to you a fortune. It seems to me that the reward I ask, though to me it will serve as a pleasant memory connected with this episode, will not be much for you to grant. I ask one kiss from my provisional bride."

Her uncle made a step forward to interfere. My wife stood for a moment irresolute, with her eyes fixed on the floor, then slowly turned her face toward me. The movement was all I asked for; I bent forward and barely touched her lips with mine.

I turned my eyes from my bride to Mr. Marbury and saw on his face an expression of satisfaction. Then for the first time it occurred to me that in his mind there had been something more than making me a mere legal husband and that he was well pleased with the manner in which I had acquitted myself. Without another word to any one, without a glance at my wife, I went out of the room and, seating myself at my desk, dived again into my law books.

A year passed, at the end of which I received a letter from my wife. It began "Dear Sir" and ended "Yours truly." It said that in the matter of our bargain marriage she had placed herself in the hands of others, since she knew nothing of law or the fulfillment of it, with a view to inheriting an estate. She was now in possession of her property and was of age. She intended to manage the rest of the matter connecting her with me herself. There was now nothing in the way of getting the divorce, and she would be pleased to see me with regard to the obtaining of a decree. Above all things, she desired to work in harmony with me, since she had been informed that the matter could be thus far more satisfactorily handled. From what little she had seen of me she felt assured that I was a gentleman and would not stand in her way in becoming a free woman.

However we define love, its beginning is indefinable. A man, fancy free, may propose to a girl who is fancy free on the ground that she is not displeasing to him and their marriage will be an advantage. If she is accepted his feelings will go out to her as naturally as the tendrils of a vine and hers will advance to meet them.

I attribute to this fact my coming to love the girl I had married, and I reasoned that if she had been at the time of our marriage and had remained fancy free it was quite possible that something more than an ordinary interest in me might have been growing up in her. But I realized that our parts were reversed. I must be courted; she must do the courting. Any indication that I hoped to make our marriage a real one would be fatal to hopes I might have of doing so.

I replied to her letter that she was at liberty to take any steps her lawyers might advise to secure a decree. All I asked was that I might be put to as little inconvenience as possible, for my time was taken up in preparing for my examination for admission to the bar. I did not refer to her suggestion for a meeting.

She replied that, considering the fact that she was under an obligation to me for a favor, she desired an opportunity of thanking me personally therefor and on no account would she take steps for the divorce without my approval of the plan to be adopted. To hit upon a plan to which I would give my willing assent would require an interview.

So I called to see her. One thing I noticed especially. She was dressed in a very becoming costume. Since I could not make myself look beautiful, whatever I might wear, I concluded to put on something besides clothes, something that finds great favor with women. I displayed all the deference I could assume.

She could not conceal from me the fact that I stood in the position of something more than a mere legal dummy. Nevertheless she tried to. She outlined several plans her lawyers had sketched out for her by which the divorce might be obtained, but I objected to all of them on the ground that they might reflect upon her. I insisted upon assuming all the obloquy myself. But when it came to pointing out exactly how I was to do this I failed. I knew enough law to suggest the different methods that might be used, but I had not been studying my profession for the purpose of enabling a woman to divorce me, especially one from whom I had no desire to be divorced. The consequence was that after a conference lasting two hours I left her without our having made any headway.

I had many conferences with my wife on the subject of our divorce without finding a satisfactory plan. At last one evening when we were debating the matter at the door, just before my departure, in a fit of absentmindedness I kissed her. She must have been equally absentminded, for she received the kiss as a matter of course, not stopping in what she was saying.

Suddenly it occurred to both of us that we had given and received a marital kiss.

That ended the talk about divorce. Since it was raining hard I concluded not to go home till the rain let up a bit. I never went home at all.

$3,600 in Cash Prizes for Farmers

ARE you going to build that new horseblock, sidewalk or dairy house of cement? Then insist on your dealer supplying you with the "CANADA" Cement. Not only will this ensure your getting a pure, uniform and strictly high-grade cement, that will guarantee the lifelong permanency of the thing you build, but it will also entitle you to enter our Prize Contest. And in this contest you stand a good chance of winning a prize that will perhaps more than pay you for the cost of the work. Every farmer in Canada who uses "CANADA" Cement is eligible to compete. Four prizes will be awarded in each Province and these prizes will be divided as follows:

PRIZE "A"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who will use during 1911 the greatest number of barrels of "CANADA" Cement.

PRIZE "B"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who uses "CANADA" Cement on his farm in 1911 for the greatest number of purposes.

PRIZE "C"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who furnishes us with the photograph showing the best of any particular kind of work done on his farm during 1911 with "CANADA" Cement.

PRIZE "D"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who submits the best and most complete description, of how any particular piece of work shown by photograph sent in, was done.

Notice how we have purposely planned and imposed certain necessary conditions in order to give large and small users of cement an equal opportunity.

As an illustration of this: In prizes "C" and "D," the quantity of cement used has no bearing whatever on the result. The farmer who sends us the best photograph of as small a thing as a watering trough or a gate post, has as much chance for prize "C" as a man who sends a photograph of a house—and the same applies to prize "D."

Don't hold back from entering because you think you don't know anything about concrete work. It's very simple. Besides, we have a 160-page book that we will send you free on request, which tells you all about concrete and how to make and use it. In this book, you'll find complete instructions for the making of almost everything you can think of in the way of farm utilities, floors, vats, troughs, stairs, posts, etc.

This free book—entitled "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete"—will not only inform you—it will also greatly interest you. So send for it anyway, whether you intend to try for one of the prizes or not.

Mr. J. M. Skelton, who has been a resident of Palmerston for fifteen years, and who served two years as Mayor, was presented, before leaving for Toronto, with a gold-headed cane by Knox Church Choir, and by the citizens with a travelling bag.

HE'S A CONVERT TO A GROWING BELIEF.

That Dodd's Kidney Pills are the Sure Cure for Kidney Disease.

Mr. Renie Moulaison was treated by two doctors, but found his relief and cure in six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Surette Island, Yarmouth, N. S., May 29th, (Special)—Renie Moulaison, a fisherman of this place, is a convert to the growing belief that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the sure cure for Kidney Disease.

"My trouble started with a cold," Mr. Moulaison states. "My muscles would cramp, I had backache and I had dizzy spells. My head often ached, and I had a tired, nervous feeling while specks of light flashed in front of my eyes.

I suffered in this way for over two months and was treated by two doctors, but they didn't seem to be able to do much for me. Then I started to take Dodd's Kidney Pills and soon started to improve. I took six boxes in all and now I am glad to say I am cured."

If you have any two or three of Mr. Moulaison's symptoms you may be sure your kidneys are not in good working order. Bad Kidneys mean Backache, Rheumatism, Heart Disease or Bright's Disease unless attended to. The one sure way to cure them is to use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Are Your Kidneys Working Properly?

It Will Pay You Well to Make Sure

There's been a lot of "guessing" about rheumatism and rheumatic pains generally, but you can be dead sure that little pain across your back came from deranged kidney action.

The kidney's duty is to filter the blood—take out the impurities collected by the returning blood stream—do it just like absorbent cotton in a funnel filters the impurities from polluted water.

When the kidneys are not working you are bound for one of two courses—Diabetes and Bright's Disease or Rheumatism, Lumbago and Sciatica. The former course is usually fatal, and the latter always painful, but you need not have either, as they both can be easily prevented.

The very best prescription for all kidney troubles is Nyal's Stone Root Compound. It is no "patent" medicine, but a scientific prescription composed of Stoneroot, Buchu, Juniper and other remedies of proved value. More than that, it has been proved by thousands who have had glad relief from its use.

There's nothing quite so miserable as the dragging results of sick kidneys. You are trifling with your own future when you neglect so simple a precaution, as a pleasant home treatment with Nyal's Stone Root Compound when results are so certain.

It soothes bladder irritation, gives you rest and comfort at night, and makes life once more enjoyable.

The kidneys, liver and bladder are dependent upon one another, and Nyal's Stone Root Compound is particularly designed to help them all.

ABRAM TAYLOR.

The circumstances surrounding the death of Abram Taylor, of Albion Township, on Monday, were of a most distressing nature. Deceased, who had been in poor health for some time, left his home here in the forenoon and when he did not return for dinner search was made and his body was founded suspended from a small tree on the farm of Mr. Samuel Stewart, adjoining the village. The body was at once removed to Mr. Dodds' undertaking rooms, and later to his home from which the funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon to Laurel Hill cemetery. The late Abram Taylor was in his 68th year, was in comfortable circumstances, and was held in the highest esteem by all.—Enterprise.

MRS. GODDARD.

In the death of Margaret Beamish Goddard, aged 40 years, beloved wife of Mr. Thomas Goddard, Weston loses one of its highly esteemed women. The sad demise occurred on Thursday, May 18th, only a few hours after the birth of a bright baby boy to their happy home. One of the best specialists from the Toronto General hospital was in attendance, as well as their own family physician and nurse, but all to no avail in prolonging her life. Besides the infant babe, there survives another son, Bruce, two and a half years, and Tommy, three and a half years, being an adopted nephew of Mr. Goddard's. Fortunately as yet, the three little lads realize not their loss, bereft of earth greatest gift—a mother's love. Only two months ago deceased had to mourn the death of her father, the late Francis Beamish, of Erindale. The funeral last Saturday to Weston cemetery was largely attended, six brothers-in-law being pall-bearers. Many school mates and friends in Trafalgar, Streetsville and Erindale will remember Maggie Beamish as an amiable girl and beautiful christian young woman, and will truly sympathize with the grief-stricken husband and relatives.—Brampton Conservator.

DEATH OF MRS. E. COLBECK.

Mrs. Edward Colbeck slept away to the great beyond during Wednesday night of last week and apparently without a struggle at the home of her son-in-law, Charles Morrison. That evening she retired in her usual health and was all right when Mr. Morrison went to close some windows about 11 o'clock on account of the storm. Next morning when she did not appear at her accustomed time, Mrs. Morrison went to her room and found her still in death, which had come quickly and without pain. Mrs. Colbeck's maiden name was Lucinda Honeyford and she was born in Brant County. She and her husband came to East Luther about 1863, and were the pioneers of the Colbeck settlement, there being none others north or east, and only three or four west. From the rough uninviting forest they hewed out a home, and were on fine way to comfort when Mr. Colbeck died 27 years ago next November. Mrs. Colbeck, with that courage and determination of purpose so characteristic of the old days, just continued along, and kept her family about her with success and happiness. They cleared the land, started a store and kept the post office at Colbeck until very recently. The family have all done well and are scattered over the Dominion. Frank is Principal of the Toronto Junction Collegiate Institute, George at Regina, Harry and Austin in East Luther, Ernest at Battleford, Sask., Wesley at Longworth, Sask., Dr. Oliver at Haileybury, and Mrs. Charles Morrison, of Grand Valley. The funeral took place on Monday to Monticello Methodist cemetery, and was largely attended.—Grand Valley Star & Vidette.

John Martin, of Colbeck, sold a team of 3-year-old Balgreddan Chief colts to James H. Platt, of East Luther, for $450.00.

Weston's population at present is 1,728 people, which is an increase of six per cent. over last year. The land assessment amounts to $487,500 and the building assessment to $412,525. During last year there were over 20 births and 11 deaths.

NEARLY DIED OF STONE IN THE BLADDER

GIN PILLS SAVED HIM

513 JAMES ST., HAMILTON, ONT.

"Five years ago, I was taken down with what the doctors called Inflammation of The Bladder—intense pains in back and loins, and difficulty in urinating, and the attacks, which became more frequent, amounted to unbearable agony. I became so weak that I could not walk across the floor.

My wife read in the papers about GIN PILLS and sent for a box. From the very first, I felt that GIN PILLS were doing me good. The pain was relieved at once and the attacks were less frequent.

In six weeks, the Stone in the Bladder came away. When I recall how I suffered and how now I am healthy and able to work, I cannot express myself strongly enough when I speak of what GIN PILLS have done for me." JOHN HERMAN. 46

GIN PILLS are sold at 50c a box—6 for $2.50. Sent on receipt of price if your dealer does not handle them. Sample box free if you write us, mentioning this paper. Money back, if GIN PILLS do not give full satisfaction. National Drug and Chemical Co., Dept. A. Toronto.

RAGING HEADACHE STOPPED AT ONCE

When He Took "Fruit-a-tives"

SHANLY, ONT., Sept. 23rd, 1910.

"You certainly have the Greatest discovered Headache Cure in the world. Before "Fruit-a-tives" came before the public, I suffered tortures from Headaches caused by Stomach Disorders.

"One of your travellers called on me when I had one of my raging headaches and had my head almost raw from external applications.

"I hated to see any person coming into the store (much less a commercial traveller) and I told him very curtly that I had a headache but he insisted on my trying "Fruit-a-tives".

"I did so, with what I would call amazing results. They completely cured me and since then (nearly six years ago) it is only necessary for me to take one occasionally to preserve me in my present good health. I was 65 years old yesterday and have been a general store keeper at the above address for twenty-five years". WM. PITT

As Mr. Pitt says "Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest headache cure in the world.

Dealers everywhere have "Fruit-a-tives" at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50 or trial size, 25c. or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

WROTE IT HIMSELF.

Earl Grey Was Doubtful About the Ethics of It However.

When Earl Grey, the Governor-General, was a youth, one of his boyhood friendships was with Henry Smith, who afterwards became Lieut.-Col. Sir Henry Smith, K.C.B., a commissioner of the London police. In a book of memoirs which Sir Henry has just published, he tells of his early friendship with Earl Grey, and how on one occasion he galloped over from Dotford to Howich to show him his testimonials.

"I say, my dear fellow," Grey remarked on coming to rather an elaborate one, "this is the best testimonial I ever read in my life."

"I am very pleased, indeed," I replied, "to hear your opinion of it, for I wrote it myself."

"What's that you are saying? What do you mean?"

"It is what I mean," I answered. "If a man has not intellect enough to write a testimonial in his own favor and energy enough to stand over a friend till he signs it, he's not fit for the position he aspired to."

"By Jupiter!" said Grey, with a laugh, "there's little doubt you're right."

Starting so well, there is small cause for surprise in the fact that young Smith made his way in the world. He is said to enjoy the distinction of being the only man whom Queen Victoria made a Knight Commander of the Bath without taking into her confidence either the Premier or the Home Secretary. However, he could scarcely have secured that honor as he did Earl Grey's glowing testimonial.

Sir Henry tells many stories of famous criminals. One deals with a certain Jimmy Smith, who narrowly escaped hanging. Shortly after this Sergt. Rolf met Jimmy at Wood Green races, and asked him to have a drink. As they were enjoying a chat over their glass of gin and water they were joined by a third man, whom the police sergeant introduced as "a friend of mine." Presently this third man finished his drink and left.

"Who's that?" inquired Jimmy. "He seems a nice sort of chap."

"Oh, he's decent enough," replied Rolf. "That's Berry, the hangman."

Jimmy's feelings were sorely hurt, and in very forcible language he intimated that had he known the profession of the gentleman to whom he had been introduced, he would have declined to partake of refreshment in his company.

The author mentions that in connection with a certain famous burglary, a curious fact came out. The gift of "writing automatically" was possessed by Lady Mabel Howard, of Greystoke, Westmorland, and she was asked by her friends to endeavor to discover Lady Graham's lost jewels. She wrote automatically, "In the river, under the bridge at Tebay," which was exactly the place where the burglars had thrown them.

Among Sir Henry's reminiscences as recorded in the book, the day of Mafeking more than holds its own. "An American," he writes, "who knew New York and its crowds, told me he had never seen anything approaching to what he witnessed that day. Thieves and pickpockets in the centre of the crowd were cheering for Baden-Powell, French, Kitchener, and Roberts; knocking people's hats over their eyes, and shaking hands effusively while they were stripping them literally of everything they possessed, the Lord Mayor and his guests looking down from the balcony, charmed with the enthusiasm and loyalty of Her Majesty's subjects."

The Peel County Sunday School Association Excursion is arranged to go to Penetang by Grand Trunk Railway on Friday, June 16th, and includes a five hour ride on the steamer "Waubic" among the 30,000 Islands of the Georgian Bay.

"THE SARN MAJOR."

About the "Crowned" King of the Lower Ranks.

"Sergeant-Majors are unpopular," [illegible] ex-Sergeant-Major Robert Ed[illegible]son in a recent famous law suit. [illegible] was about right.

And he [illegible] days of Queen Elizabeth the [illegible] could afford to ignore sergeant-m[illegible] ranked as a sort of brigadier on the [illegible] with pay at $5 a day—just double th[illegible] colonel's rate!

But, alas! he [illegible] on evil days, for by 1800 that princ[illegible] salary had been reduced to 49 1-2 c[illegible] per day.

He gets three times [illegible] much to-day, and in his way he ap[illegible] approximates to what Tommy Atkins calls [illegible] "tin god." But his evil genius is still [illegible] work.

All the officers who want unp[illegible] pleasant duties done, fly to the sergeant-m[illegible]jor. If rubbish has to be cleared away, or a trench dug, or baggage loaded, or extra sentries mounted, or coal carried, the sergeant-major has to "find" the men.

His chief [illegible]ty is to see that everybody else does theirs. He cannot, then, expect popularity any more than a hangman.

There is that terrible "Sergeant-major's parade," generally in the early morning, and consisting mostly of rapid evolutions that mean torture to the older non-commissioned officer burdened with "avoirdupois."

But there is no escaping him. If you plead a blister on one foot, he may send you down to the gymnasium for hopping exercises on the other foot. If you plead inability to do fatigue work because of injured hands, he may have you harnessed to the heavy roller on the officers' cricket pitch.

One bold Tommy pleaded exemption from church parade on the ground that he was an agnostic.

The sergeant-major assumed an expression of innocent interest.

"Don't you believe in the Ten Commandments?" he mildly asked the bold free-thinker.

"Not one, sir," was the reply.

"What! Not the rule about keeping the Sabbath?"

"No, sir."

"Ah! Well, you're the very man I've been looking for to scrub out the canteen!"

The sergeant-major wears a gold crown—on the arm, of course—which is the envy of all the non-commissioned ranks. He must always be addressed as "Sir"; and, if other staff-sergeants share his privileges of gold lace and slung sword, the sergeant-major is the only man who ever unsheathes that sword.

Yet, with all these privileges, the sergeant-major cannot escape his evil genius. He is responsible for seeing that the canteen and sergeants' mess are cleared out at night; he has to remove the caps of prisoners before marching them in for their "interview" with the colonel, and their stripes as well, if they be reduced. But he has the goodly compensation of marching at the head of the regiment, next behind the colonel.

The S.-M. is generally credited with the ability to drill a squad on a threepenny-bit. And if, during the process known as marking-time, a lack of harmony mars a squad consisting of only two recruits, the sergeant-major is the only possible human being who could solve the puzzle as to which recruit is out of step!

If sergeant-majors be doomed to unpopularity, there is obviously unlimited popularity in store for the soldier who can take them "down a peg."

Private Murphy was being treated right royally in the regimental canteen, and his comrade Jones watched the proceedings with a jealous eye. He inquired the reason.

"Why, Murphy's the regimental hero!" was the reply. "There was a company cricket-match this afternoon, and Murphy was one of the bowlers. He's a great bowler, is Murphy!"

"Oh! He got 'em out quick; did the trick—eh?"

"No, he didn't; he never hit the wicket once."

"Thought you said he was a great bowler?"

"So he is. Why, man alive, he knocked out four the sergeant-major's teeth first ball. The bounder won't be able to shout, 'Shun! As-you-were! 'Shun!' until he gets a new set."

In the Good Old Times.

The brand of "S" figures in an extraordinary act passed by our Parliament in 1547, says a London paper. Any able-bodied man or woman found loitering and not seeking work for the space of three days could be seized and brought before two justices of the peace, who, upon confession or on the proof of two witnesses, "shall immediately cause the said laborer to be marked with a hot iron in the breast the mark 'V' and adjudge the said person living so idly to his presentor, to be his slave for two years. The said slave shall be made to work by beating, chaining, or otherwise." If convicted of running away during this period, the justices could cause him to be branded on the forehead or the cheek with the letter "S" and then adjudged to his master as a slave forever. For running away a second time the penalty was death.

WAS HE CLEARED?

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Perry, formerly of Ruskview, and John Hamilton, formerly of Shelburne, had a round in the Divisional Court in Toronto last week. Hamilton was the plaintiff. The case was reported in the Mail and Empire as follows:—The Divisional Court has decided a point under the Married Woman's Property Act, as it stood prior to the amendment of 1897. A judgment in the 2nd Division Court of the County of Dufferin against Mrs. Jane Perry was nullified so far as its effect was concerned because it was a personal judgment, a form which was at that time contrary to law. As the defendant had consented to the judgment being entered the Divisional Court allows the County Judge to draw up a proper form of judgment. The matter arose out of a promissory note for $100 renewed by Jane Perry for her husband, Alexander Perry. John Hamilton was the plaintiff. All the parties are now residents of Toronto. No costs were given by the Court on account of an affidavit by Jane Perry, stating that the plaintiff had been convicted and punished for subornation of perjury. Words afterwards cleared Mr. Hamilton of the charge and the Court holds that the mentioning of it in the affidavit was a scandal and a shame and entirely irrevalent to the issue.—Free Press.

"The Liver Pills act So Naturally and Easily."

Such a statement, coming from the cashier of a bank, shows what confidence responsible people have in these pills. Mr. A. L. Wilson after trying them wrote:

"I have used Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills and also your Anti-Pain Pills, on myself, with good results. The Liver Pills act so naturally and so easily that I scarcely know that I have taken a pill. Frequently being troubled with headache I take an Anti-Pain Pill and get immediate relief in every case."
A. L. Wilson, Sparta, Ill.

Mr. Wilson was for a number of years cashier of the First National Bank of Sparta.

Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills are different from others. Many kinds of liver pills are "impossible" after one trial on account of their harshness. Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills do not act by sheer force but in an easy, natural way, without griping or undue irritation. They are not habit forming.

SEEKING FATHER'S ESTATE.

Mrs. Wilson, wife of Bandmaster Thos. Wilson, left Orangeville last week for Hamilton, whence she and her mother set out on Friday for a trip to Arizona. One of the objects of their long trip is to establish their right to share in the estate of Mrs. Wilson's father, the late John Bolen. The facts of the case were set forth as follows in last Saturday's Daily World :—

Mrs. Bolen, of Dundas, and her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Wilson, of Orangeville, left yesterday for Tucson, Arizona, where they will endeavor to get possession of an estate of more than $25,000, left by the late John Bolen, who was chief of the fire department of that city, and who died there last December from injuries received at a fire. Bolen was married to the Dundas lady in Dundas about 40 years ago, but soon after his marriage left his wife and four children, and was not heard of until a few years ago. In his will Bolen left his property to the Masonic Order and to his personal friends, but left nothing to any of his family.

Imperfect Kidney Action Causes Rheumatism

Rheumatism with its kindred ailments—Lumbago, Wry Neck, Neuralgia, etc., usually results from lodgments of uric acid in the joints and muscles.

Now the chief function of the kidneys is to properly filter this poison from the blood.

Only when they fail to do this is Rheumatism probable.

Kidney weakness starts in various ways. A sudden chill, after perspiring freely, sometimes settles in the kidneys—or an unusual strain may cause it.

Poisons which should be filtered out of the system are pumped back into the blood, causing Uric Acid, the real cause of Rheumatism, Lumbago, Wry Neck, Neuralgia, etc.

In the early stages Nyal's Stone Root Compound will stop it.

Will start your kidneys working properly so that the Uric Acid is reabsorbed and eliminated.

Away goes your Rheumatism with it.

Perhaps these early warning twinges have passed unheeded, and your Rheumatism has become deep seated.

Muscles all snarled up in knots as it were.

Then you'll need Nyal's Rheumatic Cure.

Ask your own druggist about these remedies.

His opinion is worth while.

U. S. LEGISLATION WORRIES CANADIANS.

Bills presented in Washington Believed to be Aimed at Canada's Transportation Interests — Gunboats on Great Lakes Being Removed — Duelling in Vogue in Canada.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Montreal, May 29th.—Officials of the large transportation interests in Montreal are questioning one another as to the meaning of certain clauses which appear in bills presented to the United States House of Representatives recently. They fear that they are aimed against them and are worded with a view to seeing to it that Canadian transportation interests do not benefit as a result of any increased traffic between Canada and the United States. Bill 4660, which was introduced in the House of Representatives by Mr. Rucker, of Colorado, contains the following clause :

"Every vessel not of the United States that shall arrive direct from her own country, its colony, or possession, in ballaster or with merchandise produced here, or with passengers in a less proportion than one third of her burden of capacity, for freight or passengers as aforesaid, shall pay a duty on the gross measurement in addition to the regular duty imposed by law as follows : On all vessels not exceeding 2,000 tons, 10 cents per ton; not exceeding 2,400 tons, 25 cents per ton, between 4,000 and 8,000 tons, 50 cents a ton; between 8,000 and 12,000 tons, 75 cents a ton; between 12,000 and 16,000 tons, $1 a ton; between 16,000 and 20,000 tons, $1.25 a ton; exceeding 20,000 tons, $1.25 a ton."

This is taken as a direct slap at Canadian coastwise shipping and particularly at the boats of the Canadian Pacific, now doing so profitable a trade between Vancouver, Seattle, and Alaska. It also hits at the ocean service, present or prospective, which may be run between Halifax, Boston and the West Indies, and at British bottoms, plying along the Atlantic coast from Yarmouth, Halifax or St. John's to Boston, Portland, or other American ports.

"The gunboat Nashville, which has been used by the Illinois naval reserves on the Great Lakes for the past year has been ordered to the Charlestown navy yard, where it will arrive in June."

This terse announcement by the U. S. Naval authorities was at first taken to mean that America had, on her own initiative, decided to alleviate Canada's oft expressed complaints in regard to gunboats on the Great Lakes.

Further inquiry proved disappointing, however, for it was found that the Nashville will be relieved on the lakes by the Dubuque, a gunboat even more modern and powerful than the Nashville. This question has often been up in Parliament, but never thoroughly threshed out, although the Minister of Justice, a year or so ago, admitted that it was a direct violation of the Ashburton Treaty.

For the first time in many years a man has been killed here in a regulation duel with pistols. Moreover no action has been taken in the matter by the authorities. This apparent indifference, however, should not be taken as another indication of the much-talked of crime wave, for the victim was only "killed" in a technical sense. True the duel was fought with real weapons which were loaded not with blank cartridges, but with bullets. The bullets, however, were made of wax so that the person struck suffered no injury. This duelling with wax bullets, which was the feature of a duelling competition, which included meetings with every sort of weapon, ancient and modern, is by no means a childish matter. The contestants are armored with heavily padded canvas suits and have their heads protected with helmets resembling those worn by divers. The necessity for such precautions was illustrated by the fencing instructor, who fired a wax bullet at a catalogue from a distance of ten yards, the missile penetrating 130 pages. Contestants were stationed thirty yards apart, but even at than distance the impact of the bullets was severe. A new death record was established by one man who succeeded in being "killed" four times, with foil, duelling sword, sabre and pistol in succession. Society has taken to the new form of duelling and numerous "deaths" may be soon expected among the "four hundred."

Some of the women workers for civic improvement in Montreal have advised as a possible step in progress to have the policeman's clubs and revolver replaced by light canes. One of the city papers remarks than this is the direction which all correction is taking nowadays—that of moral suasion rather than force—and reminds us that this ideal has been measurably attained in some communities. The London "bobby," though unarmed, usually carries his point and the Paris sergeant de ville, though he carries a sword, is rarely known to draw it from its bright scabbard. While the conditions in the new land, with its heterogeneous population still unsettled, may not allow of the quieter methods of the older civilizations, still the stirring of such questions points to the day when the more brotherly admonition shall be sufficient among us.

The appeal in London and Paris is to the community sense of the people. The need of law and order is recognized there unconsciously perhaps, and the established rule is more respected, more easily enforced.

While Montreal may never rival Africa and Brazil as a natural producer of precious stones, nor its skyscrapers give way to mining activities, the fact has just been brought to light as a result of borings for subways and gigantic building foundations that it is underlain with rock which contains all sorts of valuable gems. Throughout the island of Montreal garnets, beryls, tourmalines and other jewels equally valuable lie practically under foot, it now appears. Owing to their peculiar formation the rocks on which the city rests provide one of the most interesting mineral localities in the world. According to a local mineralogist who has studied the question, the tide of building northward within the last year has brought to light many new specimens of its gem-producing ability. There is plenty of fool's gold—iron pyrites, and the real yellow metal, it is said by mineralogists, was once reported in bits of quartz brought up from the excavation of a building near Phillips Square.

We Know the Reason.

Some amusing stories are going the rounds concerning the extreme reticence of Mr. Fielding, and the extraordinary plans he laid to prevent the news of the reciprocity agreement leaking. He must have hypnotized those Washington officials, for not a hint was given as to the nature of the mutual understanding, until President Taft's message reached Congress. When the Finance Minister arrived at the Central Station there was a bevy of newspaper men to meet him, but beyond the customary pleasantries his lips were sealed. One more adventurous spirit among the correspondents called at Fielding's domicile on Metcalfe street, the morning the announcement was to be made to the House, and on the threshold he met the Minister. He was carrying a little black bag, in which snugly reposed the agreement for the details of which two countries were waiting patiently. Outside was the old-fashioned four-wheeler cab, which Mr. Fielding uses to drive to his office in stormy weather. The newspaper man accepted the invitation of Mr. Fielding to drive to Parliament Hill, and suggested that he be permitted to carry the bag. The Finance Minister eyed him warily for a moment, and then switching the bag with its precious contents to the other hand, said, "No, thank you, my boy, I used to be a newspaper man myself, in the long ago."

Hadn't Been Fixed.

Sam Charters, the Brampton editor who sits in the Ontario Legislature for Peel County, is the first Conservative who has done so for a long time. That the father of the Ontario Telephone Act knows so well the people's need is undoubtedly due to the fact that he seldom misses a chance to travel through his own county and meet his constituents. Just before the last election he was canvassing in a municipality in his riding where the local leaders decided that in several cases a personal call from the candidate was necessary. So Sam, accompanied by the local chairman, started on the rounds.

"In this family that we're going to call on now there are three sons and the father, and they're a slippery bunch," said the chairman during the course of the forenoon. "I haven't much use for them myself. They've never voted our way. But the other crowd have always had to buy them before they got them."

Nothing daunted, Sam led the way to the home of the doubtful voters. Father and sons all declared that "like as not" they would vote for Mr. Charters. Any declaration more positive than that they would not make. Finally, to find out, if possible, exactly how they stood, Mr. Charters said, "Well, you won't vote for the Jones crowd anyway, will you?"

Jones was the local chairman of the opposing party. "No," declared the father with emphasis. "He hasn't got us them potatoes yet."

Sharks.

Within the past few weeks one of Toronto's prominent financial institutions closed its doors; its manager has been sent to board in Kingston; its doughty president has taken at last to the tall timbers; and other officials have dropped out of sight—added to all this Professor Coleman, of the University of Toronto, persists in informing Toronto people that their city was once the "Home of Fishes."

The geologist who, for some time, has been investigating the rock formations in the Scarboro Heights locality, well-known to scientists the world over, on the east side of Toronto, talks familiarly of life in Toronto half a million years ago. The climate was sunny in those days. Deer, beetles, mammoths, mastadoons, and shellfish were the corporation. Beetles were the Four Hundred. A mighty torrent, like Niagara, rushed from the Upper Lakes into Lake Ontario, which was sixty feet higher than it is now.

Dr. Coleman expresses his opinion that America has gone one-third of the way to another ice age—and he is not criticising the "Sins of Society." It is 40,000 years since Toronto was under ice before.

MR. WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN COMMENDS THE CANADIAN GOVERNMENT ANNUITIES SCHEME.

A prophet is without honor in his own country. As with prophets, so it is with the natural advantages which a country enjoys, and those acquired advantages which are obtained under its laws and customs—it often needs the eye of the outsider to discover the striking benefits of some institution with which the people are blessed.

The earnest tribute paid to the Canadian Government Annuities system by Mr. William Jennings Bryan during his address to the citizens of Galt on Friday last should do much to determine the question for those who have not yet taken advantage of the system, the opinion coming, as it does, from one who has made the social problem a life study. He is reported to have said : "I have been trying for years to figure out a similar scheme for the benefit of the citizens of the United States, and I cannot understand why every civilized country does not follow the lead of Canada, and encourage the people to put something by for the day when they will be too old to work. This is true co-operative Government," he added. While other countries have established pension schemes, which are but extensions of Poor Law Relief, the result of which is to pauperize, and not to stimulate thrift, the Canadian Government has, by its Annuities Act, inaugurated a scheme whereby thrift is promoted, and the people are provided with facilities which will enable them to help themselves, and at the same time preserve their self-respect and dignity.

Full information may be obtained by addressing the Superintendent of Canadian Government Annuities, Ottawa, to whom all letters go free of postage.

A LUMBERMAN'S OPINION.

"I was troubled with palpitation of the heart and sleeplessness," writes Mr. Wm. Pritchard, Lumber Inspector, Lumsden Mills, Ont., "and used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food with very great benefit, as my whole system was strengthened and built up." Dr. Chase's Nerve Food forms new, rich blood and restores the feeble, wasted nerve cells.

Ritchie's Rugs for Bedroom, Dining Room or Parlor cheap.

Constipation is the root of many forms of sickness and of an endless amount of human misery.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, thoroughly tested by over fifty years of use, have been proved a safe and certain cure for constipation and all kindred troubles. Try them.

PUBLIC SCHOOL LEADING.

Leaders in Free Library Voting Contest Change Positions.

Orangeville Public School has jumped into first place in the Free Library Voting Contest, nosing the Liebander Bible Class out of the coveted position by a few thousand votes. This is the first time since the beginning of the race that the Liebanders have been obliged to occupy anything but first place. Some of the friends of the other contestants expressed the conviction weeks ago that the Liebanders were sure to win out. The result of the past week's voting shows how badly they were out and how futile it is to attempt to forecast the final issue of the contest. Mono College, the leading outside contestant polled a heavy vote during the week and holds third place with a comfortable lead. The friends of the College promise to spring a big surprise during the next few weeks. There is no doubt that many thousand votes are being held in reserve throughout the country and these will probably be diverted to the contestant that stands the best chance of winning. Should this occur the Public School and Liebander Class will have to work hard or they will find themselves beaten in the home stretch. The Contest will close on June 30th, and all votes must be deposited on or before that date. Banner readers, who are interested in the Library Contest, are invited to read the announcement elsewhere in this issue giving full particulars regarding the manner in which ballots may be obtained, conditions of the contest, etc. The standing according to yesterday morning's count was:—

BABY'S TEARRS TURNED TO SMILES.

The well baby is a happy baby—always cooing, gurgling and smiling. It is only the sickly baby who is cross; fretful and cries. The smile or the tears indicates baby's state of health. Mothers if you want your baby to smile—the smile of good health and freedom from pain—give him Baby's Own Tablets. They never fail to turn the tear into a smile. Concerning them Mrs. Jas. Hutcheson, Maryside, B.C., writes:—"Your Baby's Own Tablets have been a great comfort to me while baby was teething. He was cross and fretful, but as soon as I began giving him the Tablets the effect was wonderful. He became a good natured baby right away and is now big, fat and healthy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Come to SASKATCHEWAN THE GOLDEN

"The Land That Pays for Itself in a Single Season."—Prof. Thomas Shaw.

Want to quit paying rent and have a fine farm of your own? Come to Saskatchewan! Want a farm on fertile land the first crop pays for your land? Come to Saskatchewan! Want pleasant, congenial work that pays generous rewards? Come to Saskatchewan!

Want to live where health, not sickness, is "catching"? Come to Saskatchewan! Want a home surrounded by good neighbors, schools, churches and railroads? Come to Saskatchewan! Want to get out of a rut, to make a new start, to live where conditions are with you, not against you; want a fair chance to make money—as good a chance as your dad had when Ontario was "out West"? Come to Saskatchewan!

320 Farms Grow 40 Bushels of Wheat per Acre!

To the average man this would seem impossible, but it is done by farmers in the LAST MOUNTAIN VALLEY, in Golden Saskatchewan, and they don't work nearly so hard as their less fortunate friends who stayed "at home." The average crop in this fertile valley is about 30 bushels per acre. The first year's crop clears the land! There are yet thousands of acres in this wonderful valley—as rich as any soil in the world—that have never been put under cultivation. They await but the touch of the plough to bring forth immense harvests of golden grain.

Golden Saskatchewan!

Though provided with ample rainfall, the Last Mountain Valley is a land of almost continuous sunshine, where health abounds—a climate that builds vitality. Pulmonary diseases or epidemics of any kind are unknown here.

Railroads Galore!

You don't need to live "forty miles from nowhere," either, or "next door to civilization." You are "inside" of civilization. Seven great railroads already serve this district. Mere railroad building is going on here than in any other part of Canada. In 1910 one-third of the Canadian Pacific's construction was here. The Canadian Northern is now building another road into the heart of the Last Mountain Valley.

400,000 Homeseekers Coming!

Last year 300,000 homeseekers came to Western Canada. The present year, according to immigration authorities, will see 400,000 people settled on the land, and making homes for themselves and their families. Western Canada will soon be as densely populated as the best agricultural sections of Ontario. Land prices are going up every day. Those who buy now will get the benefit of the advance.

Our Prices Lowest—Our Terms Most Liberal!

We have over 175,000 acres of the finest unbroken wheat land in the world, near towns and on railroads in the Last Mountain Valley. We have a list of land bargains such as were never before known. Our prices are absolutely the lowest, and we sell on small, easy payments. No other colonization company can hope to meet these terms and prices, because none can buy land now in such enormous tracts.

Always Delivers the Goods!

Our belief in the Last Mountain Valley is not a "make-belief." We believe in the Last Mountain Valley because we know it. We knew it when it was a greasy wilderness, when there was hardly a bushel of wheat grown within its whole area. We have watched it year by year for eight years, until now it has become widely known in Eastern Canada, England and the United States as the best wheat-growing district in America.

FLYING IN A WIND.

Supplementing our recent discussion of the conditions of flight in a wind, we wish to make it clear that the article was intended as a word of warning to the novice, and not to the edxerienced airman. Furthermore, lest the article should lead to confusion regarding the elementary laws of motion, we wish to emphasize the fact that once the aviator is clear of the ground, his maneuvers and all questions of momentum, speed, etc., are referred solely to the new medium, the air. Whether the air be in movement or not, need give him no concern whatever, except so far as regards those local disturbances,kuown as "pockets," "air holes," "boulders," etc. The risk in turning when flying against the wind might occur only when an aviator failed to distinguish between his velocity with regard to the air and his velocity with regard to the earth, and if, because he was moving slowly or not at all over the earth, he omitted, when making the turn, to bank his machine to the proper degree corresponding to his velocity through the air and the sharpness of the curve described by his aeroplane.

So far as the equilibrium of the machine is concerned, it makes no difference whatever (except for the local disturbances above mantioned) whether the atmosphere lies absolutely still above the earth or is moving over its surface at 100 miles per hour. If it were possible to build an automatic, unpiloted aeroplane, with controls that functioned perfectly in all the various evolutions, and it were started in flight over a rectangular or oval course, it would perform the various maneuvers with just as much certainty in a wind as it would in still air.

The danger to which we referred would be due entirely to the human element in the problem—to the fact that the aviator, particularly if he were a novice and making his first flight in a wind of strength, would be liable to refer his speed to the earth, and not, as he should, to the medium in which he was travelling—the air. It is quite possible that the well-known liability of the beginner to fall when making a turn out of the wind, is largely traceable to this error. As a matter of fact, in a machine flying at 40 miles per hour through the air against a 40-mile wind, and therefore having no speed with regard to the earth, conditions of equilibrium in turning will be exactly the same as if the same machine were flying at the same speed through still air. In each case, were it possible suddenly to reverse the aeroplane instead of turning it gradually in a circular path, its inertia would tend to carry it onward against the air in its first line of motion, according to the well-known law.

It was the Wright brothers who first clearly demonstrated the proper method of control in turning, namely, by adjusting the tilt of the machine so that its vertical projected area would cause the atmosphere to offer the horizontal resistance necessary to equilibrate the centrifugal force, and enable the machine to make the turn.

The qualified aviator knows that the proper degree of banking is determined by two factors, the speed and the sharpness of the curve. Experience has taught him just how far the increased air reaction on his outer wing surface should be permitted, under the control of his own warping devices, to bank his machine to suit the speed and the curve. Furthermore, he judges his speed strictly with regard to the air, and not with regard to the ground. Consequently, if he were creeping slowly up to a pylon, against a wind of nearly his own velocity, so that at the instant of turning, he was practically stationary, in putting his rudder over for a sharp turn, he would know enough to bank his aeroplane to the same degree as if he had rushed up to the pylon at 40 miles per hour in still air.

But how many of the newcomers, if we except those who have had instruction in a good aviation school, in making their first flight in a wind of strength, and approaching a turning mark at a speed over the earth of a few miles an hour, would know enough to bank their machines to the full extent required? If the pilot chanced to be a chauffeur who had recently turned aviator, by the very instincts of his former training, he would be liable to manipulate his aeroplane for slow speed conditions, and not for the full 40 or 50 miles per hour at which he was travelling through the air.

The homeliest illustrations are sometimes the best. That flight is concerned solely with the medium in which it takes place is proved in the case of a common house fly when in is flying, say, in a Pullman dining-car. Although the body of air within the car may be travelling at 70 miles an hour over the earth, the motions of the fly will be made with the same freedom as they would were it flying in the stationary air within the cafe of a city hotel.

The aviator, then, is concerned solely with his movement through the air; he has no concern whatever with the motion of the whole body of air itself, whether that motion be over the face of the earth as a 40-mile wind, or around the earth's center at 1,000 miles an hour as part of the atmospheric belt, or around the sun at 66,000 miles per hour in the part of the earth's orbital movement.

We spoke above of a sudden reversal of the machine in a wind. As a matter of fact, this would be impossible. But if it could be done without the interposition of a properly banked turn, the machine for the few moments before it fell, would be moving tail first against the wind. The same result would follow if a sudden reversal, without the usual turn, could be made when flying in still air—the machine would tend to move in the line of its original flight. Both in a wind and in still air, the conditions would be identical. The change in velocity would in the first case be from zero to minus 88 miles per hour, and in the second from plus 40 to 40, again a total change of velocity of 80 miles per hour.

In conclusion, we would point out that the supposed difference between the dynamics of flight in a wind and in still air will vanish if we bear in mind that while the gravity of an aeroplane in flight is referable to the earth; its inertia, as affecting changes of motion, is not in any sense referable to the earth, being, in fact, an inherent property of the machine itself. As engineer who has been accustomed, in calculating problems of train acceleration and retardation, to refer velocities to the earth, is apt, at first thought and through sheer force of habit, to retain the same reference point in considering, for the first time, the velocities of an aerophane in the air. The reference point, we repeat, is no longer the earth, but the air itself.—Scientific American.

After suffering intensely for ten months with a decaying jawbone, supposed to have started from an ulcerated tooth, Wm. Aikens, sr., a highly respected resident of Nottawasaga, passed away recently, in the 77th year of his age.

While sorting over a lot of eggs, Mr. G. Overland, of Erin, found one which was partly flat and which had a big circle on one side, with notches like a cog wheel on it. It came to a point on one end and was marked like the eyes, nose and mouth of an animal.

A Wiarton despatch says that the zinc industry of the northern rural vicinity is progressing favorably, the mine being operated by a gang of men under the supervision of Dr. Wolverton. The mineral is being turned out in large quantities, which according to the tests taken, is of a particularly fine quality. Some of the nuggets assayed 67 per cent., which is the highest figure. The other 33 per cent. of its composition consists of sulphur, which is a by product of much importance.

Mr. Robt. Crawford, Auctioneer, disposed of the estate of the late John Cooney on Thursday last. The 100 acre farm, lot 23, second concession, west, Chinguacousy, was purchased by Mr. Drinkwater (who has been the tenant since Mr. Cooney left it twenty years ago) for $5,000. The property on Main St., north, Brampton, was sold as follows: The roughcast house and lot were bought for Mr. Wm. Fendlay for $1,750; the two lots adjoining went to Mr. Parsons for $360; the ironclad cottage was bought by Mr. Poyntz, of No. Ten for $1,010.—Peel Banner.

Gordon Marshall, a tinsmith in the employ of R. A. Jelly, Shelburne, was badly injured on Tuesday evening while playing baseball. He was playing third base and took after a flying ball and Elmer Gallaugher, the pitcher, went after the same ball. Marshall fell back and Gallaugher ran into him, striking him on the right temple with his knee. He walked down from the grounds assisted by two of the players to his room at the Mansion House, and Dr. A. J. Smith was sent for. The injured man was insensible for two hours but is some better to-day (Wednesday). He has no recollection of how he was hurt or how he returned from the grounds. He is a son of Duncan Marshall, of Melancthon.—Free Press.

Mary had a little waist
Where waists are meant to grow
And everywhere the fashions went
Her waist was sure to go.

Mary had a hobble skirt
So tight, 'twas bound to tear;
She sewed it up, and then she had A Harem Skirt to wear.

Mary wore a harem skirt—
A waist and two small hems;
It caused the people's eyes to glare
And stick out on the stems.

CHURCH EXEMPTION.

The Tax Reform League has issued an interesting leaflet on the subject of the exemption of church property from taxation. After summarizing a number of the chief arguments for and against exemption, the leaflet states that perhaps the strongest argument against exemption is the fact that the greatest benefit is received by the wealthy churches. An interesting compromise solution of the difficulty is suggested. The plan proposed is the total exemption from taxation of all church buildings and the taxation of the land according to its value. In support of this plan it is pointed out that the church itself is erected, beautified and made valuable by the labor and contributions of its members. Land on the other hand derives its value from its surroundings and the growth of the community. This plan, it is stated, has been adopted in the city of Vancouver and is working very satisfactorily without imposing any very serious burden upon the churches.

CORONATION PORTRAITS.

King George V. and Queen Mary.

The Banner has made arrangements by which our readers can secure most beautiful Coronation portraits of Their Majesties King George and Queen Mary. They are by the celebrated "Langfier," of London, and copyrighted. The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal has secured the Canadian rights, and is now offering these portraits free of charge to all who subscribe to that great weekly for the balance of 1911 at Fifty Cents. We will include The Banner with The Family Herald and Weekly Star for the same period for only 75 cents, and each subscriber will receive the Coronation pictures. The two portraits are on the one sheet, size about 18 x 15 inches a most convenient size for framing. They are acknowledged by competent judges to be the best portraits of Their Majesties in existence and will become historical, growing in value year after year.

The small sum of 75 cents will bring you both papers until January 1st, 1912, and the Coronation portraits. The latter alone could not be bought for the price.

NEW TRAIN SERVICE TO "LAKE OF BAYS."

An important feature that will be inaugurated during the coming season will be a new train service to the "Lake of Bays" district. A standard Grand Trunk passenger train will leave Toronto with through coaches, parlor cars and dining cars at 10.15 o'clock in the morning, daily except Sunday, for Huntsville, reaching the latter point at about three o'clock in the afternoon, connecting with the steamers for points in the "Lake of Bays" district, and affording passengers the opportunity of reaching their destination in time for dinner.

The Sunday evening boat service from the Wawa Hotel, Britannia, Point Ideal, Portage, Deerhurst and other important calling ports on "Lake of Bays" to Huntsville will be run on same schedule as for season, 1910, during the months of July and August, and which will be a boon to week-enders desiring to return to the city for business on Mondays.

LINEMAN ELECTROCUTED.

Matthew Reynolds Instantly Killed in Shelburne on Saturday Afternoon.

Dead Man Lived in Orangeville.

Matthew Reynolds, a lineman in the employ of the Dufferin Light & Power Company, was instantly killed in Shelburne about 1.15 o'clock on Saturday afternoon by coming in contact with a live wire. Reynolds, Jerry McKinney, Wm. Harber and James Craig were doing some work in Shelburne under the supervision of W. Hallett, Superintendent of Construction Work. The fatality occurred near the sub-station on Main St., east of the business section of the village, shortly after the men resumed work after the noon hour. Hallett was at work elsewhere in the village. Harber and Craig were doing some job in the sub-station, so that McKinney was the only man with Reynolds when the shocking accident occurred. McKinney had gone up a pole to make some alteration in the wires, leaving Reynolds standing below. The unfortunate man apparently attempted to remove a guy wire that crossed above a high voltage transmission wire and was fastened to another pole close to the ground. When he uncoiled the wire the slack evidently slipped through his hand, allowing the wire to drop across the transmission line. The unfortunate man was instantly killed. McKinney saw him fall and hastily descending to the ground called the other men to the scene. Throwing a rope around the prostrate form the three men made an effort to drag the body free of the wire, but were so badly shocked that they were compelled to desist. Later they succeeded in removing the body.

Reynolds was 56 years of age and unmarried. His home was on John St., Orangeville, where he resided with his aged mother and two sisters, one of whom is an invalid. He formerly farmed in Caledon, but moved here about four years ago. He was a quiet, inoffensive man, well-liked by everybody, and the news of his tragic death caused consternation amongst his neighbors and acquaintances. He had been with the Dufferin Light & Power Co. for the last year or longer, and had the reputation of being a very careful man.

When he learned of the circumstances, Dr. S. T. White, of Shelburne, decided to hold a Coroner's inquest. The jury viewed the remains Saturday afternoon. The inquest was reopened Monday afternoon, and concluded the same evening, when the jury brought in a verdict finding that the death was purely accidental, and no blame attached to the Company or any of its employees.

The funeral, which was largely attended, was held to Greenwood cemetery on Monday afternoon, Rev. G. A. Rix conducting the services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were Messrs. Wm. Harkies, J. McKinney, Wm. Harber, Harry Worts, W. Hallett and J. Craig, all employees of the Dufferin Power Co.

MARRIED FIFTY YEARS.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bowles Celebrate Golden Wedding.

Their Children all Present For The Occasion Tuesday, Together With Large Number of Relatives.

On Tuesday of this week Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bowles, Church St., celebrated their golden wedding. The event was of unusual interest and unique in several respects. Mr. and Mrs. Bowles have lived their fifty years of married life in the county—forty years on the farm and ten years in Bramptan. While Mr. Bowles has always been especially active in all religious and moral efforts he has also taken a prominent part in all local questions and for twenty-nine years was treasurer of Chinguacousy township.

All the children, gathered from far and near, were present for the occasion. These included Professor R. P. Bowles, M.A., B.D., Victoria College, Toronto; Mr. J. A. Bowles, Souris, Man.; Mr. T. S. Bowles, Bellefield, Sask.; Dr. Manley Bowles, Winnipeg; Rev. N. E. Bowles, B.A., B.D., Chentu, S. Chuan, China; and Miss Unett Bowles, Brampton. In addition Mr. Bowles' two elder brothers, Mr. Jno. Bowles, Sandhill, and Sheriff Bowles, Orangeville, were also present; besides a hosts of nephews, nieces, grandchildren and a few intimate friends gathered to honor the occasion. Among the latter were Rev. and Mrs. Long, Rev. Watson (who was a guest at the wedding fifty years ago) and Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Scott, of Stratford. Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Bowles were children and playmates together on the island of Malta, where both spent several years of their childhood.

After the wedding dinner Professor Bowles opened a short program of congratulatory addresses and the family presented their honored parents with an address, a beautiful grandfather clock and a purse of gold. Not only the friends present, presented lovely tributes of their respect and affection, but Mr. and Mrs. Bowles were remembered by a much larger circle of friends. Grace Church presented Mr. Bowles with a gold headed cane and Mrs. Bowles was made a life member of the Women's Missionary Society. Messages, letters and telegrams were received in large numbers. Among these was a most appreciative message from Dr. Carman, General Superintendent of the Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowles, though not in robust health, were still able to enter into the spirit of the day and Mr. Bowles made a brief, appropriate response on behalf of himself and Mrs. Bowles. Their many friends join in wishing them many happy years of golden eventide.—Peel Banner.

MONTREAL THINKS LONG SAULT FIGHT EXPENSIVE.

Patriotic Motives Cost a Pile of Money Say Members of Board of Trade and Shipping Federation.—Bill Presented for Expenses at Washington by J. Wesley Allison Runs Into Thousands—Opposition to Damming St. Lawrence is on the Wane—Quebec to Become a Trampless Province—Seventeen Year Locust Promises to be Promptly on the Job.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Montreal, June 5th, 1911.—Patriotism costs money and money talks. This time money is asking questions. Last winter the bill of the Long Sault Development Company, seeking power to dam the St. Lawrence River at the Long Sault rapids near Cornwall, came up for a hearing before the Committee on Rivers and Harbours of the United States Congress. Mr. J. Wesley Allison, of Morrisburg, Ontario, went to Washington, it was understood here, to oppose it from the standpoint of a patriotic Canadian looking after the interests of his country. It now appears that Mr. Allison's little trip cost something like fifteen thousand dollars, and he is asking reimbursement from certain citizens of Montreal for his patriotic motives.

Some days ago a meeting of the Board of Trade was held at which the question was brought up. One member asked if fifteen thousand dollars was not rather a large amount for so short a trip, and whether it would be advisable to ask Mr. Allison for some sort of an accounting instead of the general lump sum statement he had placed before them. It also appeared to be the impression of the Board of Trade that Mr. Allison had undertaken the journey on his own responsibility and had not made any suggestion as to reimbursement prior to his departure for the American capitol. It has also transpired since that Mr. Allison is interested in a small water power development at Waddington, N.Y., which would not be worth developing were the Long Sault plans to go through. It was therefore decided to offer Mr. Allison five hundred dollars as Montreal's share of the fifteen thousand and in the future fight their own battles. It is not likely that there will be any more opposition to the Long Sault from Montreal anyway, as, upon investigation it has been found that the proposition will benefit rather than damage the port of Montreal.

There is a gloom among the members of the ancient if not royal order of tramps, for plans are now under way to make Quebec the first trampless province in the country and to change it from the paradise of panhandlers, which it now is, to a territory to be shunned by every professional hobo. Of the 200,000 tramps in the whole country, figures show that about 20,000 of this army of special parasites are always to be found in this state, and about 10,000 in this city alone. More than $1,000,000 a year is spent for the maintenance of this army in jails and other institutions, while the cost of the damage to property and crimes committed together with general contributions brings the total up to $5,000,000. While the plan by which it is proposed to wipe out this wasteful expenditure and at the same time eliminate the tramp problem has never been tried in this country it has proven so successful abroad that there is no doubt as to its efficiency here. It proposes to establish somewhere in the country a tramp farm colony to which vagrants can be sent and where the products of their labor will be used toward their maintenance. The professional hobo for whom work has no attractions will doubtless give the province a wide berth while those sent to the farm will doubtless be given an opportunity to become useful citizens. The most successful of these colonies actually makes money, and it is believed that a similar result could be accomplished here. The matter is now before the Legislature in the form of a bill providing for the acquirement of the necessary land and within about one minute after its passage there is certain to occur the greatest tramp exodus ever known.

The seventeen-year locust promises to live up to his reputation for regularity and his song is soon to be heard in the land, at least in this vicinity, for these much talked of and seldom seen insects have been found in the ground in such a state of advanced development as to make it seem certain that in a week or ten days they will make their first appearance hereabouts since 1894. Their advent is not regarded with such apprehension as in former years, however, since scientists say that the amount of damage which they do is comparatively slight and that their notoriety is chiefly due to their remarkable habit of appearing only once every seventeen years. Should the locust give up this peculiarity and become a regular yearly visitor, it is held that he would soon sink into oblivion in comparison to many other annual pests which do far more damage without achieving any particular notice. Nevertheless lots of people hereabouts are prophesying that the seventeen-year locust will not leave a single tree or shrub in this city—a prophesy which would be very serious if it only happened to be true.

UNIVERSITY RESULTS.

The following names appeared in the University of Toronto examination results in Tuesday's dailies:—Degree of Bachelor of Arts—Miss Ruby C. Hewitt, daughter of Rev. G. W. Hewitt, formerly of Orangeville, and Mr. G. R. Bracken, son of Mr. H. Bracken, of Mono. Miss Hewitt obtained honors in Moderns. In the Department of Dentistry, Mr. Dan C. McCarten, a second year student, passed his final examination in anatomy and physiology for the D. D. S. degree.

T. G. POYNTZ DIES QUITE SUDDENLY.

Lived Thirty Years in Winnipeg, Making Many Friends and Acquaintances.

(Winnipeg Telegram, June 3, 1911.)

Thomas G. Poyntz, of the Poyntz Drug Co. in the Leland hotel, for 20 years a resident of this city, passed away suddenly at 5.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, aged 69 years, while being taken to the hospital in an ambulance. The deceased, his daughter-in-law, Mrs. L. G. Poyntz, and Dr. Leeming, the city bacteriologist, were bound for the C. N. R. station on a Broadway car, when suddenly Mr. Poyntz reeled from his seat and fell to the floor of the car. Two of the street railway inspectors carried him into Gordon and Mitchell's drug store on the corner of Portage and Main and Dr. Leeming sent a call for an ambulance to convey him to the hospital. The ambulance was just about three minutes away when Mr. Poyntz breathed his last. Dr. Hugh McKay, of the McIntyre block, who attended, stated that death was due to heart failure. Mr. Poyntz came from Dublin in the early seventies, and commenced business at Guelph, Ontario, where he lived for two years, going to Orangeville, Ontario, in 1863, to open a drug store. He remained there for some time, coming to Winnipeg thirty years ago.

His first enterprise in Winnipeg was the installation of the old Bodega, which stood on the property on which the Farmers' block has since been erected. The Bodega was a favorite resort, patronized by the leading professional and business men of the city in the early days, and was a head centre in the great boom of 1881 and the year following. Kindly and social in his nature, few men in the west had a wider circle of friends and acquaintances during the last third of a century. Funeral arrangements have not as yet been completed.

MRS. WM. DUKE.

Mrs. Wm. Duke, a much loved and respected citizen of Caledon township, departed this life on Friday, June 2nd, passing away quite unexpectedly. Mrs. Duke was in her 48th year, and was born on lot 20, 4th line, east, Caledon, whence she was married to Mr. William Duke, twenty-six years ago. The newly married couple took up their residence on lot 19, 3rd line, east, Caledon, where eight children were born to them. Her husband, five daughters and one son survive to mourn the loss of a gentle wife and loving mother. Mrs. Duke's maiden name was Martha Roulstin. Her aged mother and four sisters—Mrs. Thos. St. John, Palgrave, Mrs. Israel Sweesey, Holland Landing, Mrs. W. T. Welwood, Macville, and Miss Sarah Roulstin, Newmarket—survive, and were all present at the funeral. The remains were taken to St. John's cemetery, 7th line, Mono, for interment on Sunday afternoon, the cortege leaving the house at 2 p.m., after a short service held out of consideration for the aged mother, who was unable to follow the body to its last resting place. The officiating clergyman was Rev. R. J. W. Perry, the gifted rector of Mono Mills Parish. The funeral was very largely attended showing the esteem in which the departed woman was held. The late Mrs. Duke was a woman who was ever willing to extend a helping hand, a kind word and a cheery smile. She was a friend to all, thinking only of others. The bereaved husband and family have the sympathy of the entire community. Some of the friends present from a distance were:—Mr. and Mrs. G. Ford, son and daughter, of Beeton; Mrs. John Roulstin and Mr. James Minnion, of Holland Centre; Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McKee, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Hall, Whitfield; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cornett, Hillsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ryall, Hockley, and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Fleming, Violet Hill. The remains were borne to their last resting place by Messrs. Jas. Lemon, Alex. Speers, T. J. Henry, James Minnion, John Speers and James Speers. The floral tributes included a wreath from the family, a spray from Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Duke, a spray from Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McKee, a wreath from Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Mills, a wreath from Mr. and Mrs. A. Mills and a sheaf from Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Speers.

Gone but a little while
Gone to Heaven ahead,
To lead us by an angel smile,
To Jesus, as she said.

Our Saviour took her home
The patient, gentle one,
Where she in love will roam—
Her earthly tasks are done.

So loving, good and true,
To those about each day;
They'll miss her, those who knew—
More than any words can say.

Oh mother you have gone
From earthly woes and care,
With God and His own Blessed Son,
We all may meet you there.—Com.

CARDWELL.

The congregation of the Church of the Herald Angel met the other evening and presented their minister, Rev. Wm. McLean, and Mrs. McLean with a well-filled purse collected by two of the young ladies of the Parish, Misses M. Bracken and L. South. Much regret is felt over the departure of Rev. Mr. McLean, who has been obliged to quit the work of the ministry for a time on account of difficulty with his voice. He intends resting for a year or so and will go West shortly in the hope that the change of climate and a respite from the trying demands of the ministry will result in the complete restoration of his voice. Mr. and Mrs. McLean were both well thought of and will be greatly missed by the people of this Parish and community.

Two Wycliffe College students, Messrs. H. Greene and A. Cooper, have taken charge of Rev. Mr. McLean's work in this Parish for the summer months.

Mrs. Wm. Jackson has returned home after spending a couple of weeks visiting friends in Brampton and Mono Road.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. McLean left for the latter's home at Elmvale on Monday, where they will visit for a short time before leaving for the West.

Herb. Jenkins, a son of Mr. Edward Jenkins, was the victim of what might have proved a very serious runaway accident last Wednesday afternoon. As it was the young man had two of his ribs fractured. Dr. Jas. Henry attended to his injuries and he is getting along nicely.

Mr. G. R. Bracken, of Wycliffe College, spent a few days at his parental home before leaving for Southern Ontario where he will spend the summer travelling for the Union Bible Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Williamson, of Toronto, visited friends here last and this week.

Quite a number of the young people of this vicinity took in St. Luke's and Glencross garden parties last week and report having a good time.

Mr. Ira South had a very successful bee on Thursday hauling the brick for his fine residence on the Centre Road.

CHARLESTON.

The recent rains have improved the crops in this vicinity and the prospects are very bright at present.

Quite a number from here attended the funeral of the late Matthew Reynolds in Orangeville on Monday last. Mr. Reynolds was a resident of Caledon for a number of years and was highly respected by all who knew him. His demise is deeply regretted and much sympathy is expressed for his aged mother and other members of the family in their sad bereavement.

Mr. McIntyre motored up to the home of his father-in-law, Mr. Thos. Harrison, one day last week. He owns a very stylish car and while here treated his many friends to a short tour. He returned on Friday, taking Mr. Norman Harrison with him.

Caledon Council met as a Court of Revision on Monday, but very little change was made in the assessment rolls as we had two very competent men doing the work this year.

Census Enumerator McArthur has been making his rounds and is now well advanced. Dan finds the ladies younger than he expected.

Rev. S. R. Robinson left for an extended trip to the Coast last week. We wish him a safe journey.

The Caledon Methodist Church intend holding their annual Garden Party on Mr. Wm. Harris' beautiful lawn on Tuesday evening, July 4th. Excellent tea. Choice programme. Don't forget the date.

Some thirty motor cycles passed through here on Sunday last. We understand that Orangeville was the point in view and those who were unfortunate enough to be going to or from church with anything but very quiet horses certainly had an exciting time of it. Would no other time or place suit this class of pleasure seekers, as it greatly disturbs the peace of the Sabbath, and if a place of worship is near the road, as is desirable for most purposes, it becomes a question whether the Rev. gentleman or the motor cycle has the floor.

GLENCROSS.

The Garden Party held at the home of Mr. S. T. Still, on Saturday evening last, in the interest of the Presbyterian church here, was a decided success. An unusually large crowd was present to enjoy the programme, given largely by the members of the Orangeville and Camilla Presbyterian choirs, who rendered the selections in their usual excellent style. The chairman, Rev. A. J. Fowlie and the speakers, Messrs C. R. McKeown, Rev. W. M. Morris and A. D. McKitrick delighted the audience by their bright and fitting remarks. A baseball match between the Mono Centre and the Hockley teams proved a very interesting feature of the evening's amusements. The proceeds amounted to about one hundred and thirty dollars.

The many friends of Mr. S. T. Still are greatly pleased to note his gradual recovery.

Mrs. J. McKibbon and Mrs. T. Fisher, of Bond Hend, spent Sunday with friends in this community.

A number of our people attended the Garden Party held at the home of Mr. Geo. Dermott in the interests of St. Luke's church and report a good time.

The trustees of Hockley School have re-engaged Miss M. Bagnell as teacher for the coming year at a salary of $535 per annum.

MONO MILLS.

Mr. R. J. Potter, Mr. Robert Arlow, and the latter's son, Mr. Sam. Arlow, left for the West last week.

Mr. Calvin Lewis, who has been taking a course in Central Business College, Toronto, is home.

A number of school chums of Miss Mary Dowling spent Friday afternoon at her home in recognition of her birthday.

Miss Londry and Mr. Mercer Mason spent Sunday with friends at Sandhill.

Considerable interest is being taken in the Garden Party at Mr. W. A. Donaldson's under the auspices of Mono East Presbyterian Church to be held on Tuesday evening next. A number of our local talented artists are taking part in the programme. This will certainly be a good entertainment, and will furnish a pleasant evening for those who find it possible to be there.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Wm. Duke, of Caledon, was held to St. John's cemetery, Mono, on Sunday afternoon and was largely attended. Rev. R. J. W. Perry conducted the services. Sincerest sympathy is felt for the bereaved family.

SIGNS OF KIDNEY TROUBLE.

In the early stages kidney troubles are known by backache and urinary disorders. Later come dropsy, stone, rheumatic pains, and perhaps diabetes. But don't wait for these. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will help you in a few hours. Their thorough action on the liver, kidneys and bowels will clear away the pains and aches and make you well again.

—Camilla Presbyterians will hold a monster Picnic in Reeve Hilliard Anderson's grove on Dominion Day.

FADING AT THIRTY.

When Woman Should Be In the Prime of Charm and Beauty.

At thirty to thirty-five a woman should be in the prime of charm and beauty, and yet many women begin to fade before then. Wrinkles appear and the complexion grows sallow. Dark rings surround the eyes, and headaches follow, with backaches and low spirits. The cause of this is simply need of blood nourishment. Good, pure blood is the life of a woman's beauty and health. It is good blood that brings the glow of health to the cheek, brightness to the eye and elasticity to the step, and the general happiness of good health. When woman feels jaded and worn out her blood supply needs attention, and the one unrivalled and sure remedy is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which supply the rich, red blood that repairs the waste, dispels disease and restores the brightness and charm of womanly health.

Mrs. H. G. Hart, Winnipeg, Man., is one of the thousands of sufferers who owes her present health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says: "I had suffered for a long time, not knowing what the trouble was. I had doctored with several doctors, but only seemed to be growing worse. The last doctor I had told me the trouble was anaemia, that my blood was turned to water and that my condition was serious. But his treatment, like the rest, did me no good. I got so bad that if I excited myself, or went up stairs, I was completely out of breath and felt as if I was going to suffocate. My heart would palpitate violently, and at times I would suffer with terrible pains from it. I had a yellow complexion, my lips had lost their color, and I had no appetite and could not eat. I grew so weak I could hardly drag myself along, and my feet seemed to have weights on them. I was so completely run down that I thought I was going into consumption. At this time a friend urged me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After taking a few boxes I found my health improving, and after taking the Pills for a couple of months I was entirely well, and have since enjoyed the best of health, and I feel that I can never say enough in praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

These Pills are sold by all dealers in medicine or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MARSVILLE.

It is with sadness that we report the untimely death of Marion Black, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Black, of the 11th line. The sad event took place on Friday, afternoon after a few days' illness. She had always enjoyed the best of health and gave every promise of growing into noble womanhood. She was 12 years of age. Her cheerful disposition and gentle manner had endeared her to all with whom she came in contact. The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon to the Grove cemetery and was largely attended. The Rev. Mr. Cole conducted the service. The pupils of the Orton school showed their respect for the deceased by marching from the home to the cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Black have the sympathy of the entire community, as the past few weeks have been a trying time for them. Their oldest son, Fred, and his wife, and their fourth son, Laurence, have been down with typhoid fever in Acton.

A joint meeting of the different congregations of the community will be held in the Presbyterian Church next Sunday afternoon, when the Rev. Mr. Walker, agent of the Bible Society, will give an address.

A number of the members of the Disciple Church attended the June meeting which was held in Everton.

Miss Minnie Donaghy and her sister, Mrs. Geo. Petrie, of Portland, Ore., are on an extended visit to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Donaghy, of the 12th line.

Wonderful Praise Accorded Peruna the Household Remedy

Mrs. Maria Goertz, Orienta, Oklahoma, writes:

"My husband, children and myself have used your medicines, and we always keep them in the house in case of necessity. I was restored to health by this medicine, and Dr. Hartman's invaluable advice and books. People ask about me from different places, and are surprised that I can do all of my housework alone, and that I was cured by the doctor of chronic catarrh. My husband was cured of asthma, my daughter of earache and catarrh of the stomach, and my son of catarrh of the throat. When I was sick I weighed 100 pounds; now I weigh 140.

"I have regained my health again, and I cannot thank you enough for your advice. May God give you a long life and bless your work."

COLOSSUS OF RHODES.

One of the Ancient Seven Wonders of the World.

The ancients succeeded in making that alloy of copper which is known as bronze. Among the seven wonders of the world was the famous statue, wholly made of bronze, historically known as the Colossus of Rhodes. It represented Phoebus, the national deity of the Rhodians. It was begun by Chares, a pupil of Lysippus, the sculptor, and was completed by Laches 288 B. C. The popular belief is that it stood astride the harbor of Rhodes, that it was 105 feet high and that ships could easily sail between its legs.

Pliny said that few men could clasp its thumb. It was cast on metal plates, afterward joined together, and this process occupied twelve years. In the interior was a spiral staircase reaching into its head, and in a great mirror suspended to its neck were reflected the coast of Syria and the ships sailing to Egypt.

After it had stood for sixty-four years this colossus was overthrown by an earthquake, and its remains lay on the shore for 923 years—that is, until A. D. 672—when they were sold by the Saracens to a dealer. The original cost was 300 talents—about $6,000,000—and it is not too much to say that a similar image might be constructed now in one-fourth of the time and at one-third of the original cost. Rhodes, by the way, must have had colossus on the brain, for Pliny relates that the port was adorned with 1,000 colossi.

The Manly Man.

"After you've been two weeks in the house with one of these terrible handy men that ask their wives to be sure to wipe between the tines of the forks and that know just how much raising bread ought to have and how to hang out a wash so each piece will get the best sun it's a real joy to get back to the ordinary kind of men. Yes, 'tis so!" Mrs. Gregg finished with much emphasis. "I want a man who should have sense about the things he's meant to have sense about, but when it comes to keeping house I like him real helpless, the way the Lord planned to have him!"—Youth's Companion.

A Costly Funeral.

The most costly state funeral which has ever taken place was perhaps that of Alexander the Great. A sound million was spent in laying Alexander to his rest. The body was placed in a coffin of gold filled with costly aromatics, and a diadem was placed on the head. The funeral car was embellished with ornaments of pure gold, and its weight was so great that it took eighty-four mules more than a year to convey it from Babylon to Syria.

BEFORE TREATMENT

AFTER TREATMENT

He was surprised at how the sores healed—"I took your New Method Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been inflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, palms of the hands scaling, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 6 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks' time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the New Method Treatment for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. My boy, three years old, is sound and healthy. I certainly can recommend your treatment with all my heart. You can refer any person to me privately, but you can use this testimonial as you wish. W. LARGE FARMS ARE INEVITABLE

Contrary to the history of agriculture the world over it would appear that Ontario farms, and perhaps the farms of the other older provinces, are destined to become larger rather than decrease in size as the country develops and ages. That tendency towards small acreage in individual farms, which has been true until very recently of all countries as they aged in their making, is being upset by the mechanical age in which we are now living.

Professor Bailey, of Cornell University, in a recent press interview, gave expression to the opinion that land acreage of farms in the future will increase rather than decrease. He believes that the small farm idea, now persistently proclaimed throughout the United States, and in this country, is the outgrowth of necessity born of European oppression and that the general adoption of this practice would reduce our farmers to the same class as the peasantry of Europe. According to Professor Bailey, every acre should be forced to yield its utmost capacity, as is required in "the small farm well tilled" idea, but in the future to get the best results the farmer must be a man of large affairs and of great business ability, and be able to superintend crop raising on a large scale in the same manner that an engineer superintends the construction of a modern sky-scraper. Farming is no longer a poor man's business, he declares; the farmer of the future will combine the qualities of capitalist and worker to attain success. Six hundred acres will support just as many people if it is owned by one man in a single piece as if it is owned by ten men, each owning and operating 60 acres, and the work of production will be facilitated by receiving direction from one common and capable head. Consequently, Professor Bailey maintains, the small farmer of the future will not be able to eke out even the most slender existence, but will be forced by conditions to work for the big farm owner.

This trend of the times may not be just to the liking of the rural economist, but notwithstanding the fact the ultimate general prevalence of larger farms appears to be inevitable. And the beginning has been made. New inventions— announced almost daily—for the purpose of saving hand labor and adding to man's efficiency, will help the movement along. Even now the equipment in the matter of farm machinery with the average progressive farmer must represent a very considerable slice of capital. He cannot stand much more. With the coming of the automobile, the farm tractor, electric power on the farm, and more efficient tilling machinery, all of which have already been introduced, the man who would have them all and keep production within a reasonable cost must needs be a man of large affairs, owning or controlling land in large areas, else he cannot make these pay. The smaller general farmer, it would seem, will be squeezed out.

Soon our farm lands will be handled as business enterprises now are with capital and machinery. And it will all be for the best. The working out of this seeming tendency towards larger farms, as Professor Bailey claims, need not be a bad thing for our agriculture, or for our people, although it will for ever put farming beyond being a poor man's business.—Farm and Dairy.

THE LATE DUNCAN SINCLAIR.

Former Caledon Man, One of the Pioneers of Petrolea in the 60's.

At 8.15 o'clock on Thursday evening, May 18th, one of Petrolea's oldest and most respected citizens passed to the Great Beyond in the person of Mr. Duncan Sinclair, whose death occured after an illness of only a few days.

The late Mr. Sinclair was a native of Caledon, where he was born 75 years ago. He went to Petrolea in the days of the great oil boom of 1866 from the County of Peel, and since then had been always active in the promotion of this great industry, becoming a wealthy man. He was actively engaged in the Dominion, in Italy for two years and in Austria for over six years. During the past few years his operations had been confined to Haldimand County, where he had been a successful gas producer.

Deceased is survived by his two daughters, Misses Anna and Roxilina and one brother, Mr. John Sinclair. His wife Catherine Smith, daughter of the late Andrew Smith, Claude, died some years ago.

The funeral service was held on Sunday, May 21st, under the auspices of Petrolia Lodge, number 194, A. F. and A. M., the Rev. Dr. McNair officiating, to Hillsdale cemetery, where interment took place. About 100 Masons from Petrolea, Oil Springs and Wyoming attended their deceased brother's funeral. Messrs. Hugh and Donald Smith, of Claude; Miss Smith, of Brampton; Mr. Alex. McLeish and Mr. McQuarrie, of Caledon; Mr. Donald McGillivray, of Port Colborne, and Mr. Wm. Little, of Georgetown, all relatives, were among those present at the funeral.

Nerves Are Exhausted

And nervous prostration or paralysis is creeping steadily upon you.

You hear of people suddenly falling victims of nervous prostration or some form of paralysis. But when you get all the facts in the case you find that they have had months or years of warning.

They haven't slept well. There have been frequent attacks of nervous headache. Digestion has failed. They have been irritable, easily worried and excited and have found memory and concentration failing.

Had they but known that these symptoms tell of exhausted nerves or had they realized their danger they would have restored the feeble, wasted nerves by use of such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

This great restorative treatment cures by forming new, rich blood and by rebuilding the wasted nerve cells. No medicine is more certain to prove of lasting benefit to the system. 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50; at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Cod Liver Oil With the Oil Taken Out

A Triumph for Chemical Science and Pharmaceutical Skill

Oil from the liver of the cod-fish has been used as a preventative of disease and a restorative for ages.

For a long time it has been the general opinion that the medicinal value of Cod Liver Oil was the greasy, oily part itself—its only drawback being the unpalatable, fishy taste of the oil.

From the first experts have been trying to find means to make it more palatable. They used to "cut" it with whiskey—take it in wine—flavor it with lemon juice—anything to get away from that abominable fishy taste and smell.

Lots of people still take it in Emulsion form, which is nothing more than "churned" oil—broken up—but still greasy, oily and a strain on the digestion.

Doctors used to think it was the oil itself that built up the system—they were slow to find out that the oil was a distinct drawback to the medicinal principles contained in it.

Crude oil is quite indigestible, and will, in time, put the strongest stomach out of order.

A way has now been discovered to do away with the grease and the smell, and yet retain all the medicinal properties of the liver. This is done by removing the fresh oil from the new livers. The liver pulp is then reduced to the form of an extract like beef extract.

Nyal's Cod Liver Compound is simply this liver extract combined with an extract of malt and healing wild cherry. It also contains the true hypophosphites.

This combination makes Nyal's Cod Liver Compound a delicious tonic—builds up the system, and makes you strong.

Take it when you feel yourself losing your grip. It's a pleasure to take—even the children like it.

Get a bottle to-day and ward off disease. $1.00 for a large bottle. Your druggist will cheerfully recommend it because he knows all about it.

ELECTRICITY FOR FARM WORK.

Not many years ago it would have seemed a far off cry to talk about farm houses in general being heated by electric radiators, bread toasted therein by electric toasters, the ironing done with an electric flat iron, the coffee prepared in an electric percolator, the cooking done with an electric cooking outfit and the house and barns illuminated at night with electric incandescent lamps.

All of these may shortly be actual facts in a goodly number of farms located within range of the Hydro-Electric transmission lines and services. Our readers may learn of the provision that has been made for supplying electric power to farmers by referring to an article on page two. Farm and Dairy is informed by the secretary of the commission, Mr. W. W. Pope, that already a number of townships, under the Act passed by the Ontario legislature last session, have applied for the power and steps are being taken to furnish them with the power. Some of the rural municipalities that have applied for power under the recent Act are —Parkhill, Lucan, Glencoe, Clarksburg, Cottam, Dublin, Dereham, Millbank, Mt. Salem, North Oxford, Otterville, Luther West, Mono, Rochester, South Dumfries, South Norwich, Smithville, including the Police villages of Baden, Mimico, Port Credit and others, all of which are receiving attention and the Ohio Experiment Station, in co-operation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, discloses that this is far short of the mark. In order to arrive at some conclusions in regard to the matter, careful inventories were taken on 33 Ohio farms, and in every instance the total amount was many times what the owner had "guessed."

The fact that these small tools are bought one at a time when needed, and are not cared for systematically, leads to a very erroneous idea of their value. Summarizing the inventories of these 33 farms, it is estimated that to completely equip a general farm of 160 acres in Ohio with small tools will probably cost from $200 to $300, or in excess of the farmers' "guess" by more than 500 per cent. An error of judgment of this amount, particularly when the error is against the farm, is serious enough to challenge our attention.

Even on farms where inventories are habitually taken, these tools of minor equipment are usually included as "other small tools" and given a guessed at value, somewhat after the stereotyped expression appearing on sale bills, "other articles too numerous to mention."

Farm requirements differ very greatly, the highly specialized farm not needing nearly so many tools as the general farm. The necessity of a being enquired into with a view of ascertaining their several requirements, and upon such reports will depend the estimated cost of power to them.

The electric age on the farm has passed its dawn. It is safe to predict that before the end of the present decade we shall see wonderful developments in the use of electricity in the country. Ere long we will not consider it anything out of the ordinary to hear of electricity doing on the farm all the things enumerated in the first paragraph of this editorial, lighting farm buildings, running the farm machinery, and pumping the water for the family and the farm stock. Here's hoping for an early consummation of the vision!—Farm and Dairy.

SMALL TOOLS ON THE FARM

If the average farmer were asked "How much money have you invested in the small tools on the farm?" it is probable that after a moment, during which he would have a mental picture of an axe, a hand-saw, a grindstone and rather a confused idea that there was a lot of stuff of one kind and another somewhere about the farm, he would reply that from $25 to $50 would cover the cost.

A recent investigation conducted by fairly complete outfit is apparent if the farmer would avoid expensive trips to town or to the neighbors to meet some immediate need, thereby stopping teams and laborers until the repair is effected. The advantage of some systematic arrangement is also apparent, in order that the exact tool may be at hand when wanted, and thus avoid loss and delay by reason of mislaid, borrowed, stolen or lost tools.

Some of these tools can be charged to special farm enterprises, as to the horses, the dairy, corn, hay, grain, and so forth, but by far the great majority constitute an overhead charge against the farm. The connection between an auger bit handle and a bushel of wheat may not be at once apparent to the miller, but it requires the auger bit handle to turn the bit, to bore the hole in the plank, to make the wagon jack, to grease the wagon that hauled the grain to the machine, and that brought the wheat to the mill. Before the bushel of wheat can yield a profit it must help pay for the auger bit handle and the other minor tools which total $100 or more in value on any well managed farm. The item is small, but it is a part of that great overhead charge which exists on every farm and which goes to help make up the difference between what the farmer gets and what some people think he gets.

A BAD ACCIDENT.

James, the nine year old son of Wm. J. Connors, Melancthon, met with a bad accident on Wednesday of last week. For a few minutes he was left in charge of a team of horses hitched to a cultivator-seeder in the barn yard. It is supposed that the young lad attempted to adjust a part of the harness by climbing over the back of the seeder and along the tongue between the horses. While in this position the horses started up and ran away in full view of the parents who were helpless to do anything. The boy fell in front of the machine and was dragged some distance. When one wheel went over a lumber pile he was released. His head was very severely cut and one eye was gouged out entirely. The other eye is badly injured but Dr. Martin has good hopes of saving it. Nineteen stitches were required for cuts in the head. The young lad is getting along favorably after his thrilling experience.—Dundalk Herald.

County Constable Young is investigating a grain stealing case near Erin. A farmer in that vicinity missed several bags of grain one morning last week and reported the loss to the authorities. The grain was evidently carried on the thief's back across some fields, as the tracks were followed as far as the road.

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

An old resident of North Wellington died recently in the person of Archibald McMurchy, of Harriston. Mr. McMurchy came to Canada in the days of the sailing ship. He was born in Campbellton, Argyllshire, Scotland, 85 years ago. He is survived by his widow, four daughters and three sons.

WOMEN READ THIS.

Parisian Sage Puts Luster Into Dull, Faded Hair.

It is not only a delightful and refreshing hair dressing and beautifier, but it is sold under a rigid guarantee to banish dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp, or money back.

Parisian Sage is the best hair tonic known. It is the only one that will cure dandruff, cleanse the scalp and make the hair grow long and beautiful.

A peculiar accident occurred in a Gravenhurst home a week ago. The wife thought to have some nice warm fish for her husband's supper, so placed a tin of kippered herrings in the oven. There was a good fire on at the time, and hubby was late. Suddenly the oven door was blown open, the fastening torn off and a hole blown through the heavy steel by the explosion of the gases formed by the sealed fish. Had the range been a light affair, and the catch heavier a serious damage might have been caused.

There was a double drowning at Fordwich a week ago Monday morning. Peter Eckel, owner of the flour mills, assisted by A. D. Kranich, was drawing gravel with a horse and wagon to the milldam. The horse was being turned when it dropped into a deep part of the river throwing Mr. Kranich into the water. Mr. Eckel jumped in to assist, but as neither man could swim, both were drowned. Each leaves a wife and family.

A couple of weeks ago Ed. Henderson, 10th line, Erin, hired a man by the name of Tom Kelly, but knew nothing of him. Last Thursday afternoon Henderson sent him to Hillsburg with the team and a load of grain to be chopped. He reached Hillsburg all right and had the work done but on the way home he was noticed to be somewhat hilarious and driving rather faster than necessary. After running the horses from the ninth to the tenth line he jumped from the wagon and let them go alone while he made his way into the swamp. Luckily Tom Barbour was nearing the crossroad on the tenth line at the time and caught the horses. The man has not been seen since.

THE CURSE OF THE NATION IS CONSTIPATION

"Fruit-a-tives" Alone Cures This Disease

A famous scientist states that Constipation, or non-action of the bowels, causes more deaths than all other diseases combined. Constipation inflames the Kidneys, ruins digestion, is the foundation of Rheumatism, poisons the blood, causes Headaches, Neuralgia, Nervousness and Insomnia.

Constipation is caused by a weak or sluggish liver. Bile, the only purgative of the body, is secreted by the liver, which in turn should pour out into the intestines sufficient bile to move the bowels. Unless the liver is active, there cannot be enough bile to move the bowels regularly, and Constipation is the result.

"Fruit-a-tives", the famous fruit medicine, will always cure Constipation because it acts directly on the liver—relieves the congestion—increases the quantity of bile—and strengthens the bowel muscles.

Big Man and the Boys.

Dr. Beattie Nesbitt, who has been so much in the papers in connection with the Farmers' Bank trouble, had the faculty of making himself extremely popular with the energetic workers who play such a big part in the winning of elections.

A scene that illustrates this to perfection was witnessed some years ago in the doctor's committee rooms on Yonge street, Toronto, on an election night which found him the choice of the electors. The large main room was filled with men — chiefly young fellows—who had willingly slaved to obtain their chief's election. As each man bringing glad tidings from various subdivisions arrived he was greeted personally and warmly by the doctor.

Best of all illustrating the big man's hold on "the boys," was a short, young man who walked proudly up to his chief and received a great handshake and "Good boy!" when he had said with a glow of pleasure and a proud ring in his voice, "We made a turn-over of a dozen votes for you in our division to-day, doctor." The incident reminded one of the poet's description of the meeting of Napoleon and the drummer boy at Ratisbon.

When Creelman Came Back.

At a dinner of the Canadian Club at Guelph not long ago the speaker for the occasion was Sir George C. Gibbons, K.C., of London, the new Canadian knight of the International Waterways Commission. The genial George O. Creelman, president of the Ontario Agricultural College, presided over the function. As president and guest ate and chatted together Sir George C. Gibbons noted that each of them signed his name "George C."

"I'll bet you two dollars," said the London K.C., "that you can't guess what the initial C. stands for in my name."

The other George C. took the bet and began to guess all the C's he could think of from Charles to Charlemagne. Finally he gave it up.

"Christie," quoth the Waterways knight, as he pocketed the two dollars. "C-h-r-i-s-t-i-e," he spelled.

"I'll bet you two dollars that you don't guess what C. stands for in my name," said President Creelman.

Sir George tried, but had to give it up.

"Christie," said the president, with a grin. "C-h-r-i-s-t-i-e," he spelled as he pocketed the two dollars.

"Oh, yes!"

"Their word should have been enough."

"It was. They announced me as the best man they ever turned out."

OUTDOOR SPORT AND ZAMBUK.

Every athlete, every ball-player, every swimmer, every canoeist, every man or woman who loves outdoor life and exercise, should keep a box of Zam-Buk handy.

Zam-Buk is a purely herbal preparation, which, as soon as applied to cuts, bruises, burns, sprains, blisters, etc., sets up highly beneficial operations. First, its antiseptic properties render the wound free from all danger from blood poisoning. Next, its soothing properties relieve and ease the pain. Then its rich, herbal balms penetrate the tissue, and set up the wonderful process of healing. Barbed wire scratches, insect stings, skin diseases, such as eczema, heat rashes, ringworm, babies' heat sores, chafed places, sore feet—are all quickly cured by Zam-Buk. It also eases and cures piles. All druggists and stores. Use Zam-Buk Soap, 25c. per tablet.

Before leaving for Orillia Mr. E. R. Plunkett, of Mount Forest, was presented by the men of the woodworking department in the Carriage factory, over which he was foreman, with a handsome gold tie pin, crescent pattern with pearls.

First Night Cough Appears.

An inserted slip on every program at the Kingsway Theatre, London, on the first night that Laurence Irving and his company presented "The Lily" said, "The management begs to state that any one troubled with a first night cough will be supplied with jujubes on application."

The management now explains that there are a number of people who make a practice of coughing at first nights with the object of wrecking the play. They say it is an organized conspiracy by out of work actors, actresses, minor dramatists and other disappointed or disagreeable persons.

Mr. Irving says there was an organized storm of coughing on the first night of his production of "The Unwritten Law." The same thing happened when Sir Beerbohm Tree gave "Much Ado About Nothing." Mr. Irving says he does not object to boos and hisses, but nothing upsets actors more than constant coughing. It is a most subtle weapon, as it is so infectious.

TRIED AT LAST WHEN ALL OTHERS HAD FAILED.

And Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Them Both.

F. Tippins had Suffered for Years and Spent Hundreds on Doctors and Medicines, but Found the Real Cure at Last.

Tippins P. O., Que., June 5. (Special).—If Dodd's Kidney Pills have a more enthusiastic friend anywhere in Canada than Mr. F. Tippins, postmaster here, we would like to hear from him. And Mr. Tippins is always ready to tell why he praises the great Kidney Remedy.

"After recovering from an attack of Grippe," the postmaster says, "I took a pain in my back. I suffered for nearly three years and it kept growing worse all the time. I was attended by all the doctors around but got no relief, and I got so bad I had to keep to my bed. After spending about $200 on doctors and medicines I gave up all hope.

"One day I told my wife to go and get me a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and that would be the last medicine I would try. After using about half the box I began to feel better, so I kept on taking them. When I had taken two boxes I was able to get up, and ten boxes cured me completely."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure when all other medicines fail.

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Canifton, Ont.—"I had been a great sufferer for five years. One doctor told me it was ulcers of the uterus, and another told me it was a fibroid tumor. No one knows what I suffered. I would always be worse at certain periods, and never was regular, and the bearing-down pains were terrible. I was very ill in bed, and the doctor told me I would have to have an operation, and that I might die during the operation. I wrote to my sister about it and she advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Through personal experience I have found it the best medicine in the world for female troubles, for it has cured me, and I did not have to have the operation after all. The Compound also helped me while passing through Change of Life."—Mrs. LETITIA BLAIR, Canifton, Ontario.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to suffering women.

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

An old resident of North Wellington died recently in the person of Archibald McMurchy, of Harriston. Mr. McMurchy came to Canada in the days of the sailing ship. He was born in Campbellton, Argyllshire, Scotland, 85 years ago. He is survived by his widow, four daughters and three sons.

Wm. Williams, B.A., manager of the Collingwood Bulletin, and formerly principal of the Collingwood Collegiate Institute, met with a painful accident a few days ago. His right hand got caught in one ot the printing presses and was badly smashed. Unfortunately the hand will take a long time to heal.

WOMEN READ THIS.

Parisian Sage Puts Luster Into Dull, Faded Hair.

Every woman reader of the Banner who desires radiant hair than everyone admires should go to T. Stevenson's to-day and get a large 50 cent bottle of Parisian Sage.

It is not only a delightful and refreshing hair dressing and beautifier, but it is sold under a rigid guarantee to banish dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp, or money back.

Parisian Sage is the best hair tonic known. It is the only one that will cure dandruff, cleanse the scalp and make the hair grow long and beautiful.

A peculiar accident occurred in a Gravenhurst home a week ago. The wife thought to have some nice warm fish for her husband's supper, so placed a tin of kippered herrings in the oven. There was a good fire on at the time, and hubby was late. Suddenly the oven door was blown open, the fastening torn off and a hole blown through the heavy steel by the explosion of the gases formed by the sealed fish. Had the range been a light affair, and the catch heavier a serious damage might have been caused.

There was a double drowning at Fordwich a week ago Monday morning. Peter Eckel, owner of the flour mills, assisted by A. D. Kranich, was drawing gravel with a horse and wagon to the milldam. The horse was being turned when it dropped into a deep part of the river throwing Mr. Kranich into the water. Mr. Eckel jumped in to assist, but as neither man could swim, both were drowned. Each leaves a wife and family.

A couple of weeks ago Ed. Henderson, 10th line, Erin, hired a man by the name of Tom Kelly, but knew nothing of him. Last Thursday afternoon Henderson sent him to Hillsburg with the team and a load of grain to be chopped. He reached Hillsburg all right and had the work done but on the way home he was noticed to be somewhat hilarious and driving rather faster than necessary. After running the horses from the ninth to the tenth line he jumped from the wagon and let them go alone while he made his way into the swamp. Luckily Tom Barbour was nearing the crossroad on the tenth line at the time and caught the horses. The man has not been seen since.

THE CURSE OF THE NATION IS CONSTIPATION

"Fruit-a-tives" Alone Cures This Disease

A famous scientist states that Constipation, or non-action of the bowels, causes more deaths than all other diseases combined. Constipation inflames the Kidneys, ruins digestion, is the foundation of Rheumatism, poisons the blood, causes Headaches, Neuralgia, Nervousness and Insomnia.

Constipation is caused by a weak or sluggish liver. Bile, the only purgative of the body, is secreted by the liver, which in turn should pour out into the intestines sufficient bile to move the bowels. Unless the liver is active, there cannot be enough bile to move the bowels regularly, and Constipation is the result.

"Fruit-a-tives", the famous fruit medicine, will always cure Constipation because it acts directly on the liver—relieves the congestion—increases the quantity of bile—and strengthens the bowel muscles.

Big Man and the Boys.

Dr. Beattie Nesbitt, who has been so much in the papers in connection with the Farmers' Bank trouble, had the faculty of making himself extremely popular with the energetic workers who play such a big part in the winning of elections.

A scene that illustrates this to perfection was witnessed some years ago in the doctor's committee rooms on Yonge street, Toronto, on an election night which found him the choice of the electors. The large main room was filled with men—chiefly young fellows—who had willingly slaved to obtain their chief's election. As each man bringing glad tidings from various subdivisions arrived he was greeted personally and warmly by the doctor.

Best of all illustrating the big man's hold on "the boys," was a short, young man who walked proudly up to his chief and received a great handshake and "Good boy!" when he had said with a glow of pleasure and a proud ring in his voice, "We made a turn-over of a dozen votes for you in our division to-day, doctor." The incident reminded one of the poet's description of the meeting of Napoleon and the drummer boy at Ratisbon.

When Creelman Came Back.

At a dinner of the Canadian Club at Guelph not long ago the speaker for the occasion was Sir George C. Gibbons, K.C., of London, the new Canadian knight of the International Waterways Commission. The genial George C. Creelman, president of the Ontario Agricultural College, presided over the function. As president and guest ate and chatted together Sir George C. Gibbons noted that each of them signed his name "George C."

"I'll bet you two dollars," said the London K.C., "that you can't guess what the initial C. stands for in my name."

The other George C. took the bet and began to guess all the C's he could think of from Charles to Charlemagne. Finally he gave it up.

"Christie," quoth the Waterways knight, as he pocketed the two dollars. "C-h-r-i-s-t-i-e," he spelled.

"I'll bet you two dollars that you don't guess what C. stands for in my name," said President Creelman.

Sir George tried, but had to give it up.

"Christie," said the president, with a grin. "C-h-r-i-s-t-i-e," he spelled as he pocketed the two dollars.

OUTDOOR SPORT AND ZAMBUK.

Every athlete, every ball-player, every swimmer, every canoeist, every man or woman who loves outdoor life and exercise, should keep a box of Zam-Buk handy.

Zam-Buk is a purely herbal preparation, which, as soon as applied to cuts, bruises, burns, sprains, blisters, etc., sets up highly beneficial operations. First, its antiseptic properties render the wound free from all danger from blood poisoning. Next, its soothing properties relieve and ease the pain. Then its rich, herbal balms penetrate the tissue, and set up the wonderful process of healing. Barbed wire scratches, insect stings, skin diseases, such as eczema, heat rashes, ringworm, babies' heat sores, chafed places, sore feet—are all quickly cured by Zam-Buk. It also eases and cures piles. All druggists and stores. Use Zam-Buk Soap, 25c. per tablet.

First Night Cough Appears.

An inserted slip on every program at the Kingsway Theatre, London, on the first night that Laurence Irving and his company presented "The Lily" said, "The management begs to state that any one troubled with a first night cough will be supplied with jujubes on application."

The management now explains that there are a number of people who make a practice of coughing at first nights with the object of wrecking the play. They say it is an organized conspiracy by out of work actors, actresses, minor dramatists and other disappointed or disagreeable persons.

Mr. Irving says there was an organized storm of coughing on the first night of his production of "The Unwritten Law." The same thing happened when Sir Beerbohm Tree gave "Much Ado About Nothing." Mr. Irving says he does not object to boos and hisses, but nothing upsets actors more than constant coughing. It is a most subtle weapon, as it is so infectious.

TRIED AT LAST WHEN ALL OTHERS HAD FAILED.

And Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Them Both.

F. Tippins had Suffered for Years and Spent Hundreds on Doctors and Medicines, but Found the Real Cure at Last.

Tippins P. O., Que., June 5. (Special).—If Dodd's Kidney Pills have a more enthusiastic friend anywhere in Canada than Mr. F. Tippins, postmaster here, we would like to hear from him. And Mr. Tippins is always ready to tell why he praises the great Kidney Remedy.

"After recovering from an attack of Grippe," the postmaster says, "I took a pain in my back. I suffered for nearly three years and it kept growing worse all the time. I was attended by all the doctors around but got no relief, and I got so bad I had to keep to my bed. After spending about $200 on doctors and medicines I gave up all hope.

"One day I told my wife to go and get me a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and that would be the last medicine I would try. After using about half the box I began to feel better, so I kept on taking them. When I had taken two boxes I was able to get up, and ten boxes cured me completely."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure when all other medicines fail.

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Canifton, Ont.—"I had been a great sufferer for five years. One doctor told me it was ulcers of the uterus, and another told me it was a fibroid tumor. No one knows what I suffered. I would always be worse at certain periods, and never was regular, and the bearing-down pains were terrible. I was very ill in bed, and the doctor told me I would have to have an operation, and that I might die during the operation. I wrote to my sister about it and she advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Through personal experience I have found it the best medicine in the world for female troubles, for it has cured me, and I did not have to have the operation after all. The Compound also helped me while passing through Change of Life."—Mrs. Letitia Blair, Canifton, Ontario.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to suffering women.

WILL OIL STREETS.

Orangeville Council To Test New Method of Laying Dust.

Proceedings at Monday Night's Meeting.

The Town Council decided on Monday night to experiment with oil for laying dust on the streets. To this end the Clerk was instructed to write the British American Oil Co. and order ten barrels of road oil which will be applied somewhere on the streets now covered by "Jimmy" Graham's watering cart. If the experiment proves successful, the principal streets will likely be treated in this manner.

Quite a large batch of accounts was passed. The list was as follows:—Municipal World, $3; A. A. Hughson, $7; T. J. Robinson, $22; Jas. Grahame, $52.50; Angus Ferguson, $1.35; J. McIlroy, $6.60; T. Campbell, $5.25; Geo. King, $35.82; John Gough, $20.85; Gillespie Bros., $33.40; John Hammond, $38.50; John Cruikshank, $3.60.

A communication was received from Rev. G. A. Rix inviting the Council to attend the Coronation Service in the Town Hall on Thursday, June 22nd, and asking for the free use of the Hall for the purpose of holding the service. Council decided by a unanimous vote to accept the invitation and also to grant the use of the Hall.

Through its Secretary, Mr. R. H. Arkell, the Citizens' League asked the Council to see that the local option by-law was properly enforced. No action was taken, beyond formally receiving the communication.

The Public Library Board asked for an interim grant of $300 to meet current expenses until this year's levy is available. Council took no action, the members evincing a disposition to allow the Board to do its own financing.

A By-law was introduced and passed appointing Isaac Hughson caretaker of Greenwood cemetery at a salary of $1.25 a month. The Caretaker will of course be able to supplement this princely income by fees for digging graves and looking after plots.

ORANGEVILLE CADETS.

High and Public School Inspected by Captain Butcher.

Lieut.-Col. Preston Presented With an Address and Dress Sword.

The annual inspection of the High and Public School Cadet Corps took place on the High School grounds at 2.30 o'clock on Monday afternoon. The inspection was made by Capt. W. P. Butcher, of the Permanent Force, and was witnessed by a large gathering of citizens, who followed the manoeuvres with the keenest interest. The two schools honored the occasion by holding a half holiday.

Promptly at 2.30 o'clock the Inspecting Officer, accompanied by Col. Preston, arrived at the campus, where the two corps were drawn up in line. The Inspecting Officer was honored with a general salute. The inspection commenced with the march past in battalion order, with Instructor J. H. Adams in command and Capt. Will Spence in charge of No. 1 Company and Capt. V. Dedrick in charge of No. 2 Company. The two companies were then inspected separately, the High School Corps of fifty members being the first to exhibit its proficiency. Capt. Spence put the corps through company drill and the Subalterns, Lieuts. Wendell Holmes and Roy Spence, took command for the rifle and firing exercises. The corps was next examined in sections, each section commander being required to put his men through the skirmishing exercises by signal. The Public School Cadets, who turned out 54 strong for their initial inspection, were examined in the same manner. Both corps acquitted themselves very creditably and the Inspecting Officer expressed keen pleasure over the smart, natty appearance and the splendid proficiency of the young soldiers. The officers and non-commissioned officers of the two corps are:—

No. 1 Company — Captain, Will Spence; Lieutenants, Wendell Holmes and Roy Spence; Instructor, Mr. J. H. Adams; Color Sergeant, J. Ross McPherson; Sergeants, Harry Lewis, Jas. Dawson, Don. McPherson.

No. 2 Company.—Captain, V. Dedrick; Lieutenants, Ronald Pattullo, Horace McGuire; Color Sergeant, Ewart McPherson; Sergeants, Lester Arnott, M. Vanwyck, Jack McIntyre.

The close of the inspection was marked by a pleasant incident, when the corps formed in a hollow square and through their officers presented Lieut.-Col. Preston with an address and a handsome dress sword as an expression of their gratitude for the invaluable assistance he has given in organizing and training the corps. Col. Preston was responsible for the formation of the High School Corps about five years ago and during the intervening years has taken the liveliest interest in the welfare of the Corps. He has also given a hand in forming and drilling the Public School Cadets. Capt. Spence read the address and Capt. Dedrick made the presentation. The address was worded as follows:—

Orangeville, June 5th, 1911.

Lieut.-Col. J. A. V. Preston,
Orangeville, Ont.

Dear Colonel Preston:—

The Cadet Corps of this town are under so deep a debt of gratitude to you for favors past and present, for help in time of necessity, and for encouragement at all times, that this Inspection Day was thought to be a time suitable for the acknowledgment of the obligation.

Between four and five years ago you organized the High School Cadet Corps, and for several years you undertook its training, bringing it to such a state of efficiency as to receive high commendation from the Inspecting Colonel. This was the work of a patriotic British citizen, as you gave time and labor without recompense or gratuity of any kind.

This year you have assisted Principal Firth of the Public School staff in organizing a Public School Cadet Corps, and you have again done the early training and have brought the corps to a wonderful state of efficiency when the youthfulness of its members is taken into consideration.

Training such as you have given us is of great value to the Empire to which we belong. It increases its power of defence and intensifies the loyalty of its citizens.

This afternoon, however, we are thinking rather of the personal benefit, and we desire to show our gratitude by presenting to you, on behalf of the Public School and High School Cadet Corps, this dress sword, which, in days to come, will remind you of the boys who received from you their earliest training in the military art.

That length of days of usefulness and service may be granted you is our earnest prayer.

Signed on behalf of the two Cadet Corps.

Col. Preston made a fitting response, in which he expressed his gratitude to the Cadets for the kindness that had prompted their handsome and greatly appreciated gift. He believed in military training because of its physical and disciplinary benefits and it was this belief that had led him to use his influence to have the High School Corps organized a few years ago. He was greatly pleased that a Corps had been formed in the Public School and spoke very appreciatively of the work and interest of Principal Firth in the matter. Col. Preston also paid a generous tribute to the zeal and efficiency of Mr. J. H. Adams, instructor of the High School Corps.

At the conclusion of his reply the two Corps led in a round of hearty cheers for Col Preston.

Mr. C. R. McKeown, K.C., M.P.P., added a few eloquent words of appreciation, in which he advocated flying the Union Jack from the flag staff of all High and Public Schools, not only on holidays, but on every day during the year.

Capt. Butcher, the inspecting officer, addressed the Cadets at some length, congratulating the two Corps on the excellent showing they had made. He had been particularly impressed and pleased with the enthusiasm of the Public School corps, whose members had been under the necessity of bearing the expense of their uniforms. "In time of peace," urged Col. Butcher, "prepare for war." If this was done then there would be less likelihood of war, for if Canada had a strong, well-trained army ready for her defence there would be less danger of any other nation attacking her. Military drill, he held, was valuable because it taught useful lessons in obedience and discipline and in this way helped mould the characters of the boys along the right lines.

Blackburn's Eloquence.

The story is told of Senator Proctor of Vermont in reminiscences by Vice President Stevenson that when invited to go out of the senate chamber just before the day's session began he replied: "Excuse me. I am paired with Blackburn on prayers." When the Rev. Dr. Butler retired from the chaplaincy of the senate Blackburn's speech surpassed all others for ardor and felicity of expression. "The counterpart of the scene that followed his closing words had never been witnessed in legislative assembly. All were in tears. It was even said that venerable senators who had never shed a tear since the ratification of the treaty of Ghent actually sobbed aloud and refused to be comforted. At length, amid silence that could be felt, an adjournment was effected, and the senators passed out to their homes. As he passed the chair Senator Vest in an undertone remarked to the vice president, 'Joe never saw him.'"

A Pot Walloper.

The parliamentary register for 1896 showed that there was then only one pot walloper in all England. One seeing the term for the first time might easily imagine that a pot walloper was a species of ichthyosaurus or some other reptile of a past age. It will be discovered upon inquiry, however, that the term "pot walloper" is literally one who boils a pot and was applied to voters in certain boroughs of England where before the passage of the reform bill of 1832 the qualifications for suffrage was to have boiled (walloped) his own pot in the parish for six months.—London Notes and Queries.

Flies at Sea.

The finding of flies and butterflies a long way out at sea is perhaps to most readers a fact not very well known. A recent traveler in the tropics relates that when thirty miles out from land a plague of flies overtook the vessel on which he was sleeping. The cabin was so full of them that the beams were blackened. Common black bouseflies they were for the most part, with, however, a good sprinkling of large green flies. Where they could have come from was a mystery, but they were a terrible nuisance, and, although those on board swept off hundreds in a net, their numbers were not sensibly diminished. Another singular circumstance was that, although no land was in sight, large dragon flies repeatedly flew across the ship, and a large dark butterfly was observed to flit across in the direction of the nearest land, quite thirty miles away, without stopping to rest on the vessel at all.—London Globe.

Eczema on Face and Hands

Gave up work—Could not shave—Relief and cure obtained from DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

"I had eczema nearly all over the body," writes Mr. John Gordon Campbell, foreman Holland Grove Lumber Co., Sudbury, Ont., "head, neck and wrists were blistered and itching with it. I could find absolutely no cure until I obtained Dr. Chase's Ointment. After using this ointment I was almost instantly relieved and soon completely cured."

"So bad was the eczema that I had to give up work. Could not shave. I was so bad that they had to take me out of camp in a wagon and send for a new foreman. I cannot recommend this ointment too highly."

As a means of soothing raw, flaming, irritated skin no treatment can be compared to Dr. Chase's Ointment. It often heals in a single night. You can see for yourself each day the good it is doing. Sample box free. 60 cts. a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

The Head of the House

A Story For Young Men About to Be Married.

By EDWARD B. KNIGHT

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Sam Martindale and Theodora Trask had been engaged a week. There had been more billing and cooing and kissing in that one week than there would be in five years of the married life before them. Then Sam called a halt to look practically at the future. He was not a man to drift through life; he preferred to prearrange everything. It seemed that there was a great ocean ahead of him and Theo, of comfort or suffering, of anxiety or discord, of contentment or unhappiness, and across this ocean it became him as the head of the house, the pilot, to steer their bark. Before taking a voyage does not the mariner familiarise himself with the areas of probable storm and sunshine, of navigable water and sunken rocks? Why should not he as commander lay down on a chart the exact course the family ship should sail?

To begin at the bottom, was he to be the commander? The very fact of his asking himself the question shows the depth of his understanding. If a general is to conduct a campaign it is necessary that his word be the law for his army. Martindale realized at once that if he were to pilot the family bark he must have no interference.

Having thus settled the matter by deliberation, Martindale concluded to broach the subject to his fiancee, merely as a preliminary reconnoissance in order to feel the enemy.

"Theo," he said gravely, "since you and I are to pass our lives together it may be well for us to come to an understanding on one important point. In every government, every business, every family, in order that the wheels may run smoothly, there must be one head. I would like to know how you feel about the matter."

"It seems to me," said Theo after thought, "that we should both be head."

Martindale was not prepared for what he considered flying right in the face of the fundamental principles of order. What was the family but a miniature state? And the idea of a state having two governors! Absurd! Theo saw by the expression of his face that she had assumed too much. So she hastened to say: "Why, dearie, don't you know that a woman just loves to lean on a man for guidance? You're to be head, of course."

This was a great relief to Sam. He took his fiancee in his arms, kissed her and said:

"Sweetheart, you have no idea how happy you've made me by saying that. Our future happiness depends upon it. There must always be a head to a family. And how hard it would be for both of us if you had a disposition to usurp the husband's place."

"I would never think of such a thing."

He gave her a dozen kisses and left her, filled with joy that the basic principle of married life—in his case—had been settled without a word of dispute. Indeed, it eliminated all the rest of the problem, for since he was to be undisputed captain he had no doubt that he could guide the family bark safely.

The couple were married. There was a big wedding—gifts galore, rice throwing, a trip and at last a settling down in a home of their own. During the engagement Theo had never expressed an opinion, much less made a decision, that would have interfered with Sam's position as heir apparent to the sovereignty of the family.

Theo had long been connected with a charitable association of which she was the secretary. One morning a fortnight after the couple's return from their wedding trip she woke up with an aching of the bones, in a feverish condition and in other ways indicating that care must be taken to avoid a severe illness, perhaps death. But there was to be a meeting that day of the charitable society, and the secretary was expected to be there. Sam was astonished to see his wife preparing to go out in a storm, already ill and with the probability of coming back to face pneumonia.

"What do you mean by even thinking of going out?" he exclaimed.

"Why, dearie, they can't get on without me."

"They will get on without you. I forbid your going."

"Oh, I couldn't possibly stay at home. I'll wrap up well, wear my rubbers and keep dry. There's not a bit of danger."

Martindale sat with his morning paper on his lap, looking fixedly at his wife, while she continued to put on her belongings with as much sang froid as if she had not heard the command of her lord and master. When she was ready she took up an umbrella, bent over her husband, kissed him and went out.

"Well, by Jove! I like that!" exclaimed Sam to himself as soon as the door was closed behind his wife.

It would be impossible to give an adequate description of the disappointment, chagrin, mortification and forebodings the young husband experienced at this utter disregard for his word of command as captain of the family ship. He carried out the simile thus: In the face of a storm he had ordered precautions, whereupon the crew had crowded on sail to wreck the vessel.

What was to be done?

Fight it out to a finish, conquer now or never.

When Mrs. Martindale came home from the meeting her husband was not there. He had gone to business. Time came for him to return, but his key did not rattle in the lock of the front door. He had gone to his club and was sitting with the evening paper before him, trying to persuade himself that he was reading it, but really in a mental turmoil. The question of the domestic supremacy had come up for settlement, and it must be settled his way.

He ordered his dinner at the club and when it was served went into the dining room and ate it alone—that is, he ate a few mouthfuls; he couldn't eat any more. His wife would know where to find him, and if she wanted him very badly she would telephone for him. Then he would insist on an apology and a promise never to do so any more. After that he would go home and forgive her. It might be a good lesson for her if she would be very ill in consequence of her stupid, obstinate defiance of his order not to invite pneumonia. At one moment he almost wished this would happen; at the next he was in terror lest it should.

Dinner over, he sauntered out into the cafe, lit a cigar and—suffered. Several men he knew were there, but when he saw one of them advancing to speak to him, pretending not to see him, Sam turned and walked the other way. He hoped every minute to be called to the telephone. Whenever a waiter came toward him he looked at the man anxiously, and when the waiter passed him without the summons he desired he crushed back a moan.

But he wouldn't yield.

By 9 o'clock he was in despair. He concluded that if he didn't get a message from Theo before 10 he would go home and upstairs to a room by himself without paying any attention to his wife. Meanwhile his actions had made it apparent to every waiter in the club that he was eager for a telephone message. At 9:55 he went into the coat room for his hat and coat, and when he emerged a waiter ran into him, shouting:

"You're wanted at the telephone, sir!"

Martindale ran to the booth, knocking down another waiter who was hunting him to tell him he was wanted there, brushing by three men who were making dives for him from different directions to give him the same news. Inside the booth he took up the receiver and heard in a faint, tired woman's voice:

"Is that you, dear?"

"Yes."

"I thought you must be at the club. I just called you up to say—I'm suffering from the phone next the bed—that the doctor has been here to see me and said I had a high fever. That was about 6 o'clock. Since there was no one here to take care of me but the cook he telephoned for a trained nurse. I knew you must be having a nice time at your club with all your old friends, and I didn't like to spoil your fun. But nurse says that I'd better try to get some sleep now, and I preferred to tell you about it before doing so. Don't hurry home; have a good time."

"I told"— He was about to give her the usual "I told you so," but checked himself, saying instead that he would be at home as soon as he could get there.

"You were very unreasonable this morning," the voice continued, "but I have forgiven you, and you needn't trouble yourself about that at all. But don't make a noise when you come in. I don't believe I shall get any sleep, but"—

There was a click, followed by a ring, and a different woman's voice said:

"Mr. Martindale?"

"Yes."

"I'm speaking to you from the lower hall telephone. Your wife is very ill, threatened with pneumonia; temperature 104 degrees."

"I'll be there in five minutes. Why the devil didn't you"—

He dropped the receiver and bolted for the street door.

Mrs. Martindale fortunately escaped a long illness, but she was for several days in a condition not warranting her husband bringing up any other subject than toast, tea, temperature and time to take medicine. During the danger period he was in an agony of fear lest he should lose the woman who would surely dominate him through life, but this first episode bearing on the balance of power in his family had opened his eyes. It was too late to go back and choose some other woman who would permit him to assume his position as head of the family, and he wouldn't have done so if he could. He quietly made up his mind, as many another man has done before him, that in the case of woman certain laws that regulate the universe are suspended. His wife had disobeyed an order he had given her for her own good, thereby showing a perversity for which he as well as she had suffered. And for having brought upon them both this suffering, including a fifty dollar doctor's bill, she had—forgiven him!

Sam Martindale has joined the innumerable throng of married men who joke with one another about their position as head of the family and take their orders from their wives dutifully as become obedient husbands, their wives the while, or many of them, not doubting in the least that they are themselves willing slaves.

But one year brought him revenge. A small lump of flesh came who could neither walk nor talk. He hadn't even a tithe of the sense Mrs. Martindale possessed, but he assumed command of the whole household.

LIEBANDERS REGAIN LEAD.

Mono College Makes Great Gain on Last Week's Voting.

Standing of Contestants in Free Library Race.

Tuesday's count restored the Liebander Bible Class to its old position of first place in the Free Library Voting Contest. The Liebanders polled over 75,000 votes during the week. The Public School, on the other hand, has apparently been taking matters easily after the great effort of the previous week, and as a result is only able to show an advance of about 20,000 votes for the week. The best showing is made by Mono College, which has polled about 130,000votes, and is now within striking distance of the two leaders. If the famous Mono school can keep up the present rate of gain for the next three weeks it ought to just about manage to carry off the handsome library that goes free of cost to the winner. Tuesday's standing was as follows:—

The Cake That Billy Bought

A Valentine Story

By MARTHA J. TOWNE

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

The door of the Woman's Exchange swung open and closed behind Billy Delwin's broad back. For an instant he hesitated, besieged by a battery of feminine eyes. Then he strode forward to the counter, where under glass cases were arranged handsome and toothsome cakes of every description and variety.

With his hat under his arm he stared down at the cakes with a calculating eye. "I want a plum cake," he said finally. "Have you got one today?"

"Wait a minute." And the woman disappeared, presently returning with a large box, which she opened and disclosed under tissue paper wrappings a huge round cake.

Billy's eyes sparkled dangerously as he surveyed the beautiful cake. "I'll take it," he said quickly. Then he added a question, "Is it plum cake?"

"Yes, indeed, and perfectly delicious," said the woman enthusiastically.

Then it was that he summoned courage to lean forward and ask a question in a low voice, "Is it against the rule to mention the name of the member who baked this cake?"

The cash register clanged noisily as the woman turned away. "Against the rules," she said crisply.

"May I inquire," persisted Billy hesitatingly, his voice still lower, "if this cake was baked—er—er—by an old lady?"

The attendant smiled shrewdly over her shoulder. "It's against the rules to mention ages also," she returned.

Once in the street he boarded a car and was conveyed with more or less rapidity to his bachelor rooms. He took the cake from its box.

"I dunno. That's more like it than any of 'em," he muttered as he went to and fro, hastily removing the things from his library table. Then he laid several clean white towels on the polished surface and, bringing from various places of concealment a number of large round frosted cakes, he placed them in a row on the table. There were seven in all.

"I'VE GOT YOU NOW, PHYLLIS GILES."

"Looks like a cake sale," he grinned somewhat anxiously. "I hope none of the chaps happen in. They'll think I'm all off if they see this layout; but, by George, I'll find her if it takes the rest of my life!"

He walked around the table, surveying its toothsome burden with a critical eye. Of all the cakes he decided that his last purchase was the handsomest, the lightest and the most deliciously fragrant.

"Now for a taste," he said, plunging a silver knife in the first one. The slice was clean and yellow and full of currants. Billy wrinkled his nose disdainfully and laid down the slice.

"Phyllis never made that one," he commented. "Her cakes always have raisins in. Now for the next one!"

One after another he tried the different cakes, sniffing, tasting, examining and shaking his head dubiously after each operation.

At last he came to his latest purchase, the Valentine cake, and if one watched him closely they might have observed that his cheeks paled and his firm lips were compressed into straight colorless lines. Suddenly he groaned and laid down the knife.

"If this one shouldn't be hers!" he muttered desperately, and then, with an upward fling of his handsome head, he plunged the knife into the cake near its edge, careful not to disturb the decorations that adorned the top. He drew out a piece, yellow and rich and crumby, full of great raisins and tiny flecks of spice.

With the air of one participating in some great ceremony Billy Delwin ate the cake slowly, enjoying to the full its elusive flavor. When he had finished he laid down the knife and sat down in a big leather covered chair, the color flooding his tanned cheeks.

"I've found her! I've found her at last!" he cried exultantly. "Nobody in the world ever baked that cake except Phyllis Giles! She made one last year for her Valentine party—same size, same flavor, same decoration—and you can't fool me, sir!"

He turned the cake slowly around and viewed it from all sides. "Her hands made it, she touched it, and she placed all those little hard red hearts about the edge, and not one of those hearts is harder than Phyllis' own heart or she would never have hidden herself away from me in this manner. As if Mr. Giles' failure and suicide could make any other difference to me than to feel more tenderly toward her! If nothing had happened or if Phyllis had not hidden away after it was over we should have been married by this time instead of my following up the only clew I ever could get—that she had come to New York and was baking cakes for the Woman's Exchange! I've bought plum cakes from every exchange in the city, I believe, until the women look on me with suspicion." He sat for a long time in silence, and then he arose and bundled the cakes into their boxes.

The last purchase he wrapped carefully and replaced in its box. Then he got into his overcoat, picked up his hat and with the cake under his arm he sought the street. Presently he was once more standing before the counter in the Woman's Exchange.

The tea tables were empty now, and there was no one around save the stern visaged woman who had waited upon him earlier in the afternoon.

"Will you kindly break your rule and tell me the name of the young lady who made this cake?" he asked with the keenest anxiety in his deep voice.

"It is impossible," said the woman primly.

"Would you forward a letter to her if I should write one?" pleaded Billy.

"Certainly not!" And her shocked expression was the first glimmer of humor that Billy had seen in the dull fabric of this wearisome chase after the girl he loved.

"Will you call her on the telephone and allow me to talk with her?" persisted Billy. "Really, madam, you will be making two people very happy!"

"I could not do that either. I am very sorry, sir, but it seems to me if Miss Giles really wanted to see you she would not withhold her address." The woman flushed with vexation at the slip she had made in thus revealing the name Billy had been longing to hear.

"It is Phyllis, then!" he cried triumphantly. "I knew that cake. Nobody in the world can make a plum cake like Phyllis," he explained with enthusiasm. "The moment I tasted it I knew."

The harsh face softened a little. "Her cakes are different from the others," she said lukewarmly. "She said once that she could make cakes better than anything else in the world, and so she thought that was the thing she ought to do to gain a livelihood."

"Bless her heart!" muttered Billy under his breath, knowing well that if he had his own way that Phyllis' dainty fingers should never bake a cake in the world unless it was for some especial treat like St. Valentine's day.

"Do you know what day tomorrow will be?" he demanded suddenly.

The woman stared. "Valentine's day, of course," she said, busying herself with the wares in the glass case.

"Well, that's the day when separated sweethearts are reunited, you know," blurted Billy sheepishly. "Seems to me if I could help any one along in that way I'd do it!"

"It isn't part of the business," said the woman impatiently. "Really, sir, I'd like to help you out, but I simply cannot divulge the names of our members."

"Very well, madam," cried Billy grimly. "I'll find her without your help, and when I do you'll lose the best cake maker in your membership!"

The door closed noisily behind his indignantly retreating form, and the woman stared after him for a brief moment. "I wonder," she muttered softly—"I wonder if it would have done any harm to have told him; he had a good face and he seemed so much in earnest, and, just as he said, tomorrow is Valentine's day!"

In the street Billy paused for a moment and looked up and down. Suddenly a little black gowned form emerged from the crowd and paused for an instant before the door of the exchange and then laid a tentative hand on the knob.

Billy Delwin was beside her in an instant.

"Phyllis!" he cried sharply. "I've got you now, and you can't lose me again!"

She uttered a little frightened cry and turned a white face up to him. "Oh, Billy, Billy!" she gasped. "Where did you come from?"

"I just came out of this exchange, where the hearts of the attendants are harder than the little red hearts on your Valentine plum cake, for they would not divulge your address, though I begged almost on my knees. But I've got you now, Phyllis Giles! Don't you dare enter that ogre's den again!"

He drew her trembling form close to him, and they stood in the shadow of the doorway, her slight form leaning against him.

"How did you know, Billy? How did you find me out?" asked Phyllis after a little silence.

Billy told her of his quest for the cakes, of the slight clew he had followed and of his purchase that night of the Valentine plum cake, which he recognized as her handiwork.

"Darling," he whispered after it had been told, "tomorrow is St. Valentine's day. You have baked this cake, and on it you have asked the question, 'Will you be my valentine?' Now, I bought that cake and take it upon myself to answer that question. I will be your valentine under one condition."

"What is that?" asked Phyllis.

"That you will admit that you're not sorry that I bought the cake."

"Sorry!" echoed Phyllis joyfully. "Why, Billy, I was thinking of you when I made it, and I splashed so many tears over the little red hearts that they bled, and I had to replace them with others. Billy Delwin, I thought you'd never come!"

THE BANNER

THE BANNER, JUNE 15, 1911.

DISTRICT REPRESENTATIVE.

Department of Agriculture Places Mr. H. A. Dorrance in Charge of Work in Dufferin County.

Will Open Downtown Office Where Farmers May Consult Representative on Agricultural Problems.

During the past few years there has been a very great awakening along agricultural lines in the Province of Ontario. That such is the case may easily be noticed if we take care to look at the various phases of work that are receiving attention from our farmers. In many sections of our province, orchards, that have never received any attenoion, are being pruned, sprayed and cared for with very satisfactory results. Lands, that formerly were so wet as to be almost useless, are now being underdrained and made to give very satisfactory returns. So it is in all lines.

As advances are being made in their work there is the necessity of supplying the information that will enable the farmers to carry out this work in the quickest and best manner. For years our Departments of Agriculture have been spreading information broadcast in the form of bulletins and reports, but this has not proven as encouraging as it might have. As a step in advance a movement was made a few years ago which resulted in the Department of Agriculture placing District Representatives in various parts of the Province.

During the past month the Department has seen fit to locate one of its representatives in Dufferin County, with headquarters at Orangeville. An office will be opened shortly where this representative will be found ready and willing to discuss all problems and difficulties in relation to agriculture. It will be the aim of the representative to supply any information that may be desired by the farmers along such lines as drainage, live stock, farm crops, weeds, insect pests, etc. A supply of bulletins and reports will be kept on hand for distribution and in addition the leading agricultural journals of the country will be found there. A cordial invitation is extended to all to feel free to make use of the material in this office at all times. In connection with the High School, classes will be formed for the benefit of those wishing instruction in agricultural topics.

The representative who has been placed in charge of the work in Dufferin County is Mr. H. A. Dorrance, B.S.A., of Seaforth, Ont. Besides a good practical training in agriculture, Mr. Dorrance is a graduate of the Seaforth Collegiate Institute and the Ontario Agriculture College, and before attending the latter institution was for some time engaged in the teaching profession. Mr. Dorrance comes well recommended, and the farmers of Dufferin County will find him capable and willing to assist them in their problems and difficulties.

DOMINION DAY.

Orangeville Will Hold An Oldtime Celebration This Year.

Orangeville will have an oldtime Dominion Day Celebration this year. Arrangements are being made for a Grand Parade, commencing at 9.30 a.m., to be followed by a juvenile lacrosse match and a number of races and other sports. In the afternoon there will be a baseball match between Alton and Orangeville teams, a championship lacrosse match between Markdale and Orangeville, and a programme of races. Watch for posters, giving full particulars.

CHANGE OF BANK MANAGERS.

Mr. J. McKinley Kee, until recently manager of the Sterling Bank of Canada at Port Stanley, has been appointed manager of the Orangeville branch. Mr. Key, who is an Englishman, has been with the Bank practically since its inception, and although but a young man has had a considerable amount of experience in financial matters, being for some ten years connected with the London Stock Exchange before coming to Canada.

His predecessor, Mr. A.L.C. Kirkwood, has been made manager of the Adelaide Street branch, Toronto. Mr. Kirkwood has for a number of years been a prominent citizen of Orangeville, having inaugurated this branch of the Bank, and his many friends, while regretting his removal, wish him every success in his new position, which presents a much larger field in which to exercise his ability as a Branch Manager.

Tuesday night the members of the Orangeville Lawn Bowling Club presented Mr. Kirkwood with a fine meerschaum pipe and tobacco jar and a cut glass set consisting of a water bottle and half a dozen glasses. Mr. Kirkwood is President of the Club and one of its most active members. His departure is greatly regretted by the members, with whom he was very popular.

A SERIOUS LOSS.

Hurndall Furniture Company Factory Destroyed By Fire.

35 or 40 Hands Thrown Out Of Employment.

Orangeville sustained a very serious loss last week through the destruction by fire of the Hurndall Novelty Manufacturing Company's fine three storey factory on Margaret Street. The fire was discovered about one o'clock on Friday morning and four hours later the building was a mass of smoking ruins. The only part of the factory that escaped the flames was the dry kiln, a one story addition, 25 by 50. The kiln contained considerable lumber.

The fire, which it is thought originated in the boiler room, had made considerable headway when it was first noticed. An alarm was at once sent in to the Fire Hall and considering the hour the fire brigade made a commendably prompt response. For the first hour it looked as if the firemen would save the building. Eventually, however, the flames reached the second and third floors by way of the elevator shaft and broke through the roof. Owing to the large amount of stock and other highly inflammable material the smoke and heat were intense, making the work of the firefighters doubly difficult and finally driving them from the building. The walls began to fall about four o'clock and an hour later the building was a mass of ruins.

The main factory was a three-storey building, 55 by 100, with a wing 45 by 55, also three stories high, and an engine house two stories high, 28 by 36. The walls were brick and the building was splendidly constructed.

The buildings were valued at $13,000, plant at $25,000, and stock and other contents at $20,000. There is about $30,000 insurance, the interested companies being the London Mutual, Dominion Fire, York Fire, Hamilton Fire, Monarch Rimouski, Crown Fire, Economical Mutual and Waterloo Mutual. The factory was built about seven years ago by Messrs. Disney and Hertel, of Hanover, the town aiding the enterprise by a municipal loan of $15,000, of which $2,500 has been repaid. The $12,500 still owing is secured by mortgage, and about $14,000 insurance that is payable to the town.

The destruction of the factory is one of the most serious reverses Orangeville has experienced in recent years. 35 or 40 employees, about half of whom are married men with homes and families, are thrown out of work. Unless the factory is rebuilt, many of these will be obliged to leave town. Mr. Thos. Wilson, leader of the Citizens' Band, is one of the men who is likely to go. Four or five of the band boys worked in the factory, so that the conflagration is little short of disastrous to the efficiency of the organization. The Committee has already cancelled all engagements in anticipation of Mr. Wilson's removal.

Mr. C. W. Hurndall, Manager of the Company, was asleep in his room in the Grand Central Hotel when the fire occurred. He was awakened and reached the doomed building in time to get into the office and save the books. Pending the adjustment of the insurance, Mr. Hurndall informed The Banner that he was unable to say whether he would rebuild or not.

VICIOUS THUNDERSTORMS.

Orangeville and the surrounding townships were visited by several vicious thunderstorms on Saturday, Sunday and Monday. They were accompanied by violent gales and considerable hail is also reported from some localities. Wind and lightning did a good deal of damage to windmills, barns and stock. The worst storm of the series—in this section at any rate—blew up quite suddenly about four o'clock Sunday afternoon. The wind was terrific and seemed to have the circular motion characteristic of the cyclone storm. Several shade trees were blown down or broken in town and some damage was done to electric light and telephone wires. The storm was even worse a few miles north of here. Fences were levelled on many farms in Amaranth and Mono and a number of windmills were wrecked. A large barn of Mr. Wilmer Walker's near Bowling Green was partly unroofed. J. J. Leighon's barn on the Centre Road, Mono, met with a similar fate and his windmill was also wrecked. A windmill on John Hewitt's place in the same neighborhood was blown down. Hugh Maguire's barn near Relessey was damaged and a barn belonging to Samuel Mason, of Adjala, was levelled to the foundation walls. Chas. Reid's barn, just east of Orangeville, was also slightly damaged. James Hilliard, near Alton, had two milch cows killed by lightning Saturday morning. During the same storm lightning shattered the chimney and damaged the roof of John Crago's dwelling house in Amaranth. While they caused loss in many individual cases, the storms have done a vast amount of good. The rain was badly needed, especially on the light lands in Mono, Mulmur and Adjala townships. The rains have been succeeded by cooler weather which will also prove beneficial to the rapidly growing crops.

JUNE COUNTY COURT.

Matthews vs. Kohler the Only Case Tried.

Judge Dismissed Jury and After Hearing Argument Reserved Judgment.

The statutory sittings of the County Court of the County of Dufferin opened on Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock before His Honour, Judge McCarthy. There was no criminal business, and notwithstanding the much increased jurisdiction of the Court, only 1 civil case was entered for trial. Forty-eight jurors were summoned, and when the jury had been selected, the balance of the panel was discharged.

The case of Matthews vs. Kohler engaged the attention of the Court for most of the afternoon. The facts are a little complicated and the issue somewhat involved, so much so, that at the conclusion of the evidence the Judge withdrew the case from the jury.

The plaintiff is a farmer residing in the township of Melancthon; the defendant is an implement agent and formerly conducted a business in Shelburne, but now lives in Toronto. He represented several manufacturers. About February last, the parties to the action entered into a written agreement for the exchange of the plaintiff's farm for the stock in trade and business of the defendant. There was a balance in the defendant's favor which was secured by lien notes on the chattels sold, also by a collateral agreement giving the defendant the right to sell the goods if he deemed himself insecure. It is over the alleged wrongful exercise of this right that the action arose. Considerable evidence was taken and the judge thought the case was largely one of law rather than of fact and dismissed the jury and after hearing argument reserved judgment. F. A. Clement, Shelburne, acted for the plaintiff, and G. M. Vance, K. C., Shelburne, and M. K. Cowan, K. C., Toronto, appeared for defendant.

THE NIAGARA CAMP.

The 35th Peel Regiment will in all likelihood go into Camp at Niagara full strength this year. The officers of the different Companies are meeting with encouraging success in their recruiting and indications are that all Companies will have their full complement of men. The Orangeville Company is not yet recruited to full strength, but indications are that it will be filled by Monday. Orangeville, Shelburne and Grand Valley Companies and the Regimental Band from Shelburne will go into Toronto by special train on Monday morning and there join the other five Companies. The two weeks time spent in Camp makes a fine outing for young men and at the same time affords an excellent opportunity to acquire a useful knowledge of our military system. The Government pays privates from 70c. to $1.00 a day, furnishing all outfitting and defrays living and travelling expenses. In addition to this there is a County grant of 25 cents, so that the man who enlists can enjoy a holiday outing and at the same time receive fairly good wages for his time.

ROYAL CITY LAWN BOWLING TOURNAMENT.

Arrangements for the second annual Royal City Lawn Bowling Tournament have been well advanced by the Guelph Lawn Bowling Club, and they anticipate having if possible an even more successful tourney this year than last. Prof. R. Harcourt, of the staff of the Ontario Agricultural College, is Secretary of the Tournament. Preliminary advices have been sent to all the Clubs in Western Ontario, and it is expected that the majority of these will be represented at Guelph on Tuesday, June 27th, which is the date set for the commencement of the tournament.

The Royal City bowlers are fortunate in having forty greens at their disposal, guaranteeing the best of accommodation for all comers. The main competition will be for the Scholfield Trophy, won by Dr. Andy Scott's (London Thistles) rink last year, and in addition elegant prizes will be given in this as well as the other two competitions.

Reduced rates have been granted by the railway companies, and those going to the tournament will purchase a single fare ticket and obtain the usual standard convention certificate.

A most happy time is undoubtedly in store for those who attend, as the hospitality of the Guelphites is well known.

The style of the firm of Turgeon Fish & Calder, barristers, Regina, Sask., has been changed to Fish & Anderson. Mr. A. Turgeon, K.C., and Mr. J. A. Calder retire from practice, and Mr. Percy M. Anderson, of Mackenzie, Brown, Macdonald & Anderson, Regina, has joined Mr. Fish. Mr. Anderson is a nephew of Mr. John Anderson, Arthur, and Mr. Fish practised at Orangeville until two years ago.

STARVED NERVES.

The Cause of Neuralgia—It Must be Treated Through The Blood.

Neuralgia is a cry of the nerves for more and better blood. It literally means that the nerves are being starved. Like every other part of the body the nerves receive their nourishment through the blood. There is no doubt that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure the worst cases of neuralgia. They actually make new, rich, blood, carrying to the starved nerves the elements they need, thus driving away the sharp, torturing pains which nearly drive the sufferer wild. So many cases of neuralgia have yielded to treatment through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that every sufferer from this dreaded trouble should lose no time in giving the Pills a fair trial. Mrs. Sophia H. Johnson, Mozan, Sask., says: "For upwards of ten years I was a periodical sufferer from neuralgia. It located in the side of my face and in the jaw, which would actually click every time I opened or closed my mouth. At times the pains would be almost unendurable, and as time went on, my whole nervous system seemed to be affected. I was constantly doctoring, but the doctor did not seem to be able to give me permanent relief, and at last I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I got a half dozen boxes, and before they were half gone I felt much better, and by the time I had used them all every symptom of the trouble had gone, and I was enjoying a comfort I had not known for years. I have since remained in the best of health, and can only say I owe the joy of living without pain to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

AN ADJALA PRESENTATION.

A number of the friends and neighbors of Mr. Wm. Parker, of Connor, gathered in the Presbyterian Church Hall in Adjala on Friday evening, June 2nd, to say good-bye and present him with some token of their esteem prior to his departure for the West. Mr. Geo. Chapman acted as Chairman and read the following address:

Dear Friend:—

We, on behalf of your host of friends of this community, have gathered this evening for the purpose of expressing to you our regret on losing an old neighbour, and to give you our best wishes for your future happiness.

Your residence amongst us has continued for many years, and the lapse of time would but serve to strengthen the good impression which you have always made, and we feel sure that with your amiable and agreeable disposition you will make many new but lasting friendships in the land to which you are going.

We desire to thank you for your faithful energetic work while a member of the School Board and to show you our appreciation of your friendly, neighbourly character to those whom you met in your daily walk of life. We extend to you our deepest sympathy in the losses you have suffered in recent years. We would ask you to accept this gold watch and chain as a slight, tangible token of our appreciation of your neighbourly spirit and as a remembrance from your friends, who wish you every success in your new home.

Signed on behalf of the neighbors of this community.

Mr. Geo. Chapman
Mr. R. Young

Mr. Parker made a feeling reply. The presentation was made by Mr. Young. The evening was pleasantly spent in speeches and music and the ladies furnished a supper that was greatly enjoyed by everybody. The good wishes of the neighborhood accompany Mr. Parker to his home in the West.

CHARLESTON.

The pulpit in the Methodist church was occupied on Sunday by the Rev. Mr. Cochrane, of Toronto, who is supplying during the absence of the pastor of Knox Church, Rev. S. R. Robinson.

Mr. Irvine Dodds, who has been rather seriously indisposed of late, is now convalescing.

Miss Annie Mallet has had a bad attack of measles, but is now on the road to recovery.

Mr. Robert Chambers has decided to build a pressed brick house on his lot on John St. this summer. Mr. Robert Pickering has the contract of the masonry and brick work which means an al job.

During the severe storm on Monday night a valuable brood mare belonging to Mrs. Faulkner, lot 10, Centre Road, was killed in the pasture field.

A number of relatives from here attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Black (nee Miss Sarah Gibson) of Orton. Mrs. Black was a native of Caledon and her untimely death is deeply regretted by all who knew her.

The appointment of Mr. Jas. McClure as successor to the late W. L. Wilson in the Governorship of Brampton jail is very popular here and we wish him a long lease of the job.

Moist Heat is the Natural Heat

YOUR HOUSE WILL "FEEL" WARMER AT 65° WITH MOIST AIR THAN AT 70° WITH DRY

Adding moisture to the air in your home will give you the same heat for less fuel.

A consideration, no doubt.

But that is not all.

Warm dry air, however pure, is not healthful. The human body demands more moisture than is carried in the winter air.

The "Hecla" supplies this moisture in plenty. A large circular pan of water is placed where it will be easy to fill and where it will not be overlooked.

Circular Water Pan

Has five times the evaporating surface of pans placed over furnace door. Runs clear around the back of the furnace. Will hold enough water to last 24 hours. May be filled at either door, as shown above.

"Hecla" Furnace

SAVES ONE TON OF COAL IN SEVEN.

By actual test the "Hecla" saves one ton of coal in seven. That is, it is so constructed as to give the same heat for six tons of coal as you ever got from seven.

Do you want to know more about this furnace?

No Gas or Dust.

And it is just as important to keep the air free from coal gas and dust.

In the "Hecla" every place where experience has shown that gas might otherwise find an outlet, has been fused absolutely tight by our patented process. The same fused joints keep out the dust and smoke.

MULMUR.

I thought, Mr. Editor, that I would drop you a few lines from this locality, as the scribes, who have heretofore represented the community, apparently belong to the past, being either rejected lovers whose disappointment has driven them to silence or else mere mud slingers, whose occupation is at best both uncertain and precarious.

The members of St. Luke's Church have purchased a handsome new organ from the Heintzman Co., of Toronto, for $250. All praise should be given to the Committee for their excellent judgment.

Mr. Samuel Little and Miss Aggie McDowell have been visiting friends in Brampton and Toronto this last couple of weeks.

Mr. Russell McDowell and sister and Mr. W. J. Newton and sister spent a very pleasant evening at W. J. Ferris', and report a good time.

The majority of the people around here took in the circus at Alliston on June 8th, and report a good time.

Mrs. Andrew Murphy fell off a verandah on Sunday, June 4th, and broke her arm at the shoulder. Owing to her great age only slight hopes are entertained for her recovery. She is under the care of Dr. Blair.

Mrs. Catherine Armstrong has gone on an extended trip to Alberta, where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Kidd.

Mr. Earl Brett raised a very fine barn last week, Mr. Barton had the contract.

Mr. Archie Moffitt intends raising a large barn on Thursday next.

The long looked for rain came on Saturday night accompanied by thunder and lightning. On Sunday afternoon about four o'clock a terrific storm of rain and wind blew up from the southwest. Barns were unroofed, trees blown over and fences strewn in every direction. Service was in progress in Trinity Church, Adjala, when the storm struck the edifice, the wind blowing down the spire and lifting off part of the roof. A panic arose among the congregation. Some made their exit through the windows, and girls' hats were blown off and lost as their owners made their way to the shelter of the shed in a drenching rain.

Rev. Mr. Blodgett will deliver an address to the Orangemen in St. Luke's Church on Sunday, June 9th, on the subject, "Why We are Protestants." All members of neighboring lodges are cordially invited to join in the service. Come and hear him.

Wedding bells will ring out loud and clear in the very near future. St. Luke's is about to lose one of its most popular choir girls to a popular young man now residing in the United States. What is our loss is another's gain. Particulars later.

Miss Annie Moore has returned home from Toronto and reports a good time.

John Murphy says that when the boys get their fast horses and rubber tired buggies and a borrowed girl beside them they generally strike for Alliston on Saturday evenings.

Are Your Kidneys Working Properly?

It Will Pay You Well to Make Sure

There's been a lot of "guessing" about rheumatism and rheumatic pains generally but you can be dead sure that little pain across your back came from deranged kidney action.

The kidney's duty is to filter the blood—take out the impurities collected by the returning blood stream—do it just like absorbent cotton in a funnel filters the impurities from polluted water.

When the kidneys are not working you are bound for one of two courses—Diabetes and Bright's Disease or Rheumatism, Lumbago and Sciatica. The former course is usually fatal, and the latter always painful, but you need not have either, as they both can be easily prevented.

The very best prescription for all kidney troubles is Nyal's Stone Root Compound. It is no "patent" medicine, but a scientific prescription composed of Stoneroot, Buchu, Juniper and other remedies of proved value. More than that, it has been proved by thousands who have had glad relief from its use.

There's nothing quite so miserable as the dragging results of sick kidneys. You are trifling with your own future when you neglect so simple a precaution, as a pleasant home treatment with Nyal's Stone Root Compound when results are so certain.

It soothes bladder irritation, gives you rest and comfort at night, and makes life once more enjoyable.

The kidneys, liver and bladder are dependent upon one another, and Nyal's Stone Root Compound is particularly designed to help them all.

Sold and guaranteed by Dr. A. J. Hunter & Co., A. T. Howard, Orangeville.

HALL'S CORNERS.

Small Bros. disposed of some fine horses at the last fair.

Mr. Jno. Cook, of Collingwood, was in this vicinity last week to purchase some draft horses.

Jeffers Bros. visited Terra Nova friends on Sunday.

Mr. Thos. Lyons, of Camilla, was in this vicinity last week.

Mr. Wm. Crawley, of Honeywood, visited at Wm. McCutcheon's.

Denny Bros., of Orangeville, are busily engaged sawing lumber for Messrs. Phoenix, Gabriel and Tait.

Mr. Ashcroft Southworth, of Toronto, is visiting with his friend, Mr. Bertrand Bailey, and also renewing old acquaintances in this vicinity.

Miss Irene Boles is visiting with Rosemont friends and acquaintances.

PRIMROSE.

Well, Mr. Editor, as time was hanging rather heavily on my hands, I decided to while away a few moments by jotting down some important happenings of this neighborhood, which is still in a very flourishing condition despite the recent severe storms.

Our citizens one and all celebrated the 24th at the Rocks, where a splendid time was spent. The next event was Mr. John Scott's raising, which passed off in splendid style, Perry Lindsay and Dennis Wilson being the rival captains. The race was close and exciting, but Dennis won by a very clever piece of manoeuvering.

Receiving an invitation to the Small-Little nuptials, which were to take place at St. James' Church, I decided to go home with Davie Stoddart and on the way we met Dr. White, who was out attending Leonard, who, while shearing some sheep, used the shears rather effectively on his knee. Just then John Alfred came along to inspect the Dr's. auto as he thought it would be a much quicker way to visit Erin friends than by the horse and buggy route. After a short chat we proceeded on our way and arriving at our destination, found Reuben away and a note on the table informed us he was at Uncle Charlie's. The next evening we went over to football practice, but found everybody busy decorating the church for the wedding, with Herb. Lindsay, master of ceremonies, and George McKenzie anxiously looking on, as he said his time was getting short.

KILOFICAT

MELANCTHON.

Mr. Robert Hartley spent a few days last week visiting friends in Toronto and other points.

Mrs. Albert Hanna and her mother, Mrs. Richard Slack, of Toronto, are renewing acquaintances here.

Lesley Armstrong, of Toronto, visited his grandmother, Mrs. Thomas, here, last week. The latter, we regret to learn, is critically ill.

Ex-reeve R. J. Woods preached in the Gravel Road Church last Sunday.

Melancthon Lawn Tennis Club has secured a plot of ground from Mr. Thos. Sanderson, near the C. P. R. station, and we notice several men with a team levelling the same for use.

Mr. Joseph Wattam has just finished burning another kiln of lime.

Our general merchant, Mr. W. J. Campbell, is making extensive repairs to his store and dwelling. Carpenters and masons have been at work during the past few days.

Considerable disappointment is being felt among the people in this section on account of the Farmers' Excursion to Guelph being withdrawn, as so many were looking forward to the annual outing.

Quite a heavy rain storm took place here on Sunday and Monday, the wind splitting large trees in some cases.

CAMILLA.

A heavy rain and windstorm visited our burg on Saturday evening, but passed off without doing any damage. Another violent storm occurred on Sunday afternoon, accompanied by a heavy rain and many of our neighbors were seen erecting their fences in the calm of the evening.

A friendly little game of ball was played in Reeve Anderson's field on Saturday evening between the Camilla amateurs and the Mono Centre professionals. The result was a score of 4 to 8 in favor of the visiting team.

I like those baseball matches at Gooseville—Edwin.

The congregation of St. Andrew's Church, Camilla, intend holding their annual garden party on July 1st. A good programme of sports and other amusements is being prepared.

It was kind of wet Sunday night, but we did not notice the roads anyway.—Alex. and Tom.

Some of our citizens took in the football match between the High School and Primrose teams at Orangeville on Thursday afternoon, and report a fast game for a few minutes. Nevertheless the Primrose lads returned in triumph during the wee, sma hours claiming the victory.

GRANGER.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Fines and Mrs. McKenzie leave this week on a trip to the West.

Mr. Jno. Scott has his new barn completed, Lindsay Bros. having the contract for mason work and Jos. Snider the frame work, which were both done in a very creditable manner.

Messrs. Wm. and Eddie Halbert intend erecting a barn on their property on the Centre Road. Lindsay Bros. have the foundation already completed.

Weddings and receptions are the order of the day at present.

A goodly number of our citizens attended the monthly fair at Orangeville, and also the football match between Primrose and Orangeville, which resulted in a victory for the visitors.

MONO MILLS.

Rev. R. J. W. Perry is attending the meeting of the Anglican Synod in Toronto this week.

Miss Lila Dredge, of Nassageweya, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Ira Stork.

Mr. and Miss McCulloch, of Connor, spent Sunday evening with friends in this vicinity.

Lost — Somewhere between Mono Mills and the 5th line, Caledon, one heart. The finder may keep it on one condition.

Mr. Chester Copeland, who formerly taught school at Mono Mills, was married to Miss Pearl Duncan, a Wingham young lady, on Wednesday of last week. The happy couple spent a couple of days visiting with friends near here. Mr. Copeland is now a mail clerk on the G. T. R., and resides in Wingham. His many friends hereabouts wish the newly wedded couple every happiness.

WALDEMAR.

The annual Amaranth Township Sabbath School Convention held in the Presbyterian Church was one of the most successful events of the kind ever held in this section. The weather was all that could be desired, there was a large representation of Sabbath School officers and teachers from all over the township, and children were present in large numbers. The ladies served a delightful tea in the basement for those who came from a distance. The speakers who were present were Rev. Mr. Munroe, of Grand Valley, Rev. J. R. Bell, of Laurel, and Rev. R. J. M. Glassford, Secretary of the Provincial S. S. Association. Rev. Mr. McCallum gave a very interesting address at the evening session.

Mrs. James Courtney paid a short visit to her daughter in Arthur one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sproat and family of the west townline, Amaranth, were the guests of friends in the village over Sunday.

Mrs. Samuel Thompson and the little son of Mr. Thomas Anderson, of Toronto, formerly of this section, are renewing former acquaintanceships in this vicinity.

Mrs. Francis Hills, of Moosejaw, Alta., a former resident of the 12th line, East Garafraxa, is renewing old acquaintanceships in Waldemar, East Luther and East Garafraxa.

Miss Gladys Groskurth, of this place, has gone on a fortnight visit to friends in Hespeler, Galt and Berlin.

Mr. Will Lovell has burned his fourth kiln of lime this season and expects to burn eight or ten more.

Mr. Charles Miller, of Station St., paid a visit to his son, Israel, of Mono, for a few days last week.

The garden party in connection with the Presbyterian Church here has been adjourned until a future date on account of the unfavorable weather.

The electric storm which passed over here on Sunday afternoon did consiuerable damage in many places. The dwelling of Mrs. John Jenkins was struck by lightning, the bolt going down the chimney and making a complete wreck of the stovepipes. The current then passed through the kitchen stove, knocking off the stove door, and made its way along the floor under some linoleum, tearing it into shreds. It also did considerable damage to the floor. Luckily Mrs. Jenkins was not at home at the time.

LAUREL.

Everything is still progressing favorably in this locality. Crops of every kind are doing well. Vegetation of all kinds is growing very rapidly, making all nature to rejoice. Every class and profession is rejoicing in view of the glowing prospect of a bountiful harvest.

$3,600

in Cash Prizes for Farmers

Your Photograph May Win a Prize

AMONG the prizes we are offering in our big Prize Contest is one of $100.00 (Prize "C") for the farmer in each Province who furnishes us with a photograph showing the best of any particular kind of work done on his farm during 1911 with "CANADA" Cement. For this prize, work of every description is included.

Now just as soon as you finish that new silo, barn, feeding floor or dairy, that you've been thinking of building, why not photograph it and send the picture to us? The photograph doesn't necessarily have to be taken by a professional or an expert. In fact, your son's or your daughter's camera will do nicely. Or, failing this, you might use the kodak of your neighbor's son nearby. In any event, don't let the idea of having a photograph made deter you from entering the competition. Particularly as we have requested your local dealer to help in cases where it is not convenient for the farmer to procure a camera in the neighborhood. By this means you are placed on an equal footing with every other contestant. Get the circular, which gives you full particulars of the conditions and of the other three prizes. Every dealer who sells "CANADA" Cement will have on hand a supply of these circulars—and he'll give you one if you just ask for it. Or if you prefer, you can use the attached coupon—or a postcard will do—send it to us and you'll receive the complete details of the contest by return mail.

If you haven't received your copy of "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete," write for that, too. It's a finely illustrated book of 160 pages full of useful and practical information of the uses of concrete.

Write us to-night, and you'll receive the book and the circular promptly.

Do not delay—sit right down—take your pen or pencil, and fill out the coupon NOW.

Please send Contest Circular and book.

Imperfect Kidney Action Causes Rheumatism

Rheumatism with its kindred ailments—Lumbago, Wry Neck, Neuralgia, etc., usually results from lodgments of uric acid in the joints and muscles.

Now the chief function of the kidneys is to properly filter this poison from the blood.

Only when they fail to do this is Rheumatism probable.

Kidney weakness starts in various ways. A sudden chill, after perspiring freely, sometimes settles in the kidneys—or an unusual strain may cause it.

Poisons which should be filtered out of the system are pumped back into the blood, causing Uric Acid, the real cause of Rheumatism, Lumbago, Wry Neck, Neuralgia, etc.

In the early stages Nyal's Stone Root Compound will stop it.

Will start your kidneys working properly so that the Uric Acid is reabsorbed and eliminated.

Away goes your Rheumatism with it.

Perhaps these early warning twinges have passed unheeded, and your Rheumatism has become deep seated.

Muscles all snarled up in knots as it were.

Then you'll need Nyal's Rheumatic Cure.

Ask your own druggist about these remedies.

His opinion is worth while.

The Markdale Furniture Factory had a narrow escape from being burned to the ground recently. Only the prompt work of the employees of the factory saved it from destruction.

Miss Essie Banting, of Alliston, has gone to London, England, where she will witness the coronation ceremonies, after which she will spend two months touring in Great Britain and France.

Peter Laird, of New Liskeard, aged 59, a well-known contractor, was found in his workshop with a rifle in his hand and a bullet through the back of the head. He had been despondent for some time. Several men heard the shot and found him as stated. He died in a few minutes.

It was the usual crowded barber shop and slow barbers. "Does the little boy want a hair cut?" asked a tonsorial artist, after the lad had been waiting an hour. "He did when he came in," responded the father rather sarcastically, "but I guess he'll need a shave before he gets out of here."

John Hillis, a well-known resident of East Garafraxa is in Ward 32 of Toronto General Hospital in a bad way, whither he went about a month ago. The first day he arrived in the city he fell getting on a street car and seriously hurt himself. Now, he has almost lost his hearing, and with his other disabilities is in a bad state.

Thursday, June 1, was the biggest day in the history of the Provincial Secretary's Department so far as the collection of fees for the incorporation of companies and for licenses is concerned. The estimate by S. A. Armstrong, Deputy Provincial Secretary, of the revenue of this branch for the year was $200,000. For the seven months ending May 31st, the income was $204,000.

The other day Dr. Perkin, of Grand Valley, had a narrow escape from a stray bullet, which crashed through the front window of his office about 5 o'clock. Fortunately, about ten minutes before he left the operating room, and was out when the thing happened. The bullet cut a clean hole in the outer glass, but made quite a large one in the inner glass, the bullet going through the door into the waiting room and falling on the floor. It had broken into several parts.

PRESBYTERIAL W. F. M. S.

Report of Annual Meeting in Hillsburg on June 1st.

The annual meeting of the Orangeville Presbyterial W.F.M.S. was held in St. Andrew's Church, here, on Thursday, June the 1st.

Delegates were present from almost every congregation in the Presbytery where the society is organized. In point of interest and attendance this meeting of the society is looked upon as the very best ever held by the organization. This is very gratifying to the people of St. Andrew's and especially so to the ladies of the local society.

Between eighty and ninety delegates came by train or by carriages from the near places—especially large delegations being present from Orangeville, Erin and Grand Valley.

The delegates were entertained for dinner at the homes of the Presbyterians in the village, and supper was served in the town hall, where all were together and that part of the day was much enjoyed by everyone.

In the morning the annual routine business was attended to. The officers of last year were re-elected:

Mrs. Cheyne, Claude, President.

Miss Modeland, Snelgrove, Secretary-Treasurer.

Mrs. Kirkwood, Rockside, 1st Vice-President.

Mrs. Scott, Hillsburg, 2nd Vice-President.

Mrs. Buchanan, Dundalk, 3rd Vice-President.

In the afternoon the chief item of business was the question of the Presbyterial's attitude regarding the amalgamation of the Women's Foreign Mission Society and the Women's Home Mission Society. After considerable discussion it was agreed to let the matter stand for another year.

The point of difficulty is this—the W. F. M. S. was organized to minister to women and children only and union with the H. M. S. would widen its operation into general mission work.

The interest of the afternoon however centred on the address of Deaconess Kirkwood, of Toronto.

The deaconesses are intended as ministers' helpers, and from Miss Kirkwood's account on her own experiences the order will do great good, especially in crowded towns and cities. Finding out the needy and befriending the friendless; getting the confidence of young girls in dangerous ways—doing work which it is impossible for a man to do however devoted he may be.

Miss Kirkwood left the impression both in her afternoon and evening address that the Order of Deaconnesses will fill a great gap in the church's work and is well worthy of support by the whole church.

A general meeting was held in the evening over which Rev. R. S. Scott, the pastor of the church, presided, and at which the church choir furnished special music.

Deaconness Kirkwood was again called on and in an exceedingly pleasing manner continued the story of the Order of Deaconesses, the need for such an order, and illustrated her remarks from her own experience.

A missionary from the foreign field is always a source of interest, and when Rev. D. J. Davidson, home on furlough from Dhar, India, was called upon he got a most attentive and interested hearing for one hour.

Mr. Davidson related incidents, showing the progress of the gospel and the devotion of particular native christians. Some of these incidents sound very like some of our New Testament stories and they are the exact counterpart of the events in men's lives that crowd the pages of early church history, and that have been found scattered more or less in the church's history every where ever since apostolic times.—The Gospel is still "the power of God unto salvation."

Mr. Davidson showed that the influence of the gospel is far greater than any counting of converts' heads can show. All society is shot through with the leaven of Christ and many parts of India are in just such condition that we may look for the fulfillment of that word which says "a nation shall be born in a day."

We must not stop before we state a matter that will be of interest to local readers. St. Andrew's Church W. F. M. S. has always stood around the top, but at this report it stands in the proud position of first in point of contributions in the Presbytery. May they long set the pace for others.—Leaders.—Hillsburg Beaver.

Neuralgia and Sciatica

Caused great suffering for 25 years. Nothing effective until Dr. Chase's Medicines were Used.

"It affords me pleasure to speak favorably of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills," writes Mr. W. T. Collins; Morpeth, Ont. "I had been a sufferer for 25 years from sciatica, lumbago and neuralgia and tried nearly all the remedies advertised without one particle of benefit until I began the use of Dr. Chase's medicines. Before I had finished two boxes of the Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills I noticed considerable benefit in my condition. I have so much confidence in these medicines that I have recommended them to dozens of my friends."

In severe cases of this nature the combined use of these medicines brings results which are both surprising and satisfactory. The Kidney-Liver Pills regulate the action of kidneys, liver and bowels, while the Nerve Food enriches the blood and builds up the nervous system. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

PURIFIED HIS BLOOD

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills Healed Mr. Wilson's Sores

When the sewers of the body—bowels, kidneys and skin ducts—get clogged up, the blood quickly becomes impure and frequently sores break out over the body. The way to heal them, as Mr. Richard Wilson, who lives near London, Ont., found, is to purify the blood. He writes:

"For some time I had been in a low, depressed condition. My appetite left me and I soon began to suffer from indigestion. Quite a number of small sores and blotches formed all over my skin. I tried medicine for the blood and used many kinds of ointments, but without satisfactory results. What was wanted was a thorough cleansing of the blood, and I looked about in vain for some medicine that would accomplish this.

At last Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills were brought to my notice, and they are one of the most wonderful medicines I have ever known. My blood was purified in a very short time, sores healed up, my indigestion vanished. They always have a place in my home and are looked upon as the family remedy."

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cleanse the system thoroughly. Sold by all dealers at 25c a box. 6

UNIVERSITY OF FRANCE.

Essentially the Same Today as When Established by Napoleon.

In the United States there are many universities which are free from state control, but in France there is only one university, and it is an absolute instrument of the state. It is true that there are schools of higher learning, which were founded in 1870 as universities, but five years afterward the title was withdrawn, and they are now called "Instituts." They are five in number and are located in Paris, Lille, Lyons, Toulouse and Angers.

But the University of France is an entirely different organization. It is the official school. It is centralized in Paris and has under it a vast multitude of establishments, faculties, college and primary schools, distributed over the whole surface of the country. Directly or indirectly they all depend on the government.

The university was established by Napoleon, and in spite of certain modifications which it has undergone during years it is the same today in its essential elements as the day he founded it. Just as he established the entire civil administration, with its prefects, subprefects, judges, ministers of finance, so he created in 1806 this vast educational organization, with its countless professors, who control the entire intellectual training of France.—America.

ZAM-BUK SAVED THIS BABY

Mrs. M. Barrett, 600 Moreau St., Montreal, says:

"A horrid rash came out all over my baby's face and spread until it had totally covered his scalp. It was irritating and painful, and caused the little one hours of suffering. We tried soaps and powders and salves, but he got no better. He refused his food, got quite thin and worn, and was reduced to a very serious condition. I was advised to try Zam-Buk, and did so. It was wonderful how it seemed to cool and ease the child's burning, painful skin. Zam-Buk from the very commencement seemed to go right to the spot, and the pimples and sores and the irritation grew less and less. Within a few weeks my baby's skin was healed completely. He has now not a trace of rash, or eruption, or eczema, or burning sore. Not only so, but cured of the tormenting skin trouble, he has improved in general health."

Zam-Buk is sold at all stores and medicine vendors, 50c. a box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price, 4 boxes for $1.50. A certain cure for all skin diseases, cuts, burns, etc., and for piles.

Getting the Exact Spot.

An emergency call from a policeman for a tape measure kept two women waiting in the dressmaker's parlor for five minutes. There were other tape measures there which the dressmaker might have used, but she was too busy pondering the circumstance that had suddenly converted her into an ally of the police department. Presently the policeman returned the tape.

"What did you want it for?" she asked.

"To help find the right place to shoot a horse with a broken leg," he said. "The vital spot is just three inches above that little swirl in his forehead where a dozen crowns seem to meet. I am not very good at guessing, so we thought it safest to find the exact spot with a tape measure."—New York Sun.

Music of the Drum.

All musical authorities have agreed that when used in a proper way the drum is thoroughly musical. The common snare or side drum is freely used in musical composition. A large number of drummers performing simultaneously out of doors produce good music. In this connection Berlioz, the composer, pointed out that a sound that was insignificant when heard singly, such as the clink of one or two muskets at shoulder arms or the thud as the butt comes to the ground at ground arms, becomes brilliant and attractive if performed by a thousand men together.

Crumpled Them.

We observe that the man's fingers are all twisted and bent into the most uncouth shapes.

"Poor fellow!" we say to our friend. "Evidently he is a victim of rheumatism."

"No," our friend explains. "He is deaf and dumb and has been trying to talk Scotch dialect on his fingers."—Life.

Adolf Meyers appeared before Police Magistrate Crawford a week ago Friday charged with knowingly having stolen horses in his possession. The crown was represented by Mr. McFadden, the prisoner's interests being looked after by Mr. Heyd, of Toronto. Only a few witnesses were called. Messrs. Harper and Maw and a detective told how they recovered the horses, and another witness gave evidence to the effect that he had seen Meyers in the company of a Jew in Toronto who had previously wanted to sell him some horses. The accused did not plead and was committed for trial. He was again set at liberty on $800 cash bail. Meyers is a Jew and has several teams at work on a contract in the city. The proceedings occupied a little more than an hour.

MRS. (REV.) C. E. BURRELL.

The announcement yesterday of the death in the early afternoon of Mrs. Mary Anne Burrell, wife of Rev. C. E. Burrell, the esteemed pastor of the Barton St. Baptist church, came as a surprise and a shock to a very wide circle of friends in and around the city. Mrs. Burrell had been ill for about nine weeks, and about a week ago was taken to the city hospital for treatment. She was a native of England, and came to Canada with her sister, Mrs. Boden, of Toronto, and was married there to Rev. C. E. Burrell, by Rev. James Grant, now of Dundas, on January 22, 1889. She was at that time a member of the Parliament street Baptist church, and in fact, ever since her coming to this country, she had taken an active interest in the work of the church of her choice. She was of a most lovable disposition and made many friends wherever she went and her death will be regretted sincerely. Besides her husband, she is survived by four sons, Charles, Bert, Percy and Allan, and one daughter, Miss Dolly. She also left her mother, Mrs. Price, and three sisters, Mrs. Boden, Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Miller, all of Toronto. A memorial service will be held in the Barton street Baptist church at 11 o'clock Sunday morning and the home, at 211 Gibson avenue, will be open from 2 until 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon for friends to view the body of the deceased. The remains will be taken by the 10 o'clock train, Monday morning to Toronto, where the funeral will take place from the home of her sister, Mrs. Boden, 113 Bolton avenue, Monday afternoon.—Hamilton Spectator.

Hydro-Electric power was used for the first time in Galt a week ago Monday. Everything was satisfactory and already a large number of houses are being lighted with hydro-electric.

Mrs. Lusty, wife of John Lusty, of Redickville, died at the Woodstock Hospital a week ago Saturday morning last, in her 45th year. The deceased before her marriage was Miss Fannie Marshall, daughter of the late Geo. Marshall, one of the early settlers of Horning's Mills.

JACKSON—GLASSFORD.

A very happy event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Glassford, of Caledon, on Wednesday, June 7th, when their third daughter, Edna, was united in matrimony to Mr. James Jackson, of Saskatoon. The ceremony, which was performed by Rev. S. R. Robinson, pastor of Knox Church, Caledon, took place in the drawing room, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Only a few of the nearest relatives were present. The bride and groom were unattended. The wedding gifts were beautiful, useful and costly, and showed the esteem in which the bride is held in the community. The gift of the groom was a beautiful gold watch and chain. After the wedding breakfast had been served the happy couple left on the evening train for Toronto. After spending a short honeymoon visiting some of the principal cities of the east they will take up their residence near Saskatoon, where the groom is an extensive and prosperous farmer. The Banner joins the many friends of the happy couple in extending its hearty congratulations.

WHITTINGTON.

A pall of sadness has been cast over this community by the death on Friday of Mrs. George Clarke, whose funeral to Greenwood cemetery, Orangeville, on Sunday afternoon, was largely attended. The obsequies at the grave were postponed for a short time until the fury of the rainstorm had spent its force and before the impressive burial service was at an end the sun shone out again in all his glory on the mourners and those around the grave as the form of their loved one was gently lowered into the earth, at rest after all life's battles and trials and safe in the sure hope of a glorious resurrection. Mrs. Clarke's maiden name was Elizabeth Casterton. She was born in Morton, Lincolnshire, Eng., on December 10th, 1841, and about forty-three years ago she was united in marriage to her now sorrowing husband, and with him came to Canada, settling first at Whitby. From there Mr. and Mrs. Clarke moved to Amaranth about thirty years ago, eventually settling on the w ½ lot 15, con. 2, where the subject of this sketch resided until her death. Her health had been steadily failing, and for the past eleven weeks she had been confined to her bed. During all her hours of pain and weariness she displayed patience and cheerfulness that was wonderful and she was always thinking of how to save others. Since she came to Canada she had been a consistent member of the Methodist Church, and although her modest, retiring disposition prevented her from engaging actively in the various departments of church work, yet she lived her religion and many a night's rest she lost attending to sick and suffering ones, many a cheerful word and kindly smile she gave to discouraged ones and helped them to meet their difficulties with a braver spirit. No one needing help or comfort ever appealed to Mrs. Clarke in vain and she will long live in the memory of her neighbors and friends around here. Besides her husband, she left to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother a family of six daughters and one son, namely, Mrs. Jas. Bowes and Mrs. Geo. Lang, Stephenfield, Man.; Mrs. Nelson Phillips, Whittington; Mrs. John Wright, 402 College St., Toronto; Misses Ada and Kate at home, and John, of Whittington. To these the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community goes out in their sore trouble. Yet they mourn not as those without hope, for they realize that when life's work is ended they will go to her, although she cannot return to them. Mrs. Clarke was also an honored member of the Women's Institute. The floral tributes were beautiful and testified to the love and esteem in which she was held. In the absence of the senior pastor, Rev. Mr. White, the funeral services at the house and grave were conducted by Rev. Mr. Whittle. Mrs. Clarke lived a useful Christian life and as is ever the case with such her end was peaceful and happy.

She is not lost, but only gone before,
Safe, safe in Jesus' keeping.

ELBA.

St. James' Church, Primrose, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Thursday, June 1st, when Miss Maud Shaw, daughter of Mrs. Geo. Shaw, of this place, became the wife of Mr. Arthur Brinell, of Hamilton. The bride, who was daintily gowned in white and wore a large white hat, was given away by her brother, Mr. Samuel Shaw. Miss Cassie Shaw, also prettily dressed in white, acted as bridesmaid, while the groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Ernest Brinell, of Hamilton. The wedding march was played by Miss Louise Berwick, of Shelburne. After the service and congratulations of the assembled friends, the bridal party and guests adjourned to the home of the bride's mother, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served. The evening was afterwards happily spent in music, games and other amusements. The many presents indicated the high esteem in which the bride and groom are held. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. J. S. Adamson, rector of St. James church. Mr. and Mrs. Brinell will reside on Mountain ave., Hamilton.

St. James' Church, Primrose, was thronged to the doors on Wednesday afternoon, June 7th., the large congregation being present to witness the marriage of Miss Emily Little, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Little, Elba, to Mr. Robert John Small of Toronto. The marriage service took place at 5 o'clock, the rector, Rev. R. J. S. Adamson officiating. The interior of the sacred edifice was prettily decorated. The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned becomingly in white and was attended by her cousin, Miss Ida Little, of Toronto, who was also dressed in white. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Edward Small, of Shelburne. Miss May Small, a sister of the groom, played the wedding march. The Church Choir sang a wedding hymn before the service and an anthem while the register was being signed. After receiving the congratulations of the assembled friends, the bridal party and a few immediate relatives drove to the bride's home, where a much enjoyed wedding repast was served. This was followed by a number of congratulatory addresses and the remainder of the evening was then happily spent in music, dancing and other amusements. The bride, who was organist in St. James' church and is esteemed by the community, received a large number of useful and valuable gifts.

MONO EAST.

Nearly everybody in this section attended the big garden party held on the grounds of ex-Deputy-Reeve W. A. Donaldson on Tuesday evening under the auspices of Mono East Presbyterian Church. There was a very large turnout notwithstanding the cold, disagreeable night and everybody seemed to manage to have a good time despite the rather unfavorable conditions. The evening's amusements began with an interesting baseball match between Orangeville and Hockley teams. Both nines played snappy ball, but the County Town bunch was better balanced and won handily by a score of 15 to 6. The line-up was:—

Hockley—Laverty, 3b; Wilson, ss; Camplin, c; Reaney, lf; Webster, 1b; McDonald, p; Bracken, cf; Robins, rf; McKibben, 2b.

Orangeville—Hayes, 3b; Kilpatrick, ss; Gulley, 1b; Warren, p; Deering, cf; Law, 2b; Scott, rf; Keith, lf; Holmes, c.

Reeve Anderson, of Mono, made a capable and impartial umpire.

The ladies of the Church served an excellent supper and this was followed by an enjoyable programme of music and addresses. The speakers were Rev. H. D. McCuaig, of Tottenham, Mr. H. A. Dorrance, District Representative of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, and the Chairman, Rev. J. A. Black, the popular pastor of the church. Mr. S. Tuck, of Owen Sound, made a decided hit with his bagpipe playing and violin selections. Connor Band was present in full force under the leadership of Bandmaster Carey. The band was very generous with its music and the crowd was not slow to show its appreciation. A reading by Miss Taylor, violin and piano music by the Misses Island and piano duets by the Misses McManus rounded out and gave variety to the programme, which lasted until near midnight. The proceeds were about $165.

HEAVY FINES.

Palgrave Men Arrested for Obstructing Constable While Seizing Liquor.

County Crown Attorney McFadden and Police Magistrate Crawford, of Brampton, were in Palgrave, on Wednesday, June 7th, hearing a case against Thos. Stinson and George Zimmerman, residents of the village, who were charged with obstructing a constable in the discharge of his duty. Palgrave is under local option, but it has been suspected for some time that liquor was being brought in for sale. Constable Duffy was at the station on Saturday last awaiting Stinson's return from Woodbridge. The latter alighted from the train and handed a parcel to Zimmerman who immediately ran off with it. The constables gave chase and catching up with Zimmerman attempted to seize the parcel which contained three bottles of whiskey. Zimmerman resisted and Stinson came to his assistance. Constable Duffy promptly arrested both men who came up for trial on Wednesday. They were defended by Mr. Fraser, of Tottenham. Stinson averred that money had been given to him to go to Woodbridge for the liquor, that he had purchased the three bottles at one hotel, at the same time and was bringing it to Palgrave for delivery. Both men were found guilty of obstructing Constable Duffy, who was doing his duty in seizing the liquor, suspecting it to be for sale. Stinson was fined $2 and costs, the whole amounting to $12.10 and Zimmerman $10 and costs, amounting to $16.

ENTRIES FOR THE PRIZE FARMS' CONTEST.

As the data approaches for the closing of the entries in the Interprovincial Prize Farms' Competition that will be held this year throughout Ontario and part of the province of Quebec, interest grows. It begins to look as if Quebec might succeed in capturing the interprovincial honors inasmuch as some exceptionally fine farms in that province are being entered in the contest.

This year Ontario has been divided into four districts. Ten prizes are being offered for the best farms in each of these districts. The farms will be judged in July. Entries close June 15.

A fifth district includes a portion of the province of Quebec. Next year there will be a special contest between the prize winning farms this year in each of the four districts in Ontario and Quebec. As some of the Quebec farms have been through several competitions held by the Quebec government, they are in good condition for the contest which leads many to believe that some of them are likely to carry off the interprovincial honors.

In the provincial contest held last year, the First Prize was won by Mr. R. A. Penhale, of St. Thomas, Elgin County, the Second Prize going to Mr. J. W. Richardson, 101 Caledonia, Haldimand County, the Fourth and Fifth to Messrs. O. D. Bales and D. Duncan, of York County. As it will be a great honor for this county for some of our local farmers to win some of these prizes it is hoped that a number of our best farmers will enter the contest.

Full information and entry forms may be obtained from the Secretary of the Prize Farms' Committee, H. B. Cowan, Peterborough, Ontario.

Sluggish Liver Action

Causes indigestion, constipation and bilious headache—Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills the cure.

"Sluggish liver has been my trouble," writes Mrs. I. P. Smith, Paris, Ont., "and I have been greatly benefitted by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I have taken medicines from several good doctors, but none ever did me the same amount of good as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I could not keep up and do my work if I did not use these pills when the bilious spells come on, and I have recommended them to many."

"Dr. Chase's medicines were about the only kind that came into my father's house 40 or 50 years ago, and they were always satisfactory."

THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Report of County Convention in Shelburne on June 5th.

Presentation to Mrs. R. Fife, the Retiring President.

The Dufferin Women's Institute Convention held in the Town Hall in Shelburne on June 5th, was well attended by enthusiastic delegates representing all the branches in the County. At the morning business session the following officers were elected:—

District President—Miss Annie Hall, Shelburne.

Vice-President—Mrs. E. Richardson, Laurel.

Secretary-Treasurer—Miss E. H. Besley, Shelburne.

Auditors—Mrs. McLean, Honeywood, Mrs. Endacott, Orangeville.

Representative to W. I. Convention in Toronto—Mrs. R. Curry, Laurel.

Interesting reports were read by the representatives from the different branches outlining their work during the past year. Some of these may be summarized as follows:—

Corbetton has beautified the Manse and Parsonage grounds with ornamental trees and shrubs, to the value of $26.72.

Orangeville, Camilla and Laurel are saving funds to furnish wards in the Orangeville Hospital when built.

Shelburne is awarding first prize of $3, second $2 and third $1, at the Dufferin Central Exhibition for best collection of canned fruit to be put up in pint jars (no acids allowed). This prize is confined to Dufferin County.

The District gave $23 for charitable purposes and $7 to the Hoodless Memorial Fund.

Orangeville Branch has resolved that its members will not buy any articles after six o'clock on Saturday nights unless they carry them home themselves.

At the opening of the afternoon session the following address was read by Mrs. East, President of the Honeywood Branch, to Mrs. R. Fife, the retiring District President:—

Dear Mrs. Fife:

We, the members of the Dufferin Women's Institute, desire to take this opportunity of expressing to you our appreciation of the deep interest you have always taken in the work of the Women's Institute. We feel that there could be no more fitting opportunity than the present, when representatives from all the branches in the riding are met together in this Convention. One common object has drawn us all hither. The object is expressed in our motto, "For Home and Country." The desire to learn more about the science of housekeeping and homekeeping, to discuss methods for the improvement of the home and its surroundings, and to get instruction and information to so elevate the whole tone of the home life that we will be instrumental in helping to build up a high and lofty national character, for we realize that the foundation of the nation is laid in the homes and hearts of the people. In the work that the Women's Institutes have been endeavoring to do you have been taking an active part for a number of years. Though handicapped to a great extent by ill-health your interest in the work of the Institute has never flagged. The work has been growing successfully throughout the riding, and it must have been an encouraging thought to you many times that you were one of those who first helped to form the Institute, to work for it and to watch its growth to its present strength. The different branches are grateful for the assistance and encouragement you have given them and trust you may be spared to many years of continued activity in the work with which you have so closely identified yourself. We ask you to accept this gift as a small, tangible token of our appreciation. We know that it cannot repay you for the hours of thought and labor you have expended on your work, but trust it will remind you of the good-will and appreciation of your co-workers in the Dufferin Women's Institute.

Mrs. Crombie, of Blount, then presented Mrs. Fife with a handsome mantel clock in behalf of all the branches. Mrs. Fife, although taken completely by surprise, made a very feeling and appropriate reply.

The afternoon programme consisted of an opening address by the County President, address of welcome by Miss Jennie Hall, Shelburne, and reply by Mrs. E. Richardson, Laurel; addresses by Mr. G. A. Putnam, Supt. of Institutes, and Miss Smillie, Toronto; solo by Mrs. Endacott, Orangeville, and the following papers:—"The Art of Conversation," Mrs. (Rev.) G. W. Rose, Corbetton; "Why I am a Member of the Institute," Mrs. McLean, Honeywood; "Home," Mrs. Wm. Stewart, Bowling Green; "How to Furnish a Living Room for Comfort," Mrs. Cox, Laurel; "Character Building," Miss B. Thompson, Camilla; "Home Nursing," Miss Smillie, Toronto.

Mr. Putnam presided during the evening session. The programme consisted of a piano solo, Miss May Hall, Shelburne; solos by Mrs. Endacott, Orangeville, and Miss Berwick, Shelburne, address, "Canadian Literature and Writers," Miss Smillie, Toronto, an address, Prof. Day, O. A.C., Guelph, and an address by Mrs. Endacott, Orangeville.

MANN—BERWICK.

Miss Nora Berwick, of 2584 Bedford avenue, Flatbush, and John Kennedy Mann, of 28 Hawthorne street, were united in marriage last evening at 8 o'clock. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. George Ramsey, of 900 Ocean avenue, by the Rev. Lewis T. Reed, pastor of the Flatbush Congregational Church, East Eighteenth street and Dorchester road. The bride was beautifully gowned in white satin trimmed with rose point lace, and a bridal veil of tulle, caught with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was a shower of white roses and lillies of the valley. Mrs. Harry Ramsey, cousin of the bride, attended as matron of honor. She was gowned in her wedding gown of white satin, and carried pink and white roses. There were also three bridesmaids gowned as follows: Miss Bessie Berwick, sister of the bride, in pink lingerie; Miss Helen Leslie, cousin of the bride, of Patterson, N.J., in white lingerie over pink silk, and Miss Olga Legatt, of Brooklyn, in white lingerie trimmed with pink ribbons. They all carried bouquets of pink and white roses. John Berwick, brother of the bride, acted as the groom's best man. The ushers were Harry Ramsay, of Flatbush, cousin of the bride, and Earle Stone Augsbury, of New Rochelle.—Brooklyn, N. Y., Daily Times.

The bride is a niece of Mrs. Ralph Cresswell, York St. Mr. and Mrs. Cresswell were guests at the wedding.

A DOUBLE CURE FOR DOUBLE TROUBLE

Father Morriscy's No. 26 Cures Catarrh by a Combined Treatment.

The sudden weather variations in our climate result in a great many cases of catarrh—a troublesome disease usually considered hard to cure, and one which often leads to serious pulmonary and intestinal troubles.

A neglected cold in the head weakens the nasal membranes, so that at every future exposure the trouble returns. At length these conditions are fastened onto the system, and the sufferer undergoes the annoyance and danger of chronic catarrh.

Some doctors confine themselves to prescribing external applications, and thus do not reach the seat of the trouble. Others give internal treatment exclusively, and thus do not promptly relieve the affected parts.

Father Morriscy, the skilled priest-physician, rightly regarded catarrh as a double trouble, consisting of unpleasant local effects and their fundamental causes, the latter having to do with impaired general vitality.

His famous remedy, No. 26, is a combined cure for catarrh. It consists of tablets to be taken three times a day, and an especially compounded salve.

The salve is antiseptic, and quickly heals the inflamed membranes of the nasal passages. The tablets go to the seat of the trouble and restore the system to its usual tone. Together, they cure.

Instead of neglecting a disease that is unpleasant to yourself and to others, and one which often leads to pneumonia and consumption, it is surely the part of wisdom to take timely steps to do away with the effects and at the same time remove the cause. No. 26 does just that.

50c. for the combined treatment. At your druggist's, or from Father Morriscy Medicine Co., Ltd., Montreal, Que.

While anger, in the nature of hatred, malice, strife, envy, should be put away by all who are seeking to be copies of God's dear Son, anger in the sense of righteous indignation against wrong-doing, sin in its various forms, is proper, and although it should be used with great moderation, backed by love, there are circumstances in which it would be wrong not to have righteous anger and use it.—Pastor Russell.

MONO COLLEGE AHEAD.

Goes to the Front With a Rush in Library Contest.

Heavy Week's Voting Makes Important Change in Standing of Leaders.

Last week's voting has made a great change in the respective positions of the leaders in the Free Library Voting Contest. The Mono College School, which was in third place last week with a gap of over 100,000 votes between it and the Orangeville Public School, has come to the front with a rush and is now leading by about 135,000 votes. The Liebander Bible Class, last week's leader, is in second place with the Orangeville Public School in third position. It is rumored that friends of some of the chief contestants intend depositing ballots representing many thousands of votes during the next few weeks. It will not be surprising, therefore, should the announcement in next week's Banner reveal changes just as startling as those that have taken place in the past week. The prize—a handsome library of standard works now on exhibition in Marshall Green & Co's store—is well worth winning and the leading competitors are each straining every nerve to capture it. This week's standing as shown by Tuesday's count, is as follows:—

DEATH OF MRS. MONTGOMERY.

On Wednesday, June 7, after a brief illness, Mrs. Montgomery, relict of the late Henry Montgomery, of Chinguacousy Township, passed peacefully away at her home on Second Avenue.

Deceased was born in Armagh, Ireland, in the year 1829, and had entered upon her eighty-third year. With her parents, William and Jean White, and a large family of brothers and sisters, all of whom have predeceased her, she came to this country when only ten years of age, and settled in the township of Chinguacousy, County of Peel, near the village of Sandhill. Here in after years she was united in marriage to her late husband, and their married life was spent in the near vicinity of her pioneer home. Here seven children were born to them, three of whom preceded her to the other shore. Upon the death of her husband, which occurred in 1892, Mrs. Montgomery removed to Orangeville, where she has since made her home. Possessed of wonderful energy, coupled with remarkable vivacity of temperament, each day was filled with interest, and those about her only realized that she was growing old by the failing of her bodily strength. Her mind was bright and her heart was warm as ever in the olden days.

An earnest, consistent Christian, Mrs. Montgomery was a true wife, a wise mother, a good neighbor, a firm and faithful friend. Ever ready to extend a helping hand or speak a cheering word to those in need of aid or sympathy, she gathered about her many friends. Four daughters survive—Mrs. Thos. Parsons, Mrs. James Wise and Misses Mary and Ellinor Montgomery—mourning deeply their loss, which to her is Heavenly gain.

Interment took place in the Forest Lawn Cemetery, Orangeville, on Friday afternoon.

DEATH OF MRS. NELSON.

Mrs. Elizabeth Nelson, probably the oldest person in Caledon township, passed away at the home of her son Mr. Samuel Nelson, below Melville Cross, on Tuesday after a very short illness. The old lady had lived to the remarkable age of 97 years. Notwithstanding her great age she was smart on foot and able to be about until a few days before her demise. Mr. Samuel Nelson is the only surviving son. The daughters still living are Mrs. Allen Maxwell and Mrs. Henry Scott, of Melville Cross, and Mrs. Arch. McDougall and Mrs. Jos. Abbott, of Toronto. The funeral will take place to Alton cemetery at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

CORONATION MATINEE.

The first matinee to be given by the Orangeville Driving Club will be held on the exhibition grounds on Coronation Day, Thursday, June 22, and the event promises to provide excellent sport. Quite a string of local and outside trotters will be entered and there will be a splendid afternoon's racing. The races will commence at 2 o'clock and they will be run in such a manner that there will be no delays between the heats, which will be one mile, best three in five. The matinees given by this Club become more popular every year and it is the intention of the Club to give patrons of the sport the biggest run possible for the smallest amount of money. With this object in view the admission was placed at 25c. for gentlemen, but ladies and children will be admitted free of charge.

Come to SASKATCHEWAN THE GOLDEN

"The Land That Pays for Itself in a Single Season."—Prof. Thomas Shaw.

Want to quit paying rent and have a fine farm of your own? Come to Saskatchewan! Want a farm on fertile land that will pay for your land? Come to Saskatchewan! Want a contented, congenial work land page generous rewards? Come to Saskatchewan!

Want to live where health, not sickness, is "catching"? Come to Saskatchewan! Want a home surrounded by good neighbors, schools, churches and railroads? Come to Saskatchewan! Want to get out of a rut, to make a new start, to live where conditions are with you, not against you; want a fair chance to make money—as good a chance as your dad had when Ontario was "out West"? Come to Saskatchewan!

$20 Farms Grow 40 Bushels of Wheat per Acre!

To the average man this would seem impossible, but it is done by farmers in the LAST MOUNTAIN VALLEY, in Golden Saskatchewan, and they don't work nearly as hard as their less fortunate friends who stayed "at home." The average crop in this fertile valley is about 30 bushels per acre. The first year's crop clears the land! There are yet thousands of acres in this wonderful valley—as rich as any soil in the world—that have never been put under cultivation. They await but the touch of the plough to bring forth immense harvests of golden grain.

Golden Saskatchewan!

Though provided with ample rainfall, the Last Mountain Valley is a land of almost continuous sunshine, where health abounds—a climate that builds vitality. Pulmonary diseases or epidemics of any kind are unknown here.

Railroads Galore!

You don't need to live "forty miles from nowhere," either, or "next door to civilization." You are "inside" of civilization. Seven great railroads already serve this district. More railroad building is going on here than in any other part of Canada. In 1910 one-third of the Canadian Pacific's construction was here. The Canadian Northern is now building another road into the heart of the Last Mountain Valley.

400,000 Homeseekers Coming!

Last year 200,000 homeseekers came to Western Canada. The present year, according to immigration authorities, will see 400,000 people settled on the land, and making homes for themselves and their families. Western Ontario will soon be as densely populated as the best agricultural districts of Ontario. Land prices are going up every day. Those who buy now will get the benefit of the advance.

Our Prices Lowest—Our Terms Most Liberal!

We have over 175,000 acres of the finest unbroken wheat land in the world, near towns and on railroads in the Last Mountain Valley. We have a list of land bargains such as were never before known. Our prices are absolutely the lowest, and we sell on small, easy payments. No other colonization company can hope to meet these terms and prices, because none can buy land now in such enormous tracts.

Always Delivers the Goods!

Our belief in the Last Mountain Valley is not a "make-belief." We believe in the Last Mountain Valley because we know it. We know it when it was a grassy wilderness, when there was hardly a bushel of wheat grown within its whole area. We have watched it year by year for eight years, until now it has become widely known in Eastern Canada, England and the United States as the best wheat-growing district in America.

The Highest Bidder

A Washington Birthday Story

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

The old house looked grim and cold in the chill light of the February day. The gray clouds lowered over its mossy roof, and the naked elms creaked dismally in the bitter wind. The small porch was on a line with the ancient fence and the land stretched away in the rear—gnarled old fruit trees, acres of wornout pasturage and a line of dark cedars against the horizon.

Austin Ely and his bride descended from the station stage that had brought them to the steps of their future home. Their trunks were dumped in the small porch, the box of supplies that Austin had prepared are they left the city stood at the door, and the stage rolled away with the driver peering curiously back at them over his fur clothed shoulder.

Austin looked up and down the lonely road with its scattering of equally dismal houses and shivered. He bent down and gathered his wife into his strong young arms. "Dorothy, dear, what sort of a place is this to bring you to?" he demanded wrathfully. "A poor beggar like me ought never to marry. Well, you know, dear, it isn't fair to you to start out in this old rookery!"

Dorothy placed her gloved hand over his lips. "I won't hear a word against your Uncle Bob's legacy. Just think of owning and occupying the oldest house in the state! Why, tradition says George Washington slept here once when it was the best known tavern on the post road. Do get out that huge brass key and let us go in. It is bitterly cold out here!"

Austin brought out the key and thrust it in the lock. "If you had only let me come on ahead and open up the old place, Dorothy—have it partly furnished and a warm fire for you"—

"Tut, tut!" admonished Dorothy, crowding into the narrow hall in his wake. "You know very well I'm perfectly crazy over old houses, and I would never forgive you if you denied me the pleasure of rummaging out the old stuff in this place. Oh, isn't that the dearest old room, and see, Austin, the enormous fireplace!" She waltzed gayly across the uneven floor, her teeth chattering with the cold.

Her husband forced up the small paned windows and threw back the heavy wooden shutters, letting in the cold light of day. It was a long low room, the walls hung with an ancient striped paper. The furniture was very old, and its possession would have made a collector wild with joy. A pair of long settles, a large mahogany buffet, a great round table to match with the accompanying chairs, were placed on the wide polished boards now covered thickly with dust. The large fireplace contained brass andirons, and on the chimneypiece were brass candlesticks—a long row of them—a dozen in all.

"Let's have a fire at once," suggested Dorothy eagerly. "We can make this room our headquarters till we are settled."

"It will be fine and dandy when spring comes," said Austin dubiously, "but I don't know what you're going to do in the meantime, Dorothy. Here it is the 22d of February, and April is a long way off. Won't you be lonely?"

Dorothy smiled away his wistful glance. "Lonely where you are?" she said. "And, besides, think of all the chickens we're going to raise and of all the money you're going to make next summer with your eggs and your broilers!"

"If we only had $300," he sighed, "everything would come out all right."

"Come to the garret with me and see if we can't find another small table for the south window. I can sit there and sew while you're writing at the big secretary I think you're going to drag in here from the hall."

Together they mounted the steep stairs to the low attic, redolent of cedar shingles, where innumerable wasps crawled stickily to and fro.

"There are chests and chests and chests! Let me peep inside this old hair covered one, Austin; I'm sure it belonged to some eighteenth century belle. No, I'm not a bit cold. How could I be with these great warm chimneys jutting out into the garret? Ah!"

Dorothy's ecstatic cry was echoed by Austin's prolonged whistle of amazement at the beautiful garments divulged by the lifting of the lid of the hair trunk.

"Two white wigs—one for you and one for me!" she cried delightedly, tossing one to him and placing the other, a towering erection of puffs and curls, over her own sleek hair.

Austin crammed on his wig just in time to see his wife's rosy face blazing at him from under the whiteness of the other. Simultaneously they burst in stately greeting.

"Good morrow, Mistress Washington," said Austin mischievously.

"Ah, Mr. Washington!" Dorothy dipped a splendid courtesy and suddenly turned to the chest. "Oh, let us put on these perfectly gorgeous garments, Austin. We might as well enjoy ourselves until the man brings the coal."

Dorothy slipped into a blue brocade, admired the towering mass of white curls above her forehead and waited while Austin arrayed himself in the same manner. "We are frightfully foolish, I know," she said, rather wearily, "but I simply must do something interesting or I shall be horribly homesick tonight."

"Then let us go down and eat our supper in these things," suggested Austin hastily. "Don't be homesick, Dorothy; please don't, or I shall be tempted to weep on your shoulder and throw up the chicken business altogether."

Dorothy paused before him, looking very lovely in her ancient garb, her sweet eyes serious and thoughtful. "Austin Ely, tell me truthfully, did you want to go into the chicken business or are you merely doing it to provide a home for me?"

Austin walked over and kissed her face. "I'll confess to a weakness for the city," he admitted sheepishly. "I wasn't cut out for a farmer, Dorothy, although I do love to be with you all day long here in the country. There is something about the life and bustle of the city that calls me. I wish we might keep this for a country home and live as we always have done, in town during the winter."

"Some day we will," encouraged Dorothy, with her sweet smile. "Let us go downstairs."

All at once the great knocker on the front door was lifted three times and a resounding racket echoed through the sparsely furnished house.

"Who can that be?" gasped Dorothy as she drew near her husband.

"Some neighbor," he assured her as he led the way down to the lower floor. While Dorothy lighted the bayberry candles and set the table for supper Austin went to the door and flung it open.

There at the curb throbbed and pulsated a monster touring car. In it were three shadowy forms, while a fourth stood on the doorstep.

"Ho—the inn!" called the man on the doorstep lustily. "Let us in, good people, and show us what you can do by way of entertainment."

"This is not an inn," said Austin brusquely. "You will find a very good one at the end of this street."

"Nay, 'tis not so," corrected the other. "Many's the time I have sate here in the bar of the Blue Boar and sipped my glass o' toddy. Come in, boys; landlord says all are welcome and that he will broil chickens for us. Make haste, my man."

Austin planted his feet firmly in the doorway. "It's a cold night and you are welcome to come in and have a bite to eat, but there won't be anything to drink unless I can find some applejack."

The four entered with noisy hilarity, and it was plain to be seen that they were all in a state of semi-intoxication. They were well dressed men, and their faces were not unpleasing, though more than one of them showed signs of dissipation.

With the impression that the sooner he served these unwelcome guests the earlier he would be rid of their doubtful companionship, Austin beckoned Dorothy into the kitchen and together they concocted a tray full of refreshments that were mostly got from the provision box. A large piece of cheese, a large loaf of Vienna bread, butter, cold boiled ham and a pitcher of applejack completed a repast that brought forth a cheer from the group gathered before the dining room fire.

Suddenly they looked at Austin in his festal garments of drab velvet and cherry satin, with gray silk hose and buckled shoes, and at Dorothy peeping around the door gorgeous in blue brocade. With one accord they arose and touched their glasses.

"It's George Washington and Mistress Martha," gasped the spokesman. "Your healths and long—long—er, you know!"

With bulging eyes the four drank the toast, while Austin and Dorothy laughed until they cried. At last they returned to the dining room, where a curious sight met their gaze.

Standing in the middle of the round mahogany table, the spokesman of the party was calling for bids for its purchase. "As pretty a—bit—of colonial furniture—as ever your eyes lighted on—gentlemen. Who will start the bidding on this table, the property of the immortal George—you, Freddy? What am I offered for this table?"

"One dollar," said Freddy feebly.

"Pooh! Who will give me more to cover this insult? Cecil, you bloated bondholder, beat it up!"

Cecil solemnly entered his bid of a hundred dollars, and as if they had been waiting for this amount, the four proceeded to raise the value of the mahogany table by hundreds until it was knocked down to the languid Freddy for $1,000. From a plethoric roll he peeled off the amount and tossed it to the table, and then, forgetting the incident, he led a solemn procession from the house and into the waiting automobile.

Dorothy and her husband stared at each other across the mahogany table. "Oh, Austin—what does it mean? Were they drunk?" she asked.

"As lords," said Austin feelingly. "Tomorrow morning they will awake without the slightest recollection of what they have done tonight. I've got my work cut out for me to try to trace up that Freddy chap and give him back his money or the table. If I can't find him, why—I reckon we needn't start that chicken business till April, eh, Dorothy?"

"Don't call me Dorothy," said that young woman airily as she spread wide her brocaded skirts. "For the rest of this curious night I am Mistress Martha Washington, and you are George himself—but, oh, Austin, I do hope you won't find that highest bidder."

"I'm not likely to," said Austin, trying to look unhappy, and it is on record that they didn't start the chicken business until April was well on her way.

Except for a few bruises, Mr. Cosens had the good fortune to escape uninjured.

A young man was walking in the garden with his sweetheart, when she asked him if he would have a glass of lemonade. On going indoors she found there was only one lemon, so she told her little brother to make some lemonade, but to put water into her glass and squeeze all the lemon into her young man's glass. The young man also became aware that there was only one lemon, so he told little Willie to put the water into his glass and to squeeze all the lemon into his sister's glass. Five minutes afterwards Willie was to be seen drinking lemonade outside the door, while inside the room the lovers were sipping water and asking each other if theirs was strong enough!

THE BANNER

THE BANNER, JUNE 22, 1911.

THE CROWNING OF THE KING.

To-day the eyes of the whole civilized world are turned in the direction of its greatest city, where an event is taking place which is of the most stupendous importance. Under the British constitution "The King never dies." On the demise of a sovereign, the succession passes automatically. In years gone by Kings have been crowned on the battle field. In more recent times the coronation ceremony is invested with that pride and pomp which befits so great an occasion. Few rulers of a great Empire have been crowned under more happy auspices than King George. Britain is at peace with all the world, and has the respectful admiration of all nations. The King assumes his heavy duties with a deep sense of his responsibilities, and the knowledge of his secure position in the love and respect of his millions of subjects. To-day the historic Westminster Abbey will contain the greatest gathering the world has ever seen. Every nation with a stable government will be represented, as well as all the vast possessions of the Kingdom. The ceremony itself will be most imposing and deeply impressive. The grandeur of the occasion will only be rivalled in its sublimity. We, in Canada, will have the pleasure of having the situation described by the great writers of the age. The King has a very gracious personality, and his lovely Queen has long endeared herself to her devoted subjects. On this Coronation day we Canadians should be truly thankful to form no inconsiderably part of an Empire the greatest since the dawn of the world, and with gratitude to the Mother Land for the many advantages we have derived from her beneficent rule, devoutly exclaim, "God Save the King."

CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION

Dufferin County Conservatives will meet in Shelburne on Wednesday next, June 28th, to select a candidate for the House of Commons. The Convention is not attracting nearly so much interest as usual, and indications are that it will pass off rather quietly. Mr. John A. Best, the present representative, will of course be a candidate, and is hopeful that he will not have much difficulty obtaining the endorsation of the Convention. Some point to Archie Greer, Warden of Dufferin, as his strongest opponent and some strong party men aver without hesitancy that Greer will make a big hustle for the nomination. C. P. McKeown, who represents the constituency in the Legislature, would like to go to Ottawa, but is in the hands of the party. If the Convention is willing to give him the nomination Mr. McKeown is quite willing to represent the County at Ottawa, but he is not going to take any chance of creating discord by opposing other aspirants. Wm. McIntyre of Grand Valley, will not be a candidate and may not even attend the Convention. Ex-Warden Dyer of the West and will probably not be home in time. Mr. G. A. Heyewood, wants the nomination but is not taken very seriously outside his own division, Mr. G. M. [illegible] nce, of Shelburne, is a possible aspirant, but it is doubtful if he has any intention of [illegible] strength in the convention. While his ability is conceded, there is a feeling that he would not be acceptable to the farmers [illegible] ng, many of whom feel that at least one of their Parliamentary representatives should belong to the agricultural class.

BABY SHOW.

Mr. [illegible] all on Mrs. Fred. W. Ritchie on Mrs. Dahl, pay 25 cents, and see your little baby cherub under eighteen months old, or your older darling up to yet three years, for the Baby Show, one of the attractions of the Coronation Festival in Alma Park on Friday, July 7th. Prizes in each class will be in Bank cash, donated by Mr. John [illegible] P., and Mr. C. R. McCaig, K.C. Second prizes, silver cup (to be engraved free later) donated by Bank of Commerce, Orangeville, and Dr. A. J. Hunter. Your baby is sure to win either one of these prizes so enter soon. Two children entered from one family, 40 cents. Contest open to town and surrounding country. Judging by competent judge at 7 p.m.

GOING TO GUELPH.

Mr. W. J. Bell, Principal of Arthur Public School for the past two years, has resigned to accept a principalship in Guelph. Speaking of his resignation The Arthur Enterprise says:—"During the period in which Mr. Bell has held over the school here, his work has been entirely satisfactory, and he is generally regarded as one of the best teachers we have ever had and certainly Guelph's board of education has good reason for self congratulation in securing his services. As citizens of the town, both Mr. and Mrs. Bell were held in high esteem and their intended departure is regretted by a large circle of friends, all of whom will wish them every success in the Royal City."

Mr. Bell, who is a son of Rev. J. R. Bell, of Laurel, is a former member of Orangeville Public School staff.

—Strawberries and Ice Cream will be a special delicacy. This booth will be in charge of Mrs. Hulse, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Appleby, and Mrs. Lugsdin will have a booth of homemade candies at the Coronation Festival on July 7th next.

NOT A CANDIDATE.

Mr. James Curry Not Likely to Seek Nomination in Dufferin.

Rumor has been busy for the last two months with the name of Mr. James Curry, a wealthy Toronto real estate and mining broker, as a possible candidate for the honor of representing the County of Dufferin in the House of Commons. Mr. Curry is a native of this County and has many friends and acquaintances here, who think he is the type of man who would make a useful representative. Possessed of immense wealth and a man of great energy and exceptional business ability, they point out that he has the qualities that would bring success and distinction in the arena of state politics. In view of the prevalent rumors a representative of The Banner called on Mr. Curry in Toronto last week and interviewed him regarding the likelihood of his candidature. To the newspaper man he admitted that he had been approached by influential Dufferin County electors and strongly urged to stand for the Commons. Mr. Curry added that a political career had its attractions and stated frankly that he would consider it a great honor to go to Ottawa as the representative of the electorate of his native County. At the same time he felt that for the present, at any rate, his extensive business interests required so much of his time and attention that it would be quite impossible for him to accept a nomination for any constituency. Mr. Curry, we understand, has been repeatedly urged to allow his name to go before the Conservative Convention as a candidate for one of the Toronto constituencies, but has always steadfastly declined the proffered honor. While not in a position to enter politics just now, Mr. Curry stated that at some future time he would be delighted, should the opportunity offer, to have the pleasure of accepting a nomination for the Commons from the Conservative party of his native County. He added, moreover, that he expected to acquire important financial interests in the County in the near future. This would naturally bring him into closer touch with the people of Dufferin and enable him to become thoroughly conversant with their views and requirements from a public standpoint.

THE TOWN COUNCIL.

Local Lawmakers Held a Short Session on Monday night.

The Town Council held a short and rather uneventful meeting on Monday night. A number of accounts were presented for consideration. Those passed were as follows:—

Fuller, Allen & Holmes, $50.50; John Matson, $9; George King, $20.16; William Forbes, $4.95; John Gough, $18; Josias McIlroy, $15.67; Thomas Campbell, $18.30; British American Oil Co., $36.87; White & White, $10; Sarah King, $15.

A communication was received from the British American Oil Company regarding the application of the Vulcan Road Oil that the Council ordered a short time ago for the purpose of laying dust on the streets. The following extract from the letter will be of interest:—

"In reference to putting on the oil would say that it is a very simple proposition. You can either put it on using an ordinary watering cart or by means of a hand sprinkling can. In fact, for a limited quantity like ten barrels you could get a man to cover the roadway, using a hand sprinkler and do it more effectively than any other way. It should be sprinkled on when the road is dry at the rate of about 1500 gallons per mile of say 14 feet in width. Enough should be put on to thoroughly saturate the ground for the first application. After that it will not require as much. What slight distillate odor there is soon passes off. Unless the dust is very heavy it is just as well to leave it on as it then gets saturated with the oil and the heavy traffic works it right down into the road and makes a good, solid, smooth road out of it. Of course where there is a good deal of dust on the road it naturally takes a little more oil."

The Industrial Committee was instructed to report on a suitable site for an Armoury, which it is proposed to build in Orangeville.

The Fire and Water Committee was given authority to purchase some supplies for the Fire Brigade.

The Streets Lighting Committee was given leave to instal five extra street lamps at points where the committee considers they are most needed.

School Inspector Gordon's annual report was read and referred to the Education Committee.

The more important communications were as follows:—

From the County of Halton, asking the Council to join in memorializing the Legislature to pass legislation that will oblige railway companies to bear their fair share of the cost of investigating accidents on their lines.

From S. R. Brill respecting connections between the Bell Telephone system and independent companies, and suggesting that the Provincial Government be urged to take steps to acquire the Bell System, or else construct a trunk line of its own.

From Major Gabriel and Capt. McCausland, Commanding Officers of Shelburne and Orangeville Companies of the 36th Regiment, asking for the usual grant of 25c. a day to the members of the two Companies while attending Camp at Niagara. Mr. T. F. E. Clarridge made application for a similar grant to the members of the Regimental Band.

From R. E. Hamilton, of Grand Valley, inviting the Council to memorialize the Lieutenant-Governor in Council to prohibit the killing of deer in the County of Dufferin for a period of three years.

S. McDonald, W. H. McCutcheon, and twenty other ratepayers of Union S. S. No. 9, Mulmur, and S. S. No. 16, Mono, are asking the Council to appoint arbitrators to divide the section.

C. G. Cook and five other Amaranth ratepayers are asking the Council to appoint arbitrators to rearrange the boundaries of S. S. Nos. 7, 9, and 11, Amaranth. The petitioners applied some time ago to the Amaranth Council, which refused to take any action.

In his address to the Council, Warden Greer made reference to a number of matters of more than ordinary interest. The address was referred to a special committee consisting of Dr. Campbell, J. Large and Wm. McGhee.

Yesterday morning Rev. G. A. Rix, Rev. W. M. Morris, Rev. Dr. Harper and Mr. G. A. Campbell addressed the Council on the subject of a House of Refuge. The deputation seemed to think that the House of Refuge could be run in connection with the County Gaol, with one set of officials for the two institutions.

The matter was referred to a Special Committee consisting of Messrs. Campbell, Anderson, McIntyre, McGhee, McKee, Bryan, Large and Mitchell. The Committee will probably report during the present session.

JAMES WOODLAND DEAD.

Treasurer of Mono Township Succumbs to Appendicitis After Brief Illness.

Terribly sudden was the death of Mr. James Woodland, Treasurer of Mono township, who passed away on Saturday morning after a short illness from appendicitis. Mr. Woodland spent Monday prior to his demise helping to operate the township road grader. When he returned home in the evening he complained that he did not feel very well. He seemed better on Tuesday, but becoming worse again on Wednesday his physician advised an immediate operation for appendicitis. This was performed by Dr. Groves, of Fergus, Wednesday night, but after hovering between life and death for two days the stricken man passed away about nine o'clock Saturday morning. Mr. Woodland, who was about 55 years of age, was a native of Mono, having been born on the farm where he died. He was a successful farmer, and had one of the finest properties in the section in which he lived. As a citizen he was public-spirited and occupied a prominent place in the public affairs of the community. He had filled the office of Treasurer of the Township of Mono for ten or eleven years, and was regarded as a painstaking, conscientious and thoroughly competent public servant. He was a Director of the Dufferin Agricultural Society, in which he took a very active interest and was also a member of the Board of Directors of the Dufferin Mutual Fire Insurance Company, and was a member of the [illegible] and had been one [illegible] St. George's Church [illegible] for years. He was also [illegible] staunch Conservative and affiliated with the Orange societies. In his [illegible] Woodland was a [illegible] the respect and confidence [illegible] one. He was devotedly attached to his home and family, who [illegible] fered an irreparable loss in his sudden and unexpected demise. He leaves a widow, three sons, Joshua, John and Arthur, and two daughters, Katie and Ethel, all living at home; W. H. Woodland, of Winnipeg, is the only surviving brother. The sisters are Mrs. W. D. Allen, Brentwood; Mrs. E. A. Robinson and Mrs. Herbert Stuckey, Orangeville. The bereaved relatives have the heartfelt sympathy of the whole community in their great grief that has overtaken them. The funeral, which was held from his late home on the 2nd line, Mono, to the Forest Lawn Cemetery, on Tuesday afternoon, was one of the largest witnessed in Mono for many years. There were nearly [illegible] red rigs in the procession to the cemetery, the line of vehicles being considerably over a mile in length. Members of Orangeville and Mono Mills A. O. U. W. were present in full regalia. Interments were made in the cemetery of Dufferin County. Interment services were conducted by the Masonic fraternity, Rev. W. [illegible] of Mono East Parish, officiating, assisted by Rev. G. A. Rix, rector of St. Mark's church, Orangeville. The pallbearers were Messrs. John, Albert and Fred. McBrien, and Thos. Bennett of Mono, and Messrs. E. A. Robinson and Herbert Stuckey, of Orangeville. Among the many beautiful floral tributes were a pillow from the Clerk and Staff of Mono township; a pillow from the Dufferin Agricultural Society; [illegible] from the Directors of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company, an anchor from Mr. and Mrs. Halbert, Science Teacher, St. Collegiate, Toronto; [illegible] from Mr. and Mrs. Stuckey; [illegible] Mrs. E. MRS. JOHN H[illegible]BERT.

The death of Mrs. John Halbert, one of the old and widely known residents of Mono, occurred at her home on lot 22, 5th line, east, on Monday, June 11th, after a lengthy illness. Deceased lady was a native of Tyrone County, Ireland, her maiden name being Mary Anderson. She was born in 1826 and was therefore in her 84th year when overtaken by death. She was married to Mr. Halbert in her native County in 1846. Rev. Andrew Christie, a rector of the Anglican Church, being the officiating clergyman. Shortly after their marriage the young couple set sail for Canada, arriving in this country in 1846. Travelling was difficult in this section at that early date, and when they reached Toronto Mr. Halbert left his wife there and started out afoot for Mono. Reaching his destination, the home of William Mayland, one of the pioneer settlers, he procured a yoke of oxen and returned and journeyed back to Toronto to bring out his wife and household effects. Arriving in safety Mr. and Mrs. Halbert made their home with Mr. Mayland until the following spring when they settled on lot 11, 1st line, or so later they moved on to lot 23, con. 5, where they resided. Mrs. Halbert survived her husband, who departed this life about ten years ago. She is survived by three sons and three daughters, namely Hanna Halbert,

The officers and members of St. James' Church, Primrose, spent a very enjoyable evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Little, Elba, on Friday evening, June 9th, when they presented their daughter, Miss Emily (now Mrs. R. J. Small) with a most beautiful oak writing cabinet and rocking chair, accompanied by an address. After the presentation refreshments were served. The company to the number of about sixty, further enjoyed themselves in speech-making, music and dancing until quite a late hour, when they dispersed well pleased with the evening's entertainment, enjoying the ride home by the sweet silvery light of the moon. The address was as follows:

To Mrs. R. J. Small.

On behalf of the congregation of St. James' Church, Primrose, we extend to you our heartfelt congratulations, on your marriage and wish to you at the outset of your married life every joy and every happiness. May the future have for you and your husband many years full of connubial brightness and life's prosperities. May the presence of the Almighty overshadow you and your husband along all life's pathway. Signed on behalf of the congregation: Mrs. John Wilson, Mrs. James Thompson, Committee; W. J. Henry, Samuel Hicks, Church Wardens.

McFADDEN—ROWE.

A pretty house wedding took place on Wednesday, June 7th, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Rowe, when their second daughter, Elda May, was united in marriage to Mr. George McFadden. Promptly at 5 o'clock the bridal couple took their places under a floral arch on the verandah, where the ceremony was performed in the presence of eighty guests by the Rev. Mr. Phalen, pastor of Cook's Presbyterian Church, Berkeley. Miss Elvie Matson, cousin of the bride, played the wedding march. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attired in white embroidered mulle with suitable lace trimmings. Her veil, which was of tulle, was crowned with cream roses and maiden hair fern and she carried a shower bouquet of white carnations.

Little Marguerite McFadden, niece of the groom, made a charming flower girl and was gowned in white silk overlaid with lace.

The groom's gift to the bride was a gold watch and to the flower girl a gold bracelet.

After the reception a dainty dejeuner was partaken of in the dining room, which was tastefully decorated with plants and cut flowers.

The bride's going away suit was of dark brown San Toy with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. McFadden will reside at Pleasant Valley.

Mercer and Mrs. John Watson, Owen Sound; Miss Margaret Lackey, Orangeville; Miss Lizzie Robinson, Andy Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. Thos. HIS FIRST EXPERIENCE.

Former Camilla Boy Tells How He Killed a Bear.

A Homesteader's Adventure in Northern Alberta.

The following interesting experience is told in a letter to The Banner by Mr. Fred W. Rayfield, a former Camilla boy, who is now homesteading near Edson, Alberta:—

Heatherwood, Alta., June 9, 1911.

As the days for bear-hunting, bear excitement and bear stories are past in Ontario, I thought the following imperfect and prolix account of my experience with one in Alberta might be of interest to some readers of The Banner.

Before starting to tell about this particular bear I might say, when I moved to my homestead near Edson, Alta., in April, the roads were in such a deplorable condition I did not get out to my destination until late in the evening. A neighbor, who lives near, with that generosity which is characteristic of pioneers, asked me to spend the night with him, and pitch my tent next day.

A friend of his from the Emerald Isle, and a homesteader of a year's experience also spent the night with us. The latter spent the whole evening telling the most thrilling bear stories. Stories of bears tearing tents to shreds, breaking in through settlers windows and doors, of their stealing homesteaders' provisions and committing all kinds of depredations. Entertaining as these stories would be to any one not likely to meet a bear, they had a depressing effect upon me, and I was almost deciding to turn back to safer quarters. Afraid of losing a neighbor my genial Irish friend said all these wonderful things had happened last year and since the construction of the railway and further settling of the country, the bears would go back to the more unsettled districts. Thinking this quite logical, and feeling assured no harm would come, I pitched my tent, resolving to live in it until the roads were good enough to get out lumber to build a shack.

All went well for some weeks and I felt the bear stories of Paddy were all his make up. At last one wet afternoon I approached the tent with rake and hoe. When a few yards from the tent there was Mr. Bear, as large as a barn of course. He took a look at me and then started off into the woods at a peculiar clumsy gait. There is something in the first sight of a bear, which makes one's lower jaw drop, and tongue cleave the top of one's mouth. However, after he was well out of sight I found my voice and was able to shout "Shoooo oo."

I borrowed a rifle for the evening, saw the bear, but was unable to shoot. Next morning he was around again. Plainly I must purchase a rifle, so I bought a great old Army rifle. As I carried the huge weapon through town several asked what I might need such a gun for. When I told them everyone said I must bring in a piece of bearsteak, as it was such fine meat.

The gun felt heavy before I had carried it three miles, but at last I reached my destination. That evening I loaded it full and retired, feeling as safe as if in a stone mansion. When I awoke about 6 o'clock and turned over I heard the noise as of the tramping of a large animal. Getting out of bed as quietly as possible and taking the rifle, I went and looked out of the tent. There he was about twenty-five yards away, his nose showing in front of a tree and his shoulders between two others. I raised the rifle. Now was the crisis! Some said wounded bears were very vicious. Some said they would live and fight with a bullet in the heart. Others told me no one could depend on Army rifles, as the cartridges were old. All these were settled in a moment. I pulled the trigger, bang! While reloading I watched. Plainly he was wounded in the shoulders. He tried to walk on all fours, but could not and struggled out of sight on his hind legs. With more haste than care, I put on a few clothes and my shoes, and armed with the rifle and hatchet started in pursuit. Before going thirty yards I came upon him apparently quite dead. Fearing he might not be I shot twice again into his head. As he did not move I felt sure he must be dead, so went and examined him. He was a rather small black about 5 feet 5 inches from tip to tip, and in his emaciated condition would weigh 100 pounds.

I borrowed my neighbor's team of horses to take him to town. The horses snuffed, pawed, and became greatly excited at the smell and look of his bearship. Clearly it was not safe to start to town with them. Remembering a new settler had left—or as we say in our Western vernacular—cached a team of oxen near, I started to search for them. After looking for some time in the subdivisions of Edson, known as "Commercial Centre," and "Edson Gardens," I found the oxen, hitched them to the wagon and started to town. The road is down Arlington Street, which is a pretty name for a most dreadful road. However we dangled along over stumps two feet high, and mud and water to the axles. When near town I had to cross a ravine. Decidedly the long-necked oxen could not go down hill with the short-tongued wagon. A stick through the hind wheels was all that was necessary and we descended safely. The first spectators were a Polish shoemaker and some German immigrants. They grunted and questioned, as "Big fellow," "You shoot him?" It was just 12 o'clock when I passed the school, so asked the children to come and see a bear. Several little heroes got sticks and ran on ahead to see him first. I had to tell the whole story. As I proceeded with the wagon a great troop followed to tell all about it and ask the citizens to come and see "a great big black bear." Several mothers brought out their small children, and hearing some cry I thought some cruel mothers teach their children more about bears than is necessary or wise. As I went down Main street the crowds, returning to work, all came to see Mr. Bruin. I was much surprised to hear the diversity of opinion. Some said he was very large, some said very small. Some said it was an old one, and some a last year's cub. Some said there was a large bounty for shooting them and others a fine for killing furbearing animals. Everyone was talking bears and how many they had killed in Prince Edward Island, the Bermudas, Peelee Island or other most improbable places. Though Edson is not a very large town I was more than an hour going through, and at every street corner answered the same catalogue of questions. However I got down near the station, put in the oxen, and went to dinner feeling myself quite a hero. After dinner I went to my several friends to see what part of the carcase they would like. One said he was much too thin, another that his meat was no good as he had not been bled. Another averred that as he had just awakened from his long winter's sleep he would be as "tough as Paul Bunyan's blue ox." Still another "mild mannered man" gave me a recipe for curing the meat—a very hard recipe indeed to follow, as I was situated more like Robinson Crusoe than a meat packer. I smiled at the clever way my friend evaded keeping his promise. By now there was only a few minutes till the train left, so I threw my prize over my shoulder, took him to the depot, and following the advice of a friend, I sent him to a taxidermist. It was now getting late and I started home with the oxen, arriving there as the sun was setting behind the mountains. I was very pleased to have the honor of killing the first bear in this part this year, but resolved to move to safer quarters until I could erect a bear-proof house, a work on which I am now engaged—a house characterized by little beauty, great strength, and having loop holes to the four winds.

The destruction of the house fly is a public duty. Almost every American State Board of Health is carrying on a crusade against him.

His filthy origin and habits, and the fact that his body is generally laden with disease-producing germs, makes him one of the greatest enemies of the human race.

If the housekeepers of Canada will use persistently, this peril would be tremendously reduced.

WILSON'S FLY PADS

A FATAL ACCIDENT.

Robert Kennedy, Amaranth, Instantly Killed by Runaway Team.

Robert Kennedy, a well-known prosperous farmer, of Amaranth, was instantly killed in Grand Valley about one o'clock on Thursday, by being run over with a wagon. He and his son, William, drove up to Wm. Clarridge's barn for a box, and the young lad had moved most of the chop on the wagon well towards the front to make room for the box. Something started the horses which started down the grade, and the father noticing that the lines had fallen over the whiffletrees grabbed the horses heads. By the time they reached the sidewalk they were going at a good rate, and Mr. Kennedy lost his footing and fell in front of the wheels, which passed over the lower part of his stomach. He uttered no cry, just raising his elbows and fell back dead.

The horses continued their mad rush to J. K. Hamilton's stable where they upset the rig, and were soon caught. The son, not seeing his father in front of the horses, was not aware of the fatality until after the horses were brought up. The remains were taken to Undertaker Woods, and prepared for burial. Coroner Berwick decided an inquest unnecessary.

Mr. Kennedy was 61 years of age and was born in Kitely township, near Brockville, coming to Amaranth about 41 years ago. He was one of those quiet, industrious, persevering men, who succeed in spite of great obstacles. He was a loyal Orangeman, a member of Bowling Green Lodge, which attended the funeral in a body. Besides his widow, he leaves one daughter, Ma. Ad. Walker, and one son, William—and three brothers, Edward and Joshua, of Greenbush, and William, of Grand Valley, who were both at the funeral.—Star & Vidette.

New Health and New Strength for Suffering Women

Aching Backs, Tired Limbs and Splitting Headaches Need Not be Endured.

In silent patience nearly every woman endures suffering that casts a shadow over half her existence. An aching back, tired limbs, attacks of faintness, and headaches and backaches need not be part of a woman's life. Such trials indicate plainly that the system requires the new blood that is supplied through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills are valued by suffering women who have used them above all other medicines, because they give the rich, red blood that makes women well, bright and at their best. Mrs. Fred Collard, Poplar Point, Man., says: "I can give you but a very small estimate of the suffering I endured before I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After the birth of my first child I suffered intensely from ailments that too often afflict my sex. This was complicated by an attack of bleeding piles, and the agony of the days and nights I endured is almost past comprehension. I tried many remedies, but they did not help me in my trouble, and from a healthy young woman weighing 140 pounds I fell away in weight to 95 pounds. I grew so weak I could hardly walk across the floor, and there were times I hardly knew what I was doing so great was my agony. I went to Brandon and consulted a doctor who said that nothing would help me but an operation for both my troubles, and that I would have to remain in the hospital for at least eight weeks. Being a farmer's wife I felt that this was impossible, and while in Brandon I met a friend who strongly urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, telling me that they had cured her trouble similar to mine, after an operation had proved of no benefit. She had such strong faith in them that she gave me the first box, and I began using them. It was not long before I had found much relief. I continued to use the Pills all the rest of that summer, and the result was they restored me to perfect health. I told the doctor what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had done for me, and his reply was that he considered what they had done for me little less than a miracle. I have since recommended the Pills to many others who have suffered from woman's troubles, and they always produced beneficial results. I hope that this statement will be of benefit to some other suffering person."

These Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

God-likeness certainly cannot include any harmful gossip, any unclean or unholy conversation, any disloyal or rebellious words. Let such things be put far away from all who name the name of Christ in sincerity and in truth. And let us remember daily to settle our accounts with the Lord, to make sure that no record of idle words, unrepented of, and consequently unforgiven, stands against us. If daily we render up our accounts to God and seek his grace for greater overcoming power with each succeeding day, we shall be acquitted in judgment and stand approved before God through Christ, having the testimony of his Holy Spirit with our spirits that we are pleasing and acceptable to him.—Pastor Russell.

Many have so little faith that they do not look for more light, and because al their unfaithfulness and unconcern, they are permitted to sit in darkness, when they might have been walking in the increasing light.—Pastor Russell.

AT DEATH'S DOOR FROM KIDNEY DISEASE

SAVED ONLY BY "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

CLARENCEVILLE, ONT.

"Two years ago, the doctor made forty-four calls on me, and then said he had done all he could for me. I was suffering with intense Kidney Trouble and Inflammation had set in. Two other doctors were consulted and agreed that nothing could be done to help me.

On the recommendation of a neighbor, I took "Fruit-a-tives" and they cured me. To-day, I take "Fruit-a-tives" as my only medicine. I am in excellent health, and "Fruit-a-tives" is the medicine that cured me after I had been at Death's Door for months.

I am glad to be able to give you this testimonial. It may benefit some other woman suffering as I suffered, as I believe that I would not be alive to-day had I not used "Fruit-a-tives".

GUNS TO SHOOT BUILDINGS INTO PLACE.

Novel Plan Proposed to Build Skyscrapers with Rapid Fire Guns Which will Fire Cement and Sand—Stork Beats the Reaper this Summer—New Elevators to House Expected Harvest.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Montreal, June 12th, 1911.—While skyscrapers have shot up here in the past to such an extent that an eight story building has been erected in forty-eight working days, they will instead of shooting up be shot up in the future, if a recent invention makes good. This does not mean, however, that wild west scenes will be enacted in the tall buildings here but merely that a new rapid fire method of construction has appeared which may smash all building records existing at present. So great is the demand for quick work that it is actually proposed to shoot walls into place with a rapid fire gun. The present cement mixer, it is claimed, is to give way to the cement gun which will shoot liquid cement into place by means of compressed air twenty-four times as rapidly as is possible under the present system. The gun itself consists of a long tube of great strength. Into this are admitted compressed air through a valve near the breech, and water through another valve near the muzzle. At about the point of the vent in the ordinary breech-loading cannon a tube like connection is established with a hopper. Dry cement and sand are thrown into this hopper by two men, and hare, aside from valve manipulation and directing the cement stream, the human element ends. The hopper vibrates, mixing its contents before it drops down through the tube connection. Once in the gun barrel the mixture is fed through the valve. At the muzzle a stream of water is encountered that shot forward by the compressed air mixes with the sand and cement, the whole driving out the gun with sufficient force to carry it to the desired point. As a result of this rapid fire method of construction building records never before dreamed of may soon be established here.

An analysis made by the Civic Health Department shows that infantile mortality in the city stands at about the same rate as last year, while the birth rate is on the increase.

It is in July and August that the slaughter of the innocents takes place, and it is in order to prepare a campaign of salvation for that time that the Board of Control has ordered the medical health officer to devise some means which will result in keeping down the death rate among young children.

"The best recommendation that I can give to mothers," said Dr. Laberge, "is to nurse their babies. That is the biggest and best assurance against heavy infantile mortality, and towards this end I would like to see a band of qualified nurses organized who would go into the home and give instruction to poor mothers as to the care they should take of themselves and their newly born children."

Although the harvest is many moons away preparations are already being made to look after what it is hoped and expected will be Canada's banner year in the way of crops. The millers are particularly active and extending their spheres in all directions. The International Milling Company, of Canada, which was brought into being a short time ago by the merging of the International Milling Company, Limited, of Saskatchewan, and Minnesota, and of the Canadian Cereal and Milling Company through the efforts of A. J. Nesbitt of the Investment Trust Company, report rapid progress in their plans throughout the west in the way of acquiring new elevators and enlarging mills, and say that they will be ready and waiting for the farmers when the farmers are ready with their grain. Mr. Nesbitt is abroad just now but is expected back shortly with an announcement which will be of interest to all Canadians.

A glance at the Trade and Commerce statistics, issued in the form of a very dry and dull looking blue book annually, reveals some mighty interesting facts if one has a little time to spend digesting the meaning of the long rows of figures which adorn most of the pages. There is one column in particular which is absorbingly so. It contains a list of Canada's industries and it is remarkable to notice how they multiply from year to year. The latest addition to the list is kraft paper—an importation from Sweden. It will shortly be made in large quantities in the Province of Quebec by the newly formed Wayagamack Pulp and Paper Company.

Swedish wrapping paper, or kraft tensite as it is called in scientific circles, is fast superseding other makes of paper on account of its great strength, combined with its lightness and pliability, but not until recently was it realized that Canada had at her doors everything necessary for its manufacture. To establish such a manufactory the Wayagamack Company have acquired the half century old lumber business of Alexander Baptist at Three Rivers, where a 200 ton pulp and paper mill is being erected. This gives them an area of something like 1100 square miles of the finest timber and pulp wood limits in the Province from which to draw their supply, together with unexcelled facilities for floating logs on the St. Maurice river and its principal tributaries. Up to the present a large part of this area has been virgin forest, the home of the hunter and his game. The timber is of exceptional size and stands very thickly according to the cruisers who have gone over the ground. The new mills will be erected on Baptist Island, at the confluence of the St. Maurice and St. Lawrence and, unlike most Canadian establishments, will be able to ship by water during every month in the year for there is a channel which is clear of ice at all times from there to the sea. Besides her own market Canada will now be furnishing kraft to England, Australia, South Africa, South America, and the United States, and it is expected that the new industry will prove a valuable prop to the district about Three Rivers, a district which has needed propping badly since the terrible fire of a few years ago.

Psoriasis All Over Body

Most dreadful skin disease was cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Psoriasis is a sort of chronic eczema. The itching it causes is almost beyond human endurance, and it is usually considered incurable. But this case proves that Dr. Chase's Ointment is a cure, in spite of the doctor's prediction.

Mrs. Nettie Massey, Consecon, Ont., writes,—"For five years I suffered with what three doctors called psoriasis. They could not help me and one of them told me if any one offered to guarantee a cure for $50.00 to keep my money as I could not be cured. The disease spread all over me, even on my face and head, and the itching and burning was hard to bear. I used eight boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and I am glad to say I am entirely cured, not a sign of a sore to be seen. I can hardly praise this ointment enough."

THIS IS INTERESTING.

Just a bit more on this middleman business. A rather interesting sidelight is thrown upon the cost to the consumer by some recent developments in the dressed meat trade, and which show up the middleman in a more favorable light. In the district around Toronto for forty or fifty miles out, the local butcher gets his meat supply from the city abattoirs. He does so because he can get it cheaper than buying cattle from farmers in his own locality and doing the killing himself. But the curious part of the business is that the farmer gets more for his cattle by shipping to Toronto or selling to the big abattoir than he could from the local butcher. These cattle are taken to the city, slaughtered, and the dressed meat sent back into the same locality that the cattle came from. In fact the producers of cattle in many cases get their meat supply from the city, and it may be that some of the supply may come from the very cattle which they fitged and fed for market. There are farmers thirty and forty miles out who buy their meat supply in Toronto and pay the freight because they can get it cheaper than at home. It is a curious situation, and can only be accounted for by the fact that the big abattoir can do the work of slaughtering and preparing the carcass for market so much cheaper than can the local butcher, who can only kill one or two animals at a time. The same condition of affairs has developed in the United States, with the expansion of the big packing houses. Train loads of cattle are brought hundreds of miles to the big packing centres. There they are slaughtered, and the meat sent out again over the same route to be consumed by the people in the district where the cattle were produced and by the producers themselves.—Canadian Farm.

Cod Liver Oil With the Oil Taken Out

A Triumph for Chemical Science and Pharmaceutical Skill

Oil from the liver of the cod-fish has been used as a preventative of disease and a restorative for ages.

For a long time it has been the general opinion that the medicinal value of Cod Liver Oil was the greasy, oily part itself—its only drawback being the unpalatable, fishy taste of the oil.

From the first experts have been trying to find means to make it more palatable. They used to "cut" it with whiskey—take it in wine—flavor it with lemon juice—anything to get away from that abominable fishy taste and smell.

Lots of people still take it in Emulsion form, which is nothing more than "churned" oil—broken up—but still greasy, oily and a strain on the digestion.

Doctors used to think it was the oil itself that built up the system—they were slow to find out that the oil was a distinct drawback to the medicinal principles contained in it.

Crude oil is quite indigestible, and will, in time, put the strongest stomach out of order.

A way has now been discovered to do away with the grease and the smell, and yet retain all the medicinal properties of the liver. This is done by removing the fresh oil from the new livers. The liver pulp is then reduced to the form of an extract like beef extract.

Nyal's Cod Liver Compound is simply this liver extract combined with an extract of malt and healing wild cherry. It also contains the true hypophosphites.

This combination makes Nyal's Cod Liver Compound a delicious tonic—builds up the system, and makes you strong.

Take it when you feel yourself losing your grip. It's a pleasure to take—even the children like it.

Get a bottle to-day and ward off disease. $1.00 for a large bottle. Your druggist will cheerfully recommend it because he knows all about it.

WEST LUTHER WEDDING.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Denomer, of West Luther, where their daughter Annie, became the wife of Mr. Bert Hutchison, Rev. Mr. Smith performing the ceremony. The bride entered the parlor on the arm of her brother to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Jean Richardson. The ceremony was performed beneath a beautiful arch of smilax and carnations, the bride wearing a gown of cream nun's veiling and carrying bouquet of white roses and maiden hair fern. Miss Vivian, sister of the bride, acted as flower girl, and looked quite dainty in a pink and white frock and carried the ring in a huge basket of pink and white carnations. After the happy couple had received the congratulations of their many friends all sat down to a dainty wedding supper, after which the evening was spent in games and music. Among the guests who numbered about fifty, was the bride's grandmother who is in her ninety-fifth year, and is still bright and active. The many handsome and useful gifts, which the bride received testify to her popularity among her many friends.

The happy couple left that night amid showers of rice and good wishes for their home in East Garafraxa.—Grand Valley Star & Vidette.

NEWS NOTES.

Miss Corinne Anderson, B. A., an honor graduate of Toronto University, has been engaged as teacher of moderns and history in the Mount Forest High School at a salary of $650. There were twenty-one applicants for the position.

The County Council has granted $35 for prizes for Halton exhibitors at the next Ontario Provincial Winter Fair, the money being divided as follows:—$10 to horses, $10 to cattle, $5 to sheep, $5 to hogs and $5 to poultry.

The Walkerton Electric Light and Power Company purposes building a new dam on the Saugeen, at a cost of $30,000, and to furnish electrical power for industrial purposes. The company is only asking that the sale of 100 horsepower be guaranteed.

On Wednesday evening, June 7th, at the home of Mr. T. J. Gordon, of the 10th concession, Nottawasaga, Miss Attie (the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon) was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Jas. Jardine, ex-Reeve of Nottawasaga.

Dr. R. R. Nicolle, who located in Alliston about a year ago, coming from Hastings, has just been absent from town for some days and it is rumored that he will not likely return. The Herald states that there are quite a number of people who would like to hear from the doctor as soon as he gets settled.

Thos. Biggar, proprietor of the Commercial Hotel in Elora, had an unpleasant experience while out fishing near Markdale one day recently. A tree under which he was standing was struck by lightning and a large limb being torn off struck Mr. Biggar a terrific blow on the head which rendered him unconscious for some time.

A peculiar freak of the lightning during a recent thunderstorm, says the Mount Forest Representative, was the scorching of a strip of grass about twelve feet long and seven or eight inches wide on one of the lawns off Main street at the north end of the town. At the side of the strip near one end there was also a circular spot about two feet in diameter, which was also scorched.

We advise the Protestant Christian Communions not to be content with Federation, but to go the entire length of Union, dropping all their pet ideas and acknowledging as fellow-Christians and fellow-members of the Body of Christ, the Church, all who acknowledge Jesus as their Saviour, their Redeemer, and who turn from the ways of sin, and, to the best of their ability, walk in the path of righteousness, and who make full consecration of themselves to the Lord—these are and ever should be ONE in the most absolute sense possible, both now and beyond the veil.—Pastor Russell.

CHICAGO, ILLS.—Mr. J. G. Backer, of 186 Van Buren St., a well-known wholesale dry goods dealer, states as follows:

"I have had catarrh for more than thirty years. Have tried everything on earth and spent thousands of dollars for other medicines and with physicians, without getting any lasting relief, and can say to you that I have found Peruna the only remedy that has cured me permanently.

"Peruna has also cured my wife of catarrh. She always keeps it in the house for an attack of cold, which it invariably controls in a very short time."

YOUNG TORONTOS AND EXCELSIORS.

Break Even in First Championship Match.

(From the Brampton Conservator.)

The Ontario Lacrosse Association is a real live organization. It got away to a good start on Saturday when two games in the Senior O. L. A. were played, Woodbridge at Guelph, and Young Torontos here.

Blaney McGuire, President of the new Association, was present here to start the ball a-rolling and he acted in the capacity of referee with a Mr. Smith as judge of play to assist him in his strenuous duties.

Warden McBride, Reeve of Caledon, faced the ball.

About three hundred enthusiasts were in attendance and they witnessed a first-class exhibition of lacrosse considering it was the first championship fixture of the season.

The visitors were represented by about as fast a twelve as have ever performed on Rosalea for many moons. Although it is said that only five of last year's champions who captured the famous Mann trophy, emblematic of the Dominion of Canada (C. L. A. teams barred) were playing the absentees have to go the limit to replace those who filled their shoes on Saturday. Harcourt and Long, two local boys, figured on the line-up of the blue and white. Bill is playing point, a position which suits him to a nicety, while Arthur, he of the pugilistic temperament, is holding down first defence. There does not seem to be a weak point from goal to inside home, but as with the Excelsiors, they sadly lack condition.

Charlie Mullis, Pat Haydon and Mel. Ashley are the new faces on the Excelsiors, and they strengthen the team considerably. Both Haydon and Ashley are speedy boys, while Mulliss has not yet lost his old time cunning in defence tactics. George Sproule, Burrell, Long and Sarles are those of last year's team who are missing.

It was a very warm day and the excessive heat played havoc with the players. Excelsiors forged to the front from the first of the contest and in ten minutes Charters, Davis and Ashley had each notched a goal apiece for the red and white. But before quarter time the visitor had evened matters up.

Blain put the Excelsiors one better in the early part of the second half but the Young Torontos came right back to them. David did the necessary for the home team again. Undaunted the blue and white again knotted the score. Before the half finished, however, Charters severed the knot on a pretty shot.

The locals were off like a streak in the third quarter and ran in two goals, Sproule and Davis quietly making the score 8-5. The Toronto lads scored before the whistle tooted.

In the final quarter the Young Torontos scored the only two goals, but that was enough to even up the score, 8-8.

The game was clean, the best of sportsmanship being shown by both teams. There were a few penalties but generally for minor offences.

The line-up was as follows:—

Young Torontos—Goal, W. McArthur; point, Harcourt; cover, Heal; 1st defence, Long; 2nd defence, Kirby; 3rd defence, McArthur; centre, Powers; 3rd home, Richardson; 2nd home, Gordon; 1st home, Irwin; outside, Cowan; ioside, D. Cowan.

Excelsiors—Goal, Campbell; point, Williams; cover, Marn; 1st defence, Mulliss; 2nd defence, Warr; 3rd defence, Ashley; centre, Haydon; 3rd home, Blain; 2nd home, H. Sproule; 1st home, Laird; outside, Davis; inside, Charters.

TRAGIC DEATH OF BABY GIRL.

Acton Man's Little Daughter Slips in Carriage and is Strangled.

The seven months' old baby daughter of Mr. S. M. Lasby, of the Station Hotel, met death very suddenly on Tuesday afternoon in a most unexpected manner. The little one was placed in the baby carriage, and, while the mother's attention was called to some other duty for a few minutes, the babe slipped down and through the front of the carriage and when found was caught by the neck and the little body was suspended to the floor. In this position the babe was strangled and was quite dead when taken up. The parents are grief-stricken through this sad event. During the past few months they have had a succession of trying experiences with their children. Last fall their little son was stricken with infantile paralysis, and was confined to his bed for a long period, only recently being able to walk, and is still very lame. A couple of months ago their seven year old daughter fell from the balcony to the pavement sustaining a fracture of the thigh and she is just able to be about a little. And now this crushing blow has come upon them. The sympathy of the community is extended to them in their sore affliction.—Acton Free Press.

THE CANADIAN ORDER OF FORESTERS.

The Thirty-second Annual Meeting of High Court.

The Session sWere Largely Attended—Most Representative Meeting Held in Years.

There was a large attendance of delegates at the annual meeting of the High Court of the Canadian Order of Foresters held in Toronto last week. Great enthusiasm characterized the gathering and justly so, as the year just closed was the most successful in the history of the Order, and to this may be added the fact that the delegates met for the first time in the commodious Assembly Hall of the Canadian Foresters' building, 22 College street. The new building is up-to-date and thoroughly equipped, and is a credit to the members of the local Courts, who undertook the work and carried it to so successful an issue. The magnificent structure is a tribute to the spirit of fraternity, which prevails among the members in the city of Toronto, and the result of their united efforts is a splendid object lesson to the delegates from other centres.

The sessions of High Court were presided over by the High Chief Ranger, J. A. Stewart, and all the other High Court Officers were in attendance.

After receiving reports of the High Court Officers, which were distributed to the delegates in printed form, the meeting received the various civic deputations.

The report of J. A. Stewart, High Chief Ranger, was replete with facts and figures, showing the Order to be in a most flourishing condition, maintaining and even surpassing its record for previous years.

On the 1st of January, 1910, the Order had a membership of 73,985, and there were initiated during the year 8,280 new members, being an increase of 911 over the previous year. During last year 3,663 members lapsed and 498 died, leaving the net membership at the close of the year 78,104.

The increase in the Insurance Reserve of the Order during the year amounted to $276,186.13. On January 1st, 1910, the amount on hand in this branch was $3,002,308.29, and at the close of the year $3,278,494.42.

The standing of the High Court Sick and Funeral Benefit Branch is also most satisfactory. During the year no less a sum than $147,224.96, covering 6,132 claims, was paid in this branch. The amount to the credit of this fund at the commencement of the year was $170,773.82, and at the close $207,223.20.

The report of Geo. Faulkner, High Secretary, covering the general work of the Society, was next in order, and showed in detail the large volume of business transacted through his department.

The amount of insurance premiums received during the year was $644,077.82, which with the large sum of $133,690.75, derived from interest on investments, made the total receipts in this branch $777,768.57. There were 498 death claims paid, amounting to $501,582.44, leaving the sum of $276,186.13 to carry to the reserve, which at the close of the year was $3,278,494.42.

The amount of Sick and Funeral Benefit fees received during the year was $175,863.29, and interest $7,811.05, making the total receipts in this branch $183,674.34. There were 6,132 Sick and Funeral Benefit claims paid, amounting to $147,224.96, leaving $36,449.38 to the reserve, which at the close of the year amounted to $207,223.20.

There were 78,104 members in good standing at the close of the year, carrying $78,102,000 insurance.

There were issued from the High Secretary's office, 8,123 insurance certificates and 7,483 membership certificates, or a total of 15,606, and in addition there were endorsements made on 1,629 insurance certificates.

The report of Robert Elliott, High Treasurer, showed the funds of the Order to be in a most satisfactory condition. The income in the several funds was as follows:—Insurance, $777,768.57; Sick and Funeral Benefit, $183,674.34, and General Fund, $102,899.78. Total income, $1,064,342.69. Total expenditure in these funds was $748,052.87. The surplus income over expenditure amounted to $316,289.82.

The Insurance Reserve Fund at the close of the year was invested as follows:—

Municipal and school debentures	$3,218,797.30
Dominion of Canada stock	150,000.00
Deposited in Chartered Banks	20,000.00
Current Accounts in Chartered Banks	39,697.12
	$3,278,494.42

The total assets of the Order amounted to $3,559,322.09, and its liabilities $28,517.97. Assets over liabilities, $3,530,804.12.

The report of Dr. U. M. Stanley, Chairman of the Medical Board, showed the average death rate since the commencement of the Order to be 5.22 per 1,000 of membership. There were submitted to the Medical Board during the year 10,106 applications, the largest number for any year in the history of the Order, of which 9,215 were accepted, and the remaining 891 rejected. The number of applications was 1,290 more than for the previous year.

The report of W. G. Strong, Superintendent of Organization, showed that during the year there were 8,280 initiations, as against 7,369 for the previous year, an increase of 911.

At the close of the year there were 1,069 Courts in the Order, representing a membership of 78,104. There were 517 Courts in Ontario, 180 in Quebec, 56 in Nova Scotia, 71 in New Brunswick, 14 in Prince Edward Island, 65 in Saskatchewan, 37 in Alberta, 17 in British Columbia, and 112 in Manitoba.

Quite a battle was fought in selecting the next place of meeting, and, after a number of votes were taken, it was decided to hold the meeting in the city of Hamilton, Sault Ste. Marie being a close second, and the historical city of Quebec being third.

Mr. J. A. Stewart was re-elected High Chief Ranger by a vote of 973, as against 187 obtained by his opponent, Mr. T. W. Gibson, Deputy Minister of Mines for Ontario. This is the eighth time Mr. Stewart has been elected the head of the order. Mr. J. A. A. Brodeur was re-elected High Vice-Chief Ranger by a majority of 258 over Mr. David Allan, of Grimsby. Mr. J. P. Hoag was elected High Secretary in place of Mr. George Faulkner, and Mr. Robert Elliott, High Treasurer, Mr. W. L. Roberts High Auditor, Mr. Wm. Walker, High Registrar, were elected by acclamation.

The Executive Committee elected are:—A. P. Van Someren, Saskatoon; W. M. Couper, Montreal; N. J. Stevenson, Toronto; R. T. Kemp, Listowel, and A. R. Galpin, London.

The High Chaplain of the order, Rev. W. J. West, M.A., of Bluevale, was re-elected.

Beautiful Laces at 5c. per yard at Ritchie's.

Pure candy is good for children. Pure sugar is good for grown people. Of course there are exceptions to every rule. If the doctor prescribes a diet and orders a patient to refrain from sweets the patient is bound to obey his adviser. What is the use of calling a physician and paying him for suggestions if the latter are treated with indifference? People in ordinary health need not be afraid to gratify an appetite which craves sweets. Those who have looked into the matter have been telling us lately that soldiers on the march hold out better if they have rations of sugar than if their food omits this useful commodity. A fondness for sugar is often a defense against the temptation to use alcoholic stimulants. The inebriate does not care very much about pure sweets.—Christian Herald.

The Age of Linen.

It is highly probable that the manufacture of linens is of greater antiquity than that of silk. Archaeologists generally admit that the mummy cloth of the most ancient dynasties was a variety of finest linen. The Egyptian and Jewish priests wore it at all their ceremonies. We find mention of fine linens all through the Old and New Testaments. When the queen of Sheba visited Solomon she was habited in linen. In Revelation the angels are clothed in "pure and white linen." Genesis tells us that Pharaoh arrayed Joseph in vestures of fine linen. Silk is mentioned in the Bible only four times.

The Mystic Seven.

A certain food father sent his son to the University of Pennsylvania last fall. As a farewell piece of advice he told the young man that "his success was almost assured, since both the word success and your name contain seven letters." The midyear examinations, however, proved to be his doom, and he was compelled to return home. "Well," said his father, "didn't you keep in mind what I told you about the seven letters?"

"I did that, father," answered the boy, "but you must remember that there are also seven letters in failure."—Philadelphia Times.

Money Panic.

"What was the worst money panic you ever saw?" asked one financier of another.

"The worst money panic I ever saw," was the reply, "was when a fifty cent piece rolled under the seat of a street car and seven different women claimed it."—Exchange.

DAMMING TO REPLACE DREDGING ON ST. LAWRENCE

Norwegian Expert Suggests Novel Method of Improving National Water Route—Pay as You Enter Cars For China—An Inter-Empire Idea Exchange.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Montreal, June 19, 1911.—The scientific discussion which has been waxing warm of late as to whether it would be possible to make the St. Lawrence river an all the year round navigation stream was given a new fillip this week when Dr. Olgar Manheim, consulting engineer on rivers and harbors to the Norwegian Government, who is finishing a tour of investigation of the principal waterways of this continent, suggested that it might be more practicable to pay more attention to summer conditions on Canada's great river than wasting time theorizing about what might be done in winter.

The discussion was originally started when a report to the Government by Dr. Howard T. Barnes, Professor of Physics at McGill University, and world famous as an ice expert, was made public. Dr. Barnes said winter navigation of the St. Lawrence was quite possible. Engineers, rivermen, and others split on his opinion, some stood with him, some against. Then Dr. Manheim came along and turned the public mind to summer navigation with a brand new theory. Dr. Manheim believes that millions now spent in dredging may be saved and that the low water period in the autumn may be entirely eliminated.

"I do not know whether it has even been suggested in this country," said he, "but, I believe that regulation or conservation of the water would solve the problem far more cheaply and lastingly than by dredging. When I was in Cornwall I took a little motor boat and went up to the foot of the Long Sault rapids, where I understand it is proposed to dam the St. Lawrence for the purpose of providing water power to the towns on the Canadian and American shores. It is a gigantic proposition they have there, and one I think which might be fallowed all along the St. Lawrence as far as Montreal. I do not mean that the damming should be done particularly for water power development, but for bettering navigation. The dam at Long Sault I believe will make that part of the river into a quiet navigation stream, instead of the dangerous passage it is now. It will not divert any water from the river, but will hold it back and thus regulate the depth for miles to the westward. Works will be required at other points on the St. Lawrence; that is to say, regulating dams will have to be built to conserve the water and maintain a high enough level for the navigation of large vessels."

The progress of the New World is fleeting into the darkest part of dark old China—not on the wings of the wind, but on the wheels of a modern invention. The Chinese are nothing if not up to date these days. Ten years ago a street car would have been quite taboo in the Celestial Empire. To-day the Chinese have not only adopted them, but are demanding the very best and latest models of the Pay As You Enter type. These cars, strictly Canadian, for it was in Montreal that they were invented and first tried out, have been the one great spectacular success in city transportation since electricity has been used. Montreal alone adopted them for some time. Then Chicago, New York, Cincinnati, Toronto, in fact cities and towns all over the continent saw their value and took them up. The three strong points in favor of these cars are the close collections of fares it is possible to make, the increased receipts per car hour and a most astonishing decrease in the number of accidents. It may well be said that China is waking up.

Mr. Charles M. Hayes has completed his annual coast to coast inspection trip of the construction and maintained way of the Grand Trunk Pacific and returns to headquarters at Montreal hoping that the first through train on Canada's third transcontinental will steam into Prince Rupert about a year from now. He also says that the Pacific terminus of the road has doubled its population in the last six months, and that the municipal authorities are planning for a city of 100,000 inhabitants. Such is the faith of the Bank of Mantreal in the future of the place that they have loaned the corporation one million dollars cold cash without security to make necessary improvements.

The Grand Trunk is spending something like $5,000,000 on drydocks, terminals, car shops and foundries while capital from other sources is also counted in the millions. The Prince Rupert Hydro-Electric Company is commencing work on their water power development on the Khtada river under the direction of Mr. R. F. Hayward, general manager of Western Canada Power, and it is expected that power will be turned into the city within two years. The Western Canada Company's works are about completed and power will be transmitted to Vancouver next month. Mr. Hayward will then devote his entire time to the Prince Rupert enterprise. The Western Canada Company was started in precisely the same manner as the Prince Rupert Company, about a year and a half ago, with the same master minds of Messrs. Cahan and Hayward both. Mr. Hayward expects to develop about 15,000 horse power at first, 7,500 of which has already been contracted for, and may, if so required, develop as high as 30,000. The company owns and controls all the water power within a radius of a hundred and thirty miles of the city, and as power can only be transmitted satisfactorily about ninety miles it is evident that their's will be a monopoly for a long time to come. No money was spent in acquiring the water powers, all the vendors agreeing to take stock in the new company, so that the proceeds of bond issue of the company may be used for development purposes solely.

Mr. Hayward has a knack of developing power just a little bit more cheaply and efficiently than anybody else so that it looks as though Prince Rupert will not have to step into the class of most municipalities where high prices and extravagance are the bug-bears of corporate progressiveness. His work with the Mexican Light and Power Company, of which he was Chief Engineer during the entire construction, and with the Western Canada which he is just finishing, are proofs of this. He was associated with Mr. Cahan in both enterprises, in the former Mr. Cahan being resident director and living in Mexico for six years or more.

RAILWAYS AND DOGS.

Alike In One Respect In Sardinia That Both Are Pests

Sardinia is an island of many pests. One of them, we gather from the experience of Mr. Crawford Flitch the author of "Mediterranean Moods" is the railways. "The engine," he says, "is continually making frantic dashes for the scenery. On the line to Tortoli I made four journeys and had three accidents. On one occasion, after a car had been wrecked, the various employees gathered round the wreckage and spent the remainder of a sultry afternoon in bitterly disputing the proper apportionment of blame for the accident. As it was impossible to proceed that evening I spent the night at the railway station and enjoyed a comfort that I found nowhere else in the island."

Another peril is the dogs, who do not hesitate to attack a stranger, even when he is walking peaceably upon the highroad. "The breed is particularly ferocious, and it is said that the peasants have a way of stimulating their ferocity by tying a bladder filled with blood to the neck of a dummy man and encouraging the animal to spring at the neck and tear open the bladder."

A Famous Paris Sign.

Paris is a city of curious signboards, one of the most remarkable ones representing a tobacconist's sign at 55 Rue du Chateau-d'Eau, which has been here ever since 1870. It is riddled with holes made by the bullets of the Prussians, and the occupant of the shop states that so far as he is aware it is the only public relic of the Franco-Prussian war in evidence in the streets of Paris today.

"My sign," he added, "brings me plenty of customers. You have no idea, monsieur, of the number of English and American tourists who pass this way and drop into my place for a cigar or a box of matches merely in order to have a word with me about my bullet riddled ensegne. I wouldn't part with it for anything."—Wide World Magazine.

NOTICE TO SCHOOL TRUSTEES

As there are certain School Sections whose financial and other conditions are such that they cannot secure teachers with first or second class certificates, I am instructed by the Department of Education to state that, in case such teachers cannot be obtained, the Minister will, upon recommendation of the Inspector, approve of the appointment of a teacher with a third class certificate.

2—In cases requiring special consideration, the Minister may authorize a Board, on the Inspector's recommendation, to engage without advertisement a teacher lower than a second class.

3—In all other cases when a properly qualified teacher cannot otherwise be obtained, the Board shall duly advertise the vacancy in a paper or papers, of provincial circulation.

4—In all cases before making the recommendation the Inspector shall satisfy himself that the Board is offering as high a salary as it may be reasonably expected to pay.

5—In the case of every vacancy, in order to prevent illegal appointment, the Inspector shall require the Board of Trustees to notify him of the name and qualifications of the teacher selected.

6—Applications from School Boards will be no longer required, but the Inspector must obtain from the Trustees such information as may be required to decide any case.

AN EXCITING RACE.

Leaders Are Making Close Finish in the Free Library Voting Contest.

Liebander Bible Class Regains First Place.

The leaders in the great Free Library Voting Contest are making a close and exciting finish. Last week the Mono College School jumped into first place, polling an abnormally heavy vote. This week the Liebander Bible Class, whose lead was unchallenged until a few weeks ago, regains the premier position, but is closely followed by the Orangeville Public School. The interest that the contest has aroused is shown by the heavy vote polled during the week. In this respect the Public School made the best showing, polling 287,430 votes. Supporters of the Liebander Bible Class recorded 257,155 votes. Mono College had an off week, polling only 44,995 votes. It is a pretty safe conjecture, however, that the Monoites are not asleep, but are busy preparing for the final struggle. At present it looks like a neck and neck finish between the three leaders and everyone of them has an excellent chance of winning the coveted prize. The contest will close on June 30th, so that there will only be two more announcements of the standing made through the columns of The Banner. Next week's standing will be announced in the issue of Thursday, June 29th, and the final result will be announced in the issue of the following week. We might say that ballots may be obtained by the settlement of standing accounts as well as by making current purchases. The standing yesterday morning was:—

CORONATION SERVICES

Large congregations attended the Coronation services in the Methodist Church on Sunday. In the morning the pastor, Rev. Dr. Harper, preached a strong sermon on the Blessings of Christianity in National Life. Messrs. C. R. McKeown, M.P.P. and A. E. Annis addressed the evening congregation, the former speaking on the History of the British Nation and the significance of the Union Jack, and the latter on the Relationship between Canada and Great Britain. Mr. E. A. Warren's splendid rendition of the patriotic hymn, "God Bless King George," was an outstanding feature of the song service.

SOME EXCITEMENT THIS.

Wm. Manning, of Shelburne, had an exciting time last week for a man of his years. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights he was attending to the burning of a kiln of lime for Joseph Wattam of the Gravel Road, Melancthon. On Thursday morning about one o'clock he happened to look up and discovered a ghost all in white standing a few feet away. Mr. Manning, who is always courteous, bade his ghostship Good Morning. There was no response. The salutation was repeated and still the ghost did not reply. Mr. Manning then wanted to know where the apparition was going? He was answered by a loud roar—the noise awoke Wattam's dog, who was lying behind a nearby wood pile. Mr. Manning said sic him, and the ghost with dog after him took down the Gravel Road at a Tom Longboat clip, and passed out of sight in the darkness. On Friday Mr. Manning had another experience. He rode Mr. Siegel's mare down to his farm in Amaranth to hoe some potatoes. On the return journey he met an automobile between Mr. Rowan's house and the grist mill. The horse was frightened and made several plunges and finally fell, throwing Mr. Manning some feet into the ditch. He was not badly injured but he thinks he had excitement enough for one week for a boy of 76 years.—Free Press.

A BAD WITNESS.

A small Scottish boy was summoned to give evidence against his father, who was accused of making disturbances in the street. Said the magistrate to him:—

"Come, my wee mon, speak the truth and let us know all ye ken about this affair."

"Weel, sir," said the lad, "d'ye ken Inverness Street?"

"I do, laddie," replied his Worship.

"Well, ye gang alone it, and turn into the square, and cross the square—"

"Yes, yes," said the magistrate encouragingly.

"An, when ye gang along the square, ye turn to the right, and up into High Street, an' keep on up High Street till ye come to a pump."

"Quite right, my lad; proceed," said his Worship. "I know the old pump well."

"Well," said the boy, with the most infantile simplicity, ye may gang and pump it, for ye'll no pump me."

PRESENCE OF MIND

May Make Heroes of Physical Cowards In Time of Danger.

NOT A MATTER OF COURAGE.

It is the Sudden Impulse That Moves One to Do the Right Thing In an Unexpected Emergency—A Soldier and a Shell and a Man and a Murder.

There is a distinction to be drawn between presence of mind and courage. Persons who naturally are timid and nervous will in circumstances of great danger and excitement perform acts of heroism that would be beyond their powers on ordinary occasions. We speak of these as instances of presence of mind. But if you ask them they would tell you that an involuntary impulse rather than any premeditated course of action guided their will on the occasion. Had they time for reflection when all the threatening danger to themselves had become clear to their minds their natural timidity of character would have asserted itself and deprived them of action.

It is absence of fear that prompts the soldier under a heavy fire from the enemy's guns to go to the assistance of a wounded comrade and bring him to a place of safety, and nothing in human nature can compare with such self sacrifice. But in times of sudden emergency it is not always the bravest who act with promptitude. The following story is an instance of this:

One of our transports was returning from the Philippines with invalided men, and one morning at sea a group of officers on the deck discussed the subject of firing shells. A soldier was told by the colonel to bring an empty shell with a fuse. The colonel took the shell in his hands and, striking a match, lighted the fuse. As this slowly burned and the colonel proceeded with his address to the other officers another soldier passed the group, and the moment he caught sight of the shell he rushed forward, exclaiming, "Look out, sir; the shell is a live one!"

Then he did what never seemed to have come into the minds of any in the group of officers. He seized the shell out of the hands of the colonel and threw it into the sea. For this service he was promoted. The soldier who had been told to bring an empty shell had gone to the wrong magazine. Those who talked with the man touching this incident say that he repudiated any idea of having done a brave thing. "I don't know," he said, "what made me seize the shell out of the colonel's hand, but it came suddenly into my mind, and I did it." It is this wave of unconscious thought which constitutes true presence of mind. This will come to people of nervous and even cowardly natures.

There is of authentic record the case of a man known to be utterly deficient of courage who saved himself from a very awkward situation by an exhibition of real presence of mind. He was an Englishman and lived in a town in the midlands, where he was an organist. Late one evening he was returning home through some of the back streets, which at that hour were more or less empty of people. As he went along, however, he noticed some distance ahead of him a man and a woman walking side by side, the man's arm being around the woman's neck. Just under a street lamp the couple stopped for a moment, when the organist heard a piercing scream and saw the woman slowly falling from the man's arms. Almost before she had reached the ground the man darted away down a side street and disappeared.

When the organist came up to the woman he found, to his horror, that she was lying in a pool of blood. His first impulse was to run away and get clear of the terrible scene, but his better feelings prevailed, and he knelt down beside the poor woman to see if he could do anything for her. When he raised her head he found she was quite dead, with her throat cut from ear to ear. Beside her on the pavement lay a blood stained razor.

The organist was overwhelmed with horror. Before he could collect himself a group of people had gathered, and presently he heard expressions such as "He did it." "I tell you I saw him." "There is the razor." "The fiend! Where are the police?" "Hand him over!" It was certainly a very awkward position, as the rough character of the people might tempt them to take the law into their own hands and use him very badly. The arrival of a policeman seemed to steady his nerves for a moment, and then came a wave of inspiration that might truly be called presence of mind. He seized the dead woman's wrist and, pulling out his watch, went through the form of feeling her pulse. Then he put his hand over her heart and, turning to the policeman, said as calmly as he could: "I am sorry to say that I can be of no further service here. The poor woman is quite dead. There is no action in the heart or the pulse."

In an instant the murmurs of the crowd changed, and he heard "He's the doctor" on all sides. This was his opportunity, and, slowly rising and affecting to be in no hurry, he passed through the crowd, who made way for him. But when he got clear of the street and came to the first turning he took to his heels and ran for all he was worth. The cowardly spirit got the better of him in the end. He heard the next day that the murderer had gone straight to the police station and given himself up.—New York Press.

ODORS AND MOISTURE.

A Scheme That is Said to Improve the Sense of Smell.

"The most striking fact connected with my school career," said the prep school graduate, "was a peculiar ability on the part of our commandant to detect the faintest odor of smoke in a room on his daily inspection. The school I attended was of the military variety, and smoking was a rather serious offense. No matter how much a room had been aired or fanned with wet towels previous to the inspection, the offender was always caught.

"After I had received my finishing touches and become a citizen I made so bold as to inquire from what peculiar dispensation of providence the ability was given to detect one molecule of smoke in a hundred cubic feet of pure air. The old boy smiled and, binding me to secrecy, imparted the reason of his wonderful ability. Then he took me to a boy's vacated room and told me to wet my finger and rub my nostrils with it and sniff. Lo and behold, where before there seemed no taint in the atmosphere was now detected that smell of old tobacco smoke! Since then I have taught school myself and have used the trick occasionally, entirely for experimental purposes, however.

"I have also sought the scientific explanation, but with little success. It may, however, be somewhat analogous to the process of tasting. You know, it is impossible to taste anything that is not dissolved in water or is not a liquid itself. So the moisture on the nostrils must carry the small particles of smoke in a more or less damp state to the olfactory nerve ends and thus make the smell more apparent. At least this is the only explanation I have ever found for the phenomenon.

"The same thing can also be used for detecting other odors, and I have found it useful on a number of occasions for this purpose, both in analytical chemistry, when only a small particle of a certain material is available for analysis, and in detecting faint perfume from flowers that are ordinarily quite odorless."—Chicago Record-Herald.

COUNTING HEADS.

The First Census Was Taken by Moses In the Wilderness.

There is a record of a census in China as far back as the year 2042 B. C. and of one in Japan in the last century before Christ. Under the constitution of Solon the citizens of Athens were divided and registered in four classes, according to the amount of their taxable property or income. The Roman census was burdened with more statistics than any of these, however. It had its origin under Servius Tullius, sixth king of Rome, and was an affair of much solemnity. Every citizen had to appear upon the Campus Martius and declare upon oath his name and dwelling and the value of his property under the penalty of having his goods confiscated.

The most ancient statistical record of a census is found in the Bible. The census was taken by Moses in the wilderness, and, as shown by the first chapter of Numbers, the enumeration must have been very simple. "Take ye," says this account, "the sum of all the congregations of the children of Israel, after their families, by the house of their fathers, with the number of their names, every male by their polls; from twenty years old and upward, all that are able to go forth to war in Israel; thou and Aaron shall number them by their armies." This census was an affair that must have been soon over, lasting no longer than one day, being merely a counting of the heads of the fighting men. The women and children and cripples and the old men were not included; "neither were the Levites numbered among them." Those who did stand up to be numbered totaled 603,550.—New York World.

His Bad Break.

"Why on earth do you come to me to borrow money, Billups?" said Harkaway peevishly. "Why don't you go to Jorrocks? He's the prosperous looking member of our set."

"That's just it, Harkaway," said Billups. "Jorrocks looks so very prosperous that I am quite sure he spends every penny he makes, but you, old man—why, you dress like a man who saves his money."

P. S.—He didn't get it.—Harper's Weekly.

It Was His Own.

Shirley Brooks, the famous Punch editor, once met Charles Salamar, the composer. On being introduced to Shirley the composer said:

"I had often and often seen your face, Mr. Brooks, but I never knew to whom it belonged."

"Oh," replied Brooks quickly, "it always belonged to me."

Stronger Than Sympathy.

"I am glad to see, anyhow, that you sympathize with the under dog in this barbarous fight."

"Sympathize with 'im? Gosh, mister, all the money I've got is up on that dawg!"—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Name Tibet.

Many forms of the name Tibet sprang from the Chinese Tubar (fifth century) through the variations of Tuebet, Toboet, Thibet (1165), Tebet (1298), to Tibet (1730). The origin of the name has been variously accounted for, but the weight of historical evidence indicates that the word is derived from Tubat, a famous family name proper to several ancient Tartar dynasties, extensively used in the sense of "chief." Hodgson asserts that before the arrival of Indian teachers the people had no name for themselves or their land, and, though the present name is not, as some say, unknown in the country itself, the modern Tibetans call themselves Bod-pa and their land Bod-yul. Bod being a Buddhist appellative suggested by the Sanskrit b'ot, or bat, so working back to the Tartar name.—London Spectator.

Kean and Macready.

When Edmund Kean and Macready, intense rivals, played in the same pieces at Drury Lane it was usual to consult them in the course of the evening as to what they would appear in next. One night when the prompter was sent to ask Mr. Macready what he would play with Mr. Kean the great tragedian frowned upon him till he blushed. "Sir," he roared, "how should I know what the man would like to play?" The prompter retired to seek the desired information from Mr. Kean. "Sir," said Mr. Kean sharply, "how should I know what the fellow can play?"

Are Your Kidneys Working Properly?

It Will Pay You Well to Make Sure

There's been a lot of "guessing" about rheumatism and rheumatic pains generally, but you can be dead sure that little pain across your back came from deranged kidney action.

The kidney's duty is to filter the blood—take out the impurities collected by the returning blood stream—do it just like absorbent cotton in a funnel filters the impurities from polluted water.

When the kidneys are not working you are bound for one of two courses—Diabetes and Bright's Disease or Rheumatism, Lumbago and Sciatica. The former course is usually fatal, and the latter always painful, but you need not have either, as they both can be easily prevented.

The very best prescription for all kidney troubles is Nyal's Stone Root Compound. It is no "patent" medicine, but a scientific prescription composed of Stoneroot, Buchu, Juniper and other remedies of proved value. More than that, it has been proved by thousands who have had glad relief from its use.

There's nothing quite so miserable as the dragging results of sick kidneys. You are trifling with your own future when you neglect so simple a precaution, as a pleasant home treatment with Nyal's Stone Root Compound when results are so certain.

It soothes bladder irritation, gives you rest and comfort at night, and makes life once more enjoyable.

The kidneys, liver and bladder are all dependent upon one another, and Nyal's Stone Root Compound is particularly designed to help them all.

A STRIKING SCENE.

Vivid Word Picture of the Coronation Ceremony in Westminster Abbey.

An Event of Unsurpassed Magnificence.

The following vivid account of the Coronation of King George last Thursday is from the pen of Marie Corelli, the famous novelist:—

London, June 22.—Divinity doth hedge a King. Honor and reverence, splendor and stateliness, noble ritual and solemn observance—all these have proclaimed the fact, and grey old Westminster Abbey has seen no more impressive ceremonial than to-day's brilliant pageant.

History has never included a more striking picture in her universal lesson books; Hollinshed and Camden have written no more deeply interesting record in all their quaintly worded chronicles. Remarkable, too, is the fact that this scene of unsampled magnificence has taken place at a time when Socialism is supposed to be rampant, when a radical Chancellor of the Exchequer is breathing fire and fury against the Lords and the aristocracy generally, and when all that suggests power, place and supremacy is condemned as something akin to political crime, and when "equality for all men" is the cry.

Then, what have our millions of people been about, cheering their visible crowned head as though they were gone mad with enthusiasm? Why such frenzy and rapture for King and Queen? Why? Because Britain is loyal to the backbone, and Socialism no more than a ripple of discontent on a stagnant pool.

Never was there such proof of the fidelity of the country to the Throne and to all that the Throne signifies as the wonderful picture of our Coronation Day—the streets thronged with thousands and thousands of spectators, content to wait hour after hour to see the Royal procession; the mighty roar of cheering that greeted the monarchs as they passed to the crowning, and in the Abbey itself what a scene of splendor, packed with all the noblest in the realm, as well as with distinguished foreigners and honored guests from overseas.

It was a sight never to be forgotten. Everything testified to the grandeur and stability of the historic sway of the monarchy which has made the Empire of Great Britain.

As early as 8 o'clock in the morning the interior of the Abbey presented a gorgeous spectacle, masses of brilliant color glowing between the grey-brown Gothic arches and columns, and jewels flashing like points of light in every nook and corner. The sun refused to shine, which was the only drawback. Everyone longed for the blaze of Heaven's own radiance on such a notable scene in Britain's annals, yet the very dimness and shadow lent singular impressiveness to the wonderful effect of deep-hued velvets, glittering gold and purest ermine, sparkling among jewels and crowns, and the many picturesque and gorgeous uniforms.

The Peeresses made a marvellous picture of themselves in their exquisitely flowing robes of silk and velvet, their [illegible] falling over capes of snowy ermine. Many of them were [illegible] of exceptional beauty and elegance. And [illegible] as they looked among them the level [illegible] as they walked to their places. Perhaps one may tell the Duchess of Portland, the Duchess of Westminster, the Duchess of Marlborough and the Duchess of Sutherland as four types of perfect grace, who carried their long trains with more than usual ease, and attracted universal admiration by their stately bearing.

In the long wait before the King and Queen arrived there was a continual buzz of voices like the sound of a monster hive of bees, and one had time to remark on one or two curious things. For instance, there was John Burns in a gold coat. He looked fairly comfortable, and yet one could not help wondering at the caprice of fortune that had clothed him in such a garment. Then there was Mr. Balfour, displaying a pair of gold epaulettes. He looked about as tired out as the Earl Marshal, who was evidently very tired indeed.

The preliminary music was magnificent, and when the organ thundered out its grand announcement that the King was close at hand a thrill ran through the heart, and it was difficult to keep tears from the eyes. I, personally, could not help calling the morning of King Edward's coronation, when the same splendid scene was enacted. It seemed but short time ago, and what a change!

With the first flourish of trumpets the hum of voices began to abate, and gradually a tense stillness reigned. The sun came out faintly, with a brief flash as the Prince of Wales entered and passed up the body of the church, a charming figure of pretty boyish stateliness, a little nervous and pale, but comporting himself with perfect dignity, and wearing entirely unembarrassed by his long royal blue velvet train.

Very sweet looked fair little Princess Mary; in fact, one of the most charming groups of the whole magnificent scene was formed by the Royal children, emblems of future hope for Britain.

The entrance of the Queen was magnificent. She bore herself with dignity, almost with coldness. She was very pale, and obviously had much ado to keep her stately self-control. Her gorgeous train, borne by the Duchess of Devonshire, glowed with burning gold. Diamonds flashed from her neck and arms, and she walked with regal state, looking queenly to the very height of queenliness. Round her were her lovely maids of honor, all exquisitely pretty, dainty-like rosebuds round a central rose.

The King's entrance was, however, more effective than that of his handsome consort, for there was something pathetic in the demeanor. He looked weighted by his splendor, and this somewhat took the tiredness seemed to be on him as the crown was placed upon his brows and when the thunderous shout, "God Save the King," rang through every corner of the Abbey.

"Be strong and play the man," sang the glorious choir, like angels in the distance; "Keep the Commandments of the Lord thy God and walk in His ways."

"Be strong and play the man." We all felt as we looked at the King, throned in St. Edward's chair, that this was his thought and this his intention.

In a brief and not too eloquent sermon the Archbishop of York spoke of sovereignty and of service, and this is what our King accepted with his crowning. He serves the people over whom he is called to rule, and he has begun to serve them well. All things will prosper under his wise and careful supremacy, and the loyalty of the people is a right instinct, and one that will bring them prosperity.

The grandeur and dignity of the coronation of King George and Queen Mary could never be surpassed in any period of history; it is replete with meaning, it carries special significance. It shows on what foundation the people of Britain rest their hope. Their security is the Throne, and the splendid and solemn observance in Westminster Abbey has witnessed not only the King's oaths to the Empire, but also the Empire's loyalty to the King.

Weak Stomachs Made Strong

Through Tonic Treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

After all has been said about indigestion and stomach trouble, there is only one way to get a real cure. The stomach must be made strong enough to do its own work. Indigestion disappears when the stomach has been made strong enough to digest ordinary plain food. This strength can only be given the stomach through the tonic treatment supplied by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which enrich the blood, strengthen the nerves and thus enable the stomach to perform the duties which nature intended it should. In every neighborhood you can find people who have been cured of indigestion or other stomach troubles after a fair use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and this is the best proof that they are the one remedy to successfully do this. Mr. D. B. McLean, Sterling, N.S., says: "For a couple of years I suffered very much from indigestion with most of the accompanying painful symptoms. As a result I became very much run down, and as the medicines I tried did not give me any relief I grew melancholy and unhappy, and felt as though my constitution was breaking down. Quite accidentally my attention was called to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I decided to try them, and I am happy to say that they effected a complete cure, and made my stomach as strong as ever it had been. I am glad to say a few words in praise of the medicine that cured me, and I hope my experience will benefit some other sufferer."

Enrich the blood and you banish most of the every day ailments of humanity, and you can enrich it quickest and best by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Miss Catherine Hoey, of Buffalo, daughter of the late Wm. Hoey, formerly of Honeywood, arrived in Creemore about three weeks ago to visit her sister, Mrs. Geo. Copeland. She was suffering from heart trouble and died a few days after her arrival.

An amusing incident occurred one day recently in a G. T. R. passenger coach near Allandale. A gentleman sitting in his seat had a lot of nice brown hair when he got aboard at Allandale. A few miles later he put his head out of the window. When he drew in in he exhibited a large expanse of bald head. During the instant that his head was outside, a playful puff of wind whisked off his toupee and whirled it away. The conductor was appealed to, and at the next station wired back to have a section man look for the missing hirsute appendage. The value of the article was $35.

Mr. Jerome K. Jerome objects to be labelled as a humorist pure and simple, but it was, of course, as a humorous writer and lecturer that he first attracted public attention. One of his lecturing tours was in the United States, and on his arrival on this side he was met by the usual group of reporters. "Aren't you rather nervous?" asked one, "about submitting your particular brand of humor to American audiences?" "Young man," was the solemn reply, "I have faced a Scotch audience on a damp night, and now I fear no foe!"

AFRAID IT WOULD BE MISSED

Tommy learned to swim in a cove, an arm of the sea. Consequently when he went to the private swimming pond of his father's city club he felt cramped somehow, and afraid of getting in the way. After a while that feeling wore off. He began splashing about and doing a few tricks that he thought his father might not know. Suddenly his head and shoulders emerged from the water. "Oh, Daddy," he said in an anxious whisper, "I've swallowed some of the water. Do you think they'll mind?"

JOKE ON THE LADY.

On Tuesday morning of this week, a lady from the country came to town with a quantity of eggs and sold them to Mr. R. W. O'Brien for 16c. a doz. The lady received her money, and continued wandering around the town shopping. When Mr. O'Brien unpacked the eggs from the lady's basket, he discovered that there were only twenty-five dozen. Of course he waited for the lady to return for the basket, which she did and was greatly surprised when informed that there were only twenty-five dozen eggs. She stated she had brought thirty-five dozen, but Mr. O'Brien recounted the eggs, showing her that it was impossible to put over twenty-five dozen in the basket. The lady was puzzled, but returned the difference, which amounted to $1.60. Before leaving O'Brien & Hewson's store she asked if they handled overalls. Upon finding they carried a complete stock, she commenced to examine them, and when asked what size she required, she said, Size 35. At this point her face reddened, and she immediately saw her mistake and explained to Mr. O'Brien that she was in the wrong, as she had been thinking all the time of the size of the overalls, and had the figures so much in mind that she actually thought she had thirty-five dozen of eggs.—Collingwood Messenger.

OPERATIONS AVOIDED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Belleriver, Que.—"Without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I would not be alive. For five months I had painful and irregular periods and inflammation of the uterus. I suffered like a martyr and thought often of death. I consulted two doctors who could do nothing for me. I went to a hospital, and the best doctors said I must submit to an operation, because I had a tumor. I went back home much discouraged. One of my cousins advised me to take your Compound, as it had cured her. I did so and soon commenced to feel better, and my appetite came back with the first bottle. Now I feel no pain and am cured. Your remedy is deserving of praise."—Mrs. Emma Chatel, Valleyfield, Belleriver, Quebec.

Another Operation Avoided.

Poughkeepsie, N.Y.—I ran a sewing machine in a large factory and got all run down. I had to give up work for I could not stand the pains in my back. The doctor said I needed an operation for womb trouble but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did more for me than the doctors did. I have gained five pounds. I hope that everyone who is suffering from female trouble, nervousness and backache will take the Compound. I owe my thanks to Mrs. Pinkham. She is the working girl's friend for health, and all women who suffer should write to her and take her advice.—Miss Tillie Plenzig, 3 Jay St., Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

Thirty years of unparalleled success confirms the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases.

SCHEIERN—McNABB.

One of those very pleasant events which are of so frequent occurrence during the month of June took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John McNabb, "The Maples," Rosemont, on Wednesday evening, the 21st inst., when their youngest daughter, Miss Laura, was united in holy wedlock to Mr. R. J. Scheiern, a very prominent young business man of Grand Rapids, Mich. Promptly at seven o'clock the bridal party entered the drawing room to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march rendered by one of the bride's sisters, Miss Winnifred McNabb. The bride looked charming in a very dainty French dress of allover embroidery, wearing the gift of the groom, a pendant of pearls, and carrying a beautiful bouquet of cream bridal roses and maiden hair fern. The Rev. J. N. Blodgett was the officiating clergyman. After the usual congratulations were tendered, the bridal party led the way to the spacious dining room where a dainty dejeuner was served by the sisters of the bride and Miss Etta McNabb, of Shelburne. A profusion of American Beauty roses, peonies and ferns added to the pleasing effect of the room. The high esteem in which the bride is held, was evidenced by the numerous and valuable gifts she received from her many friends in this vicinity, together with some from Shelburne, Saskatoon, Toronto, Milton, Randwick and Alliston. The gift from the parents of the bride was a cheque for an amount in four figures. The choir of St. Luke's Church, of which the bride was an active member, and a number of the bride's most intimate friends called during the evening to bid adieu to Mr. and Mrs. Scheiern. ELECTRICITY IN DENTISTRY.

Dentistry has advanced wonderfully in the last ten or fifteen years due in a large measure to the introduction of electrical appliances. The electrical engine used in filling teeth is a boon to the patient as it cuts smoother and quicker and is not so painful to a sensitive tooth as the old foot engine. They also enable the dentist to perform his operations with a degree of skill and accuracy impossible to obtain by the use of any other method. Another important electric appliance is the electric water heater for warming water to syringe the mouth. The electric water heater keeps the water always a little above blood heat so that there is no chance of the patient obtaining a shock from the water being either too hot or too cold. Orangeville people will be pleased to know that Dr. Meek, one of our dentists, has recently installed up-to-date electrical appliances in his office.

FARM WEEDS.

Probably no problem that the farmer has to contend with to-day is causing him so much trouble, worry and loss, as that of the weed problem. In a discussion of this question one of the essential points is to have a clear understanding of what a weed really is. Possibly the best definition is that stated in the bulletin "Farm Weeds of Canada," "any injurious, troublesome or unsightly plant that is, at the same time, useless or nearly so." In this article mention will be made of some general statements in regard to weeds and will be followed later by some methods of eradication relative to particular weed pests. It is a well known and acknowledged fact that the loss due to weeds is very considerable, but it is not generally known in exactly what ways the weeds cause this loss to the farmers. Some of these ways are as follows:—

1. Weeds, being heavy feeders, absorb a very considerable amount of moisture from the soil and in this way rob the crop of large quantities of water and of the plant food which is in solution. Also, in many cases their seeds earlier than the grain crop, as sometimes happens, they are unable to mature its seeds properly.

2. The presence of weeds increase to a great degree the cost of handling the crop in the matter of cultivation and in fact all the operations on the farm.

3. The presence of weeds, their eradication call for special treatment, interferes to a very extent with what might otherwise be a valuable rotation and causes the farmer to grow crops that are not the most valuable for his purpose.

4. Weeds from their natural unsightly appearance, when present in large numbers, very materially lessen the value of a farm because it is evident that a place will not pay as much for farm as for one free from weeds.

5. The presence of weed seeds in seens very materially the value of seeds of all kinds. So much is the case, that in many instances grain that in itself is a good sample is rendered utterly useless for this purpose on account of the foreign seeds present.

6. Certain weeds, such as the hemlock and others are poisonous to stock. Cases are reported of cattle being tainted from the cows feeding on pastures infested with weeds.

7. Another very important loss in which weeds cause loss is that they afford breeding ground for many foreign diseases and pests.

From the above it will be seen that there are numerous ways in which weeds cause loss to the farmer, the extent of this loss being determined by the number and nature of weeds that are present. Weeds spread in many ways and a consideration of some of these ways may help to explain how certain weeds appear in localities, there being no apparent way for them to get in. One of the most active agents in the spread of weeds is the carrying of their seeds by the wind. The seeds of the dandelion, sow thistle, Canada thistle, curled dock and others are provided with special devices for being carried from place to place by the winds. The seeds of the ragweed are blown over the snow during the winter season and are thus carried over very wide areas. Some weeds are provided with a mucilaginous covering which on becoming wet causes the seeds to stick to various substances, and in this way spread from place to place. Water is a very potent factor in the spread of noxious weed seeds. During heavy rains and in times of floods seeds that are specially provided with means for floating, float on the water and thus spread from farm to farm and from one district to another. Birds and animals feeding on these seeds carry the seeds from place to place by the seeds sticking to their feet and by being taken into the system and passed out again without being broken up. Probably the most powerful and active agent in the spreading of weeds is man himself, and one of the ways in which man spreads these weeds could easily be avoided and thus much labor and trouble could be saved. Some of the ways in which the weeds are spread through man's agency are, railroads, farm implements, threshing machines, barnyard manure and the purchased use of fodder and feed with impurities in them. These are probably the chief ways in which weeds spread from one locality to another and it is from a consideration of these that some general principles of eradication and control have been deduced. While certain weeds require special methods of eradication the following general principles are good in controlling all weed pests.

1. In as far as possible never allow weeds to mature their seeds. Fence corners are a very common place to find large numbers of weeds that have gone to seed. Farmers should make it a point that fence corners, waste land and roadsides should be kept free from weeds.

2. Sow only seed that is known to be free from weed seeds and see that your dealer supply pure seed.

3. In buying grain or feed for stock be careful in the handling of it, more especially if it is found to contain weed seeds.

4. See that the separator is cleaned before being brought on the farm or not and it is cleaned before threshing, see that all refuse is burned. To avoid the practice altogether too common of throwing such refuse on the manure heap.

Eradication.—In the eradication and control of weeds, in addition to the precautions mentioned above, there are certain practices which if followed, will assist in getting rid of weeds and keeping down new ones.

Some of these ways are:—

Crop rotation. This is of greatest importance in dealing with weeds. Some short rotation, which allows frequent cultivation and the introduction of a hoed crop should be adopted. No general rotation can be advised since each farmer will have to consider his own conditions and arrange a rotation to suit his purposes. Summer fallowing is one of the most efficient means of eradicating weeds and of improving the land. Where this is practised it is essential that the fallow receive proper attention during the share.

Another very valuable means of eradicating weeds is that of shallow and frequent cultivation of the land immediately after the crop is taken off.

These are some of the more important general statements with regard to weeds, and further assistance in this direction and in methods of eradication will be furnished on application to the District Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Orangeville, Ont.

A POST-GRADUATE COURSE.

Dr. J. B. Reid returned home on Saturday from England, where he had spent five years, taking a post-graduate course in surgery, and Tillsonburg now has the distinction of having a physician who is a Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons, Eng. This diploma is only granted for a high standard of practical surgery and is the highest obtainable. Dr. Reid spent three and a half years in the London Hospital, which has 1,000 beds and is the largest in Great Britain, and during one and a half years was in the Middlesex and other hospitals in London, taking special operations from Sir Alfred Gould, the noted surgeon and writer, and at the end of that period was awarded the diploma. Dr. Reid is to be congratulated on the high standing he has attained in his profession.—Tillsonburg Observer.

JOURNEYING WESTWARD.

Ex-Reeve J. H. Hosick Narrates Some of His Travelling Experiences.

Interesting Description of Lumbering Town of Byng Inlet.

The following interesting letter, which will no doubt be eagerly perused by many Banner readers, is from the pen of Mr. J. H. Hosick, ex-Reeve of Amaranth:—

Dear Sir,—

As you asked me to drop you a line sometime, I am fulfilling the request.

After spending a few weeks in Toronto I decided to spend a while in the highlands of Ontario, endeavoring to recruit my health. Owing to damp, cold weather I only stayed a week. I took the Grand Trunk from Toronto to Burk's Falls, and from there took the boat down the Magnanetawan River to Ahmic Harbour. This is one of the many beautiful rivers in New Ontario. The scenery along the river is very grand. Fresh budding and blossoming trees were very pleasing to the senses.

I was met by my nephew who took me to his home which is situated on a very picturesque lake. Boating and fishing are the main pastimes, and my nephew planned many excursions, but on account of my health I could not enjoy these.

Hastening back to the city I decided to try the drier and more bracing air of the prairie lands. I therefore bought a ticket for Edmonton by C. P. R. Having some friends in Byng Inlet I stopped off a couple of days to rest, and also to see this little town, about five miles from the Georgian Bay, on the Magnanetawan River already mentioned.

This is one of our numerous lumbering villages of the north. There is a population of about 2,000 inhabitants of different nationalities. The mills are some of the best in Canada and are operated by a firm in Buffalo. They employ between four and five hundred men. There is a large box factory in which seventy-five men find occupation. The company have sixty-five horses which are used to draw away the lumber as it is cut. The mill runs day and night, and is well lighted by electricity. Some of the houses are also lighted by electricity. There is three hundred thousand feet of lumber cut every ten hours. The firm own the townsite and have their own store and bakery, and also do all their own work, such as making wagons, trucks and sleighs, and horseshoeing. There are two schools. One has three teachers and one hundred and sixty pupils. The other has one teacher and about seventy pupils. The annual salary of the four teachers is about $1900. There are three churches—Presbyterian, Anglican and Roman Catholic. The Company employ a doctor by the year, and during the winter months they have an assistant. The married men pay one dollar and single men fifty cents per month. In my estimation this is a good plan, as the doctor is interested in getting them well as rapidly as possible. The houses are neatly and comfortably built of lumber, and they all have a stone foundation, as the town site is solid rock. The present firm have run the mill for fifteen years and claim they have timber enough to run for the next twenty. The lumber piles, if laid in a line, would measure about eight miles. Most of this lumber is shipped by boat and train to Buffalo, as the largest boats on these upper lakes can come up the river to the Inlet. The Company have a spur line built from the C. P. R. station into the yards. No timber is wasted, as the small edgings are used as fire wood, and are shipped in box cars to Toronto. The C. P. R. have built coal docks on the north side of the river to supply the northern railways, and they are at present dredging the river.

While waiting for the line to pull out the regular train came along and a man yelled out, "Hello Hosick! What are you doing here in this God-forsaken country?" Looking around, rather surprised, whom should I behold but Victor Perfect. This happening about 3 a.m., I knew little about the country.

After a two-days' rest I proceeded on my journey to Winnipeg. Arriving here in due time, I was met at the station by three bands, and a countless number of autos, all decorated with Union Jacks. I felt at home at once. R. L. Borden, the Conservative leader, stepped off the same train. It is unnecessary to say that the roaring welcome was for him. He gives a speech to-night at the Walker Theatre, the largest in the city, with a seating capacity of 3,000. I am [illegible]. I rested all day yesterday and to-day. I will go down to the [illegible] to-morrow, and [illegible] sister and expect [illegible] week. Then I start for [illegible] by way of Calgary and [illegible] by Saskatoon. While in Winnipeg I [illegible] of meeting an old [illegible] person of a boy [illegible] upwards of nine years of age [illegible] home of my boyhood.

I hope, dear Editor, that I have not taken up too much of your space. I remain,

Yours Faithfully,

JOHN H. HOSICK.

THE LIBRARY CONTEST.

Orangeville Public School Leading by a Comfortable Margin.

Orangeville Public School has again jumped into the lead in the Free Library Voting Contest. The School polled nearly a million votes during the week and is now leading by quite a comfortable margin. The Liebander Bible Class polled nearly a half million votes and holds second place with a good lead over the Mono College School. The latter increased its vote by 104,685. The enormous vote polled during the week shows the keen interest the community is taking in the contest. Many thousands of ballots still remain to be polled and it need not occasion any great surprise if some startling changes should take place even at this late stage in the race. Persons holding ballots are again reminded that the contest will close on Friday, June 30th. Votes may be deposited in the ballot box in Dr. A. J. Hunter's drug store any time to-day or to-morrow, but not afterwards. The contest will end with the closing of Dr. Hunter's store on Friday night. The final count will be made as soon afterwards as practicable and the result will be announced in next week's issue of The Banner. The standing according to the count on Tuesday morning was:—

CORONATION [illegible]

The Coronation Festival held in Alexandra Park on Thursday, under the auspices of the Charity Society attracted a large crowd and was in every way a pronounced success. The band stand, booths, and refreshment stands were prettily decorated and the grounds were splendidly lighted. The numbers consisted of solos by Misses [illegible]ren, S. R. Frost and Gordon Harris, Misses Beatrice Harris and [illegible] Darraugh; instrumental duets by the Misses Shaw, Master Trevor Meeks, Hogg and Misses Wallace and Mitchell; a duet by Misses Shaw and Darraugh; piano solos by Dr. Wright and a cornet solo by Mr. [illegible] Morrow. The purchaser of the quilt was Mr. John Brett, who secured it for the handsome sum of $15. Auctioneer Geo. McAllister sustained his high reputation as a joker of the first quality. The refreshment booth was well patronized and well managed. The ladies of St. James Church sustained their reputation as first-class cooks and generous entertainers. The proceeds amounted to about $150.

Mr. Editor, we have been waiting for some time to hear your opinion upon the important question of reciprocity with the United States, and believing that you should be fairly well informed upon this important subject we take it for granted that you will be able to answer the following questions :—

Was it not the Conservatives who gave us the reciprocity treaty in 1854 and did not the Liberals agree thereto? Were not both political parties in favor of reciprocity until February 1st, last? Please tell us what has caused the change in the attitude of one of the parties? Was it the influence of the anti-Reciprocity fund? Please tell us why should our lawyers, doctors, clergymen, teachers, editors and members of other classes, educated in our High Schools largely at the public expense, come and go across the border at will? Why do our railroads cross the line at will and our bankers lend their money as freely on one side as the other, while the farmers are the only class that are forbidden free intercourse with their nearest neighbors? By answering the above questions you will confer a favor on a number of your readers.

A RELIC OF SCOTLAND.

Mr. John Forsythe has just set up a sun dial for Mr. Charles Anderson, Zina St. The dial is a cherished relic from Scotland, having been made by Mrs. Anderson's great grandfather. It has served as a time regulator for generations in the past and will serve for generations to come, as it is made out of slate and is therefore very durable. Any disputes over the exact time can be settled on a clear day by a visit to Mr. Anderson's residence. Watches may vary in time but the sun and the dial never do. No use of the night hawks tramping down Mr. Anderson's potatoes now. They cannot find out the time then.

READING.

Wednesday night a number of the pupils and friends of Miss Marie Fenton, who has taught in the school here for the last two years, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. O. Nodwell, and presented her with a handsome ebony manicure set and the following address :—

Miss Marie Fenton.

Dear Teacher and Friend,—A number of your pupils and friends have assembled to-night for the purpose of saying good-bye and at the same time expressing their sincere regret that you are about to leave this section. During the two years you have taught in our school you have won your way into the hearts of pupils and parents by the unselfishness and purity of your character and your devotion to your work and the interest of the children whose care and education have been committed to your keeping. The school has made excellent progress under your charge, and we feel that it will be difficult to fill your place as a teacher. We are mindful too of the service you have done as Superintendent in the Union Sabbath School and feel that we have been greatly benefited by your example, and the high Christian ideals you have held up as a pattern and inspiration to young and old. As a small token of our esteem and affection may we ask you, Miss Fenton, to accept this manicure set, with the hope that in the years to come it will serve to recall happy memories of the pupils, friends and associations you are leaving. With this small gift, we also tender our sincere and united wishes for your happiness and success as long as life shall last. That your lines may be cast in pleasant places and that the shadow of any sorrow may seldom cross your pathway will be the constant wish of your scholars and friends in East Garafraxa.

Signed on behalf of your pupils and friends.

You might as well have a Furnace that will burn both Wood and Coal—

And one that can be changed from a Coal to a Wood Furnace at a moment's notice.

The "Hecla" burns wood or coal equally well.

All you need to do if you want to burn wood is to slip a wood grate in through the big door of the furnace. Not a bolt or screw is necessary. You can fix it yourself without soiling your hands or clothing.

The wood grate is supplied free with each "Hecla" furnace, and doubles its usefulness to those who sometimes want to burn wood.

"Hecla" Furnace

Note the Air Jets in the Door.

They are there to heat the air that passes into the fire chamber. Hot air consumes the gas; cold air chokes the fire.

Four Grate Bars.

Ever notice how a coal fire burns faster at the edges, leaving more ashes there than at the centre of the fire pot? Now, you can shake down the ashes in a "Hecla" without losing any of the good coals in the centre.

The "Hecla" has four grate bars which can be shaken separately, so that the outside edges can get a thorough cleaning without touching the centre.

Good idea?

The "Hecla" is full of them.

DEAD SEA WATER.

Its Density Is More Than Double That of the Red Sea.

The Dead sea contains 23 per cent of solid matter and is built for bulk heavier than the human body.

Many believe that it is impossible to swim in this sea, and even in Jerusalem ridiculous fables are told as to the impossibility of bathing there and that no animals or vegetation can exist near its shores.

So far as swimming is concerned, the excessive buoyancy of the water simply renders it difficult to make much headway, but a swim is both feasible and enjoyable. Care should be taken, however, not to let the water get into the eyes.

Indeed, did Palestine belong to any power but Turkey probably the northern shore of the Dead sea would be a popular bathing station. No doubt the chloride of magnesia which enters so largely into the composition of the water would be found to have medicinal and curative properties.

Perhaps a better idea of the density of the water of this inland sea may be realized from the following statistics: In a ton of water from the Caspian sea there are eleven pounds of salt; in the Baltic, eighteen pounds; in the Black sea, twenty-six pounds; in the Atlantic, thirty-one pounds; in the English channel, seventy-two pounds; in the Mediterranean, eighty-five pounds; in the Red sea, ninety-three pounds; in the Dead sea, 187 pounds.—World's Work.

JOHN BANISTER.

An English Violinist Who Won Fame in the Seventeenth Century.

Public concerts owe their direct encouragement to John Banister, who had won fame by his playing on the violin and who succeeded the celebrated Baltzar as leader of Charles II.'s band of twenty-four violins. Pepys, in an entry in his diary for February, 1667, tells us the court gossip of the day—"how the king's violin Banister is mad that the king hath a Frenchman come to be chief of some part of the king's musique."

Banister's concerts at the close of the year 1672 were advertised in the London Gazette as follows: "These are to give notice that at Mr. John Banister's house (now called the musick schoolt, over against the George tavern in White Fryers, the present Monday will be musick performed by excellent masters, beginning precisely at 4 of the clock in the afternoon, and every afternoon for the future precisely at the same hour."

Four years later on we read again, "At the academy in Little Lincoln's Inn Fields will begin the first part of the parley of instruments, composed by Mr. John Banister." The admission was at this time as a rule a shilling, and these concerts seem to have been held pretty regularly down to within a short time of Banister's death, which took place in 1679.—London Graphic.

The Peanut.

The common peanut originally came probably from tropical America. Peanuts were introduced into the United States in the days of the colonies. Botanically the peanut belongs to the same group of plants as beans and peas, but the peanut matures its fruit or nut under the surface of the soil, not above ground, as do most other leguminous plants. Properly speaking, the peanut is a pea rather than a nut, the term "nut" having been added on account of its flavor, which is similar to that of many of the true nuts. The peanut is known under the local names of goober, goober pea, pindas, groundpea and groundnut.

Reasonable Request.

"Ladies and gentlemen," appealingly began the village handy man, advancing to the front of the stage and addressing the few patient persons who remained of the audience which had assembled to witness the beautiful pastoral drama, "The Mad Miller's Daughter," written by the hamlet's accomplished authoress and presented by home talent performers, "I am requested by the members of the company to ask you to remain until the end of the play. In the next act, which I solemnly assure you is the last, the villain gets his due and is slain without mercy, and we want witnesses."—Puck.

They Might Do Worse.

The German proprietor of a Brooklyn delicatessen store has got far enough along to pun in English. A writer in the New York Sun reports the fact.

Hanging in the window of the little shop is this advertisement:

"The best you can do is to buy our wurst."

A Borrower.

"Has Dinguss any occupation?" inquired Ruggles.

"Yes," said Shadbolt. "He's a solicitor."

"Solicitor? For what?"

"Small and unsecured loans."—Chicago Tribune.

A Surprised Poet.

Wife—What is the matter, dear? Haven't they published your poem? Poet—Oh, yes, that's all right, but they're actually selling the paper at a penny, as though there was nothing unusual in it.—London Tit-Bits.

Tickled With a Feather.

"I never knew any one who could be so tickled with a feather as my wife."

"Ticklish, is she?"

"Not usually, but this was an ostrich feather she bought at a bargain sale."—Philadelphia Ledger.

CRAWLEY—IRWIN.

On Wednesday, June 14th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Irwin, Terra Nova, the marriage was solemnized of their third daughter, Lavina, to Mr Herbert Crawley, of Honeywood, the Rev. Mr. Atkinson, of Everett, officiating. The groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. Chas E. Crawley, of Toronto, while Miss Mary Ann Irwin, of Creemore, attended the bride. The happy couple left on Thursday for a short honeymoon to Owen Sound and Walkerton, after which they will reside on lot 21, Prince of Wales road, Mulmur. The bride received a number of very handsome presents, showing the good wishes of her many friends. We extend our hearty congratulations.—Shelburne Economist.

Tells Others His Secret

Wants them to know how he was cured of itching, protruding piles by DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

Doctors usually recommend the knife as the only cure for piles. They overlook the risk, the expense and the suffering of mind and body entailed in a surgical operation.

Dr. Chase's Ointment will bring relief quickly and will cure thoroughly if you will but persist.

Mr. A. Honingnen, 52 Bronsdon Place, Montreal, Que., writes:—"I cannot help praising Dr. Chase's Ointment as I suffered many years with itching and protruding piles, and was cured by this ointment. I became tired of the efforts of the best specialists to cure me, and hearing of Dr. Chase's Ointment just as I had of hundreds of other medicines began its use. But oh, great joy, at the very start the sharp pains left me and I was gradually cured. I hope that every sufferer will follow my example with the same success."

Every form of piles or hemorrhoids is cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment. 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

QUAINT MARRIAGE NOTICE.

William Cullen Bryant Broke the News Gently to His Mother.

The following letter from William Cullen Bryant to his mother, quoted by Professor Chubb in "Stories of Authors," indicates that the author of "Thanatopsis" could enjoy his little joke in occasions:

"Dear Mother—I hasten to send you the melancholy intelligence of what has lately happened to me. Early on the evening of the eleventh day of the present month I was at a neighboring house in this village. Several people of both sexes were assembled in one of the apartments, and three or four others, with myself, were in another. At last came in a little elderly gentleman, pale, thin, with a solemn countenance, plaintive voice, hooked nose and hollow eyes. It was not long before we were summoned to attend in the apartment where he and the rest of the company were gathered. We went in and took our seats. The little elderly gentleman with the hook nose prayed, and we all stood up. When he had finished most of us sat down. The gentleman with the hooked nose then muttered certain cabalistic expressions, which I was too much frightened to remember, but I recollect that by the conclusion I was given to understand and that I was married to a young lady of the name of Frances Fairchild, whom I perceived standing by my side and whom I hope in the course of a few months to have the pleasure of introducing to you as your daughter-in-law, which is a matter of some interest to the poor girl, who has neither father nor mother in the world."

SHIELDED THE LADY

Tactful Head Waiter Balked an Offensive Hotel Guest.

To illustrate an incident that occurred in a hotel uptown the other night, where, if you are not known, you have to produce some sort of patent of absolute respectability, construct a rectangle, lettering the imaginary diagonal corners A, B, C and D:

A represents a solitary male person dining. B represents a comely person of the opposite sex seated at another table with a party. C represents a head waiter and D a group of the unemployed waiters. Let the line AB represent an admiring look that travels continuously. BA represents a look of annoyance. CA and CB are comprehending glances directed by the head waiter.

The point C moves toward D, taking a triangle. After a whispered direction a figure which may be termed O, because it represents a particularly rotund waiter, moves from the point D until it reaches a point on the line AB. C moves back to position.

A finds that his ogle stops at O, which he cannot see through, and calls O to take an order. Thereupon C motions toward D, when another waiter, traveling on the line DA, effects a junction with A and goes off at a tangent. A cranes his neck, stretching to one side or the other, but it cannot get past O. The result is that A finally sees what is up, finishes his coffee in sheepish disgust and leaves the room.—New York Sun.

Astrology With Risks.

Formerly they had rough and ready modes of testing claims to supernatural powers.

"Dost thou know where thou wilt pass Christmas?" asked Henry VII. of an astrologer. He could not tell.

Whereupon the king's grace, which did love a merry jest, made answer, "Then I am wiser than thou, for I know that thou wilt spend Christmas in prison."

John Galeazzo, duke of Milan, is said to have made even merrier at the expense of an astrologer who foretold him that he would die early.

"And how long do you expect to live?" he inquired of the prophet.

"My lord, my star promises me a long life."

"Never trust to your star, man; you are to be hanged today," and the duke took care that his own prediction should be fulfilled.

Killing One Fly.

Every fly begins as an egg deposited in some kind of organic filth. It hatches into a tiny maggot within a few hours, begins to feed and grow, completes its growth and comes out as a perfect fly in possibly ten days. It then requires at least fourteen days to mature its first batch of eggs, and it may live to mature and deposit at least six layings, of from 120 to 150 eggs each. This means that in killing one fly we may be preventing the hatching of nearly a thousand others.—Youth's Companion.

Two Kinds of Curiosity.

Philanthropic Visitor (to jailbird)—My friend, may I ask what it was that brought you here? Jailbird—The very same thing that brought you here—the desire to poke my nose into other people's business, only I used generally to go in by way of the basement window.—Exchange.

Mean.

Miss Mugley—I always try to retire before midnight. I don't like to miss my beauty sleep. Miss Pepprey—You really should try harder. You certainly don't get enough of it.

Two Sides.

Willis—Why don't you go to church? Gillis—Too far. Why don't you go? Willis—We live next door to one, and I hate to get all dressed up just to go that little way.—Puck.

By the work one knows the workmen.—La Fontaine.

Dr. C. Gordon Hewitt, Dominion Entomologist, says, referring to the infantile death rate from intestinal diseases and diarrhœa spread by the house fly, he believes that the so-called harmless fly is yearly causing the death of thousands of infants, as well as spreading the germs of typhoid fever.

THE CANADIAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY FOR 1911.

We have just received from the publishers, A. McKim, Limited, of Montreal and Toronto, a copy of the 1911 Edition of the Canadian Newspaper Directory.

This is the Seventh Edition of this valuable work, which fills a very real need in Canada, and deserves a place on the desk of every business man, whether he is an advertiser or not.

The Canadian Newspaper Directory lists and describes 1,526 periodicals in Canada and Newfoundland. Of these 136 are daily, 1,102 weekly or semi-weekly, 265 monthly or semi-monthly, and 23 are published less frequently. This is a considerable increase over the last edition.

In addition to this, the Directory supplies a comprehensible Gazetteer giving the population, the chief industries, the railway, telegraph and banking facilities and other interesting features of every newspaper city, town and village in Canada.

This work contains over 475 pages. It is splendidly bound and is certainly a credit alike to the publishers and to Canadian newspapers generally.

A. McKim, Limited, are particularly well qualified to edit and publish this, the standard book of reference on Canadian publications. They are the pioneers in the Advertising Agency field in the Dominion, the McKim Agency having been founded in Montreal in January, 1889, twenty-two years ago, by Mr. Anson McKim, who is still at the head of the business.

During all this time they have been the acknowledged leaders in this line in Canada, and the Agency business has been developed from a very small beginning—then performing only the functions of the middle-man— to a very large producing enterprise which runs into the millions.

It goes without saying then that no other Agency is in closer touch with the publishers of the Dominion than McKim's, and they are therefore able to get the most reliable information. The price of the 1911 Directory is $2.00.

WALT MASON ON ROYALTY.

The king sits high on his nobby throne and knights and ladies of high degree will smile or blanch at his lightest tone and bow and grovel and bend the knee. There's glowing splendour on every hand, it is a stirring and dazzling scene; and peers and princes of every land have come to jolly the king and queen. But the face of the monarch is sad and worn—the face of a man who has seldom laughed; perhaps he thinks it a thing to mourn that he was called to the reigning craft. Perhaps he envies the man who digs, the man who dwells in a humble cot, with his mulley cow and his bunch of pigs, and his apple trees and his garden plot. He may have dreams of a quiet life, afar from diamonds and thrones and silk, with his barefoot kids and his happy wife, who sings while skimming the morning milk. To ride to town on a load of hay and get two pun at the village scales may seem far better than holding sway o'er England, Scotland, and Cork and Wales. To live your life in the blinding glare that beats for aye on a throne and crown—ah, better to ride an old roan mare, and carry three dozen eggs to town! The faces of kings are always sad, their eyes are heavy, their whiskers grey; their souls are sick of the reigning fad—they'd like to ride on a load of hay. —Walt. Mason.

C. P. R. AGENT RETIRES.

Mr. John Howard Leaves Service of Company.

On Friday last Mr. John Howard, agent at Orangeville for the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, retired from the service of the Company on a well-earned pension. It is thirty-one years ago since Mr. Howard entered the service of the C.P.R. at Cataract station on the Credit Valley division. After fourteen years at this important point. Mr. Howard was transferred to Mount Forest, where he was agent for three years, coming to Orangeville in the year 1900, where he has since had charge of the Company's business. During his residence in our midst Mr. Howard has been a most painstaking, courteous and obliging official. While not sparing himself in his efforts to advance the interests of the great Corporation he was proud to serve. Although the duties of the C. P. R. agent at this point are onerous and exacting, Mr. Howard has always found time to fill the part of a useful and public-spirited citizen and has done a great deal to promote the interests of the town. In church matters he has been a tower of strength to the Anglican communion, and he makes no secret of his Conservative proclivities. Mr. Howard's family have followed their father's footsteps, his five sons, having had railway experience:—Kenneth R. is travelling auditor for the C. P. R., with headquarters at Brandon, Man.; Harold W., is agent for the Canadian Northern Railway, at Kincardine, Sask. Thomas A., was a former C. P. R. telegraph operator and now conducts the well known pharmacy on East Broadway. Jack and Albert J., now deceased, were in their lifetime, identified with the railway. Mr. Howard, who owns a handsome residence on Church street, will, we are glad to say, still continue to be one of our esteemed citizens. We wish our respected townsman much happiness under less strenuous conditions, and [illegible]d to note that he retires [illegible] possession of his physical [illegible]tal vigor, and in the con[illegible] of having earned the con[illegible] his Company, and the ap[illegible] of the travelling public. BUSINESS AND PLEASURE.

Canadian Press Association Holds Annual Meeting, Followed by Delightful Pleasure Jaunt to Parry Sound.

The 53rd annual meeting of the Canadian Press Association was held in Toronto on June 20th and 21st, and was one of the most interesting and successful meetings in the history of the Association. Admirable judgment was shown in the preparation of the programme and the topics selected for discussion were of interest to the members whether they belonged to the weekly or the daily section of the Association. The two sections met separately on the opening day of the Convention. On the second day they held joint sessions and transacted business with which the whole Association was concerned. It is of interest to note that only two of the charter members of the Association are now living. They are Senator Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Mr. James Somerville, ex-M.P., of Dundas. Senator Bowell was in England attending the Coronation, and his newspaper, The Belleville Intelligencer, was represented by his son, Mr. Charles Bowell. Mr. Somerville was, however, present and received the congratulations of the members of the Association, and afterwards participated in the pleasures of the excursion trip to Parry Sound.

Mr. J. F. McKay, Managing Editor of the Toronto Globe, and President of the Association, occupied the chair during the sessions. The President's Address was able, thoughtful and practical, containing much food for future consideration by the members. It will be printed for circulation among non-members and will also be published in the annual report.

The report of the Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. J. H. Cranston, showed over $1100 in the Treasury after defraying all expenses for the year.

Advertising in its varied phases occupied much of the time of the convention. Advertising Agencies were also much discussed. Should advertising that opposes the ideals of a newspaper—such as anti-local option, anti-reciprocity, whiskey and tobacco advertisements—be published in papers that take strong opposition against these things? drew forth a surprisingly diversity of opinion, many publishers taking the ground that if the word "advertisement" was published over the matter that that removed the responsibility from them, while several others refused to publish liquor advertisements of any kind. It was also shown by estimating actual cost of publishing a newspaper that scores of publishers are not charging enough for their newspaper space.

Mr. F. W. Wilson contributed a paper on the Dominion Lottery Act and its relation to publishers.

Postal rates on newspapers and other post office matters were considered, a very practical address being given by Mr. Ira Stratton, Secretary of the Postmasters' Association, on Co-operation in Public Service.

A cost conference was conducted by Mr. J. M. Imrie, editor Printer and Publisher. This was a valuable lesson to many printers present.

Strong opposition to clubbing with city papers was expressed by several local publishers who claimed that city papers interfered with their circulation.

It was shown in the discussions that arose over rates charged for job printing and advertising that printers and publishers have not advanced prices in accordance with their increased expenses for labor, stock, cost of living, fuel, light, rent, etc., and a committee was appointed to draft a scale of rates and prices adequate to the increasing expenditures. Publishers of country papers are giving the public more for what they receive and at a smaller profit than most other lines of business.

New officers were elected as follows:—

President—C. W. Young, Cornwall.
Vice-Pres.,—J. B. Bone, B.A., Toronto.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Hal B. Donly, Simcoe.
Sec.-Treas.—J. H. Cranston, Toronto.
Asst. Sec.—W. A. Craick, Toronto.

Executive—W. G. Givens, Kingston; M. A. James, Bowmanville, Presidents of Daily and Weekly sections respectively; F. H. Dobbin, Peterboro; W. H. Findlay, Ottawa; J. A. McKay, Windsor; W. M. O'Beirne, Stratford; and W. E. Smallfield, Renfrew.

Officers of Daily Newspaper Section—President, W. R. Givens, Kingston; Vice-President, J. I. McIntosh, Guelph; Secretary-Treasurer, D. B. Taylor, Toronto; Committee, A. T. Wilgress, Brockville; W. B. Burgoyne, St. Catharines; J. A. McKay, Record, Windsor; A. Gillies, Lindsay, and Geo. H. Wilson, Lindsay.

Ottawa will have next year's convention.

The Pressmen were royally entertained at a Smoker Concert with dainty refreshments at the King Edward on Tuesday evening by members of the Arts and Letters Club of Toronto. The occasion was one of lasting and pleasant memory. The program was one of the best, including such clever artists as Prof. MichaelHambourg, pionist; Mr. P. Redfern Hollinshead, tenor soloist; with Mr. Peter C. Kennedy at the piano; Mr. Roy Mitchell raconteur, Mr. Fergus Kyle, cartoonist, and Mr. Kennedy, accompanist, gave an illustrated musical monologue; Mr. Jan Hambourg gave a violin solo accompanied by his father, Prof. Hambourg on piano; Mr. Roy Mitchell recited with obligato by Mr. Jan Hambourg and encores were in order all through, so very excellent were the performances. Seldom, indeed, have we listened to such clever virtuosos. A humorous explanation by Editor J. T. Clark of The Star Weekly why Mr. J. P. Downey could not be present "brought down the house." Mr. J. F. MacKay, Business Manager of The Globe, presided in his usual felicitous manner. Several leading citizens were also guests of the Arts and Letters Club. Votes of thanks for the evening's pleasure were heartily and enthusiastically accorded the hosts and entertainers.

Wednesday evening the whole party—Press Association members and their ladies and the members of the Toronto Woman's Press Club—were conveyed by private cars to Scarboro Beach, Toronto's great pleasure resort, and were given the freedom of the place. It would be hard to find a crowd who could get more pleasure out of anything than the Press men and their ladies did. The Scenic Railway, Laughing Gallery, House of Nonsense, the Old Mill, the Tickler, Old Plantation, Johnstown Flood, Shoot-the-Chutes, etc., indeed every place visited and every minute of the time was made good use of by the party. The time had passed all too quickly when the invitation came to a banquet prepared at "Scarboro Inn," and thither the party flocked to enjoy a bountiful spread most tastefully served. When all had done full justice President C. W. Young proposed Three Cheers for the manager, and the party returned to the city to prepare for the outing to Georgian Bay next morning.

On Thursday morning at 8 o'clock a party of 232 pressmen and their ladies embarked on a special G.T.R. train for Penetanguishene, accompanied by Mr. A. E. Duff, District Passenger Agent, who exerted himself in every way for the comfort and pleasure of all.

After a very quick and pleasant run the party arrived at Penetang about noon and were conveyed by the elegant little steamer Waubic to the Penetanguishene summer hotel where a most appetizing dinner was served.

At 2.30 the excursionists re-embarked on the Waubic for that always delightful trip of sixty miles through the 30,000 islands of the Georgian Bay to Parry Sound. The weather was delightful, the scenery ever-changing and interesting, the party most congenial, and happiness reigned supreme.

Parry Sound came into view about eight o'clock, and half an hour later party landed and proceeded to the Belvidere, the well-known summer hotel, where citizens of this enterprising town welcomed them, and a splendid dinner awaited their well-developed appetites. The visit of the Canadian Press Association was made the occasion of the formal opening of this famous hostelry for the season and the evening was much enjoyed. The Belvidere, as some Banner readers know, is under the management of Mr. J., K. Paisley, a former Orangevillian. About half of the party remained here over night, the others going aboard the steamer Germanic.

Next morning the excursionists left about six o'clock on the Germanic for the return trip across the Georgian Bay to Collingwood. The voyage was thoroughly enjoyable, not a little of the pleasure being due to the kind offices of Mr. C. A. Macdonald, Assistant Manager of the Northern Navigation Company, who accompanied the newspapermen. The approach to Collingwood's fine harbor gave a very favorable impression of the importance of the shipping and shipbuilding industries, the enterprising character of the big Georgian Bay town and the beauty and productiveness of the surrounding country.

A walk up the busy and beautiful main street of Collingwood (the northern end of the Centre Road, which runs from Port Credit on Lake Ontario to Collingwood) with its Coronation decorations still flying, led to the Temple, owned jointly by the Masons and Oddfellows. In a large banquet hall the Ladies' Auxiliary of the local Y.M. C. A. served a sumptuous luncheon, the tables being beautifully decorated with June flowers.

Mayor Currie presided, and welcomed on behalf of the Corporation, the members of the Press Association, and of the Women's Press Club, of Toronto. The King, the guests and the town of Collingwood, were toasts duly honored, speeches being made by Messrs. C. W. Young, President of the C. P. A.; Town Solicitor Burney, J. G. Elliott, of Kingston, and Geo. C. Creelman, President of the Ontario Agricultural College. A special tribute of cheers was given by the visitors to Mr. David Williams, editor of The Collingwood Bulletin, and former President of the Canadian Press Association.

An interesting ceremony was the presentations of some Crown Derby china to Mr. C. A. Macdonald, Assistant Manager Northern Navigation Company, and handsome pins to the captains of the Waubic, the Germanic and the Majestic, also a set of Crown Derby to Mr. A. E. Duff, D. P. A. of the G. T. R.

The presentations were made by Mr. Geo. Scroggie, of Toronto, and Mr. Wilgress, of Brockville, who expressed the sentiments of the party towards these men for uniform courtesy throughout the trip.

The afternoon was spent in viewing the thriving and beautiful town of Collingwood.

The last event on the programme was the laying of the corner-stone of the new $30,000 King George School. Mr. Prentice, Chairman of the Board of Education; Dr. Conally, Chairman of the Finance Committee, and Mr. Maire made splendid addresses, after which Mr. J. F. MacKay, Business Manager of The Globe, and ex-President of the C. P. A., was handed a silver trowel, neatly inscribed, and asked to lay the stone. After briefly addressing the two thousand spectators, Mr. MacKay, on behalf of the Canadian Press Association, presented the new school with a large Union Jack.

The party was given a royal send-off at the station by several hundred Collingwood citizens, and a speedy run to Toronto on a G. T. R. special closed a delightful and restful outing for two hundred and twenty-five journalists.

The members appreciated very much the wise planning of President MacKay and Messrs. D. Williams, of the Collingwood Bulletin, and A. E. Bradwin, of the Parry Sound Star. Owing to their judicious arrangements, the party was relieved from the necessity of giving any attention whatever to the routine details connected with this most delightful trip.

A new feature in connection with this year's Convention and Excursion was the entertainment during the business sessions by the Woman's Press Club, of Toronto, of the wives, daughters and other lady members of the press. This organization had rapidly grown during the past few years, though strictly composed of ladies employed in journalistic work. Miss Jane Wells Fraser, daughter of Rev. Dr. R. Douglas Fraser, formerly pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian church in this town, is the President, and we are very proud to say, makes a most capable and active officer. Miss Fraser was ably assisted by the ex-President, Mrs. C. H. J. Snider, and other ladies of the Club. Tuesday afternoon the ladies assembled at the King Edward and were taken for a tally-ho ride around the city. Rosedale, the beautiful residential part of Toronto, where, as the guide told us, there are no straight streets, no two houses alike and no stores, proved the centre of attraction and is really a very pretty part of Toronto. The Parliament Buildings, City Hall, and many other large buildings were decorated for Coronation Day, and presented a very gay appearance.

After a couple of hours of this airy enjoyment the party returned to "Brown Betty," where the visiting ladies were entertained by President Fraser to a tasty luncheon, the members of the Club doing the honors, making the gathering a most informal but very sociable occasion. Miss Fraser expressed the great pleasure it was to her to meet the visiting ladies of the Press, and of the delightful anticipations of joining with the Association in the trip to Georgian Bay. Mrs. W. Forsythe Grant, of The Globe, outlined the trip as experienced by her some years previous. The kindness and generous entertainment of the Toronto ladies was fittingly acknowledged by Miss E. E. Haycraft, of The Statesman, Bowmanville, Mrs. D. Williams, Collingwood, and Mrs. H. A. VanDusen, Tara. This first meeting with the ladies of the Press Club was a most happy and pleasant one, and we hope to have similar experiences in the years to come.

Those who attended the Convention and Excursion from this section were:—Mr. R. L. Mortimer, Free Press, Shelburne, and Mrs. Mortimer; Mr. G. H. Watson, The Star, Creemore, and Mrs. Watson; Mr. W. H. Davis, The World, Beeton; Mr. John Foley, The Sun, Orangeville; Mr. B. McGuire, The Banner, Orangeville, and Mrs. McGuire. Souvenirs of Collingwood, Penetanguishene, Parry Sound, the Grand Trunk Railway and the Northern Navigation Company were distributed among the excursionists in the form of illustrated booklets, that contained a wealth of interesting information about these places and systems and also the beautiful scenery of the famous 30,000 islands. A group photo of the entire party was taken on the lawn of the "Penetanguishene." Many snapshots of the beautiful scenery and points of interest along the route were secured by the numerous camera artists in the party.

COMING AGAIN!

It is doubtful if "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will ever grow old or fail to fill theatres, if the opening performance of the Stetson Company at the Grand theatre last evening is any criterion, for one of the largest midweek audiences of the year greeted that company last evening. The Stetson Company has visited the Grand regularly each season for several years, and the production is always about the same, and always pleases, for it seems to be the aim of the management to keep their company at the same standard. The scenic effects are good and are well handled, and the singing of the darkies is a pleasing feature. The bill runs through the week, with a matinee for the children on Saturday afternoon.—Sault Lake Herald, Nov. 13, 1908.

PRIMROSE.

The skies are indicative of impending moisture and we also beheld a huge cloud or circle around the moon, but that didn't by any means spoil the Coronation Day Garden Party in connection with the English Church, which was a huge success. The baseball match was won by Violet Hill and the football game by the southern combination. The next event was the auctioning off of the quilt, which was purchased by Mr. Jno. Brett, but we didn't fail to notice the wistful glances directed towards it by Johnny A. and his auto. During a lengthy speech on reciprocity by our popular councilman, we noticed that the Halbert Bros. were to all appearances making a success of the canning industry, so they aren't very anxious for reciprocity. We noticed that Wilfred was looking for someone to tie a small knot and was advised by Edgar and John Alfred to try Erin, as they had splendid Graham and Austin knots down there. When going home time came we received an invitation from Will Reburn to come up with him and go to a Garden Party on the Centre Road, which we gladly accepted, but were greatly surprised to find our destination was Will Hall's, where Will seemed quite at home, and also that Hamilton had been up inspecting Kilgorie school. On Friday evening of the following week we attended the Presbyterian Garden Party which also proved a grand success. There was a series of baseball matches which resulted in a victory by the fourth line team. Mr. David Henderson filled the position of umpire in his usual first class style. Of course Sam Patterson was in the limelight with a couple of winsome lasses, also Mr. Fred. Wake was present looking after some recently acquired interests in the Clokey Co. The programme consisted of selections by the choir, also several duets by members of the choir, bagpipe selections by Mr. Stewart, recently from Scotland, recitations and speeches by G. M. Vance, K.C., of Shelburne, Alexander Halbert, of Granger; and John Best, M.P. for Dufferin. The chair was occupied by Dr. McKenzie, of Shelburne, in his usual brilliant style and of course he also gave the young men some bright ideas on how to propose and recommended the telephone, which Ben Marshall thought was all O. K. as he could make excellent connections with the second line. Hilliard Murphy informed us that he was engaged with Wm. Noble for the haying season, so we do not think he will require the use of the 'phone. We accepted an invitation to go home with Herb. Fines, provided he did not take us around Relessey.

LAUREL.

The weather has been extremely warm and dry of late. Rain is needed very badly in this vicinity. The hay crop will be short and light. Grain crops of all kinds are looking well and just beginning to head out. A good rain is just what we need to ensure a bountiful harvest.

Building operations are in full blast in this vicinity at the present time. The following may be reported:—Samuel Hamilton has completed the stonework of his barn and expects to raise shortly. J. W. Gordon has also completed the stonework of a new barn and expects the framers on hand in a few days. George Nelson has raised his old barn and is busily engaged putting stone stabling underneath. James Bryan has started to erect a new straw house with stone stabling underneath. Alex. Ewing has jacked up his barn and the masons are at work putting up a stone basement. Wm. Ritchie is also making preparations to renovate his building. Last but not least Mr. Geo. E. Gordon has two gangs of men at work on his new residence. One gang is making cement blocks and the other is at work on the cellar. We expect that when completed Mr. Gordon's residence will be one of the finest in the town and one that will reflect credit on the builder.

Wednesday of last week the Laurel Cheese Factory shipped their first sale of cheese from Laurel station. The sale was made at 11 1-16c. a lb. and the proceeds amounted to $1990. The factory is doing a good business this year, but we would like to see still more of our farmers on the list of patrons. We understand that many of the cheques just issued are for amounts over $50 and some few of them exceed $100.

The First of July has passed by again. Many of our villagers went to Grand Valley and elsewhere to celebrate the grand, natal day and all returned safe and sober. Those who remained at home manifested their loyal spirit by flying the Union Jack, the emblem of the dear Motherland.

The 12th of July is approaching, and our pastor, Rev. J. R. Bell, honored the day on Sunday by preaching a very loyal and impressive sermon on the text, "Keep this Day as a Memorial." The discourse was heard by a crowded congregation of Orangemen, and their friends. I am sure that all who heard the sermon cannot be otherwise than convinced that a true Orangemen cannot be anything else than a true Christian.

One day last week Mr. Thos. Whaley lost a very valuable mare leaving a young colt only one week old. The animal was valued at $200.

We are sorry to say that the peace and quiet of our little village has been disturbed of late by few newcomers, who have formed the disagreeable habit of using foul and profane language. No doubt they are of the opinion that here, as where they came from, they can say what they like on the public highway, but we wish them to understand that we have not been used to such language and positively will not allow it. Such conduct is a disgrace to our village. We will not at present mention any names, but give the offenders timely warning to refrain. If warning is not sufficient the matter will be placed in the hands of our town J. P. We wish it to be understood that as respectable citizens we will not allow ourselves to be disgraced by these newcomers so long as there is a law to protect us.

The annual Garden Party of the Laurel Presbyterian church, was held on Maltby's lawn, Monday evening. A very large crowd was in attendance. The proceeds amounted to $170 which is sufficient proof of the immensity of the gathering. The evening was ideal for a Garden Party. Orangeville, Shelburne and Grand Valley visitors were noticed among the assemblage. The football match between Laurel and Primrose created considerable amusement for the large crowd, the result of the game being two goals for Laurel and nothing for Primrose. Rev. J. R. Bell occupied the chair during the musical part of the programme. Miss Mildred Walker, entertainer, furnished most of the program, her singing and reciting being heartily enjoyed by all. Miss Henrietta Wallace, Orangeville, was accompanist. Mr. John Best, M.P., Rev. J. S. Stevenson, the recently appointed Methodist minister, and Rev. Bell gave interesting addresses. The crowd dispersed with singing the National Anthem.

Mr. Fred Williams and Miss E. Chapman visited at Mr. Robert Lee's last Sunday.

Mr. Black, our popular pastor, is going to preach to the Orangemen in the Presbyterian church on Sunday next and we hope to see a large crowd.

LAUREL.

Rev. W. M. Morris, the gifted pastor of St. Andrew's Church, Orangeville, conducted successful anniversary services in the Presbyterian Churches here and at Black's Corners on Sunday, June 25th. For the first time in the history of the churches, the experiment was tried of combining the anniversary and communion services. The plan worked out very satisfactorily. No less than 43 persons united with the church in the two congregations. Rev. Mr. Morris spoke at three services and was greeted by a crowded church on each occasion. An especially interesting feature of the services was the address by the pastor, Rev. J. R. Bell, in which he gave a concise and illuminating summary of the progress of the two churches under his pastorate. When he came to the field at Laurel and Black's Corners nineteen years ago there were only forty-three members in the two churches. During his pastorate 485 persons have been received into membership and the membership of the churches has grown from 43 to 328. At the present time Rev. Mr. Bell has the pastoral oversight of 106 families. Since his induction here he has performed 364 baptisms and officiated at 135 funerals. He has travelled with horse and vehicle over 14,000 miles and by rail over 31,000 miles. Ten years ago the mission givings of the churches were only $130 a year. Last year's givings to missions amounted to $617. In the same period the givings for stipend have increased by 42 per cent.. These few figures, taken almost at ramdom, will serve to give Banner readers some idea of the wonderful progress Presbyterianism has made in Amaranth under the wise and zealous oversight of Rev. Mr. Bell. That our beloved pastor may be long spared to continue his labors in the Master's vineyard is the devout wish of the people of this community, irrespective of class or creed.

IT IS NOT IN THE BLOOD.

Medicine Taken Internally Cannot Cure Eczema. It is Caused by Germs.

Eczema cannot be overcome by ordinary treatment and the old-fashioned way of dosing the system with drugs. Eczema is caused by a parasitic germ that bores into the skin. It is generally a contagious disease. Until the parasite is completely destroyed and removed, eczema cannot be cured. Fully one-third of skin diseases are in the form of eczema.

We so thoroughly believe that Rexall Eczema Ointment will overcome eczema and allied skin ailments, that we unhesitatingly promise to promptly return the money paid us for it should it in any way be unsatisfactory to the user.

Because of its remarkable cleansing, antiseptic, germicidal, soothing and healing influence, Rexall Eczema Ointment has a very pronounced value in the treatment of skin diseases, especially where the form of ailment is of the chronic, aggravating sort. We highly recommend it for the dry scaly form or the weeping type, where there is a constant flow of ill-smelling excretion.

Rexall Eczema Ointment is very prompt in relieving pimples, blotches, skin discolorations, ringworm, acne, nettle rash, tetter, hives, ulcers, insect bites, and for healing sores and wounds. It is a pleasant smelling, grayish-white ointment, and is very cleanly for use. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. Sold only at our store— The Rexall Store. T. F. & T. J. Brown, Orangeville.

DEADLY ANAEMIA

Casts a Shadow Over the Lives of Thousands of Women and Growing Girls.

"Not enough blood" is the simple meaning of the term anaemia, though it should scarcely need explaining, for, unfortunately, anaemia is one of the greatest evils in this country afflicting women of all ages, including those troubles due to poor blood, lessness are plain enough—pallid lips and cheeks, and aching back, frequent headaches, with breathlessness, heart palpitation, and great weakness. The only effective treatment is to strengthen and build up the blood, and it is just by this power of making new, rich blood that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured anaemia in more cases than it is possible to place on record. Among the host cured of this trouble by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Miss C. N. Roberge, of Sorel, Que., who had been in poor health for several years. Miss Roberge says: "I believe that if I had not taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills my illness would have proved fatal. The trouble came on so gradually that I can scarcely tell the point at which it did begin. The first noticeable symptom was loss of color and a feeling of lassitude. Then I began to lose my appetite, had frequent headaches, and spells of dizziness, and became unable to do any housework without being completely exhausted. Finally my trouble became aggravated by a persistent cough. I took several kinds of medicine, but did not get any relief. At last I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to do so. After I had taken several boxes there was a noticeable improvement in my condition and I continued using the Pills until I had taken nine boxes. The result in my opinion was marvellous. My appetite returned, my nerves were strengthened, my weight increased, headaches disappeared, and I am enjoying the best health for my life. In gratitude for what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me I give this statement in the hope that it may bring new health to some other sufferer."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure all those troubles due to poor blood, such as anaemia, indigestion, rheumatism, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, partial paralysis, and the troubles which attack girls budding into womanhood and women of mature years. Sold by medicine dealers everywhere, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

STAR.

The 80th anniversary of the founding of St. Andrew's Church, 4th line, east, Caledon, was observed on Sunday, June 25th, special services being held at 11 a.m., 3 and 7 p.m. Rev. Jas. Carmichael, D.D., of King, conducted the service at 3 o'clock, speaking in Gaelic. The morning and evening services were taken by Rev. J. G. Cheyne, of Claude. A further celebration of the Anniversary was held on Monday night, when a very pleasant social gathering took place in the church. Among the speakers were Rev. Dr. McKenzie, of Shelburne, moderator of Orangeville Presbytery, Rev. W. M. Morris, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, Orangeville, Rev. J. A. Matheson, B.D., of Price-ville, Rev. Jas. Buchanan, of Dundalk, and Rev. Dr. Carmichael, of King. Dr. Carmichael, it is interesting to note, conducted services in the church fifty years ago. It has been aptly stated that the early settlers of Ontario were more concerned with making than with preserving history. This applies to St. Andrew's Church, for most of the early records have disappeared and it is difficult to get material for a connected history of the church. The congregation, however, was first organized in 1831 through the instrumentality of Rev. Duncan McMillan, whose ordination and induction took place in May of that year. The first services were held in a barn on the McQuarrie farm, lot 15, 3rd line. A little later a modest log church was erected on lot 13, 4th line, east. The congregation worshipped here until 1855, when the present edifice was erected. The membership of the church consisted almost exclusively of Scotch people, many of them being Highlanders. Dr. Carmichael, the venerable divine already referred to, visited the church for the first time in 1861 and for a number of years afterwards returned at regular intervals for the purpose of holding services in Gaelic.

In the Driftwood

And the Mystery It Unfolds

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

It was just the sort of night something out of the ordinary might happen. The cottage was situated on the edge of a high bluff above the sea; sentinel pines guarded it on either side, and other pines, like a ragged company of soldiers, straggled down the slope to the yellow beach where the big waves crashed among the rocks.

Gerard Anson sat by the window long after the twilight had fallen, watching the coming of a long heralded storm, while his friend and companion occupied a huge chair before the fire.

Gerard Anson's face was marked by a happy carelessness that bespoke the man of leisure with means to gratify all the whims of a variable personality. He had been the owner of Captain Jack's last ship, the big schooner Antelope, which had mysteriously foundered in the West Indies five years before, with all hands lost save the captain and first mate. Of course the loss of the schooner had been more of a sorrow to Captain Jack than it had to Gerard Anson, for the latter had money wherewith to build other boats, and he had desired that his friend should take the command of a larger and newer one, but the sailor had declined with emphasis.

"When the mystery of the Antelope has been cleared up, Gerard," he always insisted, "then I may go to sea again. In the meantime my berth in the harbormaster's department is all that I deserve."

They had been spending several days in this cottage of Gerard's, perched on the North Carolina coast.

"If you stick to your determination never to take another command until the mystery of the Antelope has been cleared I'm afraid you're doomed to remain a landsman to the end of your days," prophesied Gerard after they had listened to the beating of the rain for awhile in silence.

"DO YOU SUPPOSE THIS IS PART OF THE ANTELOPE?"

"You wouldn't blame me if you were in the same fix as I am," retorted Captain Jack, refilling his pipe.

"How can you prove it, old man? You don't know yourself what happened to the Antelope."

"I know she sank under me without five minutes' warning—went down in a glassy sea under a full moon's rays. Fleck and I had barely time to jump and swim beyond the suction she made in going down. If it hadn't been that one of the small boats got adrift and bumped into us I wouldn't be here tonight telling you this old yarn for the hundredth time."

"I like to hear it, Jack."

"You know Fleck sprang to the pumps the first thing, but she was dry as a bone. It was more as if she was being pulled down by some gigantic force. You know the man at the wheel and the watch had disappeared entirely when we reached the deck, and before we had time to get the rest of the men out of the fo'cas'le she was drawn under and we had to jump for our lives."

"And you won't take command of the Petrel? You know you can have a third interest in her at your own price, and she will be a gold mine to us in the fruit trade. It isn't because she's a steamer instead of a sailing vessel, is it?"

"No, no. It's merely because I can't trust myself to take command of any vessel until I am assured that the fate of the Antelope and the unfortunate men of my crew are not the result of my own negligence."

"Your own word, without that of Fleck's, is sufficient for me, Jack, and you know that your testimony as well as his has fully satisfied the board of inquiry that you are blameless."

"I want to be satisfied myself; until then I will not have the nerve to take command of the squarest scow that ever cleared from any port," said Captain Jack decisively.

"Of course I know you're right, Jack, but it's a blamed shame, because the mystery of the Antelope will never be cleared up."

Captain Jack made no reply. He stirred at the crumbling embers on the hearth and drew them together in a glowing pyramid. "Get any more wood, Gerard?" he asked.

His host leaned to the ancient sea chest which served as a wood box and threw back the lid. A salty odor issued from the recesses of the chest. "Here's some driftwood that Peters has picked up. I've been saving it for just such a night as this. It isn't so old as some of the stuff he brings in, but I guess it's water soaked enough to give us fireworks for awhile."

He tossed on several large timbers which in the dim glow of the embers were quite indistinguishable as to shape.

First the smoke drew up in thin spirals that grew heavier and suddenly burst into a broad yellow flame that turned to orange and blue and green and then became a mystic rainbow of fantastically writhing color. The salt sizzled as the fire gripped into the wood and shot up little electric sparks of light that died before they reached the chimney's throat. The wood creaked as it warped from the scorching touch, and a loosened iron bolt fell rattling to the hearthstone. The burning wood settled anew, and as the flames mounted higher Captain Jack leaned forward and pointed a shaking finger at the fire.

"Look, Gerard," he said hoarsely. "What is that?"

Gerard Anson stared with fascinated eyes at the thing that appeared in the fire. The heel of a broken bowsprit with one splintered plank thrust forth as it had been torn from the bow of a vessel. The paint had burned from the plank, but there remained imbedded in the wood several copper letters covered with verdigris and undoubtedly forming the terminal of the ill fated ship's name.

"E-l-o-p-e," spelled Gerard slowly and then, as if the meaning of the word suddenly burst upon his bewildered senses, he asked, "Good heavens Jack, do you—do you suppose this is part of the Antelope?" He laughed sheepishly even as he asked the question.

"Of course it's the Antelope," returned Captain Jack with quick composure. "See that little pointed thing that's flaming now?" That's one horn of the little head that formed the figurehead of my boat."

As the wonder of the strange happening grew upon them they sat very silent. Who could call it a common occurrence that a broken portion of Captain Jack's schooner, lost in the West Indies five years before, should have washed upon the strip of beach that belonged to her owner and should burn there on the hearth now, a flaming proof of her destruction?

"I don't wonder sailors are superstitious," said Gerard after a long time. "The sea is a fickle mistress, for she"—

But he was doomed never to complete the sentence, for at that moment the burning wood stirred strangely in the fire and the copper letters burned at a white heat. A broad sheet of flame seemed to stand motionless as a background for a curious picture.

Blue flames shot its upper edge and became a tropical midnight sky powdered with golden stars; green fire ran across the flame and became a placid sea tinged with moonlight. On the green sea there rested the graceful outlines of a six masted schooner, one of the largest and fleetest of her kind. Her canvas hung motionless, for there appeared to be no wind. There were pygmy forms of men on deck—one at the wheel and others grouped near by.

Suddenly the pygmy men ran to and fro as if frantic with fear; something long and sinuous swept the deck, and when it vanished the men were gone. Then other long, sinuous, shadowy objects appeared at intervals about the vessel's rails. Her sails quivered as if by some sudden shock. Out from the companionway there tumbled two other pigmy men, who glanced aloft and then ran to the forecastle hatch and pounded lustily. As if impelled by some intense fear that did not take shape in that beautiful moonlit night the men ran to the pumps and sawed away.

The vessel seemed to settle in the water as if she was dragged down by invisible hands. The two men on the boat suddenly deserted the pumps and leaped into the sea just as the beautiful schooner slowly careened, then straightened, dipped her bow and went down in a seething white foam of bubbles. The bubbles spread away, and there remained the green, placid sea, on which bobbed a little boat and in it two pygmy men. Then all at once the scene disappeared, and there was the fireplace with its charred embers of the lost Antelope. The driftwood had told its story; the fate of the schooner was a secret no more.

The spell of silence which had rested upon the two men was broken by Captain Jack's excited cry. "Did you see it, Gerard?" he gasped. "Did you see it?"

Gerard nodded. "I saw something, Jack. You will laugh if I tell you what I saw—you won't believe me."

"I'll believe you, never fear. You don't mean the picture in the flame—of course you saw that?"

"No, I don't mean that, Jack; I mean the thing that pulled the Antelope and the crew down to their deaths; I mean the proof of your ability to take command of the Petrel next month," said his friend calmly.

Captain Jack Bernard uttered a relieved sigh. "I was afraid it was an optical illusion on my own part," he muttered. "I saw it, but scarcely believed, and nobody else in the world will believe us if we tell them that an enormous devilfish pulled a fully rigged schooner to the bottom of the sea."

"Let us keep our own [illegible] the sea has the reputation of keeping her," said Gerard.

"She didn't keep this one," said the Antelope's captain as the last crumbling ash of his schooner faded into nothingness.

NOBODY BUT FATHER.

Nobody knows the money it takes
To keep the home together ;
Nobody knows of the debt it makes—
Nobody knows—but father.

Nobody's told that the boys need shoes
And girls' hats with a feather ;
Nobody else old clothes must choose—
Nobody—only father.

Nobody hears that the coal and wood
And flour's out together ;
Nobody else must make them good—
Nobody—only father.

Nobody's hand in the pocket goes
So often, wondering whether
There's an end to the wants of those Dependent—only father.

Nobody thinks where money will come
To pay the bills that gather ;
Nobody feels so blue and glum—
Nobody—only father.

Nobody tries so hard to lay
Up something for bad weather,
And runs behind, do what he may—
Nobody—only father.

Nobody comes from the world's cruel storm
To meet dear ones who gather
Around with loving welcome warm—
Nobody does—but father.

Nobody knows of the home life pure,
Watched over by a mother
Where rest and bliss are all secure—
Nobody can—but father.

AN EXCELLENT INVESTMENT.

Among the many good provisions of the Canadian Government Annuities Act is that under which a husband and wife, two sisters, or, in fact, any two persons may join in the purchase of what is known as a Last Survivor Annuity, that is an Annuity which will be paid to both so long as both live, and to the survivor so long as he or she lives. For example, a man who is now 71 recently purchased a Last Survivor Annuity for himself and sister, two years older, at a cost of $4,676. This secures them an income of $500 a year, the first quarterly payment falling due three months from the date on which the purchase money was paid. Prior to the investment in a Government Annuity the money had been drawing 6 per cent. interest, or yielding an income of only $280, so that the increased income will make a vast difference in the comfort and happiness of the Annuitants, while at the same time it will relieve them of all anxiety as to the state of the money market and the safety of the investment.

Any information desired on the subject of Annuities may be obtained by applying to your Postmaster, or addressing the Superintendent of Government Annuities, Ottawa, to whom letters go free of postage.

HEALTH RESTORED TO THIS FAMILY

Wife's experience with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food led to husband's cure.

"Since childhood I was afflicted with biliousness and sick headache," writes Mr. A. K. Van Wyck, Park Hill, Ont., "and as all the doctors' medicines and prescriptions failed to do me any permanent good, I had lost faith in all medicines. It was by accident that I came to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, for it had been recommended for Mrs. Van Wyck and did her so much good that she wished me to try it.

"I did so, and was surprised at the results. It is now three years since I discontinued the medicine and I have not had an attack of the old trouble. I hope that others may benefit by my experience."

The cures effected by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food are lasting because it builds up the system and removes the cause of trouble. 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50; at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.
